COMMUNICATIONS TO THE DESERET NEWS.

We will be much obliged to those who have any communications to make to the Deseret News, if they will hereafter address all correspondence or other articles for publication to the Editors, and all business communications to the Business Department. By simply writing "Business" on envelopes addressed to this office, the distinction will be drawn and much benefit will result to both departments.

THE ALLEGED CAVE DISCOVERY.

Is another part of the paper will be found a very interesting account of the discovery of a cave in Ohio, several stone tablets containing Egyptian hieroglyphics, enshrined after the manner of the Egyptians, the tablets containing characters resembling Hebrew, and of a book of this copper plates covered with engraved letters.

The account is given by a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, and has been copied into several papers, among them the New York World, which treats the matter with some ridicule and asks at the head of the copied article, "Was the Deceased of Cardiff?" This indicates that the World looks on the whole thing as a hoax and a fraud like that of the "Cardiff Giant."

We reproduce the article at the request of several of our subscribers. The public must form their own conclusions as to the genuineness of the story. Should further investigation prove the truth of these alleged discoveries, they will furnish another corroboration to the Book of Mormon, and add another item to the long list of proofs as to its historical accuracy. If the account should turn out to be one of the numerous fictions of the modern newspaper reporter, it will make no difference to the Book, the truth of which has been so fully substantiated.

It will be remembered that the Israelitic origin of the Nephites and Lamanites is shown forth in the Book of Mormon, and also, the fact that they wrote their records on metal plates in the "language of the Hebrews" modified by "the learning of the Egyptians." We refer to these facts to be viewed in connection with the account of the alleged discovery, and leave the subject to our readers without further comment.

WHO IS GOVERNOR?

Quite a discussion has arisen as to the right of Governor Emery to act in his office until the new appointee arrives and assumes the functions of Governor. It is claimed by some that under section 1700 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, "Emery is out." Here is the section:

"The President is authorized to fill all vacancies which may happen during the recess of the Senate by reason of death or resignation, or expiration of term of office, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session thereafter. And if no appointment, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, is made to an office so vacant or temporary filled during such next session of the Senate, the office shall remain in abeyance without any salary, fees or emoluments attached thereto, until it is filled by appointment thereof by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; and during such time all the powers and duties belonging to such office shall be extended by such other officer as may by law exercise such powers and duties in case of a vacancy in such office."

Careful reading of this quotation will show that it does not apply in any manner whatever to the present case. This is not a vacancy at all; the Senate is in session; the office is not in abeyance. A new incumbent has been appointed and confirmed, but he has not yet qualified. Section 1811 of the Revised Statutes provides that:

"The executive power of each Territory shall be vested in a Governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President."

Governor Emery has not been removed, and the Organic Act of this Territory provides that the Governor and Secretary "shall, before they act as such, respectively take an oath or affirmation before the district judge or some justice of the peace in the limits of the Territory."

We do not see how anything can be clearer than that Governor Emery holds his office until his successor arrives and qualifies in the limits of the Territory. We hope he will not suffer himself to be "bluffed" or "balked" out of his rights.

LOST PROPERTY.

The following, which we clip from the Christian Union, is well worthy of attention not only by the young, to whom it is addressed, but by every finder of lost property. "We will simply add to it that the Latter-day Saints are expected, when they find property which does not belong to them, to deposit it in the Tithing Office, of the law is read, and where it is found; that is the custom, or local law which obtains among us, and due diligence should always be observed to find the owner, that the property may be recovered. The title below is from the paper of a member of the New York bar:

"It is common to say that winter is a favorable time to find things. This is quite important to be understood, as some one is every day finding something and another person finds it. There was a story not long ago, that a poor girl who worked in a paper mill, sorting the rags one day found two fifty-dollar bills in the pocket of an old worn-out gown which came to be ground in paper. The owner of the factory said she must give them to him because they were in his rag and when she refused he complained of her stealing. But the judge said it was not stealing; she could keep the money. The mill man owned the rag he had bought but not the money which was in it. When she found the bills, she brought them to the judge. He said to the owner of the factory, 'You must give them to him because they were in his rag and when she refused he complained of her stealing. But the judge said it was not stealing; she could keep the money. The mill man owned the Tilden's Prospects and Blaine's.

CINCINNATI, 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says: "The anti-Tilden democrats are taking flight. At the head of the copied article, 'Was the Deceased of Cardiff?' This indicates that the World looks on the whole thing as a hoax and a fraud like that of the 'Cardiff Giant.'"

An Unusual Proceeding.

The Tribune's Cincinnati (2) special says: "A big sensation was created here last night by a large party of men hauled before the police in front of Governor Hoyt's residence and detained for a late hour. The party consisted of about twenty men, some of whom were well known in the city. They were all dressed in evening dress, and were accompanied by several women. They were all taken to the police station, and were held there until about midnight. The police were unable to identify any of them, and they were all released. The incident has created a great deal of interest in the city, and many people are speculating as to the cause of the arrest."

Grand Banquet to Senator Jones.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 14.—Senator Jones, of Missouri, was the guest of honor at a grand banquet given in his honor at the Hotel St. Louis last night. The banquet was given by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and was attended by about 500 guests. Senator Jones delivered a short address, in which he thanked the city for the honor done him, and expressed his appreciation of the hospitality of the St. Louis people. The banquet was a great success, and the guests enjoyed it very much.

It is stated that the Pope will today issue an encyclical letter condemning divorce. The encyclical letter is expected to be issued in the near future, and it is expected that it will be a strong condemnation of divorce.

The Duke of Edinburgh ordered the coast guard of the west of Ireland to take charge of the relief of the distressed and provisions deposited with them. A relief committee has been formed in Paris under the presidency of Cardinal Quirini.

Spoone, in a sermon yesterday, said that England is now making bloody wars and oppressing nations, that they encouraged and consoled themselves with the reflection, 'We are a great people, and by doing what we like, it will all come right in the end.' But they should remember that pride went before a fall.

The Duchess of Marlborough in a letter to the Lord Mayor of London, says: 'The danger of famine appears over. If the charity of the public continues, no person in Ireland need be allowed to die for lack of food, but the company to bring their laborers to a successful close, must spend over £40,000 per week for six weeks more.'

It is said that serious complications have arisen between England and Persia, touching Herat. Negotiations have not been completely suspended, but have failed for the moment.

The neglect of the Turkish military authorities to provide proper food and pay for the janissaries led to an outbreak which might have resulted very seriously. Arrangements are making at Constantinople to send a force to suppress the outbreak, but it is now stated that the men have received some pay and better commissariat arrangements have been made.

There is considerable suffering among the small farmers in Ulster who are too proud to complain. There has appeared in some districts in the south, in Tipperary and Cork in consequence of the destitution. Relief has been given, but has come too late and is not the kind suited to the sufferers.
