

DYNAMITE EXPLODES, SPREADING HAVOC.

Over a Ton Goes Off, Shaking Up Country Within a Radius of Five Miles.

Forty People Were Injured.

Twelve of Them May Die—Foreman of Gang of Workmen Was Arrested.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The explosion of over a ton of dynamite today shook the city and the surrounding country within a radius of five miles, probably killed at least one person, and injured nearly 40 others, two of whom may die. The man supposed to have been killed was an Italian in charge of the dynamite. He was seen at his post of duty just before the explosion, and no trace of him has since been found.

FATALLY INJURED.

Harlow, Mrs. George A. Nicholas, Mrs. Nicholas, Nov. 2.—The explosion of over a ton of dynamite today shook the city and the surrounding country within a radius of five miles, probably killed at least one person, and injured nearly 40 others, two of whom may die. The man supposed to have been killed was an Italian in charge of the dynamite. He was seen at his post of duty just before the explosion, and no trace of him has since been found.

The explosion tore a hole in the ground 20 feet deep that is now full of water from a hidden spring, wrecked the bond street bridge over the railway and broke all the windows within a quarter of a mile.

The force of the explosion, as is usual, was downward, but the upheaval along the sides of the cut hurled large stones for blocks. Many houses were shifted from their foundations, walls were stripped of plaster, and furniture was scattered.

A heavy train, bound from New York, was just pulling out of the Mount Vernon station when the explosion occurred, and the engineer stopped until the track was cleared. In another minute this train would have reached the city.

Most of the persons injured were caught by falling ceilings and walls in the houses nearby. Stoves in stores and dwellings were overturned and many fires were started, but in each case the flames were quickly extinguished. The whole police force and the fire department were called out.

Chief of Police Foley at once arrested William F. Ryan, foreman of the gang of workmen employed on the blasting operations and many witnesses are now being interviewed. Investigation is being made into the cause of the explosion.

The dynamite was owned by the Big-Bully Construction company, which is being blasted for the railroad company preparatory to the establishment of the four-track system.

Col. Cody arrived at Cody this evening with his Indian trappers, scouts and cowboys, accompanied by a party of English noblemen and New York clubmen. Cody will take the trail of the outlaws at once. His guests have been invited to accompany him and some of the younger men and members of the party will accept.

ARMY ESTIMATES.

For Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1906, $103,686,780.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The estimates of the war department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, aggregate $103,686,780. This is $24,242,512 less than the war department estimates submitted a year ago, and $3,832,388 less than the total appropriations made for the use of the war department for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1905.

The amount estimated as necessary for the military establishment, which embraces the cost of maintenance of the army and of the military academy at West Point, is $72,705,156, being $4,650,000 less than the appropriations for the present year.

Under the head of public works, which includes the improvement of rivers and harbors and various national parks throughout the country, and of certain public buildings and grounds in and around Washington, and the construction of sea coast fortifications, military posts, etc., the estimate for appropriations amounting in the aggregate to $22,976,624 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, as compared with $22,772,511, which is the amount of current appropriations for similar purposes.

The estimates for 1906 for the civil establishment, which includes the pay of the clerical force and other running expenses of the war department in Washington are $1,868,716, which is a slight reduction from the current appropriations.

The amounts estimated for miscellaneous purposes aggregate $6,254,073, of this sum $5,252,759 is the estimate for the support and maintenance of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers and for aid to state homes for such soldiers and under the law is included in the annual estimates of the war department.

STUDENTS IN OPEN REBELLION.

Berkeley Boys Kick Against New Military Rule of the New Commandant.

REQUIRED TO MARCH TO CLASSES

Prof. Setchell Jeered at and Clods Thrown at Him When He Tried To Quell Disturbance.

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 2.—In open rebellion against a new military rule requiring them to march into the class room for lectures on war tactics, the students of the state university participated this afternoon in the most sensational scene in the history of the institution. When Prof. William A. Setchell attempted to quell the disturbance, the students jeered his remarks and threw clods at him. It is expected that the ringleaders will be summarily dismissed from college.

The trouble was started from the cadets a few days ago when Capt. J. T. Nance, U. S. A., the new commandant, arrived to assume charge of the military department in place of Capt. Henry De H. Waite. Capt. Nance had no sooner entered the class room than the students acted in a boisterous manner. Finally Nance declared they would have to be disciplined, and issued an order that the collegians would have to march into the military lecture hall.

No sooner had the edict been sent forth than the collegians talked rebellion. This afternoon a strike was declared. Instead of marching in regular order nearly 1,000 students appeared on the scene with a small boy dressed in military uniform and wearing a placard bearing the name of the commandant. The little fellow rang a bell at the students' bidding. In union they shouted for Capt. Nance to come out.

A hurry call was sent the faculty. Prof. Setchell arrived and added to the excitement by saying: "I am much ashamed of you, boys. Don't you intend to respect the authority of the university? This is riot. I recognize the ringleaders of this affair and I will remember you. You are cowards. If you had a sense of honor I would appeal to it, but you have none. Don't you know this news will reach the military authorities at Washington and the state executive at Sacramento? You are working serious injury to the university."

Prof. Setchell's remarks were concluded amid cat-calls and a shower of clods flung at him.

Finally order was partially restored when Harry Dehn, president of the Associated Students, and Eugene Hallett of Los Angeles, adjutant of the student cadets, made an appeal. Under their direction the students marched into the hall, where Capt. Nance, in full uniform, met them.

"I want to be friends with you," he said, "but you must maintain order." This is the first serious rebellion of the military department of the university has ever had. Capt. Nance formerly commanded the Ninth cavalry.

CIVIL SERVICE REGULATIONS. To be Applied to Employees of Panama Canal Commission.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Regulations of the civil service commission are to be applied, so far as may be practicable, to employees of the Panama canal commission. President Roosevelt has directed that the civil service commission should confer as to the applicability of the civil service rules to the employees of the canal commission, and has ordered that hereafter no employment of persons by the canal commission should be governed by the civil service law and regulations so far as was deemed practicable by the two commissions.

Texas Anti Trust Law. Washington, Nov. 2.—The anti-trust law of Texas is involved in the two cases of the National Cotton Oil company and the Southern Cotton Oil company against the state of Texas, which were argued in the supreme court of the United States today by William H. Taft and Atty-Gen. Bell of Texas for that state. The case grew out of a proceeding by the state to forfeit the business licenses of the companies, which are foreign corporations. They are charged with conspiring to fix the price of cotton seed, which is in violation of the law.

Will Ignore Japan's Protest. St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—Russia probably will decide to ignore the Japanese protest regarding Russian troops wearing Chinese clothes, as Japan did the case of the Russian protest in regard to the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Iyehshtel, cut out of Chefoo harbor by the Japanese.

E. J. CARLSON EXONERATED. Verdict of Connor's Jury Meets With Approval.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 2.—Emil J. Carlson, night chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph office, who shot his father, John E. Carlson, in the defense of his mother and himself Monday afternoon, was exonerated by the coroner's jury today. The principal testimony was given by young Carlson and his mother. Several neighbors testified as to the quarrels and violent disposition of the deceased. The jury found the killing was without criminal intent and recommended Emil J. Carlson be not prosecuted. The verdict meets with universal approval.

TERCIO MINE VICTIMS. Bodies of Two, Both Austrians, Are Recovered.

Tercio, Colo., Nov. 2.—Two bodies of victims of the mine explosion last Friday were recovered today and identified as John and Joseph Barago, brothers. They were natives of Austria, and their only relatives in this country ordered that they be buried in Tercio.

Coroner Sipe empaneled a jury upon learning of the finding of the bodies today, but no testimony will be taken until all the dead have been recovered from the mine.

The work of clearing the mine is progressing as rapidly as possible, but it is not yet a one-third completed.

Reports of Riots Exaggerated. St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—According to a semi-official statement published here foreign reports of reservist riots are much exaggerated. There have been no conflicts between reservists and officers, but owing to the authorities closing the spirit shops the reservists resorted to the Jews for (and then) plucked the Jews' shops because of the high prices charged for the liquor. The bitter feeling against the Jews was further excited by many of them deserting, necessitating the filling of their places by Christians.

THE HEIR APPARENT TO SERVIA'S THRONE. One of the most interested persons who were eyewitnesses of the coronation of King Peter of Servia, which took place recently in the cathedral at Belgrade, was his son, Prince George, the heir apparent. ## THE HEIR APPARENT TO SERVIA'S THRONE.

One of the most interested persons who were eyewitnesses of the coronation of King Peter of Servia, which took place recently in the cathedral at Belgrade, was his son, Prince George, the heir apparent. In the rather modest uniform of a junior officer of the mounted guards, he rode with his regiment to the procession which escorted the king from the palace to the cathedral and back again. He is a bright youth and is decidedly popular with the army, which is the leading influence in Servia. He does not resemble the Karageorgievich family, but is like his mother, who was a princess of Montenegro.

Constipation. Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Brownsville, Pa., writes, Feb. 15, 1903: "Having tried Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." See bottle. Sold by Z. C. M. L. Drug Dept.

Here's What's Wanted

A Citizen of Salt Lake City Supplies the Information.

Over half the complaints of mankind originate with the kidneys. A slight touch of backache at first, twinges and aching pains in the loins follow.

They must be checked, they lead to grave complications. The sufferer seeks relief. Plasters are tried, and liniments for the back.
