SEVEN SERMONS IN TWELVE HOURS.

E. A. Fredenhagen, Superintendent Of Kansas Society for Friendless. Establishes a Record.

STRENUOUS TIME YESTERDAY.

Spoke to Prisoners at the Penitentiary and Addressed Six Congregations in Salt Lake Churches.

General Superintendent E. A. Fredenhagen of the Kansas Society for the Friendless, and a member of the Kansas State Board of Charities and Corrections, who is visiting in this city, had a strenuous day of it yesterday. He is in the far west in the interest generally of prison reform and evangelical work in prisons and jails, and particularly in the interest of the establishment of branches of the society for the Friendless, an organization whose object is to look after men discharged from jails and prisons, help them get on to their feet, to make a new start in life, and to soe that they are in a way to become useful citizens. At present, in this state, when a man is discharged from prison he is given 55 in money, and a hand-me-down suit of clothes, and turned loose. He has been in confinement for several years, has lost all track of current events and is entirely out of touch with the rourections, who is visiting in this city, of clothes, and turned loose. He has been in confinement for several years, has lost all track of current events and is entirely out of touch with the routine of life outside of prison walls. If the man lives at a distance, $5 will not pay his railroad fare, it will barely maintain him for a week, while he is looking for employment, and the chances are strong against his finding work without assistance. He finds the tendency, to turn him down, particularly if the style of his clothes is recognized, for there is a sameness about these discharged convict suits that is eaught on to quickly, and operates against a man. Presently the man's money is gone, he is friendless, he gets desperate, he meets old acquaintances in wrong doing who invite him to take a drink, and the first thing that man knows is that he is in the grasp of the law again, and once more "back to the old home"—the city "jug" and the state prison. Dr. Fredenhagen and his wife organized at Topeka, Kansas, the Society for the Friendless, which would take a discharged convict by the hand, and give him to understand that "A man's a man for a' that," while there's life there's hope, and that there is a practical sympathy with unfortunates of this class which will aid him in an endeavor to cast aside forever his old criminal life and strive to become a man in the future.

This society took root at once, and has since apread over the adjoining states, so that it has passed the experimental stage; and the main promoter is in this city to start a movement which shall result in the organization here of a branch society to find work for discharged convicts, to get them to their homes—if at a distance, to encourage them in all practical ways to strive for themselves, to earn an honest living, and keep away from evil associations. Dr. Fredenhagen is also here to unite the Prison Society of Christian Endeavor in the Federation of the Prison League of Christian Endeavor, in which he has the support of the United Society at Boston. That he is an enthusiast in—his w the United Society at Boston. That he is an enthusiast in his work is evidenced from the fact that he spoke seven times yesterday, although not in the best of health. He arrived Saturday atternoon, and registered at the Kenyon, and held a conference with President H. H. Smith of the State Union of Christian Endeavor, Rev. P. A. Simpkin, chairman of the local Christian Endeavor Prison committee, and others; and began yesterday morning, by speaking to the Sunday school of the First Methodist church. Afterwards he spoke in the First Methodist churches; in the afternoon he addressed the inmates of the state prison, and after dinner he spoke before the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, and the Endeavor society of the Christian church, and finally occupied the evening in the First Presbyterian church. This morning, he spoke the church with the morning he spoke the church and the morning he spoke the church. the evening in the First Presbyterian church. This morning he spoke before the Ministerial association, and for the rest of the day and tomorrow, he is at work on his society for the Friend-

The address yesterday afternoon, at the prison, was a ver? practical one, and made an excellent impression on the prisoners. It was entirely in line with what they were most in need of, and served to strengthen the Endeavor work there. Mrs. E. Shepard presided, and there were present also Miss Grace M. Helkes of the local committee, Miss Jessie Drew, a prominent evangelical jail worker, and others. The doctor was introduced afterwards to officers of the society there, and came away favorably impressed with the status of the work. His addresses elsewhere were highly instructive in suggestions as to do effective work in reformation, and the fact that The address yesterday afternoon, at work in reformation, and the fact that the great bulk of inmates of prisons are young men, and the need of rescuing them were made prominent.

BEN HARMAN DEAD.

Old-Time Resident of Mill Creek Falls A Victim to Diabetes.

The many friends of Benjamin M. Harman will be shocked to hear of his death which occurred at his late residence in Mill Creek at 11:40 Sunday morning. Death was caused by dia-betes from which the deceased had been a sufferer for the past two or three

Mr. Harmon was a familiar figure on the streets of this city, and will be missed by hundreds of his old-time associates. "Uncle Ben," as he was familiarly called, was born in Llanelly, Carmarthenshire, South Wales, Oct. 14, 1825, having just passed the 68th anniversary of his birth. He was the son of Charles S, and Mary Mathias, and came to this country with his parents in 1859. Accompanied by his brother Edwin, he returned to Wales in 1880, where he labored as a missionery for nearly three years. He was a member of the Sixty-seventh quorum of Seventy, and, up to within a few days of his death, held the position of president of the Gold Dust Mining company and director of the St. Joe Mining company. It was only on Friday last that he resigned the position as president of the former company, and was succeeded by his brother Robert. In politics he was a staunch Republican, having identified himself with that party when the division on party lines took place in this state. Mr. Harman was a leving husband, an

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Former Resident of Eureka, Utah, Com mits Suicide in Butte Hotel.

(Special to the "News.") Butte, Mont., Oct. 26—Ella Davis, a young woman who has been working as a waitress at the Southern hotel for the past week, committed suicide by taking two ounces of carbolic acid. It seems that Miss Davis was fondly attached to a young man who had been working in the mines. When the shutdown of the Amalgamated mines occurred he decided to leave the city and find employment elsewhere, and the young lady brooded over his departure until she decided to end her worry by committing suicide. A samall bottle about half full of the deadiy acid was found in the room. The deceased was born in Pennsylvania and before coming to Butte she had employment at Eureka, Utah. The labors of Dr. Maeser are beyond price in their effect for good on the lives of thousands of men and women who came under his influence. It is fitting, therefore, that they who have enjoyed the direct benfit of his labors should participate in erecting a monument to his memory. Only small contributions are expected, as Dr. Maeser's former students are numerous, and it is hoped that all will do themselves the honor of giving to the fund.

The matter is in the hands of General Supt. J. M. Tanner, and remittances may be made direct to him at Salt Lake city or through those who are regularly appointed to receive them in their respective localities. A general and hearty response will undoubtedly be received.

HIT BY A STREET CAR.

Harold Keller and Miss Mary Zinger, the former of Mill Creek and the latter residing on Ninth East near Ninth South streets, had a narrow escape from death last evening while out driv-ing. At about 9:30 o'clock they at-tempted to cross the car tracks on Ninth East. The motorman saw the buggy and rang the bell. The noise frightened the horse and the buggy was whirled towards the track again. The car struck the rig and the occupants were thrown to the ground. While both sustained painful injuries neither was seriously hurt.

RAID ON CHEWING GUM.

Thieves broke open the confectionery case in Soi Crown's cigar and confectionery stand in the City and County building Saturday afternoon between 5:30 and 6 o'clock and stole about $3 worth of candy and chewing gum. The case is locked with a small padlock, and the parties who did the job wrenched off the staple which holds the padand the parties who did the low weight ed off the staple which holds the pad-lock and thus secured free access to the contents of the case. The theft was discovered about 6.05 o'clock Saturday evening by Nightwatchman Mc-Allister, who came on duty at that time, The fact that only candy and chewing gum were taken leads the officers to believe the deed was committed by some boys. No clue as to the guilty parties has been obtained.

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 25 .- Tom Horn, the condemned murderer of Willie Nickell, and sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 20, it, as a last resort, writing letters to the leading witnesses for the state who gave damaging testimony against him. Frank Mulock of Denver and Charles Ohnhaus of Cheyenne have already received letters, and Horn has written to his friends to see other witnesses personally and get them to make affidavits that their testimony at the trial was faise.

Horn's letter to Ohnhaus is dated Oct. And opens as follows: "I was in-formed by the sheriffs and my lawyers that the supreme court had refused to grant me a new trial, and that I was to be hanged Nov. 20. Now, sir, I am going to make an appeal to you to act in my behalf and it certainly is not much that I ask, only that you make affidavit to the facts in this supposed confession of mine."

confession of mine."
Horn then takes up the confession paragraph by paragraph and after asking why Ohnhaus left out certain porparagraph by paragraph and after asking why Ohnhaus left out certain portions of the conversation he had with LaFors, he denies having made the statement that "It was the best shot and the dirtiest trick I ever done." He also denies the talk relative to placing a stone under the head of Willie Nickell and leaving it there as his sign for the collection of his money.

In writing the letter to Ohnhaus, Horn evidently forgot that on the witness stand he himself admitted that the entire conversation was correct. He did not remember saying anything about the best shot and the dirtiest trick, etc., but said that if Ohnhaus had it in his notes he had no doubt but that he said it.

Horn charges that Ohnnaus probably got a sum of money for making his notes to fit the case.

He closes with an appeat to Ohnhaus to come forward and save his life on the ground that he, Horn, never harmed Ohnhaus, and that unless he does this he will never be happy through life, knowing that he took Horn's life when by telling the truth he could have saved it.

HANSEN ENTERS DENIAL

In the "News" a few days ago there appeared an article in which it was charged that Chris Hansen and a man named Erickson deliberately drove into Mrs. F. B. Smith's surrey, completely demolishing the vehicle and throwing her and her companion out upon the ground, Mr. Hansen, who is a resident of South Cottonwood, called at the "News" office today and denied emphatically that he was in the least to blame for the accident. He said it was wholly unavoidable as Mrs. Smith drove right into his wagon and in a manner, too, that precluded his getting out of the way. The suggestion that he was intoxicated, he says, is altogether unjustifiable as both he and Mr. Erick. intoxicated, he says, is altogether un-justifiable as both he and Mr. Erick-son were perfectly soher and were driv-ing along slowly when Mrs. Smith cut along slowly when Mrs. Smith cut collision.

BETTER LIGHT SERVICE.

For the next 60 days, the electric light service is likely to be somewhat intermittent, on account of the company's standardizing and increasing its voit. age, both over the high presure lines from the north and over its feeder lines, The management has been considering this improvement for some two years, and when the intended improvement is carried out, the service will be in a perfectly satisfactory condition, and the currents will be steadler than ever before. The changes will require a heavy outlay in the matter of new copper wire and patient attention to many small details.

Other points of the scheme deal with the relief of refugees, the rebuilding of villages, schools and churches, the disbandonment of the irregular troops and the prohibition of the employment of Bashi Bazouks. Opposition to the whole scheme is expected on the part of the porte, but the Austrian and Russian ambassadors demand the adoption of the plan with the least possible delay.

It is thought that some of the other powers may object to the appointment of exclusively Austrian and Russian assessors and demand that the commis-assessors and demand that the commis-sion of control be given a more inter-national character.

It is believed in Paris, in view of the terms of the late Russo-Austrian note to Turkey, providing that the pro-posed commission to control which is to assist Turkey in carrying out the re-forms in Macedonia, is to be composed forms in Macedonia, is to be composed of Austrian and Russian representa-tives without any representatives of the other powers, that the sultan may de-fer accepting the plan until he has as-certained the attitude of Great Britain, France and other powers interested in the orient and it is said that these powers are not likely to favor the reform plan unless they are represented upon the commission.

DOWIE'S FATHER. He Declares in Public He Doesn't Know Who He Was.

New York, Oct. 26.-In his morning New York, Oct. 26.—In his morning address today Dowie said that he had no right to the name of Dowie, and that he did not know who his father was. The occasion for the statement was certain letters published by a morning newspaper purporting to show that Dowie had cast off his own father. Years ago, Dowie said, he had the painful revelation made to him that John Murray Dowie, to whom the letters were written, was not his father. He said the elder Dowie handed him certain documents on which he would said the elder Dowie handed him cer-tain documents on which he would speak tonight. Dowie declared that he was glad the matter was out as the let-ters had been in the hands of certain persons for years. During his address he again denounced the newspapers and demanded the establishment of a censorship to protect clergymen, politi-cians ludges and husiness men from cians, judges and business men from
