MORAN GETS JOBS AT HIS OWN PRICE

As Sole Bidder for Resurfacing of Main Street He Receives Award

Kelsey Figured $7,000 Less Than Official Contract—To Be Done in Sixty Days.

Patrick J. Moran, the official contractor, obtained the resurfacing of Main street from South Temple street to Fourth South street last night when he was awarded to him by the board of public works at his own price, $55,564.79, which is about $7,000 higher than the city engineer's estimate. There were no other bidders on the work and the council will be asked to approve the awarding of the contract Monday night.

The bid was made in two sections. For the resurfacing of the street and laying new curbs and gutters, Moran bid $33,790.79, and for taking up the stone curbing at both sides of the street $21,774. The city engineer's estimate and on which an assessment levy will be made was $48,479.89.

The contract specifies that the work shall be completed within 60 days. This clause is inserted because the administration wishes the street completed before the G. A. R. encampment, June 9. The board awarded the contract although it is considerably above the estimate on account of the difficulties that will be encountered in doing the work on a business street.

The stone blocks taken up on Main street will be used as material for laying cross walks. In different parts of the city, A. D. B. submitted a bid for laying the cross walks which included the taking up of the blocks. The bid was rejected because it did not comply with the specifications and he was given another week to revise his bid. Moran submitted a bid of $52,973.90 for the paving of Third South street from West Temple to Third West street. The city engineer's estimate was $46,755. This bid was considered a high bid and held it up for one week for consideration.

Under their contract, Shea & Anderson, who laid the concrete conduit on the Salt Lake & Jordan canal, were given overtime in completing the work. The board declared a forfeiture of $25.

J. W. Mellen was awarded the contract for grading Fourth North street from East Capitol avenue to Wasatch drive. He gives the city $1,373 for permission to do the work. The grading of A Street between Fourth and Fifth streets was awarded under the same conditions.

LIVED 152 YEARS. William Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120. He worked in the city for 122 and lived 20 years in the city. People should be youthful at 80. James Wright of Spurluck, Ky., shows how to remain young. He is just like a 16-year-old boy. He "after taking six bottles of Electric made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me that there was a godsend to cure me." They're a godsend to cure me, sickly, rundown or old people. Try them, 50c at Z. C. M. L., 112-114 south Main street, Salt Lake City.

CHILD WAS NOT KIDNAPED. Mrs. Odle Emms Alarmed When Neighbors Seek to Give Aid.

Missing her 5-year-old daughter Ellen and upon inquiry among neighbors being told that a man had been seen to pick her up and carry her away, Mrs. Odle Emms, after a two hours' frantic search of the neighborhood, called on the police for assistance yesterday. Before an officer could arrive, however, she had found the missing child playing in the yard of a neighbor half a block away.

The incident was the result of interference on the part of neighbors. Mrs. Emms is the wife of Ed. Emms who was fatally shot last Christmas evening when caught in the act of robbing a bank. Recently she has been boarding with her three children at the home of Mrs. T. W. Hanson, 153 north Fourth West street. The son, with an almost maternal care for the little children, the eldest of whom is Ellen, the 5-year-old girl, protested, as she says, against the children being permitted to associate with the couple, and the adjoining house, or their association with colored children there. Carrying her objections to the point of action the little girl was sent to a neighbor's house to play and it was intended that she should remain there until William Emms, a brother of the deceased father of the girl could be communicated with.

The girl was taken to the neighbor's by the 15-year-old son of Mrs. Hanson. Before the officer arrived in response to the call, however, Mrs. Emms had found her daughter and taken her to the present place of residence, adjoining Mrs. Hanson's.

MEN'S CHORUS MEETS. The Salt Lake Men's chorus held their semi-annual meeting last evening in the rooms of Conductor Squire Coop. Reports were read showing the organization to be in good financial shape and that in the past six months it had participated in four concerts. W. L. Richardson, the manager, was deputized to confer with the managements of other local choral organizations to see what could be done to better musical conditions here. The sentiment was that the men's chorus should be continued as a separate organization. By adjournment, the chorus presented Prof. Coop with a substantial token of their appreciation. There was a collation with a pleasant social.

HE FAILS THRICE TO GET DIVORCE

John Barrett Makes Another Unsuccessful Attempt to Be Made Single.

TRIES ON THREE CHARGES

First Was Quarrelsomeness, Second Was Cruelty and Yesterday It Was Desperation.

John W. Barrett, a railroad conductor, made his third unsuccessful attempt yesterday afternoon in Judge Morse's court to obtain an interlocutory decree of divorce from his wife, Mrs. Florence C. Barrett. In presenting his cause of action yesterday, he testified that because he failed to give his wife a Christmas present in 1908 she refused to live with him any more, and went to Denver, where she sold all their furniture which had stored there and spent the money, which amounted to $203. His story was not corroborated, however, and Judge Morse took the case under advisement again.

In a previous hearing Barrett charged his wife with cruelty. When she could not find fault with him in any other way, he declared, then she took exception to his nationality. Mrs. Barrett also refused to go with him to places of amusement. These were his allegations of cruelty which caused him great mental distress and lowered his feelings, but Judge Morse did not think that they were sufficient to grant a decree.

When the case was first called for trial, Barrett testified that his wife charged him with being unfaithful when he came home late at night. She also wrangled so much at night, he said, that she disturbed the occupants of the house. The wife's allegation was corroborated, but Judge Morse was not satisfied and asked for more evidence. They were married in Colorado about five years ago and came to this country about two years ago. Mr. Barrett is now in Columbus, O.

PRETTY MILLINER'S CASE. Mrs. Anna Smithson, a young and pretty milliner, who charged her husband, Charles Smithson, a saloonkeeper of Milford, Utah, with being unfaithful and then setting fire to it, was granted $25 a month temporary alimony during the pendency of her suit. After this order was made, it was found necessary to modify the restraining order which had been issued against him so that he could draw the money from his bank. The husband's motion for modification to draw out the same for his own uses, Mrs. Smithson now lives at 281 East Second South street, and her husband lives at 108 Los Angeles on Nov. 28, 1908.

JUDGE ADVISES PETTY. Charles E. Petty, who was arraigned before the court on an order to show cause why he should not be punished for not paying child support, was ordered by the court to pay the support of his child. He was discharged by Judge Morse upon the showing he made. He had paid in the last two months $53 to his attorney and his wife's attorney but there was no money to pay the support of his child. He was granted an order for $10 a week for the support of his child. Petty, 3 years old.

BLACKSMITH MUST PAY. Hyrum Sandberg, a blacksmith, was ordered yesterday to pay his wife $5 a week for the support of their child, 13 months old, during the pendency of the suit for divorce against him. Mrs. Alice O. Sandberg, his wife, testified that for the last two months she had been living with her mother and had no means of support. When she and her husband separated, Sandberg telephoned to the stores where he had traded and informed them not to give her any credit. They were married on Jan. 12, 1907, and Mrs. Sandberg charges her husband with cruelty in her complaint.

MAKES HURRIED DESCENT. Sharp Mats Tenant Alarms Drug Clerk, But All Ends Quite Well.

A peculiar accident happened yesterday in the Sharp flats at E and South Temple streets. Miss Levy, an occupant of one of the flats over the drug store, was attempting to climb through a window in the light shaft adjoining her apartments, when she lost her hold, and crashing down through the glass skylight, landed all in a heap in the stock room back of the drug store.

Ralph Nelson, the druggist, dropped a beaker full of pyrogallol acid he was mixing with permanganate of potassium, or something of that kind, and rushed gallantly to the rescue. He expected to find Miss Levy injured badly. He was astonished to discover that, while she was badly bruised up by her unceremonious descent of 20 feet, she was unhurt. She had suffered no broken bones, in fact was quite composed, though the broken glass had demoralized her new spring gown. Miss Levy was able to compose her nerves with a glass of ice cream soda, after which she calmly proceeded up stairs.

We have plotted, planned and figured, working from morning till night, seeking for a medicine that will take the place of the old-fashioned tea or Tablets. 35 cents.—Goodie-Pitts Drug Co.
