QUARTERLY REVIEW.

The Sabbath School of Cannonville Gives an Exhibition.

CANNONVILLE, Garfield Co., June 6th, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:

Editor Descret News:

On Sunday the 5th inst., the Cannon-ville Sabbath School held a quarterly review, during which a pleasant and instructive time was had. The meeting-house was well filled by pnpils and parents of the children. After order was called by the superintendent, the Sabbath School choir, composed of children and led by Sister Lydia M. Dunning, rendered in a pleasing manner the hymn, "Dearest Children, God is Near You." The opening prayer was offered by First Assistant Superintendent Wm. J. Henderson, jr., after which the choir sang the primary hyms, "With Merry, Tuneful Voices," the rendition of which was highly complimented by all present, and truly reflected great credit upon the juvenile singers. The different and numerous classes were then by their respective teachers upon the principles of the Gospel, and other grand and glorious subjects pertaining to life and salvation, the scholars generally answering in a very satisfactory manner. The theological classes were reviewed by our estimable Bishop Wm. J. Henderson, and found exceedingly proficient in this important branch.

The secretary's report of the previous quarter was presented to the school. It showed that the school had been well attended during the past three months, and was continually on the increase. That part of the report relating to teachers, was very favorable, demonstrating the fact that our teachers are attentive and energetic in their duties as carnest workers in our Sabbath school.

After the administration of the sacrament, Bishop Henderson addressed the school, and in his fatherly style of speaking impressed upon the minds of all present the of attending the Sabbath school. He portrayed in a very effective manner the example of the Saviof while here upon the earth, in deing his Father's will at all times and under all trying circumstances, and concluded his kind counsel and advice by exherting all present to faithfulness.

The closing remarks were made by the superintendent, J. M. Dunning, who expressed his loy and great satisfaction at the marked improvement in our Sabbath school, which was exhibited so plainly during the present review. He concluded by invoking the divine blessing upon our Sabbath schools, and all kindred institutions throughout the land. The choir sang and the benediction was pronounced by Assistant Superintendent Oliver Anderson.

Respectfully, J. M. D.

—The Missoula Times of the Sth says: Ike Solomon, keeper of the Ten-Mile Saloon, on the Bitter Root, was drowned in the river last Thursday, together with his wife and child. The high water compelled Mr. Solomon to move out of his house. He was in Missoula Thursday with his family, but early in the day undertook to return to his home. At that time the Bnckhouse bridge was still secure. The river, however, spread out over the low ground on the east side, and a considerable stream had to be forded to reach the approach of the bridge. It is supposed Mr. Solomon struck out into this stream some 200 yards above the bridge in order to go along with the current, and thus more easily reach the planked approach. Since the water has subsided the track of his wagon has been found. It appears he dreve off the bank into the main channel of the stream, Imore than 100 yards above the bridge. Whether his horses became unmanageable, or whether he thought he was following a slight ridge immediately overnanging the river and was safer in so doing, will never be known. Shawls and blankets were found in the bushes near by. No one was near at the time of the catastrophe, and it was three days before the news reached town.

A highly interesting question to the housewife is— 'How shall I know when eggs are good?'

It was only the other day that a gentleman friend of mine solved—apparently—the question by taking up an egg, wiping the large end quite cleau, and then he placed the tip of his tongue to the central part of this big end. He said that by so doing, the egg could be accurately tested, because, if it was good, it would be found that there was a tiny warm spot on the inside of the egg which would be plainly percetible to the tongue. I tried it, when, sure enough, the speck of heat responded an "Im all right."

How Glass Articles are always blown, not pressed. Goblets, wineglasses, finger bowls, etc., are imade "off hand," that is, they are blown and shaped by hand the only tools used being a blowplee and the gaffer's tool. Oval and irregular shaped articles are blown into proper molds having smooth surfaces, the molds serving merely to give the shape, and not to impress any pattern. All articles leave the glassmaker's hands with a smooth surface, and in this state they are called "blanks." The pattern, or design, is cut out of the smooth surface with iron wheels, adapted to the work. Every line is then "smoothed" on stone, wheels, and finally buffed and polished with crocus and rouge on leather and linen wheels.—Boston Herald.
