eached by the thermometer to-day mas 92, THEATRICAL.-That very fine drama, The Rag-Picker of Paris," will be presented to-night, Mr. David McKenzie apearing in the principal role. This gentleman has played the character before, and it s one which he personates in excellent style. Mr. McKenzie has always been a lavorite with theatre-goers, and, doubtless, his friends will be pressed to have an opportunity of seeing him on the boards again to-night after an absence, from the tage, of several months. Mr. Coggesball will appear as Pierre Garousse, which part sure to receive justice at his hands. Mass Adams, Mesdames Allee and M. G. lawson, and M. Bowring and others will

AN OLD FASHIONED SEASON.-The pretion of being hotter-of the first seasons On 24th July passed here after the settlement of this valley li is nearly, if not quite as dry as the driest of them, and is in striking contrast with the past six or seven summers. tor many years after the settlement was formed a man might go from May to September without a coat, and not enough to nature fall to wet his shirt sleeves through. During those years, irrigation was absolutely essential to the life of everything sown for planted on almost every kind of ground. But for the past alx or seven years we have had moist seasons; the rainfall has been considerable, and it has not been uncommon for grain, vegeta- Fare to OGDEM and back only bles and trees to flourish in many places thout the aid of water artificially applied This change gave rise to many interesting speculations, Through this increased rainfail, the streams were enlarged beyond their usual volume, a larger body of water poured into Salt Lake, there was less absorption by the suil and less evaporation to the surface of the Lake, and the very Saturday, July 22nd, natural consequence was that the waters the Lake rose to an abnormal heightarchably from nine to twelve feet vertical

DAVID CANDLAND. DELAYED ON THE WAY .- A communistion from W. D. Johnson, jr., of Johnson settlement, Kane county, dated July 5th, has just some to hand. From the length of time it has been on the road, we should udge it has been on a tour of observation to some distant part. The letter relates to the celebration of the Fourth at the place where it was written, and as the news is too old to be in the least interesting, of course we demur publishing it. The writer will please accept of this explanation for its non-appearance.

THE WEATHER .- Yesterday there seemat to be a prospect that the heavy, oppressive, sultry atmosphere would be purified, and vegetation receive new life and vigor by a genuine rain storm. But although the clouds overhead were black and lower-ing they only let down a few drops upon the thirsty ground; not enough to lay the sumed its usual serene appearance, and last night there were clouds again, a pretty high wind, the rumbling of thunder, a few flashes of lightning and another slight aprinkling of rain; but to-day the elements have again assumed a peaceful as-
