

Naisbitt, missionary from Utah, arrived per S. S. Dakota, on Friday, 20th inst., at 11:30 a.m., in good health and spirits.

"RELEASE AND APPOINTMENT.—Elder David McKenzie is released from his labors on the Star, to return home with the October 25th company. Elder Henry W. Naisbitt is appointed to succeed Elder McKenzie in that department."

Panacca.—Brother Henry Heaps, writing from Panacca, Lincoln county, Nevada, says that times continue remarkably dull in Pioche, and that people are constantly leaving there for other parts.

The weather has been quite cold at Panacca lately, freezing hard every night, but all the crops, which have been generally good, have been secured. A portion of the potato crop has suffered from the frost.

Daring Burglary.—Last night, some time between the hour of closing and twelve midnight, the Twentieth Ward Co-operative store was broken into by burglars, who not only carried off the loose change in the till, but actually bodily carried away the safe and its contents, a little over three hundred dollars and all the books and papers of the store.

A young man who is employed at the store sleeps there, but it happened last night that he was at the house of a friend and did not get to the premises until after twelve o'clock, and on reaching there he found the back door open, and on making search it was discovered that a pistol, kept in a drawer at the head of the young man's bed, had been taken away and the till opened and a small amount of currency abstracted from it, and finally that the safe had disappeared.

The thieves had entered the lot by the small gate at the north side of the block, and entered the store by a west window, opening the back door from the inside. It is evident from the tracks that they had dropped the safe over a fence which surrounds the back door, and carried it out of the lot the same way they entered. Tracks were found fully a block and a half distant from the rear gate of the lot, showing that the weighty article had been carried by hand at least for that distance.

About a hundred dollars of the money belonged to several benevolent institutions, for which Brother Sansom, the superintendent of the store, is treasurer, the balance belonging to the co-operative association.

The officers have been making diligent search to discover the burglars. We are now informed that the safe was found this morning, on the edge of the bluff on the east side of City Creek Cañon, a short distance north of the old wall. An old axe, with which it had apparently been broken open, was found beside it. The books and papers and about $70 or $80 in co-operative scrip and T. O. orders were left untouched by the thieves, but the United States currency, amounting to in the vicinity of $300, was carried away.

The robbers have not been caught.

Land Office Business.—The following has been published—

"LAND OFFICE, Salt Lake City, Nov. 10, 1876.

"On the 26th of October I was, by telegram from the Department of the Interior, placed in charge of said office as custodian, merely until a register and receiver could be appointed and qualified. As such custodian I am not authorized to transact any official business in said office.

"Parties having contested or other cases pending in this office, will not be prejudiced in their rights by this temporary suspension of official business, as the law provides for such emergencies.

"Papers can be received, however, placed on file and the date of the filing noted thereon, but no official receipt can be given. The President has appointed a register and receiver who will in a short time qualify and enter upon the duties of the office, publication of which fact will be made when it occurs. For further information of those having business with the land office, I desire to state that all parties making application for lands by mail to this office should address the same to the register of the land office, taking care to enclose the legal fees or charges, due in such applications in a separate letter to the receiver. This will avoid confusion, suspicion and much misunderstanding which will otherwise occur.

"All communications and letters containing money should be addressed to the receiver, as he is by law made the custodian of the funds and the disbursing agent of the government for this land office, and is the only officer authorized by law to receive and receipt for the same.

"MOSES M. BANE, Secretary of Utah Territory, and Custodian of Land Office."

Huge Granite Boulder.—We received the following this morning—

S. L. CITY, Nov. 11, 1876.

Yesterday while visiting the Temple stone quarry, where the work is conducted under the able direction of Brother James C. Livingstone, in company with Bishop Burton, we saw a huge slice separated or split with iron wedges from perhaps the largest boulder in the cañon. The detached piece measured 53 ft. long, 33 ft. high, and 20 ft. thick, making 34,980 cubic feet, and, allowing 170 lbs. to a cubic foot, would weigh 5,946,600 lbs., which will be split in blocks for the Temple as per bills given, which, to take an average, will make 1,500 rocks for the Temple.

Besides the slice taken off yesterday, the proportions of which are given above, another, about two-thirds as large, was taken off a few weeks since, and yet there remains a piece twice as large as the one we saw taken off. Some idea may be formed from this of the immense size of the original boulder, all of which will be put in the Temple walls, and will make in all about 6,000 blocks therefor.

W. H. FOLSOM, Architect.

The Brigham Young Academy.—We are much gratified to learn of the success of this excellent educational institution at Provo. There is a good attendance of students and all four of the departments are in operation and in fine working order. The academical, comprising the mathematical studies, is conducted by Prof. Booth; the grammar department is under the personal direction of the Principal, Prof. Karl G. Maeser, the intermediate department is conducted by Prof. Hardy, and the primary by Miss Teenie Smoot.

The mineralogical collections are daily increasing in proportions, and consequently in interest, and the theological class is a leading feature of the Academy, making its influence felt among all the students, in their studies, conduct, and the general formation of their characters. In the matter of correct theological principles, Prof. Maeser is no less reliable and advanced than in his other general high educational attainments, and he is ably supported by his corps of assistants. Not only is the Brigham Young Academy an institution that advances the purely intellectual attainments of the young people of the community, but also cultivates their moral and religious natures, and by this combination of educational elements cannot fail to be a power for good as far as its influence extends. The normal department is attended by young people from the various towns of Utah County, and the teachers that are produced there will have just that kind of education that will tend to fortify them against the insidious inroads of infidelity and other evils, and from them the moral and religious leaven is likely to spread where they teach.

The arrangements for boarding and other accommodations for students from a distance are being perfected, and can scarcely fail to be very satisfactory. The Academy, as a means for the dissemination of knowledge of correct principles, will doubtless be a lasting monument among the many good works of its founder, President Brigham Young.

Dear Little Birdie.—This is the title of an attractive song, the words by Geo. J. Taylor and the music by George Careless, both of this city. The frontispiece is a very neat one, sketched by Mr. Taylor, and lithographed.

The song is simple in idea and expression, the melody is flowing and engaging, and the accompaniment is pleasing and not difficult of performance.

This music is published by Calder & Careless, of this city, from whom copies can be had. No doubt many of the music-lovers of the city and Territory will be gratified by obtaining this song, and thus encouraging home production in another department of skill and industry.

Approaching Storm.—There are strong indications of an approaching storm. It has been dull and cloudy all day, and commenced raining some this afternoon.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 13.

Coming North.—Delegate Cannon left St. George, on his way to the city, this morning.

Lovely.—The weather is clear and beautiful to-day. A sharp frost prevailed last night.

Coming Home.—By private telegram, we learn that Bro. Wm. C. Staines, having closed up the business of this season's emigration in New York, will leave for home this evening.

Emigrants Arrived.—The expected company of emigrating Saints, from Europe, arrived in the City last evening, and have nearly all gone to homes provided by their friends.

Expected.—Elder David McKenzie, who crossed the Atlantic with the emigrant company which arrived last evening, is expected to reach home to-night.

Tabernacle Meetings.—Yesterday Elder Orson Pratt delivered an excellent discourse upon the personality of the Godhead and the pre-existence and eternal destiny of man and the earth.

Postal Commissioners.—A number of United States post commissioners are expected to arrive in the City this evening, they having telegraphed to Delegate Cannon that they would be in Ogden to-day.

Arrested On Suspicion.—On Saturday evening Frank Treseder and a man named J. G. Brown were arrested on suspicion of having committed the 20th Ward co-operative store robbery, on Friday night. They were to be examined before Justice Pypier at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Doing Well.—Little Victor Morris is still doing well. Our reporter visited him yesterday, and he was then comfortable, he did not complain of any suffering. From a report of his condition to-day we learn that the symptoms still continue favorable. He is an intelligent little fellow and bears his affliction like a little hero.

Escaped.—"Tex," the desperado who shot and killed John Wright and the colored barber, Floyd, at Park City on Friday, made his escape.

Floyd is supposed to be Clint Floyd, who was in a number of shooting and cutting scrapes in this City, and who killed a man in the vicinity of Ogden. If it is he; but few will regret his sudden taking off.

Fixing the Crossings.—In accordance with an appropriation of taxes lately made by the City Council, on petition, the people of the 6th Ward commenced this morning to provide against the mud and slush season, by gravelling up their crossings and making other street repairs. Various crossings in the lower part of the city east of the State Road are also in process of similar improvement.

Splendid Silk.—To-day we had the pleasure of seeing what we consider the finest specimen of reeled silk ever produced in Utah. It was reeled by Mrs. Susannah Cordon, of Logan, a lady experienced in the business, with a new reeling machine, lately imported by Mr. Paul A. Schettler, of this city. Silk in the condition of the specimen mentioned commands fourteen dollars a pound in markets abroad.

The Order Changed.—The order for the enforcement of the payment of alimony pendente lite in the Young vs. Young, in divorce, suit, has been changed, by the Court. Instead of directing the commissioner without bonds to sequester the personal property of the defendant, it directs him to seize upon rents of realty, and he has therefore attached the rents of certain property belonging to the defendant, and will collect the rents thereof.

Stormy and Fine.—Saturday was truly threatening, and it tried hard to snow or rain all day. Most people went to bed expecting to see a white morning, but, lo and behold on awaking on Sunday every cloud was gone, and the sky was as clear as glass, and neither rain nor snow, beyond a mere sprinkle, had fallen, except on the mountains. The first half of yesterday was very fine and warm, but the afternoon turned a little cloudy and exceedingly sharp and cold. There was considerable ice in the creeks this morning.

Garrotted.—An adroit and daring robbery was committed near the head of Commercial Street, just as the City Hall Clock was striking ten on Saturday night. The victim was a young man named White. The scoundrel who pounced upon him seized him by the throat, passed a rope into his mouth, quickly secured his arms and feet with it, took a ten dollar bill from his pocket and fled.

Mr. White was at the City Hall and informed the police by ten minutes past ten, but of course, by that time the robber was nowhere to be seen. Whoever he is, he is evidently an expert at the business, and did the job single handed.

District Court.—Monday, Nov. 13th, morning.

E. P. Johnson et al. vs. Isaac S. Waterman; one of the jurymen being absent on account of sickness, by consent of the parties the case was ordered to be continued with eleven jurors. The jury retired to consider their verdict.

The People, &c., vs. Albert Schupbach, indicted for burglary; the defendant was arraigned for sentence, the judgment was that he be confined in the Utah penitentiary for three months.
