

A ROYALIST PLOT.

Alleged Conspiracy Against the Hawa-iiian Government.

ARRESTS MADE AND ARMS FOUND

An English Chemist Seems to be the Leader—Evidence to Convict Abundant.

HAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—(Special correspondent of the Associated Press) Atmosphere. Atmo, Dec. 22.—The talk of the town this week is the apprehension of an alleged royalist conspiracy. On Saturday evening last the police went to the house of John E. Bush and arrested him and E. C.
Cleek in a charge of conspiracy against the government. Upon searching the house seven persons were found, four after being led in by J. J. Joseph Hawaii, a native lawyer, earlier to see them and was arrested on the same charge. About midnight W. F. Reed and Emil Klumke were also arrested, the former as an accessory to the conspiracy and the latter for having arms and munitions unknown to the authorities. Numerous weapons and articles of suspect were searched on Sunday but no arms found. On Monday a thorough search of the house occupied by Cleek brought to light four rifles, two shot guns, one hundred and fifty rounds of ammunition, and one pistol which were concealed under the floor. The persons who conspired to secede will be examined on Sunday next, half being examined in the meantime. Bush and Klumke, both natives, have been arrested the present government and serving the natives that the queen would surely be restored. Cleek is an English chemist and was implicated in the alleged Wahinehau conspiracy against the government. After his arrest he appealed to British consul John H. Thompson for protection but was told that nothing could be done for him. Government officials are very anxious about what is claimed to be the evidence to conviction of the principal conspirators.

There have been several shocks of earthquake on the island of Hawaii and one on the island during the past few days.

The Hawaiian Islands is more active than ever and some old soldiers predict an overthrow as the result of the earthquakes.

HAWAIIAN ADVERTISER.

HAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 22.—(Correspondent of the Associated Press) Atmosphere. Atmo, Dec. 22.—Robert Louis Stevenson, the author, arrived at his home in San Francisco yesterday day last, the first of December, in all good spirits. Stevenson, 52, had been away at work until 6 o'clock and had written what was said to be some of his best work. He had lost his work for dinner. He had been in the kitchen with his wife to prepare some particular dish which he had a faultless and while those complained of a particular dish. He went to his dinner room and said he had lost his knife and fork. Stevenson had been so anxious, he never received consciousness and died at 8 o'clock.
The community were greatly shocked and many regret were sent, as although Stevenson had no political opinions, on account of his political views, he was highly esteemed.
Before the death, when in good health, he had expressed a wish to be buried upright, but of course, in a casket.
A coroner's inquest was held yesterday and it was known by the name of the "Tara-rough," (or garage containing place of death), and his interment will take place yesterday to the present of the intimate friends of the family.

The rebels have declared their intention of making armed resistance to the government and are re-arming the forts at Lutkemus, recently destroyed by the British and German vessels, and everything indicates that serious trouble may again be foisted.

The chief justice, owing to the continued illness of his daughter, has gone to New Zealand for a few months.

The president, Herr Heimann, is acting as chief Justice, whereas much disqualification is expressed.

Owing to information having been received by the authorities of a shipment of arms from America, a loan from Europe to obtain arms, and that the incoming vessels will be searched and may war material be confiscated.

Herr Maltese is about to marry a girl named Anna, daughter of one of the most prominent families in the country. It is believed that this marriage will strengthen Maltese's position.

its back and ended its career.

OBJECTS TO ADJOURNMENT.

The Senate May Lose the Usual Holiday recess.

As Senator George Oliver, and the Augustine Bill in Mississippi proves.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Mississippi George (Mississippi) has objected to the resolution for a holding adjournment, which, as the Senate is without a quorum, may prevent the usual holiday recess.

ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION PASSED.

At the conclusion of his speech Speaker George said that the adjournment resolution goes over until Monday, but not off the desk.

At 12 M. George took the floor and with his objection to the adjournment resolution, which was passed without objection.

In his speech George said it was not his purpose to annoy the senator, but simply to have expression on an important delaying or facilitating measure.

If the Senate passes the adjournment resolution the session would have expired before a single appropriation had been passed.

THE HOUSE.

not a few members on the floor when of Collier's Was of San Francisco law was shown Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt today. Roosevelt said: "The charges were filed with me, and I have called a hearing to investigate the case. I have given a thorough investigation, but shall not say whether they have any foundation. The charges are not as grave in the case of Collier's Was as those in the case of certain other officials who have violated the public trust in the interests of the public welfare."
