

DON'T YOU DO IT.

CALIFORNIA is undergoing another stage of excitement over speculations in mining stocks. The result will be the enrichment of a few and the ruin of a multitude. The idea of speculation ebbs and flows and leaves thousands stranded on the shores of disappointment and distress. Stock gambling—for it is nothing less, has a most pernicious effect on all who engage in it. Occasional speculators become a kind of mania. People of all classes, professions and conditions rush into the whirlpool, and most of them are seriously injured, while many go down to the depths of destruction. When once the complete ruin of a man without work, and by some sudden unexpected turn of the wheel of fortune, settles hold of a man or woman, it usually unites the individual for legitimate business. Ordinary occupations are neglected. Excitement, suspense, violent fluctuations of feeling, sudden successes or reverses, superinduce an unhealthy condition of body and mind, stimulants are resorted to, association with dissolute and dissipated habits, and when the excitement is over, the individual is an excuse for relaxation of energy, and the results are disastrous to those who fall into the rushing stream and indirectly to the whole community.

Speculation in stocks is not viewed in the same light as playing on the green cloth for cash, because it is under the ban of the law. But it is gambling all the same, and is entered into with the same spirit, and produces similar baneful effects. There is as much trickery about it, too, and the jobs that are put up to fleece the unsuspecting are as vicious, dishonest and swindling in their character as cheating in cards or deceiving with dice. An advertisement which appears in this as well as other papers, says: "Now is the Time to Speculate," and goes on to tell where and how to make money by that method. We say to our readers, now is not the time to speculate in any such fashion. The inducement thus held out is fallacious and fraught with evil. Do not be tempted by any baits of that kind thrown out to catch gudgeons. The firm that transacts such business may be respectable and successful in the world, and do business on a strictly legal basis; that is to say, so as the law cannot touch them. But the whole thing is a snare, and those who are entangled in it are not wise.

We warn all people against it, and advise everybody against speculation in stocks, east or west, as an unhealthy, unsatisfactory, foolish and dangerous undertaking, that annually costs thousands of victims their money and health, and finally ruins and despair. When you are invited to take risks of this kind, don't you do it.

FIELD-MARSHAL FIELD.

It appears that resolutions passed by local parties of the G. A. R. endorsing Kate Field as an anti-Mormon lecturer, have been concurred in by the leading officers of the national organization—including L. G. Fairchild, Commander-in-Chief. For the time being, therefore, the patriotic and little woman will lecture under the auspices of the G. A. R. She has practically been elected "Field-Marshal" in the Grand Army onslaught upon the poor "Mormons."

This movement seems to be in unison with the patriotic statement of Rev. Dr. Dunning, who was one of the speakers at the local anti-Mormon alleged camp-fires in the skating rink in this city, last August. In denouncing what he called the "Mormon" non-appreciation of the tender sex, he exclaimed, with hyperbolic fervor: "We marched our wives and daughters from the depot ahead of us to show how much we thought of them."

This movement on the part of some of the representative men of the G. A. R. is not what might be called a start war one. It may, however, be quite appropriate for them to be thus represented. It is not likely to improve the opinion of the "little female busy-body" and will not cause people to be any more eager than formerly to rush with their hair streaming in the wind to get a front seat in order to hear her aggressive and defiant utterances. Her raps on the "Mormon" question are getting pretty threadbare, and no kind of application of benzine and brushing by the G. A. R. can give them the gloss of freshness.

Such steps as the one in point—the outgrowth of the anti-Mormon spurge inaugurated by the political schemers located in this city—have but one purpose. This is to manufacture prejudice against the Latter-day Saints and force the administration to shape its course accordingly towards the majority of the people of Utah.

There are a number of ingredients which are likely to go against the scheme. One of these lies in the fact that while the administration is Democratic, the G. A. R. is, as a whole, ultra-Republican, and therefore, unalterably inimical to the national powers that be. Here comes in the old proverb: "If you know what your enemy wants you to do, don't do it." Perhaps the idea will strike the administration.

Another point in the same connection, is that a large proportion of influential members of the G. A. R. are not in harmony with the crusade. Those belonging to that sensible class look upon it as entirely outside the province of the organization, and refuse to countenance proposed anti-Mormon assaults to subvert political ends.

AN ALLEGED HORROR-INSPIRING FREAK OF NATURE.

A RECENT issue of the Chicago Daily News contained the following letter from a sparsely-populated portion of Texas. The statements appear to be almost too extraordinary for belief; otherwise the letter has all the appearance of being authentic, and is accepted and published by our Chicago contemporary as of that character:

"The greatest excitement prevails here, resulting in talk and thought of a nature's great convulsion last night. At a point seven miles southeast of the town of Pecos, a great earthquake occurred last night one of the strongest freaks of nature recorded in the annals of the world's history. As the above mentioned point is the confidence of two creeks—Post Oak and Chambers—the latter quite an important stream, and what would be called a river in the New England States. Here is located the cause of the terror and excitement that have not held of the people. An immense upheaval has occurred at this point, causing a rent in the earth that is horrifying to look upon. The topography of the country before the earthquake, is now a dead level. It is a vast crater bottom, covered with dense timber, or was such before this occurrence. To-day a yawning chasm, fifteen miles long and more than fifteen hundred feet broad, stares one in the face who has the courage to look at it. A dense cloud of black sulphur at the bottom of the chasm, is blowing from the mouth. Intense heat prevails at a distance of a few rods from the edge of this vast and terrible crater, and, to add to its awful grandeur, it is intersected by a chain of hills, and a large body of water, that plunges down a bottomless chasm with a jar and a thundering tone that can be felt and heard for 25 miles. The nearest telegraphic station to this point is Corsicana, 25 miles away. The people in this neighborhood are a thrifty, though illiterate class of planters. They are naturally cautious, and the wonderful phenomenon has just run them wild. They spend their entire time praying and looking at the chasm, and the wonderful appearance of the jaws of hell. As they suppose, in store for them, is a fearful doom, they are only as scared as a mouse. A portion of the time to-day a strong east wind has been blowing, driving the heat to the west side of the opening, so that your correspondent could approach sufficiently close to examine partially the interior appearance of the jaws of hell. No language, however awful or eloquent, could so fully describe the scene as so grand yet so fearful a scene. It is a vast crater, 15 miles long and 1,500 feet deep, belching forth great clouds of black sulphur, and a dense cloud of black smoke, which comes from the chasm, and the deep mutterings of subterranean thunders whose voices seem to come from the bottom of hell, then may you form but a slight idea of this scene. As the wind moves from the west, the smoke and sulphur clouds are driven into the chasm, and the sound of the chasm is like a human voice in the awful agony and pain, as you stand on the brink of this horrible chasm. Various theories have been advanced by experts and old women, as to the meaning of all this unrest of old Mother Earth. There is no doubt in the mind of your correspondent that it is associated with the recent earthquake which has been felt all over the country.

"What the result may be before nature resumes her equilibrium is under the ban of the law. But it is gambling all the same, and is entered into with the same spirit, and produces similar baneful effects. There is as much trickery about it, too, and the jobs that are put up to fleece the unsuspecting are as vicious, dishonest and swindling in their character as cheating in cards or deceiving with dice. An advertisement which appears in this as well as other papers, says: "Now is the Time to Speculate," and goes on to tell where and how to make money by that method. We say to our readers, now is not the time to speculate in any such fashion. The inducement thus held out is fallacious and fraught with evil. Do not be tempted by any baits of that kind thrown out to catch gudgeons. The firm that transacts such business may be respectable and successful in the world, and do business on a strictly legal basis; that is to say, so as the law cannot touch them. But the whole thing is a snare, and those who are entangled in it are not wise.

We warn all people against it, and advise everybody against speculation in stocks, east or west, as an unhealthy, unsatisfactory, foolish and dangerous undertaking, that annually costs thousands of victims their money and health, and finally ruins and despair. When you are invited to take risks of this kind, don't you do it.

It appears that resolutions passed by local parties of the G. A. R. endorsing Kate Field as an anti-Mormon lecturer, have been concurred in by the leading officers of the national organization—including L. G. Fairchild, Commander-in-Chief. For the time being, therefore, the patriotic and little woman will lecture under the auspices of the G. A. R. She has practically been elected "Field-Marshal" in the Grand Army onslaught upon the poor "Mormons."

This movement seems to be in unison with the patriotic statement of Rev. Dr. Dunning, who was one of the speakers at the local anti-Mormon alleged camp-fires in the skating rink in this city, last August. In denouncing what he called the "Mormon" non-appreciation of the tender sex, he exclaimed, with hyperbolic fervor: "We marched our wives and daughters from the depot ahead of us to show how much we thought of them."

This movement on the part of some of the representative men of the G. A. R. is not what might be called a start war one. It may, however, be quite appropriate for them to be thus represented. It is not likely to improve the opinion of the "little female busy-body" and will not cause people to be any more eager than formerly to rush with their hair streaming in the wind to get a front seat in order to hear her aggressive and defiant utterances. Her raps on the "Mormon" question are getting pretty threadbare, and no kind of application of benzine and brushing by the G. A. R. can give them the gloss of freshness.

Such steps as the one in point—the outgrowth of the anti-Mormon spurge inaugurated by the political schemers located in this city—have but one purpose. This is to manufacture prejudice against the Latter-day Saints and force the administration to shape its course accordingly towards the majority of the people of Utah.

There are a number of ingredients which are likely to go against the scheme. One of these lies in the fact that while the administration is Democratic, the G. A. R. is, as a whole, ultra-Republican, and therefore, unalterably inimical to the national powers that be. Here comes in the old proverb: "If you know what your enemy wants you to do, don't do it." Perhaps the idea will strike the administration.

Another point in the same connection, is that a large proportion of influential members of the G. A. R. are not in harmony with the crusade. Those belonging to that sensible class look upon it as entirely outside the province of the organization, and refuse to countenance proposed anti-Mormon assaults to subvert political ends.

A RECENT issue of the Chicago Daily News contained the following letter from a sparsely-populated portion of Texas. The statements appear to be almost too extraordinary for belief; otherwise the letter has all the appearance of being authentic, and is accepted and published by our Chicago contemporary as of that character:

"The greatest excitement prevails here, resulting in talk and thought of a nature's great convulsion last night. At a point seven miles southeast of the town of Pecos, a great earthquake occurred last night one of the strongest freaks of nature recorded in the annals of the world's history. As the above mentioned point is the confidence of two creeks—Post Oak and Chambers—the latter quite an important stream, and what would be called a river in the New England States. Here is located the cause of the terror and excitement that have not held of the people. An immense upheaval has occurred at this point, causing a rent in the earth that is horrifying to look upon. The topography of the country before the earthquake, is now a dead level. It is a vast crater bottom, covered with dense timber, or was such before this occurrence. To-day a yawning chasm, fifteen miles long and more than fifteen hundred feet broad, stares one in the face who has the courage to look at it. A dense cloud of black sulphur at the bottom of the chasm, is blowing from the mouth. Intense heat prevails at a distance of a few rods from the edge of this vast and terrible crater, and, to add to its awful grandeur, it is intersected by a chain of hills, and a large body of water, that plunges down a bottomless chasm with a jar and a thundering tone that can be felt and heard for 25 miles. The nearest telegraphic station to this point is Corsicana, 25 miles away. The people in this neighborhood are a thrifty, though illiterate class of planters. They are naturally cautious, and the wonderful phenomenon has just run them wild. They spend their entire time praying and looking at the chasm, and the wonderful appearance of the jaws of hell. As they suppose, in store for them, is a fearful doom, they are only as scared as a mouse. A portion of the time to-day a strong east wind has been blowing, driving the heat to the west side of the opening, so that your correspondent could approach sufficiently close to examine partially the interior appearance of the jaws of hell. No language, however awful or eloquent, could so fully describe the scene as so grand yet so fearful a scene. It is a vast crater, 15 miles long and 1,500 feet deep, belching forth great clouds of black sulphur, and a dense cloud of black smoke, which comes from the chasm, and the deep mutterings of subterranean thunders whose voices seem to come from the bottom of hell, then may you form but a slight idea of this scene. As the wind moves from the west, the smoke and sulphur clouds are driven into the chasm, and the sound of the chasm is like a human voice in the awful agony and pain, as you stand on the brink of this horrible chasm. Various theories have been advanced by experts and old women, as to the meaning of all this unrest of old Mother Earth. There is no doubt in the mind of your correspondent that it is associated with the recent earthquake which has been felt all over the country.

"What the result may be before nature resumes her equilibrium is under the ban of the law. But it is gambling all the same, and is entered into with the same spirit, and produces similar baneful effects. There is as much trickery about it, too, and the jobs that are put up to fleece the unsuspecting are as vicious, dishonest and swindling in their character as cheating in cards or deceiving with dice. An advertisement which appears in this as well as other papers, says: "Now is the Time to Speculate," and goes on to tell where and how to make money by that method. We say to our readers, now is not the time to speculate in any such fashion. The inducement thus held out is fallacious and fraught with evil. Do not be tempted by any baits of that kind thrown out to catch gudgeons. The firm that transacts such business may be respectable and successful in the world, and do business on a strictly legal basis; that is to say, so as the law cannot touch them. But the whole thing is a snare, and those who are entangled in it are not wise.

We warn all people against it, and advise everybody against speculation in stocks, east or west, as an unhealthy, unsatisfactory, foolish and dangerous undertaking, that annually costs thousands of victims their money and health, and finally ruins and despair. When you are invited to take risks of this kind, don't you do it.

It appears that resolutions passed by local parties of the G. A. R. endorsing Kate Field as an anti-Mormon lecturer, have been concurred in by the leading officers of the national organization—including L. G. Fairchild, Commander-in-Chief. For the time being, therefore, the patriotic and little woman will lecture under the auspices of the G. A. R. She has practically been elected "Field-Marshal" in the Grand Army onslaught upon the poor "Mormons."

This movement seems to be in unison with the patriotic statement of Rev. Dr. Dunning, who was one of the speakers at the local anti-Mormon alleged camp-fires in the skating rink in this city, last August. In denouncing what he called the "Mormon" non-appreciation of the tender sex, he exclaimed, with hyperbolic fervor: "We marched our wives and daughters from the depot ahead of us to show how much we thought of them."

This movement on the part of some of the representative men of the G. A. R. is not what might be called a start war one. It may, however, be quite appropriate for them to be thus represented. It is not likely to improve the opinion of the "little female busy-body" and will not cause people to be any more eager than formerly to rush with their hair streaming in the wind to get a front seat in order to hear her aggressive and defiant utterances. Her raps on the "Mormon" question are getting pretty threadbare, and no kind of application of benzine and brushing by the G. A. R. can give them the gloss of freshness.

Such steps as the one in point—the outgrowth of the anti-Mormon spurge inaugurated by the political schemers located in this city—have but one purpose. This is to manufacture prejudice against the Latter-day Saints and force the administration to shape its course accordingly towards the majority of the people of Utah.

There are a number of ingredients which are likely to go against the scheme. One of these lies in the fact that while the administration is Democratic, the G. A. R. is, as a whole, ultra-Republican, and therefore, unalterably inimical to the national powers that be. Here comes in the old proverb: "If you know what your enemy wants you to do, don't do it." Perhaps the idea will strike the administration.

Another point in the same connection, is that a large proportion of influential members of the G. A. R. are not in harmony with the crusade. Those belonging to that sensible class look upon it as entirely outside the province of the organization, and refuse to countenance proposed anti-Mormon assaults to subvert political ends.

A RECENT issue of the Chicago Daily News contained the following letter from a sparsely-populated portion of Texas. The statements appear to be almost too extraordinary for belief; otherwise the letter has all the appearance of being authentic, and is accepted and published by our Chicago contemporary as of that character:

"The greatest excitement prevails here, resulting in talk and thought of a nature's great convulsion last night. At a point seven miles southeast of the town of Pecos, a great earthquake occurred last night one of the strongest freaks of nature recorded in the annals of the world's history. As the above mentioned point is the confidence of two creeks—Post Oak and Chambers—the latter quite an important stream, and what would be called a river in the New England States. Here is located the cause of the terror and excitement that have not held of the people. An immense upheaval has occurred at this point, causing a rent in the earth

FOREIGN.

THE GOVERNMENT RAILED AT FOR PROHIBITING LEAGUE MEETINGS.

A Cabinet Council Considering the Situation in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

Cabinet Council on the Situation in Ireland.

LONDON, 3.—The Cabinet council was held at the usual hour, and was presided over by Mr. Gladstone. The subject of the meeting was the situation in Ireland, and the proposed prohibition of League meetings.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

The Campbell Divorce Suit Continued, Etc.

LONDON, 3.—In the Campbell divorce case, which is being tried at the High Court, the evidence of the witnesses was continued.

Denouncing England for Prohibiting League Meetings.

DUBLIN, 3.—The corporation today adopted a resolution denouncing the English government for prohibiting League meetings in Ireland.

THIS IS A FREE COUNTRY.

Though Smith his bellows blows, And Hides do swell and burst, Each Salt Lake citizen knows Freeman's bound to be first.

JOHN H. FREEMAN.

Is still in the van, having opened A Fish Store, 76 Market Row.

Where all kinds of FISH can be found at the Lowest Figures.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Hotels and families supplied. Wagon calls every day at your door. Send in your orders to 76 W. First South & 324 Eighth East.

COUNTY TAX SALE.

WHEREAS THE TERRITORIAL School and County Taxes assessed to the Ryan Cattle Company for the year 1886, amounting to $1,023.80 remain unpaid, and Therefore, I, Samuel N. Slaughter, Collector for the Territory of Utah, do hereby give notice that I will sell at public auction, on the 10th day of December, 1886, at 10 o'clock a.m., the following described property, to-wit:

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

One red and white yearling steer, about 4 years old, marked and branded as above.

death.

He was ordained a Patriarch under the hands of Presidents Brigham Young and Q. A. Smith. Apostles, Strathmore and Brigham Young, Jun., and Joseph W. Young, President of the Southern Mission Station on Zion, on the 27th of March, 1870.

The funeral services were held in the Tabernacle at St. George, on the 17th of November, 1886, at 2 p. m. Wm. Fawcett, President of the High Priests' Quorum of the St. George Stake, spoke, and also the Presidency of the Stake, Bishop David H. Cannon and High Councilor Charles Smith. A large number of attendants and vehicles escorted him to the grave.

underbit in left ear and underlip in right, dewlap cut.

One roan speckled Cow, about 4 years old, T iron right ribs on left hip, V on left side, crop off both ears and underlip in right, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V on left side, V on left hip, upper and underbit in left ear, and underlip in right ear, dewlap cut.

One light red steer, about 3 years old, V