

THE DESERET EVENING NEWS.

FIFTY-FIRST YEAR

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1900. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

NUMBER 27.

SHIPS WRECKED IN THE GREAT STORM.

Reports Coming in Slowly Show Much Damage, but Fortunately Little Loss of Life.

London, Dec. 21.—The latest news from the White Star Line steamer Cuba, which was in need of assistance yesterday off the Skerries while on her way from Queenstown to Liverpool in tow, is that she is still riding heavily at anchor a mile southwest of the Skerries.

The steamer Somerhill and Westernland are now riding safely at anchor in West Bay, near Weymouth, after a fearful night. The coast guards were kept busy from nightfall to daylight. They had the rocket apparatus in the vicinity of the storm-beaten craft in readiness to assist the ships, which were about a mile from the shore.

Skibberen reports a large steamer, the name of which has not been reported, but which has a red funnel and black top, on the rocks of Sherkin Island, she will be a total wreck. The crew of 24 men is reported to have reached the shore.

The Dominion Line steamer Noordland, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday and this morning from Queenstown for Boston, had such a bad time fast mail stopped at Dana station, thirty miles east of Rawlins to take water. Several rough looking men were grouped near the water tank. One of the guard the men quickly disappeared. The armed guards now watching shipments of treasure are old experienced officers, and if an attempt is made to hold a train a bloody battle will surely result.

LOST BY A TIE VOTE.

Germans Will Not Suggest Arbitration in South Africa.

Darmstadt, Dec. 21.—By the president's casting of his vote, the second chamber today defeated a motion to instruct the representatives in the reichstag to propose the assembling of the foreign affairs committee with the object of initiating a proposal of arbitration between Great Britain and the Transvaal. Twenty-two votes were cast each way. All the anti-semitic and social democrats favored the motion. The representatives of the government left the house before the debate on the motion.

Col. Rodman Dead.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 21.—Col. Thos. Rodman, for many years president of the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, one of the oldest and best known financial men in the South, died today, aged 76.

Germans Defeat Chinese.

Berlin, Dec. 21.—A dispatch from Field Marshal von Waldersee, dated Pekin, Dec. 19th, says:

"Guendell's column, marching from Shanghai Kwan, successfully encountered a force of Boxers, Dec. 14th, at Yung Ling, near the eastern Imperial tombs. Fifteen Boxers were killed. One thousand Chinese regulars, under Fung Do Ling, have been driven out of Lu Tai. They fled to the mountains, northwesterly on Guendell's approach."

BOTH STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

Senator Frye's Wife Dies of Heart Failure—Congressman Wise Dead.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Wm. P. Frye, wife of the president pro tem of the Senate, died suddenly at the Hamilton hotel, at 9:40 o'clock today. Mrs. Frye on Tuesday last suffered an acute attack of indigestion and has since been ill. When she arose this morning she was apparently much improved and partook of breakfast. Shortly after leaving the table she became without the slightest warning, heart-failure causing death.

The body will be taken to Lompton, Me., the home of Senator Frye.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Speaker Henderson received a telegram this morning announcing the death of Dr. Richard A. Wise, the member of the house from the Williamsburg, Va., district, at his home at Williamsburg, at 12:40 this morning. No details beyond the simple announcement were received. The news of his death came as a great surprise. He was a few days ago, and performed his congressional duties. Dr. Wise was twice seated as a member of the House on a contest in the last and the present Congress and had given notice he would contest the seat in the next Congress. He was a member of the well-known wise family of Virginia and a brother of John S. Wise of New York.

ARIZONA WANTS STATEHOOD.

Senate Committee Hears Arguments from the People's Representative.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The Senate committee on Territories today heard arguments by Gov. Murphy and Delegate Wilson of the Territory of Arizona, in support of the bill for the admission of that Territory as a State. They dwelt especially upon the marked increase in the population of the Territory and urged that it contains both a population and wealth sufficient to justify the conditional form of government for which the bill provides.

Note to be Fired at China.

London, Dec. 21.—A representative of the Associated Press that the joint note of the powers, which has been signed by all the ministers at Pekin, will be presented to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang immediately. The text will be published as soon as it is delivered.

Heavy Rain in California.

Dunsmuir, Cal., Dec. 21.—A steady downpour of rain has fallen in the Sacramento river canyon for the past five days, filling every gulch and small stream to the fullest capacity. A land slide has occurred one half mile north of Castle Crags and south bound Oregon express No. 15 is at Dunsmuir. The north bound express No. 3 is at Castle Crags waiting for the tracks to be cleared. There is a large force of men at work and it is expected to move the train today.

To Abolish Colonist Tickets.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The Northern Pacific and Soo roads have agreed to the Great Northern's proposal to abolish round trip colonist tickets west of St. Paul. Other western roads are considering the advisability of withdrawing the rate west of the Missouri river gateway points.

INTERNATIONAL QUARREL.

It is Over a Murderer Who Shot His Young Wife.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 21.—Will Rusk, a mere boy, who shot and killed his girl wife on the Mexican side of the line near Nogales, Arizona, in November, is a source of contention between the United States authorities and the Mexican gentlemen along the border, who threaten to raid the jail in Nogales, where he is incarcerated if an attempt is made to remove him. Habeas corpus proceedings have been begun in the court at Tucson, and United States Marshal Griffith and a deputy have left for Nogales to remove Rusk to Tucson, for his hearing.

Saved from the Alpha.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 21.—The steamer Quandra has brought the survivors of the wreck of the steamer Alpha and the bodies of the captain and the managing owner to this city. The Alpha has now gone to destruction. Chief Officer Wilkinson says that although the skipper saw the rocky shore of Yellow Island, the vessel would not answer her helm. The survivors had great trouble in landing and several of them narrowly escaped being dashed to death on the rocks.

One of the notable features in connection with the disaster was that the day after the wreck, in landing the court at Tucson, and United States Marshal Griffith and a deputy have left for Nogales to remove Rusk to Tucson, for his hearing.

DEWEET WAS EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

How the Boer General Escaped From the British Net.

HIS MAGNIFICENT DARING.

Whole Boer Army of 2,500 Mounted Men Make a Successful Charge for Freedom.

Bloemfontein, Thursday, Dec. 20.—Details of Gen. Dewet's escape from the general encircling British columns, show that it was one of the boldest incidents of the war. When Haasbroek's command joined Dewet, Dec. 12, some 15 miles east of Thaba N'Chu, Gen. Knox was only about an hour distant, and the Boer situation appeared desperate. But Dewet was equal to the occasion. Dispatching Haasbroek westward to make a feint at Victoria Nek, Gen. Dewet prepared to break through the British columns at Springhau Nek pass, about four miles ahead. At the entrance were two fortified posts, while artillery was posted on a hill eastward, watching the Boers.

Suddenly a magnificent spectacle was presented. The whole Boer army of 2,500 men started at a gallop in open order through the Nek. President Steyn and Pelt Fourie led the charge, and Dewet brought up the rear. The British guns near the drift boomed and rattled incessantly. The Boers first tried the eastward route, but, encountering artillery, they diverged and galloped to the front of the hill to the westward, where the fire of only a single post was effective. The whole maneuver was a piece of magnificent daring, and its success was complete in spite of the loss of a 16-pounder and 25 prisoners.

The British force detached after Haasbroek came in contact with his command at nightfall. The burghers were scattered, and Welsh yeomanry galloped among the retreating Boers, using their revolvers and the butt ends of their rifles with great effect.

An incident of the fight was the gallop of a British ammunition wagon right through the scattered Boers, the gunners using their revolvers freely.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WINS.

Western Union Fails in Its Suit for $12,000,000.

Boston, Dec. 21.—Justice Colt, in the United States circuit court today, decided in favor of the American Bell Telephone company in the royalty suit brought by the W. U. Telegraph company. The case is known as the "Stock Ticker" case and has been in the courts since 1894. The amount involved is $12,000,000.

French Vote of Confidence.

Paris, Dec. 21.—The chamber of deputies today, at the request of M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the premier, by a vote of 309 to 192, decided to postpone M. Lascie's motion to interpellate the government on the Major Cugnet incident until all further orders of the day are disposed of, thus shelving the national-ist attack indefinitely and giving the government a vote of confidence.

Gunboat Annapolis Ashore.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 21.—The gunboat Annapolis went ashore last night at the mouth of the western branch, very near the Red Can buoy. Her crew had raised her anchor and were about to put out another when the strong tide carried her aground. The tug McCauley and Katie now have lines on her and are endeavoring to pull her off. It is not believed she will be much damaged. The C. & O. steamer Rapidan, which was alongside, has been floated.

CONGRESS HAS ADJOURNED

Death Lays Its Hand on Members of Each House.

Senator Frye's Wife and Representative Wise Die—Congress Meets Again Jan. 3.

Washington, Dec. 21.—No business was transacted by the Senate today. The news of the death of Mrs. Wm. P. Frye, wife of the president pro tem of the Senate, was conveyed officially to the body, and out of respect for her memory immediate adjournment was taken until Jan. 3, 1901.

Senator Fairbanks of Indiana called the body to order, and Rev. Dr. W. H. Milburn pronounced a beautiful invocation.

The secretary then read a letter from Senator Frye, appointing Senator Fairbanks presiding officer during his absence from the Senate.

Meantime a conference of senators had been held as to the order of business. The reading of the journal was suspended and at 12:05 p. m., on motion of Mr. Hoar, the Senate adjourned until Jan. 3, 1901.

HOUSE.

Washington, Dec. 21.—When the House met today there were less than 100 members on the floor. The majority of the members had already departed for their homes to spend the holiday recess. The chaplain in his invocation referred tenderly to the death of Mrs. Frye, wife of Senator Frye, and Representative Wise of Virginia.

After the approval of the journal some routine minor business was transacted by unanimous consent.

Mr. Jones of Virginia then announced the death of Representative Wise of Virginia, which occurred at Williamsburg, Va., this morning. He offered the customary resolutions, which were adopted, and the speaker appointed the following committee to attend the funeral.

Messrs. Weeks of Michigan, Aldrich

UNITED STATES WILL KEEP OUT OF CHINA

Will Not Send Troops There Again—Powers Notified—Agreement of Powers is Signed.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Instructions were sent today to Mr. Conger at Pekin to sign the agreement which, according to Pekin advices, already has been signed by all of the other ministers at the Chinese capital. This instruction is sent with some reluctance, because the agreement, as it now stands, does not completely represent the view of the United States government. But it is believed to be the most favorable compromise that could be reached unless the negotiations are to be drawn out to a dangerous length, for all reports indicate a growing spirit of unrest in China, owing to the absence of any form of native government in Chili and the adjoining provinces. So the United States accepts the "irrevocable" condition imposed upon the Chinese government, though after all this explanation is rather a matter of form, for diplomacy knows no such thing as "irrevocable" agreements.

As to the British condition that the occupation of the Pekin and Chili is to continue until China has given satisfactory proofs of her intention to comply with the conditions laid down in the agreement, it is said that this will not affect the status of the United States.

Mr. Conger has, by direction of his government, notified the other ministers that the United States forces will not again be called into China for the purpose of occupation, that nothing more than a legation guard is to be maintained by United States, and the powers have accepted this condition. It therefore is expected here that the agreement will be signed before the end of the current month.

Florida Shooting Scrape.

Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 21.—News reached here today of a serious shooting affray over business matters at Sopchoppy, thirty miles from here, last night, between State Senator W. C. House, Edgar Nims, A. F. Edwards and Frank Walker. Nims was shot dead and House was since died. The other two were wounded.

Millionaire Banker Sent to Jail.

Berlin, Dec. 21.—Sternberg, the millionaire banker, who has been on trial for a long time past, was found guilty today of unmanageable immorality and was sentenced to two and a half years imprisonment with loss of citizenship for five years.

ONLY ONE NEW CASE TODAY

Denzel Lee, a Child on Sixth South Street, is the Victim.

One new case of smallpox only was reported to the city board of health today, the victim being Denzel Lee, aged three, 473 west Sixth South Street. The physician attending the child says it was "never vaccinated."

Eighteen school children took advantage of the city's offer of free vaccination today.

The 12-year-old son of Fred E. Barker, who attends the Lovell school, took sick yesterday and it was sent home, his teacher believing he had smallpox. It was learned today that there was nothing seriously the matter with the lad.

MRS. JNO. W. IRVINE SUES FOR DIVORCE

Alleges Gross Cruelty on the Part of Her Husband.

Mrs. J. W. Scott also has Grievances Against the Man She Married Years Ago.

John W. Irvine, a machinist, employed at Silver Bros. Iron Works, was made defendant in the Third district court this afternoon by his wife, Emma Irvine, who seeks an annulment of the marriage relationship existing between herself and the defendant, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The parties were married in this city on September 15, 1888, and have two children, a boy and girl, aged 11 and 7 respectively.

Mrs. Irvine says her husband began his cruel treatment of her three years ago and she further says he has kept it up continuously ever since. He began, his wife alleges, by slapping her face and calling her vile names nearly every day; then he took a hand at striking the children and would also curse and swear at them.

On the 27th of last August, plaintiff says she went to the home of defendant's mother to assist in making arrangements for a party. Notwithstanding the fact that the defendant had previously consented to her going to his mother's place he went after her and producing a pistol threatened to take her life.

It was only last Tuesday, plaintiff says, that the defendant came home socially intoxicated and began calling her vile names.

He is also accused by his wife of having on the same occasion grabbed their boy by the hair of his head and throwing him against the wall. Plaintiff prays for a decree, the custody of the children and $30 per month alimony. Defendant is said to be in receipt of $75 per month salary. W. T. Gunter is plaintiff's attorney.

Eliza A. Scott also instituted divorce proceedings today against J. W. Scott, a barber by trade, said by his wife to be worth $2,000. Desertion and failure to provide are the grounds of the suit. The parties were married in this city on December 17, 1883. Elmer C. Corfman is Mrs. Scott's attorney.

TWO PRISONERS RELEASED.

One is Rearrested While the Other Walks Away a Free Man.

George Leonard, convicted in Emery county last June of burglary and sentenced to six years in the State prison, was released on a writ of habeas corpus today, only to be rearrested, however, by Deputy Sheriff McDuff, and taken to the county jail, where he is waiting for the sheriff of Emery to come and take him back. The prisoner was convicted on an information filed against him by the district attorney, which the Supreme court recently held was illegal.

Thomas Inlay was also released this afternoon on a writ of habeas corpus based on the same grounds. There was no one to meet him at Warden Dow's place, so he took the car and came to town all by himself. Inlay was convicted at Panguitch of attempted criminal assault, and on July 9th, this year, was sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment. At the November meeting of the board of pardons his case received favorable consideration, but his pardon was not to take effect until March 14th, 1901.

Leonard was tried again, but it is doubtful whether the Garfield county authorities will take any steps looking to the rearrest of Inlay.

Judge Hiles heard the arguments on both writs, and it was stated today that an effort will be made to bring several more before him tomorrow or Monday.

WHOLESALE FORGER AND SUICIDE

Sensational Charges Made by Manager E. E. Rich of the People's Forwarding Company, Against His Bookkeeper, Hugo W. Uhl, Who Died Yesterday.

"Hugo W. Uhl, my bookkeeper, who died suddenly in this city yesterday morning, is a wholesale forger and suicide. He has forged over forty checks and defrauded me out of more than $2,000."

Thus spoke E. E. Rich, manager of the People's Forwarding company to a "News" representative at a late hour this afternoon. Continuing Mr. Rich said:

"Early last week a business friend of mine came in and informed me that my checks were flying around among many of the merchants in the city. I at once began to investigate and found that I had been correctly informed. While I realized that checks were current with my name signed to them, I knew that I had never issued them. But I was for a long time unable to detect the least flaw in Mr. Uhl's accounts. Everything was so cleverly worked out that while my cash did not balance the numbers on my checks tallied. I tried hard to detect Mr. Uhl in his work but I could not find him doing anything wrong. He began to suspect, however, and when I went to several of the business houses the day before Uhl died, he followed me with a look of despair upon his face. I was satisfied that Uhl had been committing forgeries and was determined to discover where and how they were done, so that night I took the books home."

"Uhl left my office about 7:30 that evening in company with a young lady, and I am told that he gave a party at his home that night, engaging in the revelry with more enthusiasm than any other person present. This party was nothing unusual, for he has been giving something of the kind every night ever since he was married."

"About 2 o'clock the next morning," continued Mr. Rich, "Dr. Estes came to my house, woke me up and informed me that Uhl was dead. I concluded then that he had committed suicide, for he knew that I was not home upon his trail. I went down to see him, and the family told me that he had been seized with convulsions, and had suffered great agony. They wanted to send for a physician but he would not let them, protesting that it would 'be over' in a few minutes. Dr. Estes

Sensational Charges Made by Manager E. E. Rich of the People's Forwarding Company, Against His Bookkeeper, Hugo W. Uhl, Who Died Yesterday.

I went down to see him, and the family told me that he had been seized with convulsions, and had suffered great agony. They wanted to send for a physician but he would not let them, protesting that it would 'be over' in a few minutes. Dr. Estes gives it as his opinion that Uhl administered a large dose of strychnine to himself."

"This was not the first time he had injured me," added Mr. Rich. "Soon after he began working for me, I caught him taking money from the till, and he pleaded so earnestly that I kept him in my employ, but never allowed him to handle any cash after that. The night before his wedding he came to me and swore that he was going to commit suicide because he had no money to procure the supper with. I went to Franklin's and ordered what he wanted and I think that prevented him from killing himself. Ever since his marriage last August he has lived like a prince, dining sumptuously all the time, and entertaining his friends with wine suppers every night. His home was furnished as costly as most any home in the city, and when any one would ask him where he got his money, he would tell him that his father had sent him $2,000. But he was spending the money that I had worked hard and honestly to get. It seems to me my fate to nurse serpents at my fireside. This is the third time that I have been almost ruined by such characters. I am most unfortunate in reposing too much confidence where it is not deserved."

The full amount of Uhl's speculations cannot be ascertained, but Rich is not the only man whom he defrauded. Several firms in the city were victims, among them being the Dinwoodey Furniture company and Young Bros. company. There are forty checks which are forged by him, and are in the hands of Mr. Rich, and there are some yet in the bank. These checks aggregate about $2,000, and Mr. Rich is trying now to locate $600 more that he says Uhl got away with."

Uhl came here about one year ago, and had worked for Mr. Rich ever since. He represented himself to be the son of a Cleveland capitalist, and claimed to have received periodical remittances from his father. When the father was telegraphed to he replied with an order to bury his son in Salt Lake, and added that no member of the family would attend the funeral. It would seem from this that there was an estrangement between the father and son."

UTAH AND THE BIG "PAN" EXPOSITION.

A Visitor Who Discovered to His Disappointment that the Bee Hive State is Not Represented—Makes Suggestions Regarding a Utah Display.

Special Correspondence.

Elmwood, New York, Dec. 16.—"Can you, please, direct me to the Utah building?" I asked the good-natured doorkeeper as I entered the Pan-American Exposition grounds at Buffalo, N. Y.

"No, I am sorry to say, I can't; but you might ask the guard."

I followed his advice, but was only directed to the grounds set apart for the different States, where I inquired, finally, some one said: "I don't believe there is any, but ask at the service building, they will be able to tell you."

So there I went.

"The Utah building?" exclaimed the gentleman in charge of the office. "Never heard of it, I don't believe they are going to show anything. Say, what kind of people have you out there? But if you go to Mr. Webber, director general, at Elliott Square, you might find out something." So a streetcar took me up town, where I found Mr. Webber in his private office, he was willing to show and tell me everything he knew about Utah prospects at the exhibition, and that was almost nothing as Utah had no space allotted and the time was short so he was afraid she would be left out.

The Pan-American is far away ahead of Chicago, as far as completeness is concerned. The buildings though small are neat, while the color of the whole cannot be compared with the Columbian, that was the White City; this is the Irridescent, or electric vision.

The grounds are more compact and more accessible than at Chicago; here you will see a select quantity instead of a conglomerated mass, as only the very best enters here, and private exhibitors will be similarly treated.

The side attractions are many and varied. Beautiful Oriental streets of Mexico, trips to the moon, Galveston flood, Venice in America and numerous other attractions so numerous that a person will be at a loss to know which to visit first or longest.

To return to Utah; what is she going to do? What has any one proposed? What has been subscribed? Is what many are asking.

My proposition and one that Mr. Webber thought good would be to duplicate the big Tabernacle externally at least.

The various pillars of the building that support the roof could be made to stand. The side attractions of industries or products of the State, such as salt, sugar, iron, lead, coal, all of which could be done with paint on the stuff.

On the inside duplicates of the noted buildings be placed on top of the gallery pillars, while between the pillars would be the different industries or exhibits. On the ground a relief map of Utah; also models of what Salt Lake City is now and what the real discoverers found.

A model or miniature irrigation canal taken from some actual one made to stand. The side attractions of industries or products of the State, such as salt, sugar, iron, lead, coal, all of which could be done with paint on the stuff.

A few samples of the sage and pine wood to show what our parents lived on during the Indian and grasshopper wars. An actual flag of nations represented by emigrants to be found in the State. The sale of mineral water, and other commodities would go far towards defraying the expenses.

Come, Utah; let us have the big Tabernacle at the "Pan" and "we'll take the cake."

A $25,000 REWARD IS OFFERED.

Money for the Capture of Kidnappers—Detectives are at Work on the Cudahy Case—Pat Crowe Suspected of Being Leader of the Abductors.

Omaha, Dec. 21.—It is stated this morning that Pat Crowe, well known to the local police circles, is the man whom the police suspect of being the leader of the gang who abducted Young Edward Cudahy on Tuesday night. Officers in citizens clothing are looking for Crowe today, but so far he has not been arrested.

The police and detectives who are working on the matter are inclined to believe that men not well acquainted with the city and surrounding country would not have been able to manage the affair as it was carried on. For this reason they are searching for several local men who are known to bear a bad reputation.

An extra force of Pinkertons arrived this morning and were put to work on the case. The only clue they have to work on at present is a copy of the letter thrown on Mr. Cudahy's lawn, naming the hour that the boy would be returned. The original copy was returned with the money, this being one of the considerations demanded by the desperadoes.

Mr. Cudahy this morning confirmed the offer of a reward of $25,000 for the arrest of the abductors.

Young Edward today stated that the letter demanding a ransom was hurled into the yard by his abductors before they left the neighborhood of his home. That was Tuesday, Dec. 18. This has given rise to some curious speculation, for the return of the letter was dated Dec. 19, that is to say the following day. It was Wednesday morning that the letter was found in the front yard. If the bandits wrote the letter and threw it into the yard Tuesday night, they dated it ahead. The letter was unsigned and the statement made shortly after its discovery that it was signed "Jack" was an error.

STRANGE COINCIDENCE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 21.—The sensational disappearance and return of young Edward Cudahy of Omaha, is somewhat strangely coincident with the finding of a letter in a Milwaukee street car a few days ago. The letter was addressed to Wm. Stewart, Chicago, and told of a plan to rob several residences of wealthy citizens in Milwaukee and to abduct a little girl. The letter was written with a lead pencil and was signed "Jack."

The letter was turned over to the police, who looked upon it as the work of a lunatic. The day following the finding of the letter the following advertisement in a local paper.

"Lost—Reward of $5 for the return of the letter addressed to Wm. Stewart, Chicago. Address letter to John Smith, Milwaukee, general delivery."

The Journal also received a letter signed "Jack," in which the writer says he is the person who lost the letter in the street car and he who advertised for it. He says he has been expelled from a desperate gang of robbers and kidnappers who are working in different parts of the country and that he has determined to inform against them. Then he tells of a plan which had been arranged to rob the Schandels. Milwaukee residence, abduct the little girl and hold her for a ransom. Besides the Schandels, he says numerous other prominent people, including Mayor Rose, Capt. Fahst and Chas. Uhlman, are worked for visits from the gang.

When the letter was shown to police Inspector Rector he expressed the opinion that both the advertisement and the letter were written by a lunatic or some boy who had been reading dime novels and finding notoriety.

"The finding of this letter rather indicated that there might be some truth in the theory that there is an organized band of kidnappers at work throughout the country," said Chief of Detectives Collier, of Chicago, today, when shown the Milwaukee story concerning the finding of a letter relating to the alleged plans for kidnapping of several children of wealthy people.

"The Milwaukee authorities, however, have not communicated with us in regard to this letter, but if they do say the Chicago police will certainly investigate promptly and make any arrests that may appear justifiable."

WHAT CUDAHY'S THINK.
