Report of U. P. R. R. Commission.

WASHINGTON, 16.—The report of the Union Pacific Railroad Commission sets forth that the company have more than complied with all the requisitions of previous commissions, expending $2,215,976 more for construction purposes than the $1,380,000 which the commission of 1869 estimated as necessary to complete the road. The location of the machine shops at Evanston is approved. The report says the road has been ballasted throughout with sand, gravel and rock; the cottonwood ties have been replaced by pine and oak, and the road is effectually freed from the danger of snow blockades. A Mormon company have paid out large sums for construction, and for additional facilities for handling, economically, the traffic of the road; the books of the company show that the total cost of the completed road to Oct. 1st, 1874, was $115,214,587.

U. S. Supreme Court Business.

Railway mail service was ordered, to-day, on the Utah Southern railroad from Salt Lake City to Provo City, a distance of forty-nine miles.

The Supreme Court, to-day, advanced the Union Pacific railroad tax cases on the docket, and set them for argument on the 2nd Monday in December; no motions to advance on other important cases pending, but it is probable that such a motion will be made next Friday in the Wisconsin cases, known as the Grange cases, involving the question of the right of states to regulate railroad tariff. The writ of error in the case of the Chinese women, in California, presenting the question of the power of the state to return improper characters, brought here for vile purposes, has not as yet reached this court, but upon being filed it will doubtless be advanced together with the cases above named and the Grant parish cases, and the case involving the statutes of Alexandria City, will be set for an early hearing.

Clerks Discharged.

The notice heretofore given by Secretary Bristow that it was his intention to remove one out of two of a family in the employ of the treasury, was partially put into effect to-day by a notification sent to twenty-five clerks that their services would be no longer required after the 1st proximo. The blow fell particularly heavy in Treasurer Spinner's bureau.

Resolutions of Respect and Affection.

At the adjourned meeting of the U. S. Supreme court, held to-day, Judge Campbell presiding, resolutions expressive of affection and respect for the late Judge Curtis, and their grief and sense of loss that the court, and the bar of the whole country sustained in his death, were adopted, and Attorney General Williams was requested to present them to the Supreme Court, and move that they be entered upon its minutes; Reverdy Johnson and others delivered eulogies.

Fatal Accident.

PHILADELPHIA, 16.—This afternoon, while workmen were filling up a culvert at 438 D and Sansome Sts., the banks fell in, killing a boy named Hugh, and two laborers, Frank Rees and Frank McGonigan, and seriously injuring Samuel Mink.

New Canon of Divorce.

NEW YORK, 16.—In the Episcopal Convention this afternoon a report was received from the House of Bishops that they had adopted the following canon of divorce, to take the place of canon 13 of title 3, which is hereby repealed, the new canon to be numbered 13 of title 2.

"Section 1. If any persons be joined together otherwise than as God's word doth allow, their marriage is not lawful.

"Section 2. No minister of this church shall solemnize matrimony in any case where there is a divorced wife or husband of either party still living, and when the divorce was obtained for some cause arising after marriage; but this canon shall not be held to apply to an innocent party in divorce for the cause of adultery or to parties once divorced seeking to be united again.

"Section 3. No minister of this church shall present for confirmation, or administer the holy sacraments to any person divorced for any cause arising after marriage and married to another in violation of this canon during the lifetime of such divorced wife or husband; but this prohibition shall not extend to an innocent party when divorce has been for the cause of adultery, nor to any penitent in extremis.

"Section 4. Questions touching the facts of any case arising under this canon shall be referred to the bishop of the diocese or missionary district, or if there be a vacancy in the episcopate then to some bishop designated by the standing committee, who shall thereupon make an inquiry by commissary or otherwise, and deliver his godly judgment in the premises.

"Section 5. This canon, so far as it affixes penalties, does not apply to cases occurring before its taking effect, according to canon 4, title 4."

CANADA.

Riel An Outlaw.

TORONTO, 16.—A Fort Garry dispatch says that a declaration of outlawry has been issued by the Court of Queen's Bench in Manitoba, against Louis Riel; this settles the question as to whether Riel is or is not a fugitive from justice, and any claim that he might make to sit unmolested in the house of Commons.

Bic House Suspended.

MONTREAL, 16.—H. Emanuel & Co., the largest importers of cigars in the Dominion, have suspended; liabilities four hundred thousand dollars.

Carlists Surrendering.

MADRID, 16.—Don Carlos has returned to Tolosa. Reports continue to be received of the defeat of the Carlists and of the arrival of insurgents in the government camp.

SANTANDER, 16.—Important dispatches have been received from Madrid, in relation to negotiations for the surrender of certain battalions of Don Carlos' army.

ITALY.

Contradicted.

FLORENCE, 16.—There is no truth in the report that the Italian government has requested M. Thiers to quit Italy.

PRUSSIA.

Liberal Elected—Another Search.

BERLIN, 16.—An election for a member of the German Parliament was held in Dortmund, Westphalia, yesterday, the contest being between a progressist and an ultramontane; the former was elected.

BERLIN, 16.—The residence of Count Von Arnim was again searched to-day by the police and agents of the government.

One Hundred Years.

HOW TO ARRIVE AT THAT AGE.

It has been said that the human frame, as a machine, is perfect; that it bears no marks within it by which we could predict its decay; that it is apparently calculated to go on forever, and that only by experience have we learned that it will not do so. A French writer has tersely remarked that, usually, men do not die—they kill themselves. There is a great deal of truth in the latter, and there is a great deal of encouragement in the former saying. That our organism is so perfect that the seeds of decay are not observable within it, affords ground for hope that man may add to the average number of his years. And this is rendered all the more probable as it is well established that the average of human life is longer by a very considerable fraction that it was a century ago. An English physician has lately published a work on the means of prolonging life after middle age. In common with a great many of his profession, Mr. Gardner, the physician referred to, seems to believe in the possibility of man's adding to his years. Fleurens has formulated the law of natural organic life, and claimed that it is capable of extension to five times the period of growth. Assuming this law to be true, man's natural years should be from 90 to 105 years. Dr. Gardner seems to have fully coincided with Flourens. Reasoning from the analogy of anesthetics, he sees no cause to despair of the discovery ultimately of a genuine elixir vitæ. Meanwhile he would prolong the reign of youth by tranquility of mind, sobriety and uniform temperature. He would have no one fret or worry. Dr. Duncan Gibbs, who has written a work on the physical condition of centenarians, and who had personally examined six persons over 100 years of age, confirms Dr. Gardner's views, in this latter respect at least. In all six, Dr. Gibbs found the lungs perfectly whole, also the heart. All six had good "bellows-power," as evidenced by the firmness, sonorousness and clearness of the voice. In each the cartilage at the top of the wind-pipe was in a vertical position. The skin was in each case tough and silvery. There was no case of enlarged or fatty heart. The digestion was perfect, and so was the calmness of mind. The bodily senses and mental faculties were unimpaired. Drs. Gardner and Gibbs agreed that climate was unimportant as regards longevity. When bordering on old age, the advice given is to stay at home, to keep warm, to have pleasant occupation, to take proper exercise and diet, to avoid starch of potato, malt liquor and cheese. Dr. Gardner would not undertake to lay down rules by observing which each one could make himself a centenarian. The task is an impossible one; and yet his advice is not wholly to be disregarded. It may, if scrupulously followed out, make centenarians of us all, which perhaps would be a great misfortune for the world; but it will be calculated to make sexagenarians of those who might have died in their thirties or forties. If a man would add to his years let him take care of his lungs by properly exercising them, of his heart by avoiding all undue excitement, of his brain by cultivating tranquility. Let him be temperate and pay a proper regard to the cleanliness and temperature of his person, and he will have done more for himself than a doctor and the whole pharmacopœia can do. If he will do all this, some future Dr. Gibbs may find him, at the age of one hundred or thereabouts, with lungs and heart perfectly whole, with good "bellows-power," a firm, clear and sonorous voice, with tough and silvery skin, and the cartilage at the top of his windpipe in a vertical position, and with his senses and his faculties as keen as those of a man in his prime—with his children and his children's children around him. Virtue is the basis of longevity, as of individual prosperity and national greatness.—Chicago Tribune.
