Sherman of the McKean post has been assigned to the Fremont school, to take the place of the speaker heretofore designated.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

In February our daughter had the whooping cough. Mr. Lane, of Portland, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said it gave his children the best of satisfaction. We found it as he said, and can recommend it to anyone having children troubled with whooping cough," says Mrs. A. Goss, of Durand, Mich. For sale by all druggists.

WOMAN SENT FROM COURT.

She Sticks Out Her Tongue at Attorney and Then Makes Faces.

The outrageous actions of Mrs. Bertha Eyer while on the witness stand in Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon was the cause of her case being thrown out of court. The woman was ordered from the witness stand and then ordered to leave the court room instantly.

Mrs. Eyer was testifying against her husband. She declared that he came home one evening recently, choked her, struck and kicked her because she had been visiting friends. The woman's manner on the stand was insulting to the court and counsel and Judge Diehl stood it as long as he could. Finally, when she stuck out her tongue at Atty. Stringfellow, who was defending Eyer, made many grimaces and hissed like a serpent, Judge Diehl ordered her to leave the court room.

"Madam, said the court, 'leave the stand and get out of the courtroom. After such actions on your part, I could not believe anything you said. Take an order dismissing the case.' It developed during the hearing of the case that Mr. Eyer was angry at his wife because he believed she had been acting in an improper manner with other men. This was denied by the woman. Mrs. Eyer said the trouble started when her husband accused her of calling upon 'Mrs. Peterson' when in fact she had called upon 'Mrs. Nelson.' She said Eyer kicked her and beat her brutally. She displayed to the court what she claimed to be marks left as a result of the alleged beating. One of the 'marks' was about the size of a pinhead.

BAD ATTACK OF DYSENTERY CURED.

"An honored citizen of this town was suffering from a severe attack of dysentery. He told a friend if he could obtain a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, he felt confident of being cured, he having used this remedy in the past. He obtained a bottle of the medicine and took it as directed. He was cured in a few days and was able to resume his usual avocations. For sale by all druggists."

COUNTY WILL PROSECUTE.

Slot Machines Come Within State Law, Thinks Willard Hanson.

Now that the city authorities have contemplated the slot machine by collecting a license of $2 per month on each one, and Judge Diehl has declared that a slot machine is not a gambling device, the county authorities propose to take the matter up and prosecute offenders under the state law. Judge Gowans of the juvenile court has had many complaints laid before him that boys were permitted to play slot machines where nickels are used and he is of the opinion that anyone permitting the use of a slot machine is contributing to the delinquency of the boy and can be handled under the law for the offense.

County Attorney Willard Hanson intends to issue a complaint against some of the slot machine owners. He says the county authorities intend to take the matter up through the courts to determine the validity of the law, and whether slot machines are gambling devices. The state law under which the prosecution is being made is as follows:

Sec. 4261.—Every person who deals, plays or carries on, owns or causes to be owned, or who conducts any game of faro, monte, roulette, lansquenet, rouge et noir, or any other game played with cards or any other device for money, checks, credit or any other, representative value and every person who plays or bets at or against any such prohibited games, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

PROPRY OWNERS AND RE-SURFACING

Majority of Main Street Business Men Are Opposed At This Time.

INTERVIEWS ON THE SUBJECT.

Most of Those Seen Are in Favor of Removing the Unightly Cobble Stones.

Amen the question of whether or not Main street shall be repaved at once from South Temple street to Fourth South, there are differing opinions among the persons who will have to foot the bill. However, the sentiments expressed are mostly all on one side—opposed to the proposition as advanced by the administration.

Main street property owners almost to a man join with the general public in declaring that the unsightly cobble stones now covering a considerable portion of the thoroughfare referred to should be done away with. But the majority most directly interested feel that the time is not opportune; that the business owners, who are now, some declare emphatically, that having once been assessed for the paving of a street, the duty of the individual ends there. The city is bound, say these persons, to keep up repairs thereafter from the general funds, not subjecting any one to a re-assessment.

TAXPAYERS PROTEST.

There are several petitions covering various blocks affected by the proposed repaving, and each of them has received the signatures of the required two-thirds majority of property owners. One circulated by Mr. Lawrence shows that the change made by the Tribune that none but Mormons are opposing the movement is entirely without foundation in fact. The protest is signed by J. H. Walker, Henry W. Lawrence, F. D. Cliff, the estate of Julia A. Kimball, the estate of Samuel Auerbach, the estate of O. J. Salsbury, the estate of R. Walker, and others. The protest reads as follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Salt Lake City: Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, owners and agents of the following described property in paying district No. 2, fronting on Main street, from South Temple to Fourth South street, hereby protest against the repaving and resurfacing of Main street within the limits herein named, at the present time, and recommend that the soft places and holes that have been kept in the pavement be mended and left in repair until such time as the city corporation and property owners can better afford the financial expense of such proposed improvements.

The letter to the city council, addressed to that body by Hon. Charles Crane, which appeared on page 10 of yesterday's issue, caused considerable discussion of the question today. A protest against the movement had already been prepared, and a petition that Main street be not repaved at this time found many signers. The two-thirds necessary to defeat the measure is believed to have been obtained. With a view of ascertaining the expressions of Main street property owners on the subject, the "News" today interviewed a number of the residents that three-fourths of the men approached are adverse to the city's plans. Following are some of the sentiments expressed:

M. H. WALKER OPPOSED. "The people are already overburdened with taxation, with prospects of another raise this year. Property owners are not in a hurry to meet any extra assessments. For the present some repaving could be done at trivial cost, and that would make a good right-of-way. The proposed work could be done without working a hardship. The city is in no position financially to pay for the intersections, the costs of which would fall to the municipality."

Hon. Henry W. Lawrence.—There are many things that need doing more urgently by the city and by the taxpayers at the present time than the repaving of Main street. I am opposed to any improvement, but I believe this is one that can be consistently delayed. Weeks ago holes were being dug in the pavement, and the city was allowed to remain, instead of being filled in at once, as was the custom. The thing was evidently done for effect. When the subject of resurfacing the street was mentioned, it was maintained that there would be practically no cost to the taxpayers, as the sale of the cobblestones would almost pay for the improvements. Instead of that being the situation, an assessment of more than $6 per front foot is made against property owners. The repaving of Main street should be delayed until the city and the public are financially better able to stand the expense.

W. S. McCormick.—I signed a protest against the repaving of Main street at the present time. The petition which will be presented to the city council speaks for itself, and contains my views regarding the matter. H. J. Wallace and George Auerbach, of the firm of F. Auerbach & Bro.—"We are opposed to the proposition of repaving Main street at any time in the near future. It is claimed that the cobble stones are to come down, but this is not likely to occur for a year or two. This way of laying paving one week and tearing it up the next to lay pipes and bury them is a very good policy. Better it would be provided a conduit on either side of the street to contain all pipes and wires, and afterwards to put in the proper pavement, not subject to the whim of every person wanting to make patchwork of it."

Col. T. G. Webster, superintendent of Z. C. M. L.—While it would be a desirable thing to have Main street properly paved, going away with the cobble stones on either side, we do not believe that now is the time to have the work performed. The market for the cobble stones is a strong argument against the proposition, and the property owners upon whom the burden would fall are not at all in a position to stand the expense. The expenditure of a few hundred dollars would put the street into a comparatively good condition, and when financial matters look up a little, no doubt every one would welcome the improvement."

State Senator W. N. Williams.—I do not consider it necessary to interfere with the Main street paving just now, except to repair some of the bad places. The expenditure is altogether too great for the people to stand at this time.

L. S. Hills, president of the Deseret National Bank.—Our board decided to join in the protest against the repaving of Main street at this time, considering that the project should be postponed. Personally, I favored the proposition.

George Savage.—It's an infernal outrage. There is no more need just at present of interfering with the pavement than there is of a dog having two tails."

W. J. Halloran.—"I am decidedly in favor of at once repaving Main street, and I will tell you the reason why. In the first place all the poles on the street are to be removed within a short time. That is the first step towards making Main street one of the most beautiful thoroughfares in the country. The clutter lights will soon be on the streets only a few feet apart, and why should the cobble stones and broken pavement be permitted to remain? The average of abutting property would not exceed 40 feet, which, at $5 per foot, would only be $200 for each owner. If any real estate in the city can stand to be taxed for improvements it is land on Main street from South Temple to Fourth South. Rentals are high, and there is no good reason why Main street should not at an early date, be, as I said before, the handsomest business street in America."

Ex-Mayor James Thompson.—"You may quote me as being in favor of the immediate repaving of Main street. Why, look at those holes in the street! The paving has been down 14 or 15 years and needs replacing. Now is the time to do it."

Extension No. 194 is along the following streets: Third South from First to Second West, Second West from First to Second South, First West between Second and Fifth South, Second West between Second and Third South, and Third West between Fourth and Fifth South.
