ANGUS M. CANNON,
JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,
CHARLES W. PENROSE,
Presidency of Stake.

FRAGMENTS.

THERE was nothing stirring in the United States commissioners' courts this morning.

THE criminal calendar of the Third District court will be called on Monday morning next. It is a heavy one.

THE seventh quorum of Elders will meet in the Twenty-second ward meetinghouse this evening, at 7:30.

CHURCHILL, the person arrested yesterday by Officer Shannon, was up for examination sets his sanity before Judge Bartch this afternoon.

MESSRS. BIRD, 49 S. Main street, have received Scribner's, St. Nicholas and Harper's Magazines for March, also the illustrated weekly papers.

THE Chamber of Commerce officials are hard at work making arrangements for a mass meeting to be held in the Tabernacle, to discuss the natural gas question.

MARTIN TURNER and wife, of Ogden, are in the city, in attendance at the dedication ceremonies of the old Fellows' Temple, and are the guests of John T. Rocks.

THE race for the police captaincy has, apparently, narrowed down to two men—Ex-Captain Vandercook and Sergeant Donovan, with chances in favor of the latter.

R. H. MAGUIRE, upon the completion of his sentence on a charge of larceny-by-bailee, said George Henry, who has inherited his term for housebreaking, will emerge from the penitentiary—the former tomorrow and the latter next Monday.

LAST night the new Odd Fellows' hall on Market street was dedicated with the customary ceremonies. Delegates were present from Ogden, Park City, Bingham, Provo and Salem. There was a crowded audience, and the proceedings were of an interesting character.

YESTERDAY afternoon the grand jury of the Third District court reported having found one indictment under the laws of the Territory and fourteen under the statutes of the United States. The case of The People vs. A. H. Atkinson, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was ignored.

WE frequently hear of accidents in the vicinity of the Salt Lake City Brewery, caused by the employes of that establishment obstructing the thoroughfares, and the question is often asked by residents of the East Bench, how long the management of that place are to be allowed to occupy the sidewalks with their buildings.

THOMAS C. GREEN, who was brought from the Uncompahgre and Ouray reservation to testify against Joseph Hill and three others for selling whisky to the Indians, as previously stated in the NEWS has been held to the sum of $500. Green is a cowboy and as he is a stranger here he was unable to furnish the required bond. Consequently, he will lodged at Marshal Parsons' mansion on the hill until wanted.

THERE-SHAFFER F. B. GIFFORD, against whom is altered the offense of unlawfully changing the date on a railroad ticket, yesterday afternoon went before Commissioner Greenman and gave a bond in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the Third District court, when wanted, on the charge of forgery. Gifford is said to have had his preliminary examination before the commissioner this week, but the case was taken direct to the grand jury instead.

Elder Taylor Lectures.

The regular session of the Students' Society of the Latter-day Saints' College will be held at No. 233 west, First North, this evening (Friday). Elder Joseph E. Taylor will deliver a lecture on the subject of "Temples." The exercises will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The public are invited.

J. J. WALTON,
Chairman.

A Notorious Pair.

The notorious Josie Hill, who was twice arrested, imprisoned and tried for the murder of Ed. Callahan, is said to have suddenly disappeared from the gaze of the Salt Lake public. There are conflicting statements as to where she has gone. Some say one, others west, and still others assert that she has gone south.

Richard Edwards, or "Coyote Dick," as he was better known in this region, and who is believed to have been implicated in the killing of Callahan, has also flown, it is said, to the "Lone Star State," where he recently sent his young wife.

It is said that the present grand jury have been investigating the charges against Hill and Edwards and that the latter were aware of it and sought safety in flight.

Charged with a Gross Crime.

On the complaint of the husband of the female defendant, Nels Rasmussen—Mary A. Rasmussen and Frank Meldrum were arrested yesterday afternoon by a deputy marshal on a charge of adultery. Subsequently the accused parties were taken before Commissioner Greenman. The allegation made by the irate husband is that while he was prospecting at Deep Creek with Lu Fisk last year his wife took advantage of his absence to carry on an intrigue with Meldrum. The evidence against the couple was such that Commissioner Greenman thought the case one which should be investigated by the grand jury. He therefore held them to await the action of that body, fixing the woman's bond at $500 and Meldrum's at $300.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Another Action for Damages Against Railroad Companies—Matters Miscellaneous.

Business was just as quiet in the Wasatch building today as it was bustling yesterday. Judge Zane's court generally opens with a small run of motions, but this morning not one was brought forward, and the jurors who were empanneled late on Thursday afternoon were called to take their seats in the jury box promptly at ten o'clock to listen to the details in the case of John J. Olson vs. the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern Railway companies. It is an action for damages for personal injuries, the sum claimed being $5000. The plaintiff says that the injuries were caused by reason of an engine of the defendant companies striking a wagon in which he was riding, throwing him to the ground with considerable violence and, besides severely hurting him, demolishing the vehicle. Negligence is assigned, but this is positively denied by the defense. The hearing of the case promises to be about as long drawn out as the usual run of this class of actions.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON'S CASES.

The case of H. N. Sterling vs. F. H. Parsons, U. S. Marshal, was mentioned in the NEWS yesterday. Plaintiff sues to recover $18,500 for the alleged unlawful seizure of the stock of Sterling Bros., at Tooele, who assigned in December, 1890. The jury, late yesterday afternoon, found for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,625, and a stay of execution for 20 days was allowed the defendant in which to apply for a new trial.

ONE MORE DAMAGE SUIT.

The case of John J. Olson vs. the Oregon Short Line et al. was then taken up, Williams and Van Cott appearing for the defendant and Barlow Ferguson and J. M. Cannon for the plaintiff. It is alleged that on February 14th last plaintiff was crossing the defendant's track at Bingham Junction in a wagon, when the outfit was struck by a locomotive, both horses killed, the wagon wrecked, and the plaintiff badly and permanently injured. He asks damages in the sum of $10,000. A jury was called and sworn, and the case then went over until this morning.

A BOND FOR COSTS.

In the case of Lester T. Rogers vs. Jennie V. Thompson, a stay was granted until a bond for costs is filed.

A RUN OF DEBURRERS.

In the case of L. A. Dake, B. H. English, A. McClusky, John Walsh, John Noonan and W. W. Snow vs. Arthur Brown et al., seven more defendants were filed yesterday as judges of election at the Fourth precinct on election day are summoned to receive the ballots of the plaintiffs on the ground of non-residence. The latter then brought suits to recover $5000 damages each.

DISMISSED.

The case of the Park City Mining Company vs. W. H. Dodge et al. was dismissed, having been settled by the parties.

FOR PLAINTIFF.

In the three cases of Peter Anderson et al. vs. Matt Connolley et al., decrees for the plaintiffs for sums in conflict were granted by consent.

OTHER SUITS.

Miriam G. Chase et al. have brought suit in the Third District Court against Miriam L. Hawkins et al. to have the defendants forever enjoined from asserting any claim to certain lands described in the complaint.

The case of E. A. Jeffs vs. the Rio Grande Western Railway Company has been vacated by the defendant in the Third District Court, Commissioner Pratt gave judgment for the plaintiff for $83.50.

Police Pickings.

Frank J. Speller, an engineer by occupation, appeared before Justice Lee, in the police court this morning, on a charge of petit larceny. He frankly confessed that he had stolen a pair of pants and suspenders belonging to a fellow workman, but with no evil intent. He took the articles, he said, simply because he needed them. He was sentenced to ten days in the city jail.

John O'Brien was arraigned for trespass but discharged for lack of evidence.

W. Smith is in custody on a similar charge.

James Morgan is in jail accused of vagrancy.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.

A Housebreaker Steals a Gold Watch and Chain, and is Severely Injured.

An enterprising burglar walked quietly into the residence of L. H. Hill, near the corner of Fourth South and Second East streets, about 2 o'clock this morning, through the back door, which had been left unlocked. The apartment into which he first made his way was occupied by a number of lodgers, all of whom were sleeping soundly. The intruder rifled the pockets of some of the sleepers. The only valuables, however, that he secured were a gold watch and chain belonging to Chas. Dale, who is employed by the water department of the city. Mr. Burglar then passed stealthily into the next room and proceeded to ransack it, when he suddenly stumbled over some article of furniture and awoke the inmates of the house. Several of them sprang from their beds simultaneously with a view of investigating the cause of the disturbance. As they did so the housebreaker dashed through one of the parlor windows, breaking a large pane of glass to fragments and completely carrying away the sash. He uttered several piercing cries of pain as he ran with all possible speed to the sidewalk and disappeared in the darkness.

He succeeded in making good his escape.

The premises were examined by Officer O'Keefe of the police force today. Blood was plentifully sprinkled along the course taken by the robber, and a search and examination after made revealing the fact that he was severely cut by the broken glass.

POOR HEPBURN'S FATE.

His Dead Body Discovered in the Mountains—Frozen Upon by Wild Animals.

The dead body of A. J. Hepburn, the miner who perished in the snow in the mountains December 25, at the present writer, while on his way from the Ajax mine to Ogden, a distance of twenty-six miles, has been discovered.

The readers of the DESERET NEWS will remember how he came to lose his way and the heroic effort that was made at that time to save him.

Hepburn and a companion named Dyer left the mine for Ogden, at which place they intended to spend the holidays. Dyer became weary and was left at a camp five and one half miles south from Southwick's and Hepburn struck out alone to get help. That was the last heard of him.

Two happened a few days before the raging snowstorm which lasted nearly a week. Dyer, the latter says, made his way down the canyon, following Hepburn's tracks until they turned toward lower ground, when he left them and began on the mile hill made his way to Southwick's and thence to Ogden. When Hepburn's associates were made aware of these news, searching parties were at once started out. Their efforts were in vain. They were caught in the storm, the body was covered up and the search became not only hopeless but impossible.

The body was found yesterday, Jas. M. Ferrin and a young man passed Southwick's on the mile hill made his way a mile and a quarter in the direction of the last camp fire. Carefully scanning the banks of the creek a hat was discovered. On the hat was placed a few small logs, probably excavated by some small animal. Here was found the body with the face and upper part of the head exposed. The left side of the face had been eaten away.

Mr. Ferrin covered up the body and then brought word to the coroner last evening. Arrangements have been made to box it and bring it to Ogden. It will probably reach there Saturday at noon.

All the brethren who have been recommended for ordination during the last three months are requested to be present. A general invitation to the Priesthood of all grades is extended.

J. D. SPENCER, Clerk.

DIED IN A FIT.

Thomas Bell, of Ogden, Expires Suddenly at the Keeley Institute, This Morning.

Thomas Bell, an habitual drunkard and complete wreck, died in great physical agony at the Keeley Institute in this city, at 2:30 o'clock this morning. For the last two years he resided at Ogden and was employed at a variety house at that place. Recently he has spent the most of his time in the People's Theatre, on Commercial street, in this city. He drank great quantities of the worst kind of whisky and was seldom sober. He was subject to epileptic fits. Of late they became more frequent and grave fears were entertained by his friends as to his recovery.

Yesterday morning he was taken to the Keeley institute by his acquaintances who made up a purse for his benefit, to be treated for the liquor habit. He had just recovered from a fit when he was left alone for a few minutes in a livery stable. During the day he again went into convulsions. Last night he had four more and at the time stated died in the last one.

The body was taken charge of by Joseph William Taylor and buried at 4 o'clock this afternoon. So far as known he had no relatives in this Territory. Bell, was not his true name. His mother, a wealthy woman, lives in the East and has been telegraphed to.

Probate Court.

The following business was transacted before Judge Bartch today:

C. F. 5, to provide for the organization and control of building and loan associations, the special order, was taken up. It consists of seventeen pages of over 300 words each, and 55 sections. The chief clerk raised it from the desk and with a shift over the magnificence of the task before him proceeded to read, the members occasionally interrupting with questions and suggestions.

(The bill will probably occupy the entire afternoon).

An Interesting Lecture.

A very interesting meeting was held last evening in the Sugar House ward, meeting house under the auspices of the 105 quorum of seventies. President George Reynolds, of the seventy of seventies, addressed the meeting on the subject of "The condition of the Nephites at the time of Christ."

The speaker referred to the situation of the people at the time of Christ's coming, the history that crept in, the fall when blessed with riches, and, and then followed up the progress of the people after the Savior's birth and his appearance on this continent, making a very interesting and clear description of the progress and great prosperity which attended the Nephites when they were faithful and hearkened to the voice of revelation.

The quorum purposes continuing the lectures each month, and will endeavor in securing the best talent to be had, in order to make them interesting.

The regular meeting is held on the last Monday in each month at 7:30 p. m. at the Sugar House ward meeting-house. All Seventies in the district are urgently requested to identify themselves therewith.

H. CLOY,
Secretary.

Under Arrest.

Detective Johnson last night arrested an individual named One Stalls who has been conducting a wild animal exhibition near the St. Elmo hotel on Main street for the last few days. The officer also arrested Louis Stalls, an eighteen year old son of the showman and Nellie Stalls, a girl of eighteen. The two latter are charged with immoral conduct and will have a hearing before Justice Lee tomorrow.

The father was unable to give bonds and spent the night in jail.

The charge against the senior Stalls has not been definitely stated at noon today.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

THE BERLIN RIOTS.

The Disturbances Continue in Various Parts of the City.

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Authorities have taken great alarm over the occurrences last night and have been on the qui vive expecting that far more serious disturbances would follow the discovery of their own strength by the workingmen. Last night every policeman was on duty. The aider of police in company with several of his aids and officers visited different parts of the city that had been the scenes of the disturbances. The orders on the outskirts of Berlin were to concentrate the forces at the centre of the city. Influenced by their successes yesterday and last night, the rioters, numbering tens of thousands, began the whole night on the streets, began to renew their disturbances this morning. The law-abiding residents of the city have kept indoors, many of them do not dare to leave their dwellings. At an early hour the menacing crowds of workingmen began to assemble in the Leipsic Linden. There was a strong force of police present, however, and they kept the crowd of idlers continually moving. By noon the crowds had again assembled in such an extent that the police were compelled to charge them in close order. The streets were met with determined resistance but finally dispersed the rioters.

The mob in Kaiser Wilhelmstrasse is especially described as held their ground. The police charged several times with drawn swords, and finally, after determined resistance on the part of the rioters, with clubs and flats. Shots and stones were fooled. Quite a number of the mob were severely hurt, and all the leaders fell into the hands of the police. Several excited meetings were held near the Exchange and this fact did not increase the feeling of safety in the city. Further, it was feared the mob might attack foreign reporters of speculation, which are held by many to be partly responsible for the late business crash.

During the course of the morning, disorderly workingmen assembled at several other points of the city, notably at the Potsdam railway station, at the gate, the museum and square in front of the opera house, but when ordered to disperse by the police, they did so, manifesting former but offering no resistances.

At noon another large crowd collected in the opera house square. The police charged the mob with drawn swords and dispersed them with little resistance. Seven ringleaders of this crowd were arrested. It is evident that the soldiers will be used against the rioters element only as a last resort to establish order.

It is believed by many people that the police force is inadequate to handle the disturbances, though thus far their conduct merits the highest praise.

The government should adopt sterner measures to put down the trouble once for all. The anarchists tried to break through the line of police at the race gate and almost succeeded, when a force of mounted officers arrived and broke up the crowd, riding down and injuring many of them.

Emperor William does not show any anxiety as to the final outcome of the recent troubles. There was great excitement in the vicinity of the castle at half-past three this afternoon, when his majesty, attended by an aide and preceded by two mounted policemen emerged on horseback from the castle court and rode slowly through the streets, notwithstanding that they were packed by excited throngs of people. He was loudly and enthusiastically cheered by the masses through which he passed.

India and Silver.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A dispatch to the Times from Calcutta says, the address presented to the government by the Bengal chamber of commerce on the subject of exchange says, it is impossible for men in business to have any confidence in the future value of the rupee. It adds that it is the belief of members of the chamber of commerce that there is no complete remedy for the fluctuations in the rates of exchange, except by either the establishment by international agreement of a system of free coinage of both gold and silver at fixed rates, or in the adoption of a gold standard by India. Failing in either remedy, they see nothing in the future except the gradual demonetization of silver by one country after another with violent and serious fluctuations in the relative values of gold and silver, and the lack in the value of the rupee is impossible to predict.

H. YOUNG'S AUCTION

I have been selling at public auction for three weeks. My silverware and clocks are selling at cost. I still have a large stock of Fine Watches and Jewelry, and to make the auction sale of more interest to my old patrons and friends, I have received a consignment from an Eastern wholesale jewelry house of about ten thousand dollars' worth of Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co's make of Silverware, consisting of the very best styles of everything made in Hollow ware. A lot of dozens of Roger & Bro's Knives, Forks and Spoons, etc. These goods will be put on sale at auction this week. Every piece sold at auction will be guaranteed to be just as the auctioneer represents them.

Paint Economy

Is practiced by many people, who buy inferior articles of food because cheaper in price, and suffer from the penalty inflicted on all who violate the laws of health. It is a fact that the Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk is the best infant food. Your grocer can supply you.
