

A GOOD WORK, SO FAR.

A very good selection of delegates to the convention, to be held next Saturday, was made last evening at the primaries held in this city. All the wards attended to this duty. The delegates were left to their own discretion as to making up a county ticket. The disposition was shown to sacrifice merely local interests and proclivities for the general welfare. That is right. The interests of the whole county should be considered, and it matters not in what part of the county men live who are the best and for the office to be filled, they should be chosen for their fitness rather than their locality. A strong ticket is wanted, one that will meet the approval of every fair-minded citizen. With that, and through work in getting out all the voters to the polls, we may confidently look for a victory for the People's Party, which shall give confidence to all who desire maintenance of good, honest and capable government in this county, for the public benefit and not for the enrichment of office-seekers or reward to political "strikers and spoliators."

WHEN WILL THEY LEARN?

The North American joins in the scolding hue-and-cry against "Mormon" immigration, and without inquiring into the facts wants the law enforced to prevent their landing. It says:

"Recruits to Mormonism continue to arrive. A shipload of them were landed in Castle Garden yesterday, and after their names had been taken for possible future reference, they were allowed to go upon their way. We have a law which is stringent enough to keep out ministers, and lecturers, and college professors, and musicians, but for these misguided Mormon converts the doors stand wide open. The consistency of this arrangement is not apparent."

The Newburyport, Mass., Herald, more sensible than most of its contemporaries, makes this rejoinder: "Doesn't the North American understand that we have no law to keep out ministers, lecturers, professors and musicians unless they come here under contract to render professional services, and does it mean to take the ground that passengers who are neither preachers nor college professors nor musicians are to be kept out? If so, the religious of the United States are split up. The Constitution allows no discrimination in the treatment of religious bodies."

When will the journalists of the United States learn and understand that the "Mormons" who come to this country from abroad are not preachers, nor contract laborers, nor intending law lecturers, nor musicians, nor anything else, but industrious, God-fearing people, who desire to become American citizens and dwell with people of their own religious faith. All the yards of stuff that editors reel off in declamation against "Mormon" immigration, simply demonstrates their own lack of information or their utter idleness.

"NO IRISH MORMONS."

This stupid story is going the rounds of the American press again, that "it is a remarkable fact that no Irish man or woman ever joined the Mormons." The Irish Monthly has a paper purporting to be written by "an Irish man," in which it is stated that "Brigham Young sought earnestly among Irish settlers in England, Scotland, Wales and America; he sent his most eloquent apostles into the highways of the world to compel them, so to say, to come to his banquet, but none of them came." This is stated to have been "a very great grief to him."

To save our contemporaries from further absurd errors on this point we will state that there are many Irish men and women in Utah belonging to the "Mormon" Church, and others in Ireland, Scotland and different parts of the world. Few of them, however, come from the Southern part of the Emerald Isle, or from the strongly Catholic portions of Erin's population. Many have come from the North, from the Protestant Irish people in Scotland and elsewhere.

No special effort is made to convert people of any particular race. The latter-day Gospel is to every nation, tribe and tongue. The Elders went to all people of every country, class and creed. Perhaps the Celtic tribes have furnished fewer converts than most other divisions of the human family, but the revamped story about "no Irish Mormons" is entirely untrue.

IF ALIVE.

SENATOR YANCEY, of North Carolina, while opposing an anti-Mormon measure in the upper House of Congress, recently delivered himself of the following strikingly true and pertinent remark:

"Moses, the leader of Israel, if alive today, could not be mayor of a crossroads town in Idaho, and King Solomon, in all his glory, could not issue a warrant for fifty cents."

He might have added, by way of antithesis, if alive and in Idaho today, Balaram would have a good chance to ride to the highest place in the State, and Judas Iscariot to sit in the United States Senate.

Some of the "Liberals" are discussing the feasibility of establishing a party dictatorship that will be openly and honestly acknowledged. The proper way to go about it would be for Mr. Powers to announce that he had appointed himself, and let the entire party shout, amen. No need for any unnecessary formalities.

Last night there was another hold-up, if that can be properly applied to a highway robbery in which a knock-down fight was on of the constituents. As usual there were no arrests. If the policemen were "Mormons" they would be getting it from the "Liberals" press. Wonder who will be held up and knocked down to-night?

UNITY FOR THE PLACE.

To assert that the nomination of Joseph Lippman for clerk of the Board of Trustees, which are to have the supervision of the public schools of Salt Lake City, is an insult to the community is placing the matter in its mildest light. Men who are connected with the education of the young should be of the highest moral repute. Under the existing situation this is not likely to be the case, but no glaring instance of the opposite of this condition ought to be permitted. The repute of Mr. Lippman in this regard has been damaged by himself. Last November, in the Third District Court, Judge Anderson presiding, he made a statement to the effect that 999 out of every thousand males who reached maturity had committed a sexual offense. Of course he must have meant of the class to which he belongs, as it was a question put to one of his own lawyers, and drew forth the remark from him.

The incident created a good deal of comment at the time and made the individual in question more or less notorious, and he was designated as a "Lippman." We do not believe the people want such men as he to have anything to do with the manipulation of the moral and intellectual training of our children, and his nomination in that connection was nothing short of an insult to the parents of the community who furnish the money to conduct the public schools. They do not wish to employ such men as Lippman, and if the Board of Trustees elect him they will consummate an outrage and contribute toward rendering themselves obnoxious to the start.

THE "LIBERAL" NOMINATION FOR RECORDER.

The fight for the "Liberal" candidacy for the recordership of Salt Lake County was lively, almost to the verge of ferocity. The unmitigated snub administered to H. S. McCallum shows that even the party of fraud draws the line somewhere in its manifestations of appreciation of those who have helped them into power by political trickery. The limit is placed at self-interest. In the event of an unscrupulous incompetent person being in the position of recorder, the interests of all classes of citizens are jeopardized. Mr. McCallum at no time received a vote of the convention sufficiently strong to reach one-half the number necessary for a choice. Seeing that the "Liberal" organ had asserted that he and his friends had been jobbing and conspiring before-hand to secure him the nomination, this showing is all the more humiliating.

The snub was shared by O. W. Powers, as McCallum was his favorite for the candidacy for recorder. But he got partly even by a coup de deft which secured the nomination for his next choice—Colonel Page. When he saw that McCallum's case was hopeless, he arose and stated that he was authorized to withdraw the name of his favorite, and to express a wish on his behalf that his friends vote for Col. Page.

This was a worthy into Kimball's Camp, as the McCallum supporters were undoubtedly committed to a thumbs-up or down process at the dictum of the Powers-McCallum combination. It was evident from the beginning that Mr. Kimball was the real choice of the convention, but the unscrupulous political manipulator from Michigan was equal to the occasion and managed to defeat the real favorite.

We wonder whether poor old P. Edward Connor really believed he could get the nomination. If so, the fact that he had lost the ghost of a chance from the start must have been a source of mortification to the misguided man. The "Liberals" party have shown beyond doubt that the only use they have for him is to lead a street parade in the midst of red fire and the rattle of muskets. Last winter the chief "Liberal" organ used to speak of him as the "Gladstone of Utah," and the "Grand Old Man of the West." It was too true to think the old man's vanity and then demonstrate the hollowness of the flattery by giving him a corporal's guard vote for the party nomination for county recorder.

A Gladstonian type of manhood hunting a county recordership is rather a remarkable spectacle anywhere. So, consequently may after all demand that failure should be the result of the effort.

There is much dissatisfaction among the "Liberals," so it is reasonable to expect that Mr. Powers will soon be at work cracking his whip and threatening to have dissenters drummed out of the party ranks, thus following up the tactics of last spring.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

It is possible to drill a little common sense into the heads of the men who make mud in the streets, and the contractor and his associates, or of the City Council who should have control of the matter?

When strips of the streets are already saturated so that it is impossible to drive over them without splashing mud in every direction, the drivers of the water carts will go over these sticky strips, spilling more water upon them and leaving big pools, while right alongside are strips of dusty road left without a drop of moisture.

Cannot the extra and unnecessary water, spilled, not be used for a crossroads town in Idaho, and King Solomon, in all his glory, could not issue a warrant for fifty cents."

He might have added, by way of antithesis, if alive and in Idaho today, Balaram would have a good chance to ride to the highest place in the State, and Judas Iscariot to sit in the United States Senate.

Old Folks at Mount Pleasant.

The happy custom, originated in Salt Lake City a number of years ago and assuming changed by inviting them to participate in a party, has been adopted in this city. A few weeks since a committee of a number of our worthy people was selected to prepare a program and make arrangements for an enjoyable time. They at once went to work and the day appointed for the pleasant event.

At 12 o'clock, sweet strains of music by our band were heard at the music room on the corner of the square, welcoming the invited guests, and soon afterward over three hundred, old and young, gathered on the lawn which had been pleasantly provided.

There were present two over ninety-year-olds, and eighty-five over seventy-year-olds. Bachelors were placed upon the program, designated by the name of "Old Folks at Mount Pleasant." The program was a most enjoyable one, and the ladies were in a low mood of mind. The program was a most enjoyable one, and the ladies were in a low mood of mind.
