LOCAL BRIEFS.

Salt Lake's supply of mud was considerably lessened today under the warm rays of the sun. The spring-like glory of the day was heightened by the loud chirping of the birds in the trees.

The "News" is in receipt of a splendid wall calendar from the local agency of the Durrington road. It is made for use rather than ornament and it is thoroughly appreciated.

The daughters of the Revolution will hold their regular annual meeting at the Woman's Exponent office, room 208 Templeton block, tomorrow. A full attendance is requested, as the election of officers will be had.

The senior class of St. Mary's Academy celebrated the anniversary of Longfellow's birth last evening, by tendering a reception to the friends and patrons of the institution. The hall was artfully decorated and a large portrait of the poet adorned one of the walls.

The charred building in which John Gallscher had his restaurant and the building adjoining it on the north are being torn down to make room for a new one story building that is going to be constructed there temporarily, which in turn will be replaced by a larger one when business will warrant.

The Mine and Smelting Supply company is preparing to build a new warehouse, the plans now being in the hands of Architect Ware. It will occupy a place beside the Rio Grande track below Third South street and its dimensions will be 200x100 feet. It will be of iron frame and one story and a half high.

The State land board meets next Tuesday when it is expected that a new bookkeeper will be appointed to succeed P. W. Maughan, who recently received the appointment of secretary to the Agricultural board at Logan. The salary attached to the land office position is $100 per month and there is quite a scramble going on for the place.

The complimentary reception tendered last night by the students of the Salt Lake Business College to their faculty, was one of the most successful and pleasant social events of the season. On the announcement of the change of management of the school, a mass meeting was held by the students at which it was decided that a complimentary reception should be given to the outgoing members of the former faculty and the incoming members of the new faculty. The event at Christensen's last night was the result. Over two hundred couples were present, the school en masse, and among them all the members of the faculty. The evening was begun by a short program consisting of recitations by students, a speech to the faculty by Mr. McKnight, a student, and responses by various members of the faculty. Then dancing was commenced and continued until midnight.

During the evening lunch was served on the stage. The occasion was the first of its kind in the history of the Salt Lake Business College.

DEPOT FRANCHISE BEFORE COUNCIL

Special Committee Appointed to Confer With Railroads.

TO REPORT NEXT WEEK.

Thought that Difference Could be Satisfactorily Adjusted—Other Matters.

The differences existing between the members of the City Council and the local railroad companies with respect to the depot franchise question may, or may not, be adjusted. At last evening's session of the city council the matter came up and, as usual, was discussed pro and con, the majority of the members expressing themselves in favor of the new station.

The railroad companies sent in a communication requesting that action be postponed, and on motion the question was made the special order for next Tuesday evening. A committee of five on motion of Hartenstein, was appointed to confer with the railroad people and endeavor to arrive at some understanding in regard to the terms of the franchise. The committee is composed of the following councilmen: Buckle, Cottrell, Hartenstein, Howe (Edgar) and Hewlett.

AFTER STREET RAILROADS.
Buckle introduced a resolution endorsing the Salt Lake City Railroad company for its alleged inefficient service, more particularly on east Second South street, and directing the city attorney to take legal proceedings against the company to compel it to furnish more adequate facilities for the convenience of the public. Howe (C. R.) offered an amendment to refer the matter to the committee on municipal laws, with directions to first hear the testimony of passengers and the company before taking action. Hewlett moved to include the Rapid Transit company. The resolution, as amended, was referred to the laws committee, with instructions to report next week.

ECONOMY RECOMMENDED.
The finance committee submitted an ordinance limiting the various departments of the city to certain allowances for their maintenance. Accompanying the bill was a statement from the committee, suggesting economy and pointing out the necessity for it. The committee says the probable revenue for the year ending in 1900, which may be derived from direct taxation, will be $273,700, and the lowest estimate of expenditure, $466,500, leaving $192,800 to be raised by taxation. Estimating that the tax levy will be increased from 7 1/2 to 8 mills and that the valuation will amount to $20,000,000, the sum realized would leave the city at this time next year in practically the same condition it is now.

As a qualifying statement the committee advised that the Council should not practice economy to the extent of injuring the city's growth nor slighting any needed public improvement, and at all hazards the city's water rights should be protected regardless of cost.

The committee also reported the draft of an ordinance for salaries on the same basis as now paid and in force last year. Consideration of both bills went over for one week.

OBJECT TO RESCUE HOME.

About fifty residents and property owners of the southeastern part of the city petitioned the council to withhold the monthly allowance of $75 to the Woman's Rescue home until suitable quarters for the home are found. The presence of the home on Thirteenth East, petitioners say, will have an immoral effect upon the children living in the vicinity. Referred to finance committee.

City Engineer Kelsey called attention to the city's contract with the original owners of the city's creek, calling for the appointment before March 1st of some person to represent the municipality in matters pertaining to the measurement and division of water during the summer season. The matter was referred to the city attorney, who later in the evening appointed Land and Water Commissioner Westfield. The appointment was confirmed, it being understood that Mr. Westfield should act without remuneration beyond his present salary.

CLAIMS ALLOWED.
The laws committee recommended that the claim of William F. Berry for damages for alleged personal injuries received through falling into an excavation on Fifth East be compromised for $250. Adopted. Mr. Berry made a demand of the city for $350.

The same committee recommended that Judge A. B. Sawyer be offered $200 as a compromise of his claim of $1,500 for personal injuries sustained by reason of his falling over a grade stake in the street.

The committee on public grounds recommended that John H. Thorne be given the Liberty park refreshment privileges for two years, at $100 a year. Adopted.

Treasurer Morris submitted the appointment of D. A. Swan as deputy city treasurer, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. J. Bateman. Confirmed unanimously.

On recommendation of the committee on streets $700 was appropriated for repaving Tenth East street, between Sixth and Eighth South streets and $500 was appropriated for grading and graveling West Temple street from Ninth South to Goff street, and fixing up the sidewalk on the same portion of the same street.

The sum of $1,700 was appropriated for repairing and cleaning out the Jordan canal, the amount to be spent under the direction of Land and Water Commissioner Westfield.

RESOLUTIONS LAOURE.
Canning offered a resolution favoring the purchase of fifteen additional sprinkling wagons. Referred to the committee on sprinkling.

A resolution by Howe (C. R.) was adopted, requiring the heads of city departments to purchase supplies at wholesale rather than retail prices.

Howe (C. R.) offered another resolution calling for the graveling of all muddy crosswalks in the city. Referred to street committee.

Two other resolutions by Howe (C. R.) for the graveling of streets and fluming gutter crossings in the vicinity of North Temple, First North and First and Second West streets, were referred to the committee on streets.

Fernstrom introduced a resolution authorizing the employment of a stenographer to serve the waterworks, street and health departments at a monthly salary of $50, during the council's pleasure.

A resolution was offered by the street committee favoring the exchange of old worn-out horses in the department, for fresher stock. Referred to the department committee, with power to act.

UTAHAN'S ARREST IN WASHINGTON

Charged With Violating the Edmunds Law—Leo Whitehead Arrested on His Wife's Complaint—Deserted Her and Married Another Woman in Baltimore.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS"]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Leo Whitehead, aged 43, resident of Salt Lake, is held here on a charge of violating the Edmunds law.

The complainant is an unpretentious woman who says she is the real Mrs. Leo Whitehead, of Salt Lake City. The woman carried a young child in her arms, which she said was a son of the accused man. She declared that the prisoner had left Salt Lake City on June 30th last, in company with a Washingtonian, and came to this city, abandoning her and seven children, ranging in age from seventeen years to eleven months. He failed to return and she was forced to sell the household effects to pay her fare and that of the children to St. Joseph, Mo. She was living there with relatives and helping to support herself and family by washing and ironing, when she received an unsigned letter from an acquaintance in Washington conveying the information that Whitehead was married to a young woman and was living in the capital city.

She arrived yesterday, and Whitehead was arrested by the police on hearing the story. When confronted with the complaint, Whitehead admitted that he had married a young woman in Baltimore but a month ago. The bride's name was Gracia Miller. Before she became Mrs. Leo Whitehead No. 2, Whitehead claimed to have met her in this city, but refused to disclose her identity, briefly stating that he "thought she came from Philadelphia originally." He claimed to have secured a divorce from his first wife, but later expressed utter astonishment at the attempt.

Whitehead has been living here several months, during which time he has been endeavoring to secure a number of important patents now pending on an electrical rapid-fire gun, a high speed boat, an ice cutting machine, and a number of carpet cleaning devices. He is an inventor and pattern-maker by trade, and expects to reap a fortune by his inventions. He was engaged in the carpet cleaning business and was at one time in very comfortable circumstances. At one time he ran against Brigham H. Roberts, recently excluded from Congress, for the Utah Legislature. He claims to have met misfortune in mining operations.

Among the men interested in his inventions were Henry W. Lawrence and D. C. Roberts, wealthy citizens, August Stein, formerly city recorder, and an attorney named Gray, all of Salt Lake City.

SHOUP WANTS TO BE RE-ELECTED

Idaho Senator Makes the Announcement—Combination of Political Forces in Idaho—Understanding of an Alleged Agreement.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS"]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—"I shall make a fight for my re-election to the Senate," said Senator Shoup, of Idaho, today. "You can make the statement as positive as you like."

Special interest attaches to this declaration because of the dispatch printed a day or two ago saying that the Democrats, Silver Republicans and Populists had combined in Idaho and would fight together in the approaching campaign. This means that ex-Senator Fred Dubois is at work and he is to succeed Shoup.

Under the conditions which have prevailed in Idaho, the combination which has now been agreed upon ought to be successful. It is understood that agreement includes all of the tenement of governor to Democrats, of minor State officers to Democrats and Populists, and Senate to the Silver Republicans represented by Dubois.

Senator Shoup said that the fight would be an earnest one, and while he would not venture a prediction he hoped to be successful.

McKinley will take a hand in matters in the State in Shoup's behalf.

A BOLD ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.

That the old rookery called the Salt Lake jail is entirely inadequate for the purpose it was intended was forcibly illustrated between 12 and 1:30 o'clock this morning when a bold attempt at jail breaking was made and would have been successful but for the failure of outside confederates to do their part in the scheme. Those who did the work were James Wilson alias Charles Read, ex-convict and jail breaker from Missouri, Chas. H. McGinnis, who is serving a 100 days' term for assaulting a blond with a brunet reputation, and Louis Johnson, who is doing time for escaping from the old bastille.

WHAT CANNON DISCOVERED.
About 2 o'clock this morning Night Patrol Driver Marcella Cannon had occasion to enter the jail. He found the prisoners in cell No. 1 wide awake and moving about. He suspected something was wrong and concluded to investigate. In cell No. 1 there are six inner cells provided with iron bunkers. The cells provided with these inner cells are hung so that they can easily be lifted from the angles. When Officer Cannon entered the main part of the cell he found that two of the prisoners had taken one of the delay iron doors from its hinges and by constant pounding had dislocated one of the flagstones making an aperture in the floor two feet square and nearly three feet deep.

THE OLD, OLD WAY.
In the floor of the main corridor of the jail there is a trap door that opens to the sewer beneath the building. From this hole there is a tunnel which was bored three years ago by Holden O'Connor and two other crooks when they made their escape. The tunnel runs under the floor of a closet at the south end of the building. When the flagstone was removed the prisoners in cell No. 1 could easily crawl under the trap door and the main corridor and into the sewer.

NEARLY EVERYTHING ROTTEN.
The prisoners had but little trouble this morning in dislodging the flagstone for it was only supported by two thin planks, which were rotten at each end. To pry other stones out of place would require but few moments' labor. It is the simplest thing in the world for confederates to supply prisoners with small saws—and with these they cut the rotten iron strips from the bunkers and use them for levers. Saws are passed into the prison by being fastened to strings which are lowered through the upper iron barred windows.

HOW CONFEDERATES WORK.
As already stated, there is a closet in the south end of the "jail" to which trustees, lodgers, and, in fact, any one who cares to, can have access at any hour during day or night, and nothing is thought of it. Once the floor of the closet is torn up, the way to liberty for the prisoners, who can reach the tunnel, is clear.

For some cause, the prisoners' palace on the outside failed to tear up the floor at the appointed time this morning, and thus a wholesale "jail" delivery was prevented.

THE OLD BUNK HOUSE.
There's an old shack east of the "jail" called the "bunk house" where the "Weary Willies" and the "Tattered and Torn Fraternities" are wont to woo the goddess of "lodgers." The element that is housed in the bunk house consists of hobos and criminals of the worst type. They come and go to the bunk house at will. It is impossible to keep the place locked at night, for when the door is closed, all means of ventilation is cut off.

"It's all wrong to permit tramps to come into the jail yard at night. There is no night watchman here and no way to prevent them from communicating with the prisoners."

Jailer Kimball thinks that the city should provide some other place for the tramps to sleep. They could go to the desk sergeant and get a pass to sleep in the mission house and let the city pay for it.

WILSON ACTING SUSPICIOUS.
Wilson, or Read, the leader of the gang who tried to escape this morning, is evidently laboring under great fear. The other day Deputy Sheriff Ben Harrison called to see him and told him that he was wanted in other cities for serious offenses. Following that, Wilson's picture was taken, and since then he has been restless and at times acted like a wild man.

PLAYED A MOUTH ORGAN.
Jailer Kimball learned from one of the prisoners this morning that while Wilson and Johnson were pounding the flagstone with the iron door McGinnis played like mad on a mouth organ, drowned the noise of the pounding.

In all probability the gang will go to the State prison. Jailer Kimball has filed complaints charging them with attempted jail breaking.

SUSPECTED OF MURDER.
Later—There is good reason to believe that Read is wanted in Iowa for the crime of murder. This afternoon he was arraigned before Judge Timmony on the charge of attempting to break jail and bleed after same investigation, not guilty. Johnson and McGinnis also pleaded not guilty. During the arraignment Read trembled violently, and was unable to control himself. The three were sent to the county jail.

COMES INTO A FORTUNE.
Lieutenant Gibbs Receives Word that He Has $12,000.

The many friends of Lieut. George W. Gibbs, formerly of battery A, will understand the cause of the unusually broad smile on his face when they learn that he has just been notified that he is now $12,000 richer than he was forty-eight hours ago. Yesterday he received word from Lawrence Bond, an attorney of Newton, Mass., to the effect that his step-mother had died on the 13th inst. at that place, and the property entrusted to her by her husband had been left to her step-son as provided in his father's will.

Lieut. Gibbs came to the west when he was 19 years old, and has remained here ever since. His mother died just before he left, and since his leaving he has lost both of his sisters. His father married again, but died in 1872, fixing the disposition of his property as stated above.

The property of which Lieut. Gibbs finds himself the sole possessor includes a fine homestead that has been retained in the family for several generations, and a goodly sum of money.

The lieutenant, needless to say, is delighted over his good fortune, for the chief reason that he can gratify his fondest ambition—giving his children the best possible education.

He may go to Massachusetts to look after his affairs, but on that he has not decided. Lawrence Bond, the trustee for Gibbs, has been informed, and he has the most implicit confidence in him.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Herculais, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain.
