BURLINGTON CUT-OFF.

On Tuesday Short Route to World's Fair Will be Opened.

Commencing Tuesday next the Burlington will run eight trains daily between Kansas City and St. Louis over the new line just completed. For years this system has had a roundabout route via Canon, Macon and Hannibal which was 345 miles in length. The new cut-off to be opened cuts down the distance by 66 miles and gives an almost straight shot between the two big cities. With this advantage the Burlington should make things extremely interesting for all competitors on world's fair business, especially when it is taken into consideration that this line is already being heavily patronized.

Work on the spurs to the various mines is being pushed rapidly, and the grading on all of them will be completed shortly after the advent of the railroad.

The committee on arrangements for Railroad day is actively at work making preparations for the celebration. Work on July 25, 26 and 27. An elaborate program is being prepared, and it will be printed in these columns next week. It is probable that an excursion will be run from San Francisco and hundreds of visitors are expected from Nevada towns.—Tonopah Miner.
