DEACON DODD.

Descon Dodd once feelingly said About his Betsy, long since dead, "If eyer an angel loved a man That angel, sir, was Betsy Ann; If I happen'd to scold her, she was so meek, (Which the deacon did seven times a week!) She'd clap her apron up to her eye, And never say nothin', but only cry." But, ladies, p'rhaps you'd like to be told, That Deason Dodd, like other men, Watted a year, and married again;

And now 'tis the Descon's turn to be meek;
As he gets well rasped from week to week;
But rather than "open his head" he'd burst,—
He wishes the second wife with the first! But as she's tough as a hickory limb No doubt she'll live to say of him, "If eyer a saint the footstool trod,

That man-that saint was Descon Dodd." From "Country Love and City Life."

George Beckley, of Ohio, shot his head off because the course of true love didn't run smooth.

There are many that despise half the world; but if there be any that despise the whole of it, it is because the other half despises them.

A hungry gentleman ordered everything on the bill of fare at a Syracuse hotel, and was shortly astonished to behold approaching him fourteen waiters in single file, bearing 1,024 dishes.

Legislators are having a good time enjoying the holidays in Ban Francisco. They think it fun doing nothing at $10 per diem. If they could get board free they would be happy as clams at high utive years. Hea. Simon Cameron is the oldest Sanator, and Mr. Spencer, of Alabama, the youngest.

An Iowa gentleman, who was involved in domestic troubles, met with a genulne "Job's comforter" the other merning. Meeting an old friend, who was a widower, he related his troubles to him, and told him he expected to be broken up, as his wife had commenced suit against him for $3,000 alimony, "Well," said the widower. "I'll walt and see how she comes out, and if she succeeds, I'll go for her."

The Florida left St. Thomas on the 14th. The dispatch stated that shortly after the steamer departed the Spanish war steamer Nemese de Balboa, which followed close behind, fired and brought her to, almost in the presence of the U.S. sloop Shawmut. The same news is confirmed by private dispatches, though the Iribune in this city thinks the news should not be fully credited.

Alexis arrived in this city this evening, from Detroit. He was escorted to the Fremont House, where rooms had been prepared for him. He will remain until Tuesday. Device he will remain until Tuesday. During his stay he will be shown everything of interest in the city. A public reception at the Fremont House, on Wednesday, is one of the features of the programme.

LOUISVILLE, 30.— Mrs. Weiserath, who killed her mother-in-law, has had an examination in the city court; the physicians thought the woman insane at the time of the murder. She was admitted to ball in $30,000.

CHICAGO, 30.—Bartholomew Barnes was hanged at Pittafield, Pike Co., Ills., yesterday for the murder of Jno Grisham near that place, in February. The murder was unprovoked and most brutal, the victim being very drunk, and death inflicted by stamping his brains out with the heels of the murderer, who was only nineteen years of age. This is the first execution that has ever taken place in the County, though one of the oldest in the State, and noted for criminal trials, and the first in the State for nearly two years.

SAN FRANCISCO, 30.—John Dougher-ty, gardener at the Magdelia Asylum, fell from a Windmill yesterday, a distance of 35 feet, striking his head on a beam as he went down; he was seriously if not fatally injured.

The body of Palike Borberry, an employee on the rolling mills, was found in the bay at the foot of 4th street; he had been missing since the 18th, and it was feared he had been murdered, but the appearance of the body indicates accidental death.

The weather shows signs of clearing off. The wind is veering around towards the north-west, the clouds are light and broken; there have been no showers since 8 o'clock. The rain fall for the twenty-four hours ending 8 a.m. was 57ths of 100, making a total for the storm of 15,38, and 19 inches for the season. The weather continues very warm and the grass is growing rapidly, and the hills around the bay are already almost as green as in April.

I am told that the English women were quite nervous at the report that Anna Dickinson, Kate Field, and Olive Logan talked of visiting that country—they were so afraid lest they, by some indiscretion, might injure the suffrage movement. While each of these are equally afraid of each other and the movement, the weak-minded and the ministers are afraid of us, one and all, and we in turn are afraid of each other. The women of Kansas were greatly troubled by Lucy Stone, when she traveled through that state, because she did not bear her husband's name, and had publicly protested against the civil code in the legal marriage, while she is equally disturbed with Victoria Woodhull for following her example. Women with two or three husbands living at the same time, who advocate the menogamic relation, are afraid of me, though I never had but one husband, and advocate divorce for the minerable.—Edizabeth Oxdy Stanton in Golden Age.
