CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 13.—Various amendments reported by the committee on appropriations, were then agreed to as follows: Appropriating $7,000 for longevity pay of professors; increasing the appropriation for the pay of cadets from $150,000 to $156,815; appropriating $21,896 for a hospital building; increasing the appropriation for completing the sewerage from $5,000 to $13,250, and appropriating $38,520 for procuring an adequate water supply, purchase of lake, etc.

The committee reported in favor of striking out the third section of the House bill, which provides that only such number of graduates of the academy in any one year shall be entitled to appointment as second lieutenants in the army as are required to fill the vacancies in that grade existing on the 1st of July in each year, those entitled to appointment to said vacancies to be determined by the academic board on the basis of their standing in the graduating class, and hereafter no supernumerary officer shall be attached to any company or corps of the army, and all graduates of the academy who are not appointed to the army under the provisions of this act shall be discharged upon the graduation of their class.

Sargent submitted the following as a substitute for that section: "The cadet-at-large at the military academy shall not hereafter exceed ten in all, and no new appointments at large shall be made until the number of such cadets heretofore appointed falls below ten."

Sargent said that by habit the appointment of ten cadets-at-large had been made every year, instead of every four years, and therefore there were forty cadets-at-large, ten in each class.

Blaine submitted the following as an amendment to that of Sargent: "That the ten cadets appointed at large shall in all cases be taken from among the descendants of those who have served in the army or navy of the United States."

Sargent said he did not think it would be proper to amend the bill now so as to cut off from the appointment of cadets-at-large those of at least half the States of this Union. Referring to the Southern States, of course, he knew Senator Blaine did not mean to do that, but the amendment would have that effect.

Blaine said he had no such intention and he did not think the amendment would have such effect. He (Blaine) did not bring the question here about discriminating against half the people of this country. It was brought in by the Senator from California (Sargent). If he insisted on that here, then he (Blaine) would say, all right, let him take it. Those who fought for the Union deserved the appointments.

After some further discussion, Windom made the point of order that the amendment proposed new legislation, but it was decided that the point was made too late.

Windom then moved to lay the amendments of Blaine and Matthews on the table. Agreed to.

Hoar moved an amendment to that of Sargent, as follows: "But this division shall not be held to require the discharge of any cadet heretofore appointed."

The amendment of Hoar was accepted by Sargent, and the amendment, as amended by Hoar, was agreed to.

The bill was then reported to the Senate, the amendments made in committee of the whole agreed to, and it was read the third time and passed.

Paddock called up the Senate bill supplementary to the act in relation to the Hot Springs reservation, State of Arkansas. It continues the commission appointed by that act to hear the cases of the claimants, etc., until the 1st of October, 1878, and provides that they shall each receive compensation at the rate of $5,000 per annum.

Dorsey moved to amend the bill so as to continue the commission until February 1st, 1879, instead of October 1st, 1878. Agreed to. He also submitted an additional section, authorizing the superintendent of the reservation to lease the sites with privileges for furnishing baths, etc., to the Hot Springs Mountain Water Company, giving to said company the right to construct a reservoir on the Hot Springs mountain to supply the reservation with water, etc. Agreed to.

The bill was then read the third time and passed.

Conkling called up the House bill to make persons charged with crimes and offences competent witnesses in United States and territorial courts. Passed.

Thurman called up the Pacific Railroad sinking fund bill, that it might be unfinished business to-morrow, and the Senate, at 4:30 p.m., adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 13.—After considerable debate, Reagan, by unanimous consent, made an explanation on the subject of the proposed payment of mail route contractors in the confederate States for services rendered previous to the war, and had read an extract from his first report as Postmaster General of the confederacy. He confessed to having forgotten the subsequent legislation on the subject. He hoped the House would not consider that he had been dealing unfairly or disingenuously with it.

Conger replied to Reagan.—He disclaimed any intention to reflect upon that gentleman in the matter of the bill to pay southern mail contracts. That gentleman had contradicted the statement which he (Conger) had made as to these contractors having been paid by the confederate government, and he (Conger) had met him and overthrown him with his own proclamation. The gentleman from Texas had also denied that these contracts have been paid by the confederacy, but Wellita had produced proof that they had been. He did not wish to say anything personal about the gentleman from Texas. He accepted his explanation for whatever that gentleman might consider is worth; still the charge remained unanswered, that the gentleman on the other side, who were familiar with the legislation of the confederate congress, and who must have known that over $60,000,000 had been appropriated by that congress to pay these contractors, were silent upon that fact.

Singer moved to form an amendment to the bill, and proceeded again to discuss the question of the southern mail contracts, when a similar point of order was made by Luttrell and again sustained.

The paragraph having been reached which fixes the salaries of ministers to Spain, Austria, Italy, Brazil, Mexico, Japan and China at $10,000, Mayham moved to amend by providing that, before such salary be paid to the minister at China and the former consul general to Shanghai, the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause his accounts, as such consul general, to be carefully investigated, and that all monies received by him and not paid into the treasury shall be deducted from his salary.

Hale made a point of order that the amendment was new legislation.

The Chairman sustained the point and the amendment was not received.

Singleton, on the part of the appropriation committee, moved an amendment appropriating $8,000 for the minister of the Argentine Republic, Paraguay, and Uruguay, the original bill only providing for the minister to the argentine Republic at $7,500. Agreed to.

Monroe moved to increase the salaries of the consuls general at London, Paris, Havana, and Rio de Janeiro from $5,000 to $6,000, and to strike out the proviso making it the duty of the consul at Rio de Janeiro to perform the duties of Secretary of Legation without additional compensation.

Monroe's amendment having been divided, that portion which increased the salary was rejected, and the portion striking out the proviso was agreed to.

Luttrell stated that most of the American consuls had violated the law in regard to making quarterly reports. In 1870, the number of emigrants from Hongkong had been about 15,000, which, at $2 a head, for consul fees, should have amounted to $30,000, whereas the consul at that port had accounted for but $7,000.

Springer moved to strike out the consulates to Ling Po and Chin Kiang in China; referred.

On motion of Dunnell, an amendment was adopted making it the duty of consuls to make quarterly reports as to the amount of exports and imports of the countries to which they be accredited.

On motion of Lathrop an amendment was adopted making it the duty of consuls to make annual reports as to the wages paid for labor in the countries to which they are accredited.

The committee arose and the bill and the amendments were reported to the House.

All the amendments were concurred in and the bill passed.

Wood, of New York, moved to take from the Speaker's table the Senate bill to aid in the Polar expedition designed by Jas. G. Bennett.

Kenna said he would object to its present disposition, and would move its reference to the committee on commerce.

The Speaker stated that the motion would be in order.

Wood's motion was agreed to and the bill was brought before the House and read.

Conger made the point of order that the bill made an appropriation and must therefore be considered in committee of the whole.

The Speaker asked Conger to point out the appropriation which the bill made.

Corger replied that it provided for withholding duties on the vessel.

The Speaker decided that the point of order was not well taken.

Kenna moved to refer the bill to the committee on commerce.

After brief discussion, the motion to refer was voted down, and the bill passed.

Scales, chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, gave notice that he would bring before the House, next Tuesday, the bill to transfer the Indian bureau to the War Department.

The House then, at 5:15, adjourned, after which a democratic caucus was called to meet in the hall immediately.

EASTERN.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 13.—The wool market continues very dull for all kinds, and prices remain without improvement. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania at 42 @ 43 for X, medium, XX and above, the latter price being about all that can be obtained for the best fleeces in the market, although the holders of the most choice wool are not disposed to sell at that rate. Michigan, Wisconsin, and New Hampshire fleeces range from 38 @ 40, and low and coarse fleeces from 34 @ 37. Combing and delaine wool dull and prices nominal. About 48 @ 50 are the extreme prices for the best lots offering. Super and X pulled wools are in moderate demand at 32 @ 35. California wool is selling at 21 @ 25 for fall, and 29 @ 32 for spring.

The Great Storm—The Roads in Running Order—Loss of Life.

CHEYENNE, 13.—All the railroads to this place are now open, excepting the Colorado Central, which has still about eight miles of hard packed snow to clear. The Denver Pacific train reached here at noon to-day. Trains from the west on the Union Pacific came through this morning. The coaches on the Black Hills stage line depart daily, but will doubtless be much delayed going through. The loss of life from the storm will be considerable.

On Thursday last a party of five men—Joe Conney, H. J. McCann, Charles Wilson and Messrs. Card and Kentz, who left Laramie City for a hunt, were caught in the storm. The bodies of the last named three were found yesterday at Cooper's Lake, 20 miles west of Laramie. Conney's body and the bodies of two horses were found this evening. McCann is still missing.

Stock men here anticipate only a small loss in cattle, probably 2 per cent., and in sheep 5 per cent.

The weather here to-day is clear and warm and the snow is rapidly disappearing.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, 13.—The Senate public lands committee made a very strong and interesting report, recommending the passage of the bill to authorize the citizens of California, Nevada and Colorado and all the territories to take timber from mineral lands for mining or domestic purposes.

The Treasury will, to morrow, receive $10,000 from the Philadelphia mint.

The democratic members of the House held a caucus to-day for the purpose of considering the army bill recently completed by the military committee, with a view to making the provisions thereof party measures. After some discussion, a resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of 13 members, with instructions to confer with the military committee on the draft of the bill and report the result.

Disgraceful Scene in the House of Representatives.

A very disgraceful scene occurred in the House of Representatives to-day. A discussion was going on in committee of the whole on the diplomatic appropriation bill, with Conger on the floor, speaking in relation to the claims of a southern postmaster, when Representative Beverly Douglas (Virginia) came into the House intoxicated, and interrupted the discussion. The Chair attempted to rap him down, but Douglas continued to talk incoherently and shake his fist at Conger. Members attempted to quiet, him but he would not stop, and all proceedings were suspended. The Chairman directed the sergent-at-arms to make Douglas take his seat, but the execution of the order was resisted, and it was not until nearly all the Virginia delegation gathered around Douglas that he would consent to leave the floor. It has become an almost daily occurrence for Douglas to appear upon the floor in an intoxicated condition.

HIGHEST HONORS

AT THE

UNITED STATES

CentennialL

World Exhibition,

1876.

MASON & HAMLIN

ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK

IN THE

"SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and the ONLY MEDAL OFFERED FOR THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been awarded to all articles deemed worthy of recognition, so this is with but little force for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The difference in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. exhibited their Reed Organs in numerous thousand instruments of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Excellence of workmanship, quality of tone, scope of expression, promptness and evenness of action, quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thorough use of every available improvement and invention."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, have having been severally six times in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and

FIRST MEDALS

PARIS, 1867; VIENNA 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875; PHILADELPHIA, 1876;

and have thus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exposition!

at which they have been exhibited; being the Only American Organs which have ever received a FIRST AWARD at any competition with best European makers, or in any European World's Exposition.
