MANY a dollar formerly spent on expensive sulphur baths is now saved by substituting therefor Glenn's Sulphur Soap, which is just as beneficial but infinitely cheaper. Local diseases of the skin, rheumatism and gout are all relieved by this standard remedy. Complexional blemishes are eradicated by it, and it imparts to the cuticle a pearly whiteness and velvet softness which greatly enhance the effect of female charms. Its soothing, antipruritic action constitutes it a prime remedy for sores, ulcers, cuts, sprains, scalds, bruises, and in fact every abnormal condition of the cuticle attended by inflammation, swelling or itching. Ladies moving in our best society speak of its beautifying properties in enthusiastic terms, and give it a decided preference to cosmetics which merely conceal but do not, like Glenn's Sulphur Soap, eradicate defects of the complexion. The use of ointments for eruptive complaints is to be deprecated because of their having a tendency to clog the pores and in some cases to aggravate rather than remedy the disease. They are, besides, seldom thorough enough in their effects to prevent the recurrence of eruptions of an inveterate type, and have the disadvantage of soiling the linen of persons who use them. Glenn's SULPHUR SOAP, on the contrary, radically cures the diseases to which it is adapted, and still further recommends itself on account of its cleanliness. It is besides, an admirable disinfectant of clothing which has been worn by persons afflicted with diseases of a contagious nature. As a specific, preventive and promoter of general health it presents advantages of the most unequivocal description.

Sold by Druggists. Price 25c. per cake. 1 Box (3 cakes) 75c. sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price. C. N. Crittenton, Prop'r, 7 Sixth Avenue, New York.

EVENING NEWS.
Saturday, August 23, 1879

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.
Poorly Remedied.—The plank sidewalk on the corner of the Wash building has been repaired, but in such a manner, that to all who stumble as they pass that way, the cure seems more serious than the complaint.

Improving.—We are glad to hear that the two Gibson brothers, of Sugar House Ward, sufferers from accidents which we have already noticed, are much better, and strong hopes are entertained for their recovery.

For Today.—Last evening T. E. Taylor, Esq., business manager of this office, and Elder W. W. Taylor, Clerk of the Stake, will start with their families for a "out" of several weeks at Soda Springs. We wish them a pleasant visit and a safe return.

Sunday Services.—Sunday schools at 10 a.m.; meeting in the Tabernacle at 2 p.m., and in the various wards at the usual evening hour.
Home missionaries will visit the outer wards and settlements during the day.

An Open Question.—The Dispatch, in speaking of the return of a party of Ogden hunters from Cache Valley, says they "returned last evening, having enjoyed a week of rare sport and bagged four hundred chickens," but omits to tell how the owners of the chickens feel about it.

Habeas Corpus and Certiorari.
At the opening of the Supreme Court this morning, all the justices being present, Judge Bennett, of counsel for the Executors, moved for the return of the writ of habeas corpus, issued yesterday, and as the Executors were present in court awaiting the hearing in the matter, that it be proceeded with summarily. Judge Sutherland of counsel for the other side stated that they were not ready with their argument on the matter of habeas corpus, and desired that the certiorari case proceed in the meantime. To this the court assented, stating that the hearing on habeas corpus would follow that of certiorari, and that in the meantime, though not wishing to appear harsh, it could not admit the Executors to bail, and was therefore under the necessity of remanding them to the custody of the marshal.

The certiorari hearing then commenced, Judge Sutherland presenting the following motion:
In the Supreme Court of Utah Territory, June Term, 1879.
EMELINE A. YOUNG, et al., Plaintiffs, vs. GEO. Q. CANNON, et al., Defendants.
ON CERTIORARI.

Now come the plaintiffs by their attorneys, and move to quash the writ issued herein on the 16th day of August, 1879, and to dismiss all proceedings herein on certiorari, upon the ground that this court has no jurisdiction to issue said writ, or to hear or determine the proceedings herein on certiorari.

That this court has no original jurisdiction, and no jurisdiction of this cause.
SUTHERLAND & MCBRIDE, TILFORD & HAGAN, Attorneys for Plaintiffs.

Judge Sutherland then entered into an extended argument to show that supreme courts have no original, but merely appellate jurisdiction, they being merely revisory tribunals. They had no jurisdiction in matters of certiorari, unless the case in hand was not appealable, (40 Cal., p. 478.) All judgments not final were appealable. In this contempt case the judgment was final, and therefore not appealable, but the supreme court had no right to issue the writ of certiorari.

The speaker also referred to sec. 9 of the Revised Statutes of Utah, and claimed that not only was certiorari unmentioned among the several modes of review, and therefore not available on the code, but that legislatures had no power to extend the jurisdiction of supreme courts, and hence were without the right of conferring upon them jurisdiction in matters of certiorari.

Another argument was that certiorari was peculiarly applicable to common law cases, and not to be used in suits in chancery.

This argument being finished, Judge Harkness and J. L. Hawkins, Esq., of counsel for the Executors replied in turn. The former submitted a brief of their argument, and considered some of the points advanced by the opposite side; the latter took up and answered other points of the same. The substance of the return argument was that the Supreme Court had jurisdiction to issue the writ of certiorari and hear the case, because the jurisdiction exercised was clearly appellate, and the Organic Act, Statutes p. 31, and the general act, p. 41, made it an appellate court. Section 1883, p. 41, gave Territorial Supreme Courts chancery and common law jurisdiction. The Poland bill vested exclusive original jurisdiction in the District Court, and this case did originate in the District Court, where it was instituted, heard, decided and final judgment rendered; but what the defendants now sought was a review of the case, under the appellate power of the Supreme Court.

The point put forth that the omission of the term certiorari in the statute providing methods of review excluded the certiorari proceeding and rendered it unavailable, would not hold, because the statutes gave the legislature the right to provide other means than those specified, and certiorari was implied therefore, and consequently available. Judge Hagan followed for the other side, submitted their brief, and concluded the argument. The court reserved its decision, and adjourned until Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.

The Movement Inaugurated.
We are pleased to notice that a step is being taken to establish the new plan of graded schools discussed at the educational meeting held in this city several days ago. To the Thirteenth Ward belongs the credit of the initial movement, their trustees having decided that the primary and intermediate departments of their district school shall hereafter form grades to the Deseret University. The design is to extend this system throughout the city, thereby making a complete and thorough gradation from every district to the University, with Dr. John R. Park as principal. By this means stricter economy, order and discipline will be insured, means and ability will be concentrated and better facilities afforded for the pursuit of learning in every way. Pupils will no longer be compelled to enter primary grades when fully prepared for more advanced departments, nor forced to enter classes for which they are not properly qualified, through the lack of schools of a lower standard. We can see in this system, which we hope is to be generally adopted, many advantages which do not now exist, for the furtherance of the cause of education in our midst.

Police Court.—A fellow named Harmon was yesterday before Justice Pyper on a charge of threatening to kill his wife. It appeared that he had repeatedly beaten and otherwise ill-treated her, and was generally cruel and brutal in his deportment towards his family. He was placed under bonds of $200, to keep the peace for 3 months, assessed costs and in default of bail committed to prison.

Admirals of two water stealing cases in the Sugar House Ward, were fined this morning, and were to be heard this afternoon.

From the South.—Mr. John C. Graham, editor of the Territorial Enquirer, came up to the city with his family last evening.

Associate Justice Foreman, of the Second District, also arrived from Beaver last night, to attend the sitting of the Supreme Court this morning.

Exciting Runaway.—Last evening, about 4 o'clock, a team hitched to a loaded wagon at one side of Main Street, became frightened, broke loose and started up the street at a terrible rate. Turning the corner opposite this office, they ran east for half a block, came in contact with another span of horses also hitched near the sidewalk, and were brought to a standstill in the water ditch near by. Nothing hurt but one of the horses ran into by the runaway.

"Dispatch" Cleanings.—Colonel Miller and the other members of the California rifle team passed through Ogden yesterday, on their way to Creedmoor, to contest in the international shooting match next month.

Yesterday a man detected in secreting a pair of new pants in a saloon was arrested on suspicion of theft, which was afterwards confirmed by a merchant identifying the apparel as belonging to his store.

The three worthies found in the glass car at the Ogden depot the other day, have been bound over in the sums of $150 each. They give their names as George Lee, Tony Coyle and Thomas Johnson.

Mr. John Greenwell, of West Weber, while killing a sheep the other day, cut his hand very severely. Inflammation having set in, it is feared amputation will be necessary.

Dr. Schlimman's Latest Discoveries.
This celebrated antiquarian's labors in the buried cities of the Orient, besides being of great value to science, have produced the incidental though important result of arousing a general and widespread interest in this branch of historical work and study. His latest discoveries are noted with almost as much interest as the fluctuations of the market prices of the latest news from the White House. Yet how immeasurably more important to the readers should be the means of securing and retaining health, vigor and strength. To ascertain further means of restoring the diseased system to its original health, strength and beauty, read the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, recommended by the New York Tribune as "the book for the people." Sixth edition revised; over 100,000 copies already sold. Price, $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
