LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.

THE COMING EMIGRANTS.—We learn, from a communication from Elder W. C. Staines, that the steamship Manhattan, which sailed from Liverpool on the 13th instant, had 209 adult passengers of the Saints on board and 17 returning missionaries, probably in all about 250 souls. The steamship Minnesota sailed for the same port on the 20th inst., with about 300 adults from the Scandinavian mission. Elder Jesse N. Smith, late president of that mission accompanies them.

DIED, in the 14th Ward, July 23rd, of teething, Wendel L., infant son of Martin and Mary Ann Lenzi.

Also, in this city, July 20th, of lung fever, Isabella, wife of Joseph Graham, aged 26 years.

Deceased was the daughter of Charles and Emma Barrel, late of Taunton, Somersetshire, England.

Mill. Star, please copy.

THE VERDICT.—The following is a copy of the Jury in the case of the late Mr. Geo. Cronyn:

"Territory of Utah,
Salt Lake County,
July 26th, 1870.

We, the Jury, having been duly empanelled and sworn to inquire into the cause of the death of Mr. George Cronyn, who was found dead on Saturday, the 23rd inst., at Mr. Fred Ferris', 7th Ward, Salt Lake City, at about half-past one o'clock p.m., do, upon our oaths, say: From the evidence before us, in our opinion, the deceased came to his death from taking an overdose of the 'Sulphate of Morphine.'

E. L. T. HARRISON,
C. H. FORCE,
D. STUART.

H. S. BEATIE,
'Coroner, Salt Lake County.'

THE 24TH IN SANPETE.—The following dispatches have been received by Desere telegraph line:

[SPECIAL TO DESERET NEWS.]
Fairview 26.

Yesterday the 24th was celebrated with spirit and success in this place, commencing with firing of cannon, and the raising of the stars and stripes to the breeze, followed by games in which an effigy of Cullom did its part in the amusements of the day. Meeting in the afternoon; an oration by Bro. H. Sanderson, who gave an interesting account of the journey and incidents of the Mormon Battalion, followed by songs, recitations, toasts, &c. The evening wound up with a big dance. A number of Indians on their way to see President Hyde, were present and took part in the rejoicings.

"MANTI, 26.—Our celebration of the 24 was a splendid success; the oldest inhabitant pronounces it without a parallel. Committee of arrangements, A. J. Moffitt, Geo. Peacock, W. S. Snow, Franklin Spencer, R. F. Kenner, H. Jensen. Orators, W. T. Ried and Franklin Spencer."

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY.

THE BLONDES.—The popularity of the Blondes continues undiminished, the performance last evening being the best yet given. Miss Heathcote, Miss Thompson and Messrs. Beckett and Chapman in the farce set the audience in the exact mood to receive one of the most popular and successful burlesques of the day. "The 40 Thieves," as it was produced last evening by the "British Blondes," was as fine a performance as we have witnessed for a long time. The singing, dancing and mirthful puns were well received. Rose Massey was indeed the brassiest of robbers, but Miss Weathersby, as the faithful slave, "Morgiana" was the feature of the evening. Her bright, piquant and graceful manner during the entire piece, received a large share of well-merited applause. Miss Heathcote and Messrs. Ketchum, Beckett and Chapman contributed largely to the success of the piece.

Mr. Schreiner and the Orchestra also deserve great praise for their brilliant execution of the difficult music incidental to the burlesque.

The following from [the "Nursery Rhymes," brought down the entire house, the parquette and first, second and third circles joining in the most uproarious laughter:

"A Doctor had visions of assassination,
Through being bitten by a bull dog pup;
He thought it required a trip to the East,
So he packed up his things and cut."

To-night the great burlesque of "Tell," abounding in local hits, puns, splendid music, &c., &c. Go, everybody, and have a splendid time. Remember it is the last night but two of this famous troupe.

UNUSUAL.—The weather in the southern portion of the Territory continues unusually hot. Two cases of sun-stroke occurred at Fillmore lately.

FRIGHTFUL.—During one day last week there were seventy-one cases of sunstroke reported in New York, of which the newspapers got an account, forty-six of which proved fatal!

THE IMMIGRATION.—The following paragraph came over the wires of the Western Union line this morning:

"Two hundred and eighty Mormons have arrived per the steamer Manhattan, from Europe, en route to Salt Lake. Four hundred more follow in the Minnesota."

The following dispatch from Elder W. C. Staines, was received by President Young this morning:

"New York, 27.

BRIGHAM YOUNG:
Manhattan company has arrived; leave this morning. All well.

W. C. STAINES."

MEETING OF LAND OWNERS.—Hay is being cut in the Seventh Ward pasture by the owners of land, and it is expected that they will be so far advanced with this work in a few days as to admit of stock being turned in there. The feed is said to be very fine, and it will afford a fine range for the stock of the land owners. To make proper arrangements, therefore, for turning in the stock it has been thought best by the committee to have a meeting of all who are interested in the pasture at 7.30 on tomorrow (Friday) evening, at the 14th Ward schoolhouse. It is absolutely necessary that parties owning land there, and who wish to receive benefit from the pasturage, should attend, as none will be allowed to turn in stock unless they have arranged for tickets with the committee.

MR. BECKETT.—We were pleased to receive a call from Mr. Harry Beckett, to-day, the manager of Beckett's British Blonde Troupe, who was the bearer of a letter of introduction to us. We were surprised to find that he was so young a man; we had supposed, from the reputation of Mr. Beckett in the Theatrical world, that he was a much older man. To find a man so young in years with a reputation so well established shows, as plain as anything else can do, that he is a man of more than ordinary ability in his profession. We wish him and his troupe a pleasant and profitable sojourn among us.

THE "MONSTER" AGAIN.—Bro. Milano Pratt has just reached this city from Rich county. While traveling on the borders of the Lake, to the south of Fish Haven, on the evening of last Tuesday week, in company with Thomas, son of Elder C. C. Rich, conversation turned on the "monster," in whose existence Bro. Pratt had never believed. They each said how gratified they should be by a sight of his scaliness. They had not traveled far before their attention was attracted by an unusual commotion in the waters of the lake, and looking in the direction they presently saw the head and a portion of the body of a creature larger round than the body of a man, the head resembling somewhat the pictorial representations of the walrus, minus the tusks. The portion of the body out of the water was about ten feet long. Several shots were fired, but missed the creature. It swam away in the direction of the east side of the Lake, its track being marked by a wavy, serpentine motion. Its entire length was apparently about forty feet. The young men had a view of this denizen of the deep for about fifteen minutes.

Bro. Pratt informs us that one enterprising citizen, determined if possible to capture one of these animals, has a large rope, to which is attached a very strong hook well baited, tied round a stout tree, so that we shall no doubt hear before long that the Bear Lake "monster" is caught at last.

THE MAILS AT FILLMORE.—Some days ago we published a synopsis of the complaints of "Junius" in relation to mail matters at Fillmore. Yesterday morning we received a communication on the other side of the question, written at Fillmore, by Mr. John Kelly, on the 24th. There are always two sides to a story, and having given space to one we shall do so to the other. Mr. Kelly says:

"I perceive from the EVENING NEWS that some one under the nom de plume of 'Junius' has been making serious complaints respecting the manner in which postal matters are conducted here. I think it would be a hard matter for 'Junius' or any one else to show that any previous postmaster of this place ever attended to his duties more faithfully than does the present incumbent. True, he has recently adopted the practice to give out mail matter only within stated hours, viz. from 7 a.m., to 6 p.m., every lawful day, and on Sunday from 12 m. to 1 p.m. I would ask could any person, on reflection, expect a postmaster to keep his office open every hour of the day and night? As to parties having to wait twelve or sixteen hours longer than is necessary for their mail matter, I would simply say, such a statement can be substantiated only in this way: The northern mail sometimes arrives after business hours, as for instance, it came in last night at 8 o'clock. Then the postmaster has to make up the southern mail, which departs the same evening. In such cases can we blame the postmaster because he does not deliver the mail matter until next morning, or if it be Sunday, until noon. A postmaster's duties are at best, rather arduous, and they have often to attend to business at unseasonable hours, and I think the public whom they serve, and frequently for a very small remuneration, should be just and not impose upon them burdens which they themselves would be unwilling to bear.

"Let us not murmur without a cause."

PEOA.—Bro. Oscar Lyons, just in from this settlement, in Summit County, informs us that the grasshoppers have left them now, and have left them little else but some potatoes and corn, as the result of their planting last fall and this spring. The citizens are feeling and doing the best they know how under the disadvantages of having their crops destroyed continuously for the past four years.

On the 24th a general time of enjoyment was participated in by all the Peoaians, and the speeches in the schoolhouse expressed the prevailing gratitude of Utah's citizens for the blessings of their location in the Rocky Mountains. Festivities and dancing were shared by the children in the afternoon and the adults in the evening.

EASTERN papers inform us that the death of M. Prevost-Paradol, the French Minister to the United States, who died by his own hand (he sent a pistol ball through his heart) at Washington, on the 20th inst., is viewed by the Germans as an augury of evil for France, and though restrained by a sense of propriety from making joyful demonstrations over it in public, they are quite jubilant over the event. One paper says that if history be searched there are many illustrations which can be found of deplorable private calamities ushering in national misfortune and disaster. This may be, but we can scarcely understand how, as some of the journals state, M. Paradol's death at this juncture, in this manner, is going to have such a disastrous effect against the Emperor of the French. In France they do not attach the importance to suicide that they do either in America or England. It is not viewed with the horror in that country which it generally inspires in this. One of the reasons assigned for his suicide is that he indulged in nervous worry, lest his defective English should unfit him for diplomatic duty. On this point the Washington Evening Star remarks:

"Were our ambassadors abroad, who can't speak, or even write, the language of the courts to which they are accredited, to take to committing suicide, we imagine that it would require an extra and protracted session of the Senate to fill vacancies."

A GENTLEMAN of New York has been corresponding with Koopmanschap & Co., of San Francisco, to learn the terms upon which a number of Chinese house servants, male and female, could be had through that agency. The dealers in Chinamen replied that "good Chinese servants command here (San Francisco) $20 gold per month with board, and at such a price they might be induced to go to New York, with free passage out, and which would cost you $60."

These wages being so much higher than those usually paid in New York for similar service, the applicant has abandoned his design to make the experiment, though with regret, for in San Francisco, the Chinese prove admirable house-servants, and in general are considered far superior in that capacity to any other nationality.

JOHN MORRISSEY, who is a member of Congress, owns a gambling saloon at Saratoga, New York, that calls forth the best talent of newspaper correspondents to describe it. A writer in the New York Mail dilates at length upon its magnificence. "The house," he says, "stands on a spacious corner lot, is of brick, with brown stone trimmings; is sixty feet wide in front, ninety-five feet deep and three stories high, with basement. Nearly three hundred gas jets are used to light the building. There is no club house of this character equal to it on the continent. It cost, with the grounds, over $100,000. A part of the lot is the property of the adjoining church, which leased it to Mr. Morrissey for ten years, at $1,000 per year."

The patrons of this establishment, it is said by this letter writer, number among them the most prominent men in the place. Representatives of every department in life, from all parts of the land, may be seen there after nightfall. Some of these are not unknown in the ecclesiastical world, and if not church members are church-goers and church-builders.
