"STRAINING" THE CONSTITUTION.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat devotes nearly a column of its editorial space to an attack on George Ticknor Curtis, for denouncing the Tucker-Edmunds bill on the ground of its unconstitutionality. That astute lawyer, in his able argument against the measure, adverted to "the laws already on the statute books," which he claimed "if administered humanely and justly, however firmly, are perfectly sufficient of themselves." The Globe-Democrat says this refers particularly to the Edmunds law, which it avers "was condemned in stronger language by Mr. Curtis when it went into effect five years ago."

We think the Globe-Democrat is slightly mistaken about that, but granting its statement, what has that to do with the present argument? Mr. Curtis in condemning the Tucker-Edmunds bill does not endorse the former anti-"Mormon" legislation. And in stating that the latter is sufficient without the proposed addition, he does not thereby acknowledge that it is either proper or constitutional. He merely asserts that it is sufficient for the end desired and that the further unconstitutional legislation is needless.

The Globe-Democrat does not undertake to dispute the position of Mr. Curtis, nor to show the constitutionality of the infamous special legislation which it tacitly approves. On the contrary it goes into roundabout ridicule of all who cling to the Constitution as the supreme law of the land, describing them as worshippers of a fetich. And it justifies the violation of that instrument for the accomplishment of the end in view. It thus virtually concedes the argument to Mr. Curtis and takes the ground from under its own feet. After assailing the gentleman for claiming that the bill is unconstitutional, and misrepresenting his position as to the Edmunds Act, it closes the article with the assertion that "there is no good reason to fear that sensible, decent persons would be horror-stricken if the Constitution were to be strained a little in 1887 or 1888, should our lawmakers deem that course necessary, in stamping out the Mormon iniquity."

Here, then, is as near an open repudiation of constitutional restrictions in dealing with the "Mormon" question as could be expected from an enemy to that palladium of liberty. It is a confession of the inherent viciousness of the bill under discussion. And to the thoughtful it suggests that there must be something radically wrong with the whole movement against the "Mormon" people. For, if they cannot be successfully assailed except by "straining the Constitution," they must be fortified by its provisions and war upon them must be un-American.

And that is the fact. The religious system called "Mormonism" is impregnable under the Constitution of the United States, which protects it in common with all other religious systems. It is only by violating, or, as mildly put by the Globe-Democrat, "straining" the Constitution that it can be forcibly attacked. What does that prove? Why, that all assaults upon it of the kind apologized for are attacks upon the Constitution. And this is why the clear-minded opponents of the special legislation proposed deplore the fanatical measures that are countenanced by men who ought to know better. They see in this willingness to disregard the restrictions of the highest secular law in order to accomplish a purpose, the promise and potency of endless trouble. It concedes to Congress powers that do not belong to that body. It yields the point that expediency is more than law. It opens the way to future assumptions and further rejection of constitutional limitations. It makes popular clamor superior to established principles. It is the thin end of the wedge of anarchy.

All these extreme measures and the specious apologies for their departure from the supreme law, serve to strengthen the Latter-day Saints in the position they occupy. No polemical attack is ever made upon them but from the standpoint of falsehood and misrepresentation; no law is of force against them that is not a departure from constitutional guarantees. This is evidence to them of the righteousness of their cause. And though they may have to suffer from the effects of such assaults upon their faith and their liberties, the conviction of right which has heretofore sustained them becomes the stronger from resistance to wrong, and thus the system sought to be destroyed becomes more compact and its existence is perpetuated.

"Go on with your work, violators and "strainers" of the Constitution in your heedless and vicious purpose, if you will not be warned of its consequences. National, like personal wrong-doing, will revert upon the heads of the malefactors. The wedge inserted will be driven home by successive blows till the Constitution and the nation will be split asunder, and the despised "Mormons," standing by the institutions, God-ordained, that would have made this Government the head of the nations, will yet be the saviors of the Constitution and the defenders of that liberty for all which the acts of demagogues are tending to destroy!

ORDER IN WORSHIPING AS SEMBLIES.

IN yesterday's (Jan. 27) issue appeared a sensible communication upon the subject of seating the congregations in our places of public worship. Doubtless our readers have observed that the allusion to the practise of some young men, and others not very youthful, monopolizing places at the ends of the seats is by no means groundless. This is perhaps done by many persons thoughtlessly, not sensing the fact that they not only put individuals to inconvenience who have to pass them to reach a space beyond, but also cause little ripples of disorder. In the smallest as well as the greatest concerns of life, the highest Christian virtue is preferring the comfort and convenience of others to our own. This is all that is necessary to set the matter in question right.

As our correspondent suggests, if there is one class more entitled than any other to the seats from which egress is easy it is ladies with small children. The little ones are apt to become obstreperously noisy, and in that event a rapid exit of mother and baby is as essential to the peace and equanimity of the congregation. The screams of a refractory infant are tolerable at the fireside when means of pacification are handy, but they are an incongruous element when intermingled with the voice of a preacher of rightcousness when addressing a public assembly.

While upon this subject we consider it not amiss to refer to a class of people to be found in nearly all of our congregations. They manifest a refractory spirit, which doubtless they more or less exhibit in all the affairs of life, as the disposition manifested in little things frequently indicates the general current of a person's conduct. We refer to those who decline to pay any regard to the wishes of the Deacon appointed to seat the congregation, but insist upon hunting out and selecting their own seats. Such conduct is not only a breach of good manners, but is out of order. The officer named having been appointed to a certain duty, he is responsible to his superiors in office for the manner in which it is performed. Those who decline to be directed by him prevent him from doing it properly. He may be young—as a rule he should be—but he is as much entitled to recognition in his position as any other officer of the Church.

We have stated that, as a general thing, the officiating Deacons should be young men. This is merely a reminder of what has been heretofore stated on the subject of the necessity of youths graduating in the offices of the Priesthood instead of taking sudden leaps into the higher ones.

STILL LYING TO HELP VARIAN.

THE apologists for Mr. Varian and champions of murder, still try to make out that the offense called unlawful cohabitation is a felony, although the law of Congress defining it says it is a misdemeanor. In order to mystify the argument they assert:

"The laws of Congress say arson, punishable with death, is a misdemeanor; counterfeiting coin is a misdemeanor, so is mayhem, so is perjury, so is receiving stolen goods and plenty of other offenses. Under the Edmunds-Tucker bill unlawful cohabitation is declared to be a felony."

In answer to that we have to say that the whole paragraph is utterly and entirely false. The laws of the United States do not say that either of these offences is a misdemeanor. Take the Revised Statutes and turn to the sections that relate to the crimes enumerated, and you can see that not one of them is declared to be a misdemeanor. Neither does the Tucker-Edmunds bill say that "unlawful cohabitation is a felony." That bill creates a new offence called "polygamous association or cohabitation" and calls that a felony. But it perpetuates the Edmunds Act, which says unlawful cohabitation is a misdemeanor. The Tucker-Edmunds bill calls the offense of non-registration of marriage a misdemeanor. Here, then, is a practical distinction between a felony and a misdemeanor, which the apologists for Mr. Varian and champions of murder say does not exist "under modern law."

But if the laws of the United States did say as is falsely claimed above, that would not help Mr. Varian's case a particle. The question is not whether arson, perjury, mayhem or other crime named is a misdemeanor, but whether unlawful cohabitation is a felony. If all those felonies named were styled misdemeanors it would not raise an offense distinctly defined as a misdemeanor to the class of a felony. The greater may include the less, but the less does not include the greater.

The threat of the advocates of murder that more "Mormons" will get killed by deputies, and that "the Government clear up to the President will back them," is worth just about as much as their lies about the laws. Any officer who shoots down an unresisting human being when attempting to serve a warrant for a misdemeanor, is a murderer by the law of God and of man, and if he gets killed himself while acting the role of assassin there is no law in heaven or earth that will condemn the person who thus defended himself from assassination. And the villians who falsely quote the law and urge desperate deputies to engage in the pastime of shooting "Mormons," will find that the Government will not "back" any officer in such lawlessness, nor will the President condone such villainy. We know what we are talking about, and the wretches who are trying to cover Varian's vagaries and Thompson's turpitude with their shallow falsehoods, are only venting the malice of corrupt hearts in words without value and gas without light.

GOOD OUT OF INTENDED EVIL.

GOOD often grows out of apparent evil. The troubles that have come upon the "Mormons" because of their faith have always resulted in blessings upon them and in the extension of the cause for which they have suffered. An illustration of this principle, in another direction, is afforded in the murder of Rev. George C. Haddock, a vigorous advocate of law and temperance, by saloon keepers in Sioux City, Iowa.

Haddock became so obnoxious to the liquor interest in that city that he was set upon and assassinated. It is now asserted that the result has been the closing up of two-thirds of the saloons then running in the town, the severe enforcement of the liquor laws which were a dead letter there, the indictment of ten men for murder in the first degree, the disgrace of the mayor and the district attorney, and the complete revolution of public sentiment on the liquor question. It would have taken Haddock years to do in life what his death accomplished in a few months, and the end is not yet.

Vile men in pursuing their evil designs often bring about their own discomfiture, and the very means they devise to accomplish their ends is overruled by Divine Providence for their utter destruction. Those who live long enough will see this verified in the outcome of the present crusade against the "Mormons."

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

SALT LAKE CITY,
January 28, 1887.

As a visitor in the court of Commissioner McKay this morning, there were some proceedings that appeared to me a little strange during the examination in the case of A. Edward. Some witnesses had been examined, when it was found two others were needed. The prosecution at this point rested. A subpœna was issued to bring these witnesses before the Commissioner. Pending the arrival of these witnesses, those previously examined were asked to give and did sign bonds, while the case was yet pending. No defense had been made, but it seems it was a foregone conclusion in the mind of the commissioner that he would send the case to the grand jury, evidence or no evidence.

Subsequent events proved this to be the case, for the other persons were not found, yet the defendant was placed under bonds. What I would like to know, is, whether this is legal, for the committing magistrate to require persons to sign bonds before the whole of the evidence is in, and would a witness be justified in refusing to give security to appear before the grand jury until a decision has been reached in the case at issue and until it is referred to that body?

The 'Longshoremen's Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Business in the river front this morning is almost

with the exception of a small amount of freight being moved by green hands on one or two piers, very little work has been done on the docks of the principal steamship companies since the strike of the 'longshoreman commenced. The strikers are confident that they will succeed and gain their demands. Their next move will be to get the pilots on ocean steamship service to come out. The pilots are organized and should an order go out for them to quit work the strikers hope to stop all transatlantic steamers from sailing in or out of port. This the union men claim will compel steamship companies to

At the National line dock this morning sixty men, who were picked up from various sources, were laid off as they were incompetent.

The Erin is not more than half loaded. She should have sailed yesterday. By Monday the vessel may be ready for sea.

The Helvetia, of the same line, lies at the other side of the dock with the bulk of her cargo still aboard. Affairs were just about the same at the Guion line docks. The usual number of men employed there is from 150 to 200.

Cattle to be Slaughtered.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 28.—The answer of the state live stock commission was delivered to the Speaker this morning. In reply to the resolution passed by the House last week, requesting information as to the condition of pleuro-pneumonia in the State, the answer affirms that 2,000 more cattle have been exposed to the disease and will be quarantined in addition to the 2,500 already quarantined. This will be followed by an appraisement, and diseased and exposed cattle will be slaughtered.

Treasurer Jordan Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Jordan, Treasurer of the United States will relinquish his present office on May 1st in order to accept another office, probably the presidency of the Western National Bank of New York, now in process of organization, and which will be fully established by that date. Jordan has not yet formally resigned, but expects to do so shortly after the adjournment of Congress.

Another Boodler.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The trial of ex-Alderman O'Neill was begun to-day. Informer ex-Alderman Michael Duffy was the first witness sworn. His statement of the combination and voting away of the franchise of the Broadway railway did not differ from his former relations about it in the first and second trials of McQuade.

Watching the Fishermen.

EASTPORT, Me., Jan. 28.—The winter school of herring has struck in on the American shore and about 5 English boats and vessels were fishing on this shore. Meanwhile the cruiser Middleton is patrolling between here and Standrews, ready to seize any American fisherman that may venture over the dead line.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The House this morning passed the Washington cable railroad bill.

Morrow, of California, presented a resolution from the chamber of commerce of San Francisco, against the commercial treaty with Spain, providing for reduction of the duty on raisins. Referred.

Forney, of Alabama, presented the conference report on the bill making an annual appropriation of $400,000 for the equipment of the militia forces of the United States, and it was agreed to.

The House went into committee of the whole on the pleuro-pneumonia bill.

Irish Tenants who will Fight for their Homes.

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—The people of Achill Island, off County Mayo, are preparing to repel the sheriff, who is on his way there, to execute fifty ejectment writs. The people are watching day and night for his advent, and have arranged to give notice of his approach, if at night, by means of fires and rockets. Fifty ejectments, if executed, will put in the streets about all the islanders who at present have decent shelter. The people of the island are extremely poor, and nearly all were supplied during the whole of last winter and spring through charitable contributions raised and distributed by the New York Sun.

The last series of evictions at Glenbeigh County commenced to-day.

Cause of the Panic.

LONDON, January 28.—The secretary of the Hebrew Dramatic Club, which was giving an entertainment in the hall at Spitalfields, in which the panic occurred on January 18, resulting in the loss of a number of lives, has testified that the panic was caused by the action of the secretary of a rival club.

OGDEN OCCURRENCES.

JANUARY 27.

JUDGE R. K. WILLIAMS has been missed from the District and Justice's Courts for a long time past. He is ill. He has been confined to his bed for several months, at times unable to eat scarcely anything, and what little he did take into his stomach he could not retain. His condition has been very critical, and he is far from convalescent now. He is dropsical and it is very probable that tapping will be resorted to.

SEVERAL of our city solons have taken a vacation. Aldermen Eccles is in Oregon on business pertaining to his extensive lumber interests. He will be absent for some time yet. Councilor William Driver is combining business with pleasure, visiting the Golden State, and will not return "thence" for two weeks or more yet. Councilor John A. Boyle has gone to Colorado on business connected with the large furniture establishment of Boyle & Company.

AT THE ELECTION held here last August Mr. James Pingree was elected County Treasurer for Weber County. To-day he qualified and entered upon his duties. His predecessor, Robert P. Harris, Esq., was released from responsibility in that regard, and his bondsmen, Hons. D. H. Peery, Lorin Farr, Dr. John D. Carnahan and Jos. Clark, Esq., were discharged from further obligation as sureties. Mr. Harris has served the county faithfully as treasurer. When his accounts were audited to-day, the debt and credit sides showed an exact balance. Every cent of the receipts had been accounted for, and Mr. Harris in retiring received a clean sheet.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR number fifteen in Ogden now, and last night a lodge was organized here. There were quite a number of visitors on the occasion. The officers of "the Ogden Lodge No. 2" just installed are: S. M. Preshaw Chief Templar, Dr. F. A. Hall Vice-Templar, C. F. Jennings Secretary, George F. Brown Treasurer, M. Milton Financial Treasurer. The meetings of the order are held in the large upper room of Peery's Hall, Fourth street, which has been handsomely fitted up and appointed for the purpose.

THE ICEMEN'S harvest seems to have come at last, and they are now busy gathering in the congealed water to their coolers to be preserved for necessary purposes during the heated term this year.

TO-DAY THE WEATHER has been the coldest we have experienced for the season thus far. The wind blew fiercely from the north for some time, and then veered a little to the northwest and continued all the day. The streets are now dry and hard as adamant, and pedestrians on the roads appeared in heavy ulsters, furs, and skins, etc.

TO-NIGHT the Sabbath School of the Second Ward gave an excellent entertainment, consisting of the juvenile operetta "Red Riding Hood's Rescue," in which about 75 of the little folks took part; songs, duets, glees, quartets, by some of the teachers, and recitations, among which was "The Green Mountain Justice," were given. The whole concluded with shadow pantomimes—"The Hungry Chinaman," "Hospital Practices," and other mirth-provoking pieces. The operetta was arranged by Mrs. Rose Scowcroft, was well and effectively rendered, as, in fact was the whole entertainment. It gave great satisfaction and will be repeated on Friday night, when no doubt the house will be again crowded as it was to-night.

A LITTLE MUSS was created in the justices' court this morning when Mrs. Richard Flint appeared for judgment for the assault committed on Mrs. John Fowler. His honor assessed a fine of $12 against her. She demurred to the judgment. She said, with some vigor, she was not around paying fines for nothing. She appealed her case to the District Court.

WHAT OUR building boom will be for this year is not certainly known, but we are pleased to see some of the old fire-trap shanties being torn down to make room for more substantial structures, which are to be erected for business establishments.

DEPUTIES AT DESERET.

Special to the DESERET NEWS.]

OASIS, Millard County, Utah,
January 28, 1887.

Deputy marshals raided Deseret this morning. They searched Bishop Black's house and subpœnaed two witnesses for the Harder case. No arrests.

TWO MORE.

ONE PLEADS GUILTY—THE OTHER DOES NOT.

At ten o'clock this morning there were two persons in waiting on the pleasure of Commissioner McKay, to have a hearing on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. These were R. G. Sleater and Alexander Edward, both of this city. As soon as the functionary saw fit to proceed, he entered, accompanied by the prosecutor, and calling up the first named, read the complaint against him. This, of course was signed by D. W. Rench, and charged unlawful cohabitation with Lydia Sleater and Elizabeth Hancock Sleater from February 1st, 1884, to January 1st, 1887. The defendant entered a plea of guilty and was held to answer in bonds of $1,500, G. F. and H. L. A. Culmer becoming sureties. The two ladies named were held as witnesses in $200 each, the same gentlemen signing their bonds.

Mr. Edward was next called and pleaded not guilty. The complaint in his case is also a Rench patent, and charges cohabitation with Mary Edwards and Rebecca Smith Edwards from February 1, 1884, to January 1, 1887. Mary A. Edwards and John Edwards, children of defendant, Henrietta Smith and Jas. Smith were sworn as witnesses. The usual quantity and quality of evidence was partly adduced and partly dragged out of them, and finally Mr. Dickson discovered that he needed Rebecca Smith Edward and Elizabeth Smith, and, having ascertained their abode, called on Deputy Pratt, who in turn telephoned for Deputy Bowman Cannon, and the latter went out at 11:30 in quest of these witnesses.

Half an hour later, the knight-errant returned without having found the persons wanted. It was then suggested that the defendant be held on the evidence already adduced which was done, the bail being fixed at $1,500, Hugh Anderson and Duncan McAllister becoming sureties. The witnesses were also held in $300 each. All hands were then released.

Brought to this City for Burial.—Arthur and Annie Winter, son and daughter of the late Sister Mary Winter, who died suddenly at Almy (not Evanston as heretofore stated) returned home yesterday. A distressing mishap occurred in the bringing to this city of the remains of their mother. The U. P. men failed to transfer the body of the deceased to the Utah Central at Ogden. This omission being discovered on the way down, Arthur boarded a north going freight train and returned to Ogden. When he reached there the body was placed on board a Utah Central special and brought to this city, arriving at 9:30 o'clock.

The funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. to-morrow, at the Seventeenth Ward school house.

DEATHS.

WINTER.—At Almy, Wyoming, Jan. 27th, 1887, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Kate Izzy, from paralysis, Mary Winter, wife of Richard Winter, in her 61st year. Deceased was born at Brunton thorpe, Leicestershire, England; embraced the Gospel in 1850, in Nottingham, England, and came to Utah in 1863. She leaves a husband and eight children, only three of the latter being in this country. She was a faithful Latter-day Saint.

Funeral at 11 a.m. to-morrow (January 29th), at the 17th Ward meeting house. Friends of the family are invited.

THIS IS A FREE COUNTRY.

Young man, don't squander all your cash
On collars, ties and canes;
But buy some fish from Freeman's store
And cultivate your brains.
Let Edmunds work and Tucker talk
While all the others read;
But when it comes to selling fish
You bet I take the lead.

WONDERFUL MEDICINE!

The GREATEST WONDER of the AGE!

DR. C. W. NUNN'S BLACK OIL BALSAM,

Has made more Wonderful Cures of Kidney and Liver Complaints than all Physicians and Proprietary Medicines COMBINED, except the Physicians, who use them in their practice, for all diseases herein mentioned.

They act with Extraordinary Efficacy on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, and in all Colds, Coughs, Sore Throats, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. They never fail to Cure Quick. They Cut the Disease Short. They also prevent Uric Acid from circulating through the system. They are wonderful in their detective labors, arresting and driving through the proper channel all waste and effete matter, thereby preventing disease or germs, sapping away every vital part of the body; they will remove all billious humors; will dissolve into powder all Gravel and Stone in the Bladder, making the removal painless. This is the Only Medicine that will prevent Bright's disease afflicting you—or cure it if you are afflicted. Will permanently cure Cistitis of Bladder, when other medicines have failed. Thousands in Utah can testify what Wonderful Cures this Medicine has made for them. They will cure you and your children. They build up. They restore the equilibrium. Every druggist should keep them in stock. People come from all parts and acknowledge their superiority over all other medicines. Dealers that can't sell, bring back—your money refunded. I take my own medicine myself. They are for children, middle age and old age. They keep the powder dry. Don't suffer yourselves; don't let your children suffer or your aged parent. I tell you this Medicine will lengthen the life ten years. Read Testimonials. If your druggist does not keep them, ask him to order for you. Internal Blue Label, 50cts. each.

EXTERNAL WHITE LABEL, excels every other preparation for Sores, Wounds, Ulcers, Sore Heads, Bad Breasts, Saddle and Collar Scratches; in fact, you can't put them wrong on anything that requires healing on Man or Beast.

Sold Wholesale or Retail at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store, Salt Lake City, Utah. 50cts. and $1.00.
