

MAY TERM OF SUPREME COURT

Will Open in This City on Monday Morning Next.

CASES ON THE CALENDAR

There are Twenty-Two of Them, Including Two Criminal Cases, One Worth and Horne.

The May term of the supreme court will open on Monday morning, May 11. There are 22 cases on the calendar and the settings extend up to and including May 20. Only two criminal cases are on the calendar. They are: State vs. Nick Haworth; State vs. Peter Mortensen. Both defendants are convicted of murder in the first degree, and both cases are set for hearing on the first day of the session.

The Mortensen case will very likely be continued by the court until the last day of the session, May 20, as there is only one case set for that date and the attorneys could have more time for argument. Atty.-Gen. Broden and Atty. Stewart, however, for the defendant, have already agreed that the case may go over until the later date, and the court will be asked to continue it.

This is the second appeal of the Haworth case to the supreme court. He was convicted for the murder of Night watchman Thomas Sandall at Layton. He will be represented by Atty. J. M. Hamilton and Weber & Bratton. The third case on the calendar for Monday is that of the State ex rel P. A. C. Wolfenden, which involves the right of the board of county commissioners of Beaver county to consolidate the offices of county assessor and county treasurer. Judge Marionneau, of the Fifth district, held that such consolidation was perfectly legal, and from that decision an appeal was taken.

MAY GET NO FEES.

Peculiar Situation Confronting Witnesses in Ellison Case.

There is some doubt as to whether or not the witnesses for defendant in the Ellison case will ever receive one cent from the state for witness fees. Attorney Truman appeared before Judge Morse this morning and asked the court to instruct the clerk to issue witness certificates to the witnesses for the defense. He stated that the witnesses were in a predicament of pecuniary distress and he asked the court to issue the certificates to them. Judge Morse, however, refused to do so, and the witnesses are now in a predicament of pecuniary distress. The witnesses are: Isaac Merrill, Horne, Isabel M. Whitney, Sears, Elizabeth S. Wilcox, Hattie Benson Barker, and Mrs. Craig Dead.

Owners Taking Advantage of the Emigration Canyon Passageway.

WOMEN OF HISTORY.

Daughters of the Pioneers Issue Call To Those Interested in Their Work.

At the last regular meeting of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers, held at the Beehive House, a cordial invitation was extended to all women pioneers and descendants of pioneers to join our society as charter members. The privilege of charter membership will be extended until the next birth day anniversary of President Brigham Young, June 1, 1904. After that date members can join only as regular members. Those eligible are women of good character, who have descended from pioneers, who came to the valley prior to 1850, or who died en route after the exodus from Nauvoo, or who were detained en route for the purpose of forwarding others.

The admission fee is 50 cents, which must be sent with application papers to the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hattie Benson Barker, 231 Third North, Salt Lake City. Application blanks are 10 cents, and the constitution is 25 cents. These can be procured at the Deseret News book store. We greatly desire that every pioneer shall be represented in our organization, the main purpose of which is to collect and preserve data relative to the pioneering of the way to these valleys of the mountains. It is our present purpose to undertake a history of "The March Westward," and those who have a common interest with us should identify themselves with this work and with us.

A number of committees have been appointed to assist the historian, Mrs. Edna Lambson Smith, in this undertaking. Those having private journals or records kept by pioneers should open them to the committee on "Journals," etc. Mrs. Annie Lyman King is chairman.

Those having the names of companies of ten, fifty, hundred or more, should forward them with date of emigration to the valley, if possible, to Libby Rich, Pratt, chairman, "Records of Tens." This will assist us in completing a true record of all tens that entered the valley prior to 1857.

Interesting anecdotes that are now told or that have been related by pioneers, should be sent to Claire Little (Clawson), chairman committee on "Pioneer Anecdotes."

Songs sung en route should be forwarded to Mrs. Emma Whitney Pyper, chairman of canon "Songs of the Saints." Photographs of pioneers suitable for illustration, with name and address of owner written on the back, may be sent to Mrs. Phoebe Young Beattie, chairman committee on "Illustrations."

Material collected for this historical work will be used to make up the program of the regular meetings. Mrs. Emily Young Clawson is chairman of the musical, and Mrs. Minnie H. Jones, chairman of the literary program.

The next issue of the "News" will contain a full list of all the committees appointed to assist the historian, and the charter members should attend the next regular meeting at the Beehive House, Saturday, May 23, at 3 p. m.

that it will occupy at least two days.

It will be remembered that West was found lying on the pavement close to the building with the front of his head crushed in. He was taken to the hospital, where he expired a few hours later. The investigation that followed developed the fact that West and Hughes had been quarreling on the Sunday previous over the price of a bottle of whisky for which West refused to pay, and Hughes threatened to get even with West if he had to kill him. A bottle of whisky belonging to West was found in the possession of Hughes when he was arrested. He stoutly denied all knowledge of the manner of West's tragic death. In the preliminary examination which is now going on, County Atty. Westervelt is prosecuting, while Hughes is being defended by Atty. Snow and Lewis. Several witnesses were examined today, but nothing new was brought out by their testimony. They testified to the same state of facts as were brought out at the inquest.

STUDENTS MAKE MUSIC.

University and B. Y. Academy Bands Serenade the "News."

The "News" today was serenaded by two college bands, one composed of B. Y. academy students, the other of State University students. Both organizations played very creditably but the band from the Provo institution made a better showing on account of the handsome uniform that adorned the young musicians.

THEY FIXED THE LOCK.

Students Show What Manual Training Has Done For Them.

That manual training is of practical value in the local public schools was proved the other day at the Bryant school. Some mischievous children had pushed the main entrance doors open before being unlocked, so that the lock was bent and the doors could not again be closed. The attention of the manual training supervisor, Mr. Florence Jessup, was called to the situation, and she sent several of the Webster eighth grade boys who were at the Bryant for manual training exercises, to see what they could do with that lock. The boys sized up the situation and went to work and in 20 minutes they had straightened out that lock so that it would work, and the doors were locked and unlocked without trouble. This saved the school board probably $1.50 in having a regular journeyman come and do the work.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.

John Offenbach Goes to His Rest at the Age of 77 Years.

John Offenbach, a veteran of the civil war and an old-time resident of Salt Lake, died at his residence, 1232 Emerson avenue, at 1:30 this morning, death being due to a complication of kidney and stomach troubles. THAT CASHIERSHIP.

Postal Inspectors Here Looking Into It—Postmaster Morn.

The two postal inspectors to give further examination in the matter of the postoffice cashiership, principally, are in town, and at work. They are J. S. Stice of Kansas City, and C. R. Clark of San Antonio, Tex., and they have taken possession of Inspector Sharp's room at the postoffice, and are keeping the typewriter in the room. An carbon paper is being freely used; it is surmised that the postmaster general is being provided with a report in duplicate. Both offices are very unobtrusive and very reticent when newspaper reporters are around—in fact have as little to say as possible. But it is known that among other things they will examine the proposed postoffice station and report on the advisability of the same.

Postmaster Thomas says that he does not know of the proposed station, and has nothing further to say in the matter.

HONORS FOR HARWOOD.

Mr. J. T. Harwood, now in Paris, has sent Mrs. M. M. Horne the first sketch of his salon picture entitled "The Young Mechanic." This makes three of Utah's boys to now have the great honor of admission to the recent French salon—Lee O. Richards, with oil portrait of Dr. Heber John Richards, Mr. Harwood, water color and Henri Young, drawings. The "Young Mechanic" is a youth sitting at a table with a toy engine in his hands. MANCHURIAN SITUATION.

There Will be No Interruption of the Open Door Policy.

Paris, May 9.—Comments on the Manchurian situation the officials here say the French ambassador at St. Petersburg has had an interview on the subject with Foreign Minister Loubet, which brought out a repetition of the statement that Russia had given positive assurances to the United States that there would be no interruption of the open door policy in Manchuria and also the assertion that the mission of Gen. Kuropatkin, the Russian war minister, to Manchuria was purely pacific.

The view held here is that Russia's assurances fully protect the United States commercial interests. The re-occupation of New Chang by Russian troops is declared to be a wholly political issue between Russia, Great Britain and Japan and as not involving American commerce or any other American interest.
