OUR OWN STATE.

That the method employed in cutting cown the city expenses at the pest house is not a very commendable one may be deduced from Saturday afternoon's experience at that place. The man employed at the pest house is not alone nurse but is also guard and cook, and other responsibilities rest upon his shoulders. Formerly the nurse had nothing to do but care for the patients, but now that his labors are greatly increased, he cannot watch the ratients as they should be cared for. Saturday one of the patients came to the conclusion that he would take a the conclusion that he would take a walk, and not feeling that he was re-ceiving sufficient food he came to Og-den, and got a square meal. The sani-tary inspector was notified of the pa-tient's escape and after spending sev-ced hours searching for him learned eral hours searching for him learned that he had returned to the detention pital himself. That the actions of the patient were very improper is true, but the public is of the opinion that there should be sufficient help at the pest house, so that the patients can be properly cared for and not leave the pest house until properly released. SHOCKING DEATH OF A CHILD.

A heartrendering calamity befell the nome of Mr. J. Steed of this city Sat-irday. His wife was ill and had been taking some strong quinine pills. Their two-year-old daughter obtained the box from the bureau and swallowed several of the pills. The child was taken ill and every effort was made to relieve it, but without avail. It died three hours later in great agony.

The remains were taken to Farming-ton. Sunday, for burial, that being the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Steed.
