Neuilly, Courbevoie, Asniers, Billancourt, Point Du Jour, Autenil, Sevres, St. Cloud, Surresnes and other suburbs of the city are all more or less inundated. The suffering caused by the floods is very great. Marshal and Madame Mac-Mahon have each visited separate quarters and distributed relief personally. Madame MacMahon sent to the Prefect of the Seine five thousand francs for the relief of the sufferers, and public contributions are being made for the same object. All the large streams between Paris and the eastern frontier of France are over their banks, and the country for miles around is flooded. In Normandy the gale was terrible. On the Calvados coast masses of rock were blown off the cliffs. In Belgium the hurricane was terrific; the barometer at Liege fell below the lowest reading on record. Elsewhere in Germany the storm was most violent, and generally on the continent the telegraph lines were damaged to an extent hitherto unparalleled.
