Special Correspondence. Special Correspondence. Garland, Roxelder Co., June 9. - Last Tuesday night, the town of Garland and the road from the sugar factory, were lighted up with electricity for the first time. There is a good street light on every corner and every house is wired. The light is supplied by the fac-tory generator. This modern conven-lence and the water works "system which is practically completed, together which is practically completed, together with the exceptional climatic and soli conditions, will soon make tharland a very desirable town for residences and the good business houses.

very desirable town for residences and a few good business houses. The Sugar company has recently fenced all the lots and planted about 2000 shade trees and 600 fruit trees. All of the lots will be irrigated from the pipe system, each lot being provided with a hydrant for that purpose. Six new residences besides Mosiah Evans' and John C. Wheelon's new homes, are being built. About three-fourths of all the beets have been thinned and the hoeing is well under way. The beets are in ex-cellent condition and every thing points to a successful year. At present there are about 100 Japanese laborers and
