THE ANARCHISTS.

One More Speech Will Wind It Up.

CHICAGO, 16.—One of the best points made by Foster to-day was in substance as follows: "The language that the prosecution find of such great significance in the publications in the Arbeiter Zeitung is the word "Ruhe," which they say means rest, peace. Now, when the police arrived at the Haymarket, Captain Ward said: "I command you in the name of the State of Illinois to disperse peaceably." To this Fielden, who was speaking, answered naturally enough, 'Why, Captain, this is a peaceable meeting,' or 'we are peaceable.' Now, should the State see anything so significant in this remark? The evidence shows that the meeting was peaceable, and I say here it was never intended to be otherwise. If at that moment some one on his own responsibility threw a bomb among the police, and that fact were now known, the word 'Ruhe' and Fielden's remark 'we are peaceable' would then have a natural significance or meaning on the face of it, instead of being, as the State insists, a symbol of riot and bloodshed."

Foster, after enlarging upon this feature of the case and declaring that the evidence fell short of proving that the Haymarket meeting had any connection with the conspiracy to attack the police, devoted considerable time to the consideration of the testimony of John Burnett, as opposed to that of Harry L. Gilmore. Burnett, Foster showed, had been interviewed by the state. He had been shown a picture of Joseph Schnaubelt, and upon honestly declaring that he could not recognize it as that of the bomb-thrower, was allowed to go. He could not serve the State as a witness. Called by the defense, Burnett swore that the bomb was thrown from a point far enough from that fixed by the prosecution to overthrow the theory based upon Gilmore's testimony, that Spies lit the fuse of the bomb, and that the bomb was thrown by Schnaubelt from south of Crane's Alley. Who was to be believed? Burnett, who had been over the ground since the night of the riot, and taken careful measurements and whose character had not suffered from the investigation of Captain Schaack and his detectives, or Gilmore who swore so glibly, who had been impeached by a dozen witnesses and who was a Grand Army man, but whether he had fought under the stars and stripes or stars and bars nobody knew. Why had not Gilmore been sent before the grand jury? Why was he placed on the stand when the trial was in progress? Because there was a missing link. So Harry L. Gilmore took the stand and said: "Rather than have the play stop, I'll furnish the missing link." Foster received the testimony of Gilmore exhaustively, denounced him as "a stupendous, a colossal, a monumental liar," and turning toward the defendants, said impressively: "If the testimony of Harry Gilmore is true, August Spies and Adolph Fischer must die." Foster referred to the testimony of the informers, Waller and Seliger. They had been given the choice of a rope or a written statement such as would serve the purpose of the prosecution. They, of course, as any one would, chose the lesser of the two, and tremblingly took the stand to swear away the lives of former comrades. "I say," said Foster, "I not only say it here in the court room but on the street and everywhere, that as a lawyer I am opposed to such means. Let justice be done though the heavens fall."

FOSTER CONCLUDED HIS ADDRESS

With an eloquent and glowing appeal to the jury. He asked them not to commit an act which they would regret the remainder of their lives

Captain Black said he would prefer not to commence his address till to-morrow morning and the Court adjourned till that time.

Van Wyck's Appeal to the People.

OMAHA, 16.—In 1875 there was inserted in the Nebraska State Constitution a provision that at the general election immediately preceding the expiration of the term of a United States Senator from this State, electors shall by ballot express their preference for some person for the office of United States Senator. No action has been taken on this proposal up to the present time. Senator Van Wyck, who is a candidate for re-election, has determined to appeal to the people for their expression of preference under this proviso and he has accordingly issued a manifesto. This will be the first instance of a direct vote of the people for United States Senator, and it is supposed that the choice thus made will be binding as a matter of honor on the legislature. Senator Van Wyck's appeal is as follows:

"To the Electors of Nebraska:

In a country governed by the people and for the people, the highest prerogative of the elector is the free and untrammeled choice of its public servants who administer the government. While the National Senate represents the sovereignty of the State, each Senator should be a true representative of the sovereign people of the Commonwealth. This was the aim and object of the framers of our State Constitution when they made the provision for the expression of a popular choice in the selection of senator. For ten years the provision of our Constitution has been a dead letter. Although the law framed in conformity with the constitutional proviso was passed by the Legislature years ago, and the officers of election are required to make returns of the vote upon the electors' preference for United States senator, no aspirant has as yet ventured to ask the people for a direct expression of confidence or preference. Without presumption on my part that any man has a vested right to a public office, however meritorious or faithful he may be, I desire to appeal to the people of Nebraska for a direct vote expressing their preference for United States senator. There are doubtless others in this State more worthy than I am of your confidence, and it will afford me great pleasure to meet any of them for a public discussion of the living and vital issues of the day. The office of United State Senator is a position of great responsibility and the people should know the views of every man who desires to represent Nebraska in the upper House of Congress. I trust that it is not inappropriate in this connection to refer briefly to my services in behalf of the State during my term now drawing to a close. By that record let the judgment be given. I have doubtless erred in some instances as all men do, but even my worst enemies cannot point to any act that would impeach my personal integrity or reflect discredit upon the State which has honored me. While I claim to have done only my duty in the light in which I was able to see it, and claim no credit for the faithful discharge of the trust committed to me, I only desire to express the claims which I have in common with all citizens to challenge my competitors for the Senatorial position to a submission to a popular verdict of their respective claims to the Senatorial succession.

(Signed,) C. H. VAN WYCK."

NEBRASKA CITY, Nebraska, August 10, 1886.

Double Assassination.

DENVER, Colo., 16.—An Aspen special to the News says: A double assassination was committed near this place yesterday evening of a most cold-blooded character. From what can be learned it appears that Dan Fenton had jumped the ranch of Harry Burrows, 18 miles from here, and employed Michael Rian to work for him, and yesterday morning they began cutting hay. Burrows warned the men not to cut hay as he would not permit them to finish work. Fenton laughed at Burrows, who turned and went away. In about an hour Fenton and Rian, who had continued work, were shot in the back, the former through the spine and abdomen. The shooting was done from ambush with Winchester rifles. The men lived six hours, and before dying made an ante-mortem statement claiming that Burrows and "Doc" White did the killing. White has been arrested. At last accounts Burrows is at large with the vigilantes in pursuit, who will probably lynch him if they succeed in effecting his capture.

Whisky Case Decided.

SAN FRANCISCO, 16.—Superior Judge Hunt to-day rendered a decision in the suit of Moorman & Hardy vs. Martin, known as the celebrated Cutter whisky case, which has been before the court for 12 years. Plaintiffs, who are successors by purchase of the original name of J. H. Cutter, asked for an injunction restraining the defendants from using the name of J. H. Cutter on the whisky made by the defendants, and selling the same as "Cutter" whisky. Judge Hunt said the evidence showed that A. P. Hotaling & Co., the accredited agents of the plaintiffs on the Pacific coast, manipulated the whisky after its reception from Kentucky, and as equity demanded equity, plaintiffs were not entitled to an injunction, but, inasmuch as defendants had not acquired any legal rights to the name of "Cutter," they would not be allowed costs.

Mandamus Denied.

DENVER, 16.—A Santa Fe, New Mexico, special says: Chief Justice Long of New Mexico had denied the mandamus in the case of Seligman vs. Oritz. Seligman was appointed Treasurer of the Territory by Governor Ross. The present Treasurer Oritz declined to deliver the office, claiming that under the law the Governor had not the power to appoint. The Chief Justice held likewise and Oritz, who is a republican, holds over till the session of the Legislature in January next.

De Kalb.

ANNAPOLIS, 16.—The ceremony of unveiling the statue of Baron de Kalb is now going on. There is an immense crowd here, principally from Baltimore and Washington. The Free Masons are out in large force as well as other civic societies and the military in large numbers. So far the day has been bright and favorable to the occasion.

Heavy Storms in the East.

CHICAGO, 16.—All the Eastern wires on the Cincinnati and Pittsburg route are demoralized by storms. The Pittsburg telegraph office has been burned out by lightning. Communication with the East is entirely lost. A very heavy storm is now raging in Cincinnati.

Strike.

HAVANA, 16.—Eight cigar factories working Partodo tobacco have been closed, 6,000 workmen having struck for higher wages. The strike threatens to extend to the Vuelta Abajo factories. The manufacturers intend to resist the demands of the workmen.

$100,000 Fire.

NEW YORK, 16.—The two and three story brick buildings from 204 to 201 Elizabeth street, used by the Brush Electric Light Company as a lighting station, was damaged by fire to the extent of $100,000.

Drowned.

NEW YORK, 16.—Tolrof Peterson and two women Christine Fenders and Christina Hanson were drowned in Rattan Bay last night. They were out rowing when the boat capsized.

War of Rates.

NEW YORK, 16.—A war of rates between the Continental Steamship Lines is still raging without any probability of an early adjustment. This morning the Red Star Line announced a cut to $15 on the outward bound business. Soon after this was followed by the Rotterdam Line. Its rates are, outward to Rotterdam $15, to London $12, and to Scandinavian ports $15. Prepaid from Rotterdam $12, from London $12 and from Scandinavian ports $15.

Balmaceda's Cabinet.

SANTIAGO DE CHILI, 16.—It is reported that the Cabinet of Senor Balmaceda, will be composed as follows: Minister of the Interior and Prime Minister, Senor Eusebio Lillo; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Senor Joaquin Godoy, late Chilian Minister to the United States; Minister of Justice and Instructions, Senor Pedro Montea; Minister of Finance, Senor Augustine Edwards; Minister of Coast and Marine, Senor Francisco Frure.

Death of Gilfillan.

DENVER, 16.—A Pueblo, Colorado special to the News says: W. A. Gilfillan, of New Haven, Connecticut, died of peritonitis, here this evening. The deceased held the leading juvenile part in the "Zozo Company" as the Captain of the ship. His stage name was Olsen Arthur.

WIRED FROM WASHINGTON.

Civil Service Rules—New Silver Certificates—Garland and the Pan Electric — Appointments — Bills Unsigned, Etc.

WASHINGTON, 16.—The Post quotes one of the Civil Service Commissioners as saying with regard to the appointment of Mr. Webster, a republican, as Chief Examiner in the Civil Service Commission: "It was precisely in the line of promotion, and it was only carrying out the policy of the President in making the civil service machinery as free from suspicion of partizanship as possible. It has been recognized and commented on that the Commission, under the republican administration, was so exclusively republican in its complexion, that it laid itself open to at least the charge of being a party machine."

The issue of standard silver dollars from mints during the week ended August 14th was 800,427.

On the advice of the Civil Service Commission, President Cleveland has amended Article X. of the Civil Service Rules as follows:

Rule X.—In all applications for regular competitive examination for admission to the classified civil service must be on blank forms to be prescribed by the commission. Requests for blank forms of application for competitive examination for admission to the classified civil service and all regular applications for such examinations shall be made

First—For the classified departmental service, to the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington.

Second—If for the classified customs service, to the Civil Service Board of Examiners for the customs district in which the persons desiring to be examined wishes to enter the custom service.

Third—If for the classified postal service, to the Civil Service Board of Examiners for the postoffice at which the person desiring to be examined wishes to enter the postal service.

It is learned at the Treasury Department that the new silver certificates authorized at the last session of Congress will not be ready for issue before November. The one dollar certificate contains the vignette of Martha Washington, the two-dollar certificate the vignette of Major-General Hancock in full uniform, and the ten-dollar certificate the vignette of Vice-President Hendricks. The design for the five dollar certificate has not yet been selected. It is said that either General Grant or General McClellan will be selected as the vignette.

Messrs. Morris, Earl & Pugh, as solicitors for Attorney-General Garland, today filed his answer to the bill recently filed by J. Harris Rogers against Attorney-General Garland, Senator Harris and others, for the settlement of the Pan-Electic Telephone Company's affairs. Garland in his answer denies in detail every material statement in the bill, and calls attention to the "scandalous and impertinent matter in the bill." He says he must decline to answer such portions unless the court directs him to do so. In the course of his answer, Garland says he became impressed with the apparent usefulness of the invention, and on February 15th, 1880, attended a meeting of persons interested, at the residence of the complainant. After relating the circumstances of the working and making of the contract, he says that the complainant, instead of devoting himself to the perfection of the invention as by his contract he was bound to do, sold interests in his stock in the patent in violation of said contract and against the interests of the company; that finding he could not persuade the defendants to accede to his wishes, he procured many false and malicious statements to be published in the public press of the country, both as to the defendants, and as to the business of the company.

The President made the following appointments before he left the Capital:

John T. Boyle, of New York, to be secretary of the civil service commission.

Henry A. Epinger, of New York, to be United States Consul at Cienfuegos, Cuba, vice Wm. P. Pierce, suspended.

BILLS RETURNED.

The President has deposited in the Department of State the bills which remained in his hands unsigned at the time of the adjournment of Congress with the following explanatory memorandum:

The joint resolution directing the payment of the surplus in the Treasury on the public debt (received Aug. 5th, 1886). Memorandum—"This resolution involves so much and is of such serious importance that I do not deem it best to discuss it at this time. It is not approved because I believe it to be unnecessary and because I am by no means convinced that its mere passage and approval at this time may not endanger and embarrass the successful and useful operations of the Treasury Department and impair confidence in the management of the finances of the government."

An act to provide for the erection of a public building in Annapolis, Md., received August 13, 1886. Memorandum—"The postoffice at Annapolis is now accommodated in quarters for which the government pays rent at the rate of $500, and the office occupied by the collector of customs is rented for $75 per annum. The government has no other use for a public building at Annapolis than is above indicated, and the chief argument urged why a building should be constructed there is based on the fact that the city is the capital of the State of Maryland, and should have a government building because most, if not all, other capitals of States have such edifices."

FOREIGN.

Brief Cablegrams from Europe.

LONDON, 16.—The Queen held a council this morning at Osborne Castle with members of the ministry. The terms of the Queen's speech, to be read at the reassembling of Parliament were agreed upon. Salisbury returned to London after the council.

The report of the marriage of Mme. Nilsson is denied.

A fire in a theatre at Vilna, Russia, caused a panic in which many persons were injured.

Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, goes to America in October.

The cabinet has decided to recall the Afghan frontier commission at the earliest date possible, whether the delimitation be finished or not.

The Standard, referring to this decision, says: It will cause unqualified satisfaction in both England and India. The truth is, we are weary of the attempts to arrive at a clear understanding of the frontier by negotiating with Russia.

The successor of Marquis Tseng as Chinese embassador in Europe will be M. Lioenifen, who will also be accredited to the Vatican.

Paris, 16.—Gen. Boulanger, Minister of War, has prohibited the publication of a pamphlet, giving his biography and referring to the scandal with which his name was connected.

An imbecile widow named Lebol, residing in Selles, St. Denis, whose sons endeavored to obtain admission for her in a mad house, but failed, was tied to a [stake by the; latter, who built a fire round her and burned her to death. While the woman was suffering, the sons sprinkled holy water over her, and when arrested said they had burned their mother because of religious motives. The woman was 60 years old and had the reputation of being a sorceress.

Dublin, 16.—The Irish Times (Loyalist) reiterates the statement that Parnell will shortly become a Roman Catholic.

Berlin, 16.—Count Adolf Decker Ringleheit is dead. He was 80 years of age, and was a bitter Gneipalte.

At the special degree of Emperor William there will be no public ceremonies to-day at the anniversary of the death of Frederick the Great, beyond the solemn service in the garrison church at Potsdam, which the members of the Imperial family will attend.

Matterson Defeats Perkins.

LONDON, 16.—Matterson, the Australian sculler, beat Perkins to-day in a race over the Thames course from Putney to Mortlake. The stakes were £200 a side.

THE IRISH RIOTS.

The Local Jails Full — Magistrate Burk Bayonetted — Riot at Dungannon, Etc.

BELFAST, 16.—A man named Jackson wounded in Sunday morning's riot is dead. The other wounded men are progressing favorably. There was some stone-throwing last night, but no one was seriously injured. There are ominous signs that the authorities fear attempts at reprisals to-night on the part of the mobs. Public houses are being closed and other precautions are being taken. Scores of prisoners will be brought to Kilmainham jail at Dublin, to await trial, the local jails being full.

Occasional shots were fired through the day and evening. The men from the Queen's Island, while marching home, sang "No Home Rule for Ireland," a parody on "God Save Ireland." This maddened the Catholics. The military, in charging the mob last evening, bayonetted Magistrate Burk, who was assisting the wounded rioters. Burk was in plain clothes, and consequently was taken to the hospital.

Dublin, 16.—At Dungannon to-day bands of Nationalists paraded the Protestant quarter of the town shouting for Home Rule and cursing the Queen. A riot broke out and several persons were injured. The police had to force their way between the Protestants and Catholics, thus preventing a desperate fight. One of the Nationalists was arrested with a knife in his hand.

An Ingenious Instrument.

Prof. Cerebotani, of Verona, has contrived an ingenious instrument for ascertaining the distances of accessible and inaccessible points from the observer and from each other—in other words, an easy method of range finding. The apparatus consists mainly of a pair of telescopes mounted on a stand and fixed on a tripod for use. The telescopes are both brought to bear on the object, and a reading is then taken from a graduated scale on the instrument, which, compared with a set of printed tables, gives the distance. Distances can be measured between far-off objects, and, by means of a sheet of paper fixed on a drawing board, a rough plan of the country under measurement may be sketched. In the same way the distances of ships at sea or of moving objects on land can be determined. Thus the contrivance appears to be well adapted, not only for land surveying, but particularly so for military purposes. In fact, it is stated to have been already adopted in this latter connection by the German Government, and will probably be by that of England."

An Unfortunate Family.

A Madrid paper narrates a series of fatalities to which three members out of a family of four fell victims in that city, and the story is one that seems as if it might have happened in New York. The family were files, a brother and three sisters. They were in search of food. The eldest sister alighted upon a sausage and ate heartily. The second satisfied her hunger on some flour. The third drank with avidity from a pitcher of milk. Then they essayed to fly, but in a few moments all three fell dead. The sausage had been given its fine red color by means of poisonous aniline dye. The flour contained a fatal percentage of plaster of paris. The milk had in it so much chalk that no well regulated fly could drink it and live. The unhappy brother, seeing himself surrounded by the corpses of his dear sisters, in his grief determined upon suicide. He launched himself upon a gray sheet of paper bearing the inscription, "Fly paper—sure to kill, and sucked its deadly poison greedily; but in vain. The more he took of it the better he felt. He was doomed to live. "Fly paper" was also falsified.

A NEW TREATMENT FOR DIPHTHERIA.—Dr. Kramer of Amsterdam, has found a new remedy for diphtheria in the form of a mixture of bromine and iodine with which he has made some remarkable cures (Centralbl. fur Klin. Med., for December, 1885). He uses the remedy also as a prophylactic, brushing the throat night and morning, during an epidemic, first with one and then with the other of the following solutions:

1. Bromide of iodine, bromide of potassium, of each 1 part; distilled water, 200 parts.

2. Carbolic acid, 1 part; rectified spirit and glycerine, each 25 parts. The same solutions are used for the disease itself, but the first may be increased by double the strength, and is applied every hour, the second being used three times a day. The treatment is concluded by blowing benzoate of sodium into the throat three times a day, administering the same drug in doses of two to four drams, according to the age of the patient, and keeping the bowels open.—Medical and Surgical Reporter.

A POOR RULE THAT DOES NOT WORK BOTH WAYS.—In paying for his pew at church Dobson received in change fourteen buttons and seven tin tobacco tags.

"Do you know," said he, unabased, to the treasurer, "I couldn't for the life of me tell where I lost these buttons. You count them in as quarters, don't you?"

"Yes; you'll find the records of this church are very complete. We keep a close watch on the plate.

FROM THE FOUR WINDS.

"All men are equal before the law." Yes, before the law, but after it gets hold of them then its different.

The sayings of many great men would fill volumes. Their doings could be written on a postal card.

I thought I knew I knew it all; but now I must confess, the more I know I know, I'm sure I know I know the less.

A Hoboken grocer received this order from a customer: "Please send in by bearer two pounds of shugar, a biackin' brush, five pounds of coffy, and some little nails, my wife had a baby last night, also two padlocks and a monkey wrench."

A young man in Gainesville, Fla., sent 75 cents to a fellow in New York who advertised "How to make money fast." He received from the New Yorker the valuable information: Take a paper bill and make it fast to something with paste."

The meanest man has been found. He is a manufacturer, employing a score of hands. He fell into a well, and his men spent two hours in getting him out and resuscitating him. Saturday night they found two hours deducted from their pay roll, as time lost from work.

A citizen stepped into an up-town drug store, and called for a couple of pills, which he swallowed. "How much?" he asked. "Fifty cents, sir." "Fifty cents! Why, the druggist on the block below never charged me more than five." "Then I'll make 'em four. I'll drive that man out of the business if I have to sell goods at cost.

"I don't know what you mean by not being an Irishman," said a gentleman who was about hiring a boy, "but you were born in Ireland." "Och, your honor, if that's all," said the boy, "small blame to that. Suppose your cat was to have kittens in the oven, would they be loaves of bread?"

"It is heart-rending to read of so many ocean horrors," observed Sile Difenderfer to Bostwick.

"They are terrible experiences, indeed," replied Bostwick; I passed through one of them myself once, and trust I may be spared such another harrowing experience.

"How was that?"

"We were thirteen days coming over from Liverpool—delayed by head winds—and the last six of them we ran out of brandy and had to drink ice water."—Chicago Telegram.
