graded in the past ten years to the alarming extent of over 20 per cent, and that to-day every New England State, without a single exception, is on the retrograde in an educational point of view. My own convictions are that to a large extent this fact is to be attributed to a free school system. Private energy is paralyzed, the work of the teacher becomes not a pride and ambition to excel, but a monthly routine of work, for which he draws a stated salary. As a people who claim to have a greater religious light than any other, it behooves us to carefully educate our youth. We have followed a Scriptural injunction, have left the workings of Babylon to those who deem it congenial, and departed into a by place where we can better obey the truth as we believe it. Is it necessary that we import the very things that we have had from them? Shall we copy after the form and style of the world, and entail upon our children the curse of a mistaken education? Nay, verily nay. Even though the wealth of Massachusetts has set the example, and offers this thing to us as one of the necessary adjuncts of modern civilization, and without which we shall be called outside Babylon to be it. A system, however, higher, and an infinitely more perfect system is needed by the dwellers in our mountain homes for them to accomplish their duty in the world. Mr. Editor, I offer these suggestions with all due deference to the opinion of others, but I cannot ignore five years' experience in the school room, in my Territory, nor treat as naught the experience therein gained. Respectfully,
J. MORGAN.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

FRIDAY RESOLUTION—APPOINTMENT BILL PASSED IN THE SENATE—CUSTOMS IN GREENBACKS—ADJUSTMENT—SENATE GREENBACKS—FESSIONS.

Cole called up the bill leasing a portion of the Credit reserving to San Francisco for a public park. Cassey wished to examine the bill, and it went over. The morning hour was consumed in the discussion of a resolution for the arrest of G. A. and Camp, who refused to testify before the Ku Klux committee in South Carolina.

The apportionment bill being taken up, Morrill, of Vermont, resumed his remarks on the subject of the bill. The question was on the first amendment reported by the judiciary committee, providing that the house shall consist of the present number, 343, not 283, as proposed in the bill.

Morrill moved to amend, so as to make the number 283, last, year 17, says 31. The amendments reported by the committee were rejected. The bill, which provides that should any State deny or abridge the right of any of its citizens to vote in any election named in the 14th amendment, except for participation in the election, in voting the number of its representatives shall be in proportion. Adopted.

Pomeroy moved to strike out the 5th section, which provides for the non-admission of any State bill, which would diminish the number of its representatives shall be in proportion. Adopted.

Book introduced a bill to allow half the custom duties to be paid in greenbacks. Voorhes introduced a bill to amend the act relating to the collection of a free list. Hubbard offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the committee on public buildings and grounds to inquire into the propriety of the feasibility of procuring for the United States a title to Independence Hall and Square, Philadelphia.

Dawes called up the senate concurrent resolution, which was adopted, providing for the collection of a free list. Hubbard offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the committee on public buildings and grounds to inquire into the propriety of the feasibility of procuring for the United States a title to Independence Hall and Square, Philadelphia.

Dawes called up the senate concurrent resolution, which was adopted, providing for the collection of a free list. Hubbard offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the committee on public buildings and grounds to inquire into the propriety of the feasibility of procuring for the United States a title to Independence Hall and Square, Philadelphia.

Dawes called up the senate concurrent resolution, which was adopted, providing for the collection of a free list. Hubbard offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the committee on public buildings and grounds to inquire into the propriety of the feasibility of procuring for the United States a title to Independence Hall and Square, Philadelphia.

investigation to-day, in the United States court room, in the custom house building. The governor had been consulted, and stated he had no objection to the committee using the court room. If the governor had objected they would have met elsewhere. Only one witness was examined.

WASHINGTON, 29.—The Supreme Court has delivered an opinion against what is known as the Drake amendment, which in effect prohibits the reception, by the Court of Claims of evidence of the amnesty and pardon on the part of suits, but allows the opposite party to refer to such amnesty and pardon as evidence of disloyalty, unless, at the time of receiving the pardon or amnesty, the recipient protested against the implication of previous disloyalty. The opinion referred to the proclamation of Lincoln which granted amnesty and pardon on condition of taking the oath, &c., with the restoration of property, except in slaves. The Court asserts the full power of the President, as to granting pardon and amnesty, the acceptance of Massachusetts has rendered of no effect by the legislation of Congress.

NEW YORK, 29.—An alleged cable report in Wall St. today, speaking of trouble between Russia and England, stated it was the determination of the former to oppose Russian advance in Asia. The story is undoubtedly false. The cable report stated that the Russian Savings bank is at work, and expresses the belief that all the stories of its unsoundness are substantially true. It has been determined to drop the name of Tammany from the title of that society of general and war committees, and from the building now known as Tammany Hall.

BOSTON, 29.—The property of the late Isaac Rich, amounting to one million seven hundred thousand dollars, by the provision of the will, the whole, under certain conditions, goes to Boston University, which is a Boston Theological Seminary Institution.

WESTERN DISPATCHES.

Attempt at Suicide—Outrage—Business Disorganized by the Snow Blockade.

SAN FRANCISCO, 29.—A Mexican woman attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the Oakland ferry steamer last evening. The attempt was frustrated. Cause, family difficulties.

BONDS, 110, @ 112; Greenbacks, 91, selling @ 92.

Wm. Ward was examined to-day, on a charge of abducting a child, a very intelligent child of 12 years, and held to answer by Judge Louderback. His bail was fixed at ten thousand dollars. The case is one of the most sensational ever brought before the court. The mother, a poor hard-working woman, is almost insane, from grief and shame.

SUCKER PLAN, 29.—Two Chinamen were captured here, to-day, by Murray and Kerigan. They appeared to be very stout, and on being stripped, several ounces of opium were found about their bodies. They were taken to a gang who robbed a store at Timbuctoo. The Chinamen were held in custody.

EL PASO, 29.—Wells Fargo & Co. shipped, to-day, three bars, 243 pounds, of bullion, from Pioche, for San Francisco, and two bars, 215 pounds, from Hamilton, for England.

EL PASO, 29.—The snow blockade on the U. P. railroads has completely disorganized business here. Merchants who have large stocks of particular classes of goods en route, are losing trade by inability to receive their orders, and they are completely disgusted with the state of affairs. Six car loads of eastern oysters, in the shell, which arrived after a long delay, are being spoiled by being frozen, and then thawed again.

EUROPEAN DISPATCHES.

Town Destroyed by Earthquake.

ST. PETERSBURG, 29.—A report has been received of the total destruction, by earthquake, yesterday, of Soham—a town of 10,000 inhabitants—situated in the province of the terrible disaster, it is reported the shocks were prolonged, and that many lives, number not stated, were lost.

MINE REGULATOR.—It is a general truth that the discovery of rich veins of silver, copper, and other metals in this country, is made to inflict injury to its interests, rather than good. This arises from the almost universal practice of making these a basis for stock speculation, and for the mining. In some sections, where this device has been exhausted, the work has settled down into a steady business, yielding regular and certain profits. The copper mines of Lake Superior are examples of this kind, but how many millions of worthless stock were sold before this result was reached? The same thing is being done here, and it is like an incubus upon both gold and silver mining. Actually extracting these metals has been the exception rather than the rule, and the number nearly worked bears no proportion to the number used for gambling and speculation. All this must change in time. A mine will mean something more than a flood of worthless and unpaying stock. When this time comes, the present of every metal producer, which is everything known in past history. The mineral wealth of this country is something wonderful, but the preliminary work of it is by far the most important and the most difficult. It is a matter of common sense to have a certain amount of capital to invest in the mine, and to have a certain degree of liquidity for the mixture of the juices of the mine. CORNING MEAT WITH MOLASSES.—A French writer, and a good authority, says that molasses is not only useful in curing hams, but meat may be preserved alone in the most perfect manner, and with the following advantages: It has an agreeable flavor, it produces no odor, it is not affected by heat, and it is not affected by cold, and it may be prepared at a moderate price. The process consists simply in cutting the meat in pieces of moderate size and dropping them into molasses, which is obtained from sugar manufactories or roderies. The lighter juices of the meat pass out, and the heavier molasses penetrates in a certain degree of liquidity into the mixture of the juices of the meat.
