WAIT AND SEE.

When my boy, with eager questions,
Asking how, and where, and when,
Taxes all my stores of wisdom,
Asking o'er and o'er again,
Questions oft to which the answers
Gave to others still the key,
I said, to teach him patience,
"Wait, my little boy, and see."

And the words I taught my darling
Taught to me a lesson sweet:
Once when all the world seemed darkened,
And the storm around me beat,
In the "children's room" I heard him,
With the child's sweet mimicry,
To the baby brother's questions
Saying, wisely, "Wait and see."

Like an angel's tender chiding
Came the darling's words to me,
Though my Father's ways were hidden,
Bidding me still wait and see.
What are we but restless children,
Ever asking what shall be?
And the Father, in his wisdom,
Gently bids us "Wait and see."

SHORT AND SHARP.

To have ideas is to gather flowers. To think is to weave them into garlands.

The first book read and the last book laid aside by every child, is the conduct of its parents.

A moth-proof barrel in which clothes can be safely stored is a late invention. But this leaves the moths at large. What is wanted is a barrel in which the moths can be kept, and thus leave the clothes at large.—Danbury News.

"My articles do not receive a very warm reception of late," wrote a lady to the conductor of a monthly magazine, "Our fair correspondent is mistaken," replied the editor; they meet with the warmest reception possible; we burn them all."

"Well, and how did you enjoy your dinner?" asked a passenger of another, on a European steamer, the first day out. "Don't mention it," said the other, feelingly, "don't mention it. It's a good deal like the financial question in Congress." "How's that?" "Why it's apt to come up at any moment.

It is easy to pick holes in other people's work, but it is far more profitable to do better yourself. Is there a fool in all the world that cannot criticise? Those who can themselves do good service are but as one to a thousand compared with those who can see faults in the labors of others.

Two Boston barbers fell out and agreed to settle by the code of honor. The seconds furnished them unloaded pistols, and when the word of command was given, a bystander fired a pistol loaded only with powder just behind one. He supposed he was shot, and fell to the ground with a groan, while the other principal, supposing he had killed him, ran away.

"Smoking in Holland," said a traveller, "is so common that it is impossible to tell one person from another in a room full of smokers." "How is any one who happens to be wanted picked out, then?" asked a listener. "Oh, in that case a waiter goes round with a pair of bellows and blows the smoke from before each face till he recognizes the person called for."

A Suffolk gentleman went the other day to call upon the vicar of his parish, who is a bachelor, of high church proclivities. The door was opened by an elderly servant, who, in answer to an inquiry whether her master was within, responded, "No, sir, he's a hiding, and is to come out in three days' time." This was her simple way of explaining that the vicar had taken refuge in some ritualistic retreat for a week's meditation and prayer.

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so thus it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.'S exhibit of Reed Organs and Harmoniums shows instruments of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Smoothness and equal distribution of tone, scope of expression, resonance and singing quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and
