Louisiana Affairs.

NEW ORLEANS, 19.—The Packard legislature is rapidly dissolving. There are now sixty-five or sixty-six returning board members in the Nicholls House.

The commissioners reported to the President by telegraph, to-day, including the following letter from Governor Nicholls, referring to the joint resolutions heretofore telegraphed:

"Executive Department,
State of Louisiana, New Orleans, April 16.

"To the Hon. Charles B. Lawrence, Jos. R. Hawley, John M. Harlan, John C. Brown, and Wayne McVeigh:

"Gentlemen—I have the honor to transmit herewith a copy of the joint resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of Louisiana. In so doing I desire that they express not merely abstract ideas, but the conviction of our people, which will be practically executed by them through their representatives, their courts and their executive governments. As chief magistrate of the State, it will be not only my pleasure but my bounden duty to give every assistance in my power leading to that end. I am satisfied that any course of political action narrower than the good of the whole people must inevitably lead to disaster. Every day's experience fortifies me in the belief that a policy founded on these principles must result in the attainment of the ends for which all just governments are established. I have earnestly sought to obliterate the color line in politics, and consolidate the people on a basis of official rights and common interests, and it is a source of gratification to be able to say that this great object is about to be realized. I feel that I do but speak the sentiments of the people when I declare that their government will secure:

"First—A vigorous and efficient enforcement of the laws; all persons and property will be equally protected, and, should occasion require, I will proceed in person where any disorders may menace the public peace or political rights of any citizen.

"Second—The establishment of a system of public education, to be supported by a uniform taxation, so that all, without regard to race or color, may receive official advantages thereunder.

"Third—The fostering of immigration in order to hasten the development of the natural resources of the State.

"Having thus committed our government and people to these great principles, I desire to add the most emphatic assurance that the withdrawal of the troops to their barracks, instead of causing any disturbance of the peace or any tendency to riot, will be a source of profound gratification to our people, and will be accepted by them as proof of the confidence of the President in their capacity for self-government.

"The people of Louisiana cannot fail to appreciate that their good fortune is largely due to the magnanimous policy so wisely inaugurated and so consistently maintained by the President of the United States.

"I have the honor to be,
"Your obed't servant,
"(Signed) FRANCIS F. NICHOLLS."

The commissioners believe that the end of their labors is near. They strenuously endeavor to secure one legislature by general consent. A reunion would be nominal and nearly valueless unless accompanied by a good degree of reconciliation and harmonious purpose. They believe the national government has desired to accept what Louisiana should present rather than dictate what Louisiana should do. They have striven not so much for detailed plans of any description as to soothe the passionate feeling and create a desire for peace and union. They all speak with respect of the personal bearing of both Packard and Nicholls. The letter of Nicholls appears to please them greatly, and they speak of him as an honorable soldier, whose sincerity and high courage cannot be doubted. Unquestionably he will do his utmost to carry out the policy to which he so frankly commits himself. He is sustained by the best moral and intellectual elements of his party. A large number of republicans have, from the beginning, accepted his governorship as inevitable, and said that it would not only bring present peace, but make a great step forward in the protection of the people, and surely lead to the reorganization of the parties under which all sides would, as a matter both of policy and duty, protect the personal and political rights of all the voters. The commission are in good spirits over the present aspect of affairs.

Caucus of the Packard Legislature.

The Packard legislature met in caucus to-night and adopted the following statement as expressing their views of the present condition of affairs in that State:

First—They have unalterable faith in the legality and justice of the claims of S. B. Packard and the government of which he is the head, to be the legal government of the State of Louisiana, legally returned, legally installed, and legally embodying the will of the majority of the people.

Second—That the disintegration of the legal general assembly meeting in the State House and acknowledging the authority of Governor Packard, recently witnessed, has been brought about by the direct agencies of gentlemen, citizens of other States, sent here by the President with instructions which have only been partially made known, and the nature of which can only be inferentially arrived at by the action of said commission, their expressed opinions and the agencies they have employed. Chief among these we enumerate the following: On the evening of Tuesday, the 17th day of April, on which day the pretended House of Representatives supporting the claims of Nicholls to the governorship was without the semblance of a legal quorum, as it has posthumously been since its organization, certain members of the Commission appointed by the President requested a consultation with the members of the General Assembly. Some twelve members of the Senate responded to this invitation. To them, the members of the Commission known as belonging to the republican party, stated that the terms offered by the Nicholls' legislature, which included the seating of three democratic members from the city of New Orleans, notoriously defeated, even according to democratic claims, but the recognition of whom was requisite to give even a show of legality to the organization of the Nicholls House, were the best and only terms that they could procure. They distinctly recommended the republicans assembled by their invitation to accept these terms, and Mr. McNeagh, one of the members of the Commission, whilst refraining from openly endorsing the proposition, emphasized with this remark: "If there is any member of the legislature who entertains the most lingering idea that the troops are going to remain, for God's sake disabuse him of that idea, for they are going to be removed."

Fourth—That as a direct result of this intimation and implied threat of the President's Commission, several members of the legal legislature went over to that of General Nicholls.

Fifth—We, therefore, charge upon these gentlemen, as they assert they have acted simply upon their individual capacity, an unwarranted interference of the domestic affairs of a State to which they do not belong, and a flagrant violation of the principle of local self-government advocated by the President. If, on the other hand, their action in the manner set forth has been directed by the Chief Executive of the nation, we leave it to be characterized in befitting terms by the American people.

Somebody Wants to Kidnap Packard.

The following report came from the State house, to-night—Gov. Packard's carriage was stopped, to-night, at the corner of Rampart and Esplanade streets, where he resides, by ten or twelve armed men who, finding the only occupant to be an elderly person, an attache of Governor Packard, bearing a letter to Mrs. Packard, stating that her husband would not be home to-night, left him without further molestation. Packard's friends states that he had been forewarned that an attempt would be made to kidnap him should he stop at his house as he had previously done, and so he sent his cab ahead to see if there was any foundation in the warning given.

Want to Compromise.

READING, Pa., 19.—Two of the leading members of the Reading division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, authorize the publication of the following proposition to General Manager Wooter:

"The insurance circular of the Reading Railroad is to be withdrawn, the company to pay the engineers the same wages they were receiving when they withdrew from their employ, and promise that there shall be no further reduction of wages. The engineers agree on their part that they, their firemen, and all other old employees will return to work, and there shall be no strike at any time if the above conditions are not broken by the company."

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, 19.—P. W. Norris, of Michigan, was, to-day, appointed by Secretary Schurz Superintendent of the Yellowstone National Park.

The President has appointed Wm. Penn Prescott, of Nevada, assayer of the mint at Carson, Nevada.

The Louisiana Commission.

Telegrams were received by the President from the Louisiana commission, yesterday afternoon, last night, and to-day. It is not considered expedient at present to furnish the contents for publication, but assurance is given that their tenor warrants the assertion that the prospect of a settlement of affairs continues to improve, and indications are that the labors of the commission will have a satisfactory termination.

The Discharged Employees.

Secretary Sherman says he never suffered more pain in his life than he did in the recent removal of employees, so many of whom were helpless, poor and needy. His predecessor had told him that the force must be reduced, and when he entered the office he appointed three of the most trusted officers of the department to make an examination and to select those who were either not needed or were the least efficient in the service. This was done. He held the list for weeks, handed it over to Governor McCormick, when he became Assistant Secretary, by whom it was carefully examined and held until delay was inexcusable. The Secretary has refused, in every case, to restore any one on the list although some of them had been appointed on his recommendation.

Inspecting American Inventions.

The Grand Duke Constantine, accompanied by Baron Schillery and Admiral Boutakoff, visited the interior department, to-day, for the purpose of inspecting the illustrations of American inventions, in the model room of the patent office. Secretary Schurz and General Spear, Commissioner of Patents, being informed of their desire, met the Duke and party in the model room and conducted them through it.

Acting on Their Own Responsibility.

Governor Kellogg, to-day, received the following telegram from New Orleans—

"Please enquire of President Hayes if it is by his direction that the Commissioners recommend the members of Packard's legislature to join Nicholls? Two of our trusted men left to-day, under such persuasion."

Kellogg replied, "If it be true that the Commissioners are so doing, I am satisfied they are acting on their own instructions and without instructions from the President."

Destructive Tornado.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., 19.—A terrific tornado passed through Rutherford County last night, blowing down fifteen houses, and killing three person and wounding eight others.

FOREIGN.

TURKEY.

Rainy Season.

BELGRADE, 19.—The rainy season will probably delay the general advance on the alluvial places of Roumania, where the roads are impassable after the heavy rains. The Danube is also very high and rising rapidly. It is, therefore, scarcely probable that any extensive military movements will be attempted for three weeks at least.

War Unavoidable.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 19.—Layard is expected to-night. He will have an interview with Edhem Pasha and Safvet Pasha, to-morrow, but no hope is entertained of avoiding war.

Hobart Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish navy, has left for the Danube.

The plague is increasing in Bagdad.

The reported engagement near Nicsics is false.

GREAT BRITAIN

Eastern War Items.

LONDON, 19.—The Times says undoubtedly if Russia determines to advance upon Van, through Hoy, Persia being Russia's ally and affording every facility for Russian troops to pass through her territory, Van must easily fall. There is nothing to prevent the Russians capturing Batoum from the land side. An attack on the sea front is unlikely, because Batoum is considered impregnable there, and the Russians cannot cope with the Turkish Black Sea fleet, and the Russians having possession of Erzeroum and Van can easily advance to Trebizond. There is a good road between Erzeroum and Trebizond. Thus the chances are decidedly in favor of Russia; if she attack Turkey in Asia Minor, as the Turks have not an adequate force to oppose them and are without cavalry. It is feared that cruel massacres of Christians by the troops in the Turkish army may follow.

A dispatch from Vienna reports that the Montenegrin corps, under Gen. Nukotich, is concentrating at the mouth of the defile of Duga, a short distance from the Turkish troops. A collision is momentarily expected.

The Prince of Montenegro is about to go to the camp before Nicsics.

The Berlin correspondence of the Daily News reports that Austria is preparing 90,000 men, who can be mobilized in a few days.

The News correspondent at Vienna states that negotiations are still going on with a view to a separate understanding between the Porte and Russia.

One account says that the Porte will send a special envoy to the Czar at Kischeneff. The Czar will leave the army at the Pruth. The Grand Duke Nicholas goes with it to the Danube.

A Vienna correspondent reports that a faint hope of peace is still raised by the efforts of the powers to induce the Sultan to send delegates to meet the Czar at Kischeneff to treat on the question of disarmament. Possibly this is the reason that the Czar has decided not to issue his proclamation before he returns to St. Petersburg, leaving ten or twelve days for diplomatic action.

Will Leave For Home.

The Standard's despatch from St. Petersburg, announces that Lord Loftus, the English ambassador, is on the point of leaving for home. This indicates no change in the satisfactory relations existing between England and Russia.

Held for Trial.

Charles Bradlaugh and Mrs. Annie Besant, free thought advocates, who were recently arrested on a charge of printing and publishing a pamphlet alleged to be of an immoral character, have been held for trial on their own recognizances.

GERMANY.

Austrian Military Well Prepared.

BERLIN, 19. — Intelligence has been received from Vienna that Austria is sufficiently prepared, in a military sense, for the event of an outbreak. The passage of the Danube by the Russians would probably be the moment for Austria to cross the Bosno into the Herzegovinian frontier. This would not be an act directed against Russia, and would be far from being intended to impede Russian operations in Bulgaria. Its only purpose would be to secure Austrian interests in case Russia should obtain military successes. If circumstances in Servia should render it necessary, Austria might occupy Bosnia at a still earlier period.
