will be taken it is difficult to state, as all the local freight men profess to be at sea themselves, but it is altogether likety that while the open rate will be according to schedule, not much freight will be turned aside even if the 33 cent rate has to be offered.

A prominent and well posted passenger man who is in the city at present states that the passenger situation all over the country is in horrible canal shape and that there is no such thing as a stable rate. When the condition of affairs existing in Denver was explained to him, he said he was not surprised ; that it was just the same every where, and a general break-up mis where, and a general orear-up induc come at any time. Everybody is dis-trustful, each road is watching the other, and the least suspicion has as much effect as the positive knowl-edge of a cut would ordinarily have. The brokers are the active ones in the trouble and the roads in Dorwar are trouble, and the roads in Denver are as susceptible to their wiles as the roads elsewhere. The great flood of Returns of the census being duly excursion tickets now on the market prevents actual proof being obtained, but there will be some very sore people one of these days when Chairman Rich sees fit to show the hand he is at present playing At least that is the opinion in certain quarters. Nothwithstanding all this, nearly all the roads say, and it is unloabtedly true, that they are not prepared for and cannot afford a passed er war; but their attitude is hardly tive to belong to the second class, n keeping with their assertions.
