THEATRE.—The drama of "Halvt, the Unknown," was played last night, with marked ability, and the play, as well as the performance, was well appreciated. For this evening "Halvt" is to be repeated, followed by the farce of "My Turn next."

To-morrow Mr. A. Thorne takes his benefit. He deserves a bumper as much as any brother actor.

A BENEFIT.—There is not and probably never has been a more painstaking, careful member of the Desert Dramatic Association than Mr. A. Thorne. He is invariably well up in his parts, and never plays below what is termed respectability, and many of his friends are of the opinion that this gentleman will be an excellent recipient of a benefit to-morrow night, and we think he is well worthy of a substantial amount of public appreciation in the shape of a full house on the occasion. The play, which he has selected for his benefit, is an excellent one, and includes "Wall and Paper," a subject always popular, and the excellent farce "A Capital Match," neither of these pieces ever having been presented before in this city.

THE LECTURE.—Last evening the Hon. Charles E. Jones delivered his second lecture, on the subject of "The Architect and the Public," to a fair audience. It was a mild and respectful criticism on the eccentricities, foibles and affections of many of the divines of the day, interspersed with humorous imitations, which kept the audience in the best of spirits. The lecturer drew a number of illustrations from the "union weeping" propensities of certain preachers received approval from the audience. His remarks were delivered, and abounded with sound sense and more truth than is frequently met with in popular lectures. To be appreciated, Mr. Jones' lectures should be heard. He holds forth again this evening on "Play and Play-acting," a subject always popular for the exercise of his versatile abilities.

and impartial suffrage, he will gladly do so. For the present, however, he can best commend that consummation by silence and forbearance. The reaction in our intelligentsia would probably take the whole subject of Southern rights and wrongs into early and earnest consideration, and to them for the present he resorts it. Since he will never again be a candidate for any office, and is not fully in accord with either of the great parties which have hitherto divided the country, he will endeavor and will endeavor to give wider and steadier regard to the progress of science, industry, and the useful arts, than a partisan journal can do. He is not a devotee of indulgence in these bitter personalities which are the recognized game of journalism sustained by this generation's editors. It will do him best to make the Tribune a power in the broader field it now contemplates. As, when human freedom was in peril, it has been the arena of political partisanship.

"HORACE GREELY."

PARIS, 6.—The Procureur-General has decided that Prince Napoleon cannot legally bring a suit in the courts against the Minister of the Interior, for the Prince's expulsion from France was an act of the government, over which the tribunals possess no jurisdiction. Prince Napoleon writes that he intends to persist in the prosecution of the case, notwithstanding the opinion of the Procureur-General.

LONDON, 6.—The Telegraph believes Grant deserved re-election. The Standard makes a violent attack on the Republican party, which says Grant has done nobly in his position as President, and Flak killed locally. Grant and Greeley are both unfit Presidents, but of the two evils the least have been chosen.

BURSTON.—In a mine at Mansbury, Cheshire, Chatterell, Limering, the machinery gave way as a gang of miners were descending to work and 21 were decapitated to a depth of several hundred feet. All were killed.

LONDON, 6.—An extensive carpet factory at Kidderminster was destroyed by fire last night. A large number of operatives are thrown out of employment. Sir John Duke Coleridge has declined to sit on the bench of probate and diocesan appeals vacant by the death of Lord Penzance.

GENEVA.—Rables, U. S. Minister resident, has tendered to Jacques Stenoble the formal expression of the thanks of the American government for his services as a member of the Board of Arbitration.

PARIS.—The German troops have evacuated the city of Rheims and the town of Vitry la Francaise, the last posts retained by them in the department of the Marne.
