On Monday Mrs. F. D. Kimball entertained at a delightful function in the Commercial club in honor of Mrs. P. A. Bidwin, Jr. The table was beautifully decorated with carnations, lilies and greens, and the white and green prevailing, and the two colors being carried out also in the refreshments. An entertaining feature of the afternoon was a clever guessing game, a list of questions being given the guests which were answered from a number of objects spread on the table. Mrs. Kimball was awarded the prize, a hand painted picture of violets in water color, with an accompanying poem in fancy script engraved. Delicious refreshments were served, and about 50 guests were present.

Mrs. George L. Nye was hostess at a charming luncheon on Wednesday at the Commercial club, given in honor of Mrs. P. A. Bidwin, Jr. The table was beautifully decorated with carnations, lilies and greens, and the white and green prevailing, and the two colors being carried out also in the refreshments. An entertaining feature of the afternoon was a clever guessing game, a list of questions being given the guests which were answered from a number of objects spread on the table. Mrs. Kimball was awarded the prize, a hand painted picture of violets in water color, with an accompanying poem in fancy script engraved. Delicious refreshments were served, and about 50 guests were present.

A delightful party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Cannon at Forest Dale, on Thursday evening. The occasion was a banquet tendered to the members of the graduating class of the L. D. S. university by the members of the Third year organization. The guests, about 50 in number, arrived at 8 o'clock, and were received by the Third year students in the parlors of the Cannon home. In a short time they were initiated into the mysteries of a grand march, a card auction in a sort of stock exchange, a game of passing the spoons, etc. A delicious supper was served, prepared by the Third year girls, and was a feature of the evening. The halls resounded when all the company joined in singing "The Good Old L. D. S." and other school songs. A large contingent made a pilgrimage to the home of Prof. Peterson who was unaccountably absent, and serenaded him with some of the choruses. Among those present were President and Mrs. Paul, Prof. and Mrs. Hinkley, Prof. and Mrs. Evans, Prof. Whitsoo, Prof. and Mrs. Miller, of the graduating class the following were present: Messrs. Jos. Schoenhals, Marvin Ashton, Clarence Openshaw, Charles Gibbs, Jonathan Openshaw, James Hurst, and Clive Bradford; Misses Mary Clayton, Augusta Ryland, Verne Maycock, Florence Lloyd, Florence Ashton, Lillie Shipp and Ruby Irvine. Riner, and E. W. Stone, who were here on the Scottish Rite Masons. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Tracy, Mrs. Verbyck, Miss May Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tuttle.

WEDDING BELLS

One of the prettiest of early spring weddings was that of Miss Flora B. Drechen and Mr. Charles G. Billings, which took place Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilhart, 723 South Eleventh East street. The decorations were beautiful and artistically arranged. The front parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was entirely in white and green—lilies, anemones, carnations, and potted plants and flowers with green and white streamers running from the chandelier to the front bay windows; and the bride party stood on a mat of prettily arranged leaves. The dining-room decorations were in red ribbons and roses and carnations attractively arranged, and delicious refreshments were served here. The reception hall was in red and green—plants and flowers, and the hallway was a stringed quartet, consisting of Messrs. Skelton and Masterson, first and second violin, Radecky, viola, and James Olson, cello, furnished excellent music for the ceremony and reception afterwards lasting from 8 to 10 o'clock. Punch was daintily served in the reception hall by Miss May Billings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Paden of the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock in the presence of 20 relatives and intimate friends, while a large circle of admiring friends and acquaintances attended the following reception, from 10 to 12 o'clock offering congratulations. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace, with white tulle veil, and carried white carnations. She wore a fine brooch of diamonds and pearls—the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid, Miss Pearl M. Drechen, sister of the bride, was daintily gowned in cream tulle and lace, and carried roses. Mr. Joseph Stenseth was the best man, and Dr. Roscoe Day and Messrs. Burrell, Newman, Ben White and R. M. Young were the ushers. Mrs. Snodgrass played the Mendelssohn wedding march as the bride party marched in, and during the ceremony the stringed quartet played the wedding music from Lohengrin. The parents of the young couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilhart and Mr. and Mrs. Lucius A. Billings assisted at the reception, and in the dining room Mrs. Fred Egan and Mrs. Steele presided, assisted by Miss Edith Lawther, Miss Lucy Gaby, Miss Zora Shaw and Miss Marjorie Taylor. There were many elegant toilets. The bride presents were displayed up stairs, and were as well as profuse and beautiful.
