ANNIS, IDAHO.

Hay and Grain Crop Outlook Good-Honored the Acting Bishop.

Special Correspondence,

Annis, Fremont County, Idaho, June 28.—Annis is a branch of the Menan ward, with a good country and class of people. Land and water is plentiful. Alfalfa is beginning to blossom and promises to be a fair crop. We commence to hay here directly after the Fourth in earnest. Grain and other rops are looking well, the frost of June 5th did considerable damage here, killing all large fruit; small fruit will be a fair crop. Our worthy presiding Elder, Brother

Geo. A. Browning, was given a surprise on June 27th, in honor of his natal day, and the way the people turned out at the schoolhouse with picnic and good wish es, was enough to make him feel that his labors were appreciated. After the picnic was disposed of the gathering concluded with a program and dance.
