WEDDING BELLS

The wedding of Miss Donnellan and Lieut. Falls at Sacramento on Wednesday was one of the bridal events of the week in which Salt Lakeers have had an especial interest. The ceremony and reception took place at the bride's home which was decorated with national and military emblems and beautiful flowers, the bride party standing under a bower of white chrysanthemums suspended from crossed guns, and other military accoutrements aiding in the scheme. The bride wore an exquisite creation of white silk with trimmings of valencienne and rose point lace, and the maid of honor, Miss Olive Donnellan, was also gowned in white with hat to match and carried a nosegay of chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, all Salt Lake girls, wore gowns of infantry blue with large black La Tosca hats and carried staffs of chrysanthemums. An elaborate wedding breakfast was served after ceremony, the decorations and all appointments being in exquisite taste.

Next Wednesday the wedding of Miss Mathilde Dorn, and Mr. James C. Dick will take place, and the affair promises to be an elaborate one. Mrs. W. H. Cunningham will be matron of honor, Miss June McIntyre bridesmaid, and Mr. Walter C. Shoup best man.

An interesting wedding of the past week was that of Miss Mary Sharp and Frank B. Shelley which took place at Palo Alto, Cal. They leave Dec. 1 for Manila where Mr. Shelley is employed in government service.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Packard, on the corner of Adams avenue and Twenty-sixth street, when Miss Hattie Packard and Le Roy Buckmiller were married. The wedding party entered the prettily decorated parlor at 4 o'clock, and the bride and groom took their places under a pretty floral creation, President Charles F. Middleton performing the ceremony. Congratulations were extended by the relatives and friends present, after which a sumptuous repast was served. The home decorations were cut flowers and evergreens. The contracting parties are among Ogden's most popular and highly esteemed young people. The bride is a charming young lady, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Packard, while the groom is a bright and promising young business man in the employ of Fred B. Nye, the clothier. Mr. and Mrs. Buckmiller have many friends in Ogden. They will make their home in this city at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Monroe avenue.

RECEPTIONS AND LUNCHEONS

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Thomas Weir entertained at a tea in honor of her guest, Mrs. Wolfersberger of Denver, the hours being from 3 to 5 o'clock. The rooms were beautifully decorated with vines and flowers, yellow chrysanthemums, pink roses, asparagus, ferns and palms being used in hall, drawing and music rooms, and the dining room being a blaze of red, with American Beauty roses, red shades on electric globes and candelabra and red satin bows of ribbon aiding in the adornment. Mrs. Weir was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Wolfersberger and Mrs. John Weir, in the dining room were Mrs. J. E. Dooley, Mrs. J. T. Donnellan, Mrs. H. G. McMillan and Mrs. Delano, and assisting in serving were the Misses McMillan, McCauley, and Donnellan. An orchestra furnished delightful music during the afternoon.

One of the prettiest teas of the season was that given by Mrs. J. L. Franklyn. The decorations might have served for a picture model, so unconventional and artistic was the effect. In the hall high straight vases held tall clusters of terra cotta chrysanthemums. In the parlor a bank of white chrysanthemums lay across the acollan, and the dining room was in yellow and green, a bay tree standing on either side of the mantel and swinging between them a swag of lacquered, while above on the mantelpiece was a bowl of yellow chrysanthemums. Sideboard and china cabinet had drapes of the lacquered, and yellow shaded candelabra stood above. On the table, clusters of flowers tied with bows of yellow ribbon and silver candelabra with yellow shades completed the idea. In the room the electric globes were shaded in the prevailing hue, and a bank of palms on the stair landing screened an orchestra which furnished delightful selections during the afternoon. Mrs. Franklyn was assisted in receiving by Mrs. T. G. Webber and Mrs. C. F. Richards. Miss Webber poured coffee in the dining room while Mrs. Nye, Mrs. D. C. Roberts, Mrs. M. L. Oglesby, Mrs. Walter Druhl.

A pretty though informal tea was that given by Mrs. Arthur Shepherd on Thursday afternoon, about 20 guests being entertained. The rooms were decorated in pink and green, and the affair was altogether delightful.

Mrs. Graham M. Putnam received informally yesterday afternoon, and in the evening entertained a number of young people at a musicale.

INNERS AND LUNCHEONS

Among the most elaborate luncheons of the week was that given by Mrs. Walter O. Pilon Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Newhouse, the event taking place in the gold room at the Alta club, five tables being laid, each decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and ferns. The favors were tiny glass lamps in yellow and white, and tripods with gilded skewers holding the shell of a lemon for the serving of oyster cocktails were tied with yellow ribbon, prettily carrying out the color idea. A stringed orchestra furnished delightful music. The guests were: Mrs. Ferry, Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. East, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Freed, Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Channing, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Adams of Denver, Mrs. Cairns, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Robert B. Harkness, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Nye.

On Thursday Mrs. J. T. Donnellan was hostess at a most elaborate and delightful luncheon, given in honor of Mrs. Wolfersberger, the affair taking place at the Alta club. The gold room was used, the guests being seated at one large table. The decorations were in pink and green, and were beautifully carried out in a centerpiece consisting of a basket of carnations, its handle tied with bows of pink satin ribbon, and with smaller baskets of the same flowers as favors at each plate. A shower of ferns fell from the chandelier to the center basket and the candelabra were shaded in pink. The place cards were decorated with oriental heads, and every detail was artistic. After the luncheon Miss Agatha Berkhoel delighted the guests with a number of vocal selections. Invited to meet Mrs. Wolfersberger were Mrs. Thomas Weir, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Fildel, Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. George Black, Mrs. Delano, Miss Kimball, Mrs. Downey, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Daly, Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Bokrud and Mrs. Sheep.

Mrs. D. S. Murray entertained at a delightful dinner on Tuesday, the affair being wholly informal. The table was prettily decorated with cut flowers, and the guests were Miss Dorothy Kinney, Miss Blanche Burke, Mr. J. W. Thompson, Mr. George Lawrence and Mr. Max Smith.

SOCIAL CHAT

One of the most delightful events of the week was a dancing party given by Miss June McIntyre in honor of Miss Dorn on Wednesday night. The rooms were beautifully decorated in distinctive colors, red in the reception room, yellow in the living room, and in the dining room white and green being used with beautiful effect, chrysanthemums, smilax, white tulle, and ferns mingling artistically. In the hall a screen of palms hid an orchestra which furnished choice music for the dancing. Assisting the hostess in receiving were Miss Dorn and Mrs. Cunningham.

Thursday evening the Elite Social club held their annual dance in the Ladies' Literary club hall. The event was served in the lower hall. The evening was very pleasantly spent. Those
