

Untimely Death.—A telegram was received yesterday morning by the wife of John S. Jones, stating that he had met with his death the day before, and asking what should be done with the body. The father of the bereaved lady, Brother George Billings, immediately telegraphed for particulars concerning the deceased, and gave instructions to ship the remains to Thistle. The heart-rending grief of the stricken family is increased by the suspense as to the manner in which the deceased came to his untimely end.—Manti Sentinel, May 17.

The Brown-Winegar Adultery Case.—The testimony given in this case before Commissioner McKay yesterday afternoon showed the conduct of the defendant and Miss Winegar to have been of the most disgusting character. A continuation of the examination was had till 2 o'clock this afternoon, when another postponement was made until Monday. The two parties named were excommunicated from the Church some time ago for adultery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, the defendant's wife, and four small children, are now living with Mr. and Mrs. Rodeback, Mrs. Brown's parents, at E. T. City.

Aluminum.—Inquiries having been made regarding the best method of manufacturing this metal, we publish the following from an eastern exchange:

"Dr. C. C. Carroll, of Meadowville Pa., after years of experimenting, has discovered a method by which aluminum can be cast, soldered and welded. It is claimed by metallurgists and artisans that this is a very valuable invention, since it insures the use of aluminum for many purposes on account of its extreme lightness, strength and non-oxidation by exposure."

The Eleventh Year Closed.—Our correspondent at Provo says: The Brigham Young Academy closed the eleventh academic year to-day. An interesting programme was carried out in the forenoon; speeches were made by graduates of the different departments, reports were made by the faculty, and addresses given by the board.

The following were then given certificates of graduation:
For teachers—Emil Isgreen, Henry N. Hayes, Willard Croxall, Hyrum Anderson, Richard Hoag, Jeddiah Taylor, Aaron Roylance. Second class—Alma Hulsh, Estella McMullin, Ruth Brimball. Special certificates—S. H. Allen, Newton Noyes, May Booth, Walter Webb.

At the close of these proceedings the whole school proceeded to Scott's grove, where refreshments were served. A sumptuous feast was spread on the lawn, at which lemonade and sweets were served in abundance and all participated in a good recreation. The school year closes with good results and a marked growth.

Death from Drink.—On Tuesday morning last, a man by the name of George Huffman, a carpenter, died at the Rocky Mountain Hotel from the effects of drinking too much liquor. He came to this city from Coalville, Utah, and has been working most of the time for Caldwell & Anderson, contractors and builders, until quite recently. He had been boarding at the Rocky Mountain Hotel, but several days ago he disappeared, and Mr. Marx says he thought the man had left town. On Saturday last the men in Mr. Marx's livery stable heard groans in the hay loft and on going to the place, found Huffman lying there in a terrible condition. They informed Mr. Marx and he removed the man to the hotel and notified the county commissioners who appointed a man to stay with Huffman. Dr. Mocker was called who administered medicine to the man, but it had no effect on him. He was nervous, restless and apparently crazy most of the time. He continued in this condition until a quarter to six on Tuesday morning, when he died. From what we can learn he has always been more or less a drinker, but of late has been indulging to excess with the above result.

Huffman has a father living in Coalville, and, we are told some children in Almy. His wife died some time ago.

On Monday Mr. Marx telegraphed the news of Mr. Huffman's death to Coalville, and a team and wagon were sent up at once and took the remains to that place, where they will be interred.—Evanston, Wyo., Chiefstain, 19.

SMITH'S SORROWS.

HE IS IN TROUBLE WITH HIS RELATIVES.

S. B. Smith, who will be remembered as the eccentric and hot-tempered youth who created a furore in the Tenth Ward some time since by flourishing and firing off his pistol, was in Commissioner McKay's court yesterday afternoon. This time he figured as a complainant against his wife's father, John James, and her brother-in-law, Alfred Ludlow, whom he charged with battery.

When the case was called, the defendants pleaded not guilty, and a scene of confusion ensued that required all the persuasive ability of the court, marshals and reporters to check. The accuser and accused, with their witnesses, all talked and shouted at once, making a perfect babel.

Finally, when quiet was restored, enough was elicited from the witnesses to show that Smith had sent an insulting letter to his father-in-law. Mr. James then notified Smith and his wife never to darken his door again. This warning was not heeded by the complainant, who in company with his wife, went to Mr. James' house after the latter had retired. Mrs. Smith went in first to see her father, and her husband followed. The conversation soon became animated, when Mr. Ludlow, another son-in-law of Mr. James, appeared on the scene with his wife. It was not long before Smith and Ludlow were engaged in a rough-and-tumble fight, though how it commenced no one could tell. Mr. James participated, and with blows and execrations, mingled with the cries of the women, peace ceased to dwell for a while in that habitation. Finally the row stopped, and the result was the present prosecution.

The Commissioner listened to the statements of the parties with commendable patience, until a renewal of the pandemonium rendered it necessary for an adjournment till this morning. To-day the Commissioner rendered his decision, which was to the effect that Mr. James was without blame in the affair, but that Mr. Ludlow did wrong in striking the complaining witness on the provocation given. In view of this he said a light fine would be inflicted, to cover the costs in the case.

IDAHO ITEMS.

BAND OF HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED—OTHER NOTES.

Our correspondent at Menas, Idaho, "Ames," writing from that place under date of May 9th, says:

During the first ten days of this month the nights were cold, it being quite common to see frost, and several nights ice as thick as common window glass formed on standing water. We are now experiencing a great change. The days and nights are quite warm, and high water is the result; all the streams tributary to the Snake River are rising rapidly, and the consequence is that the river is higher than usual at this season of the year, and the streams are all impassable.

On the 16th inst. word came to Rexburg that Constable Jones, of the Rexburg Precinct, had a surrounded in the Teton Basin, and not deeming his force sufficiently strong to attack them, he wished help from Rexburg and Teton, which was sent him. On the 18th one of the gang (and he is supposed to be the most desperate one of them all) came to Rexburg for supplies. A warrant was obtained and he was arrested soon after he had left for camp. Constable Jones found him in the Basin, and, while trying to arrest them, one of them started to run. The officer ordered him to stop, but the thief paid no attention and the result is he was

SHOT IN THE HIP

The wound is very painful, but whether it is likely to prove fatal I could not learn. Dr. Bear of Eagle Rock was telegraphed for, but as no conveyance was furnished from Market Lake to Rexburg he was unable to go. The wounded man is in Rexburg and is being attended to there. The names of the parties arrested are Jim Robinson, Ed. Herrington and Kickerson. Robinson is the wounded man.

Yesterday, May 18, Joseph Lloyd lost his team in the Teton River, about 2 miles above Rexburg, while attempting to ford the stream. Both horses were drowned. Mr. Lloyd is a poor man and feels his loss heavily.

Deputy marshals

RAIDED SALEM AND LYMAN

last week and arrested Nick Wilson of the former and Sidney Weeks of the latter place. They were taken to Blackfoot and bound over to appear at the full term of court. The officers behaved in a gentlemanly way, and were very kind. They were—Phelps of Eagle Rock, and Wm. Dye, of Rexburg. Dye usually acts as a spotter.

NOTICE.

At the regular session of the High Council of the St. George Stake of Zion, held in St. George City, Utah, May 14th, 1887, George A. Burson (now at Sandy, Salt Lake County, Utah), was cut off the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, for failing to comply with the decision of this Council, and for treating said Council with contempt. The vote was unanimous.

By order of the High Council,
SETH A. PYNN, CLERK,
Per M. F. F.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY MAY 23.

Another Company Sailed.—A private telegram announces that on Saturday last a company of 187 Saints sailed from Liverpool for New York.

The Halliday Case.—The Halliday murder case at Beaver, for which the defendant was prosecuted for killing a man found in flagrant delicto with his wife, closed on Friday last. At 4 p.m. the jury came in and took everybody's breath by announcing a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." The defendant displayed no uneasy symptoms; he didn't need to and knew it no doubt. He had been indicted in terms conveying an offense of less magnitude, and on motion of his attorney the verdict was set aside. The case was to come up for re-trial to-day.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day:

The following notice was given to attorneys: "The court will make settings for trial of equity cases, Tuesday, May 24th, at 10 a.m."

E. Sells et al. vs. Marion Manufacturing Company; default and decree as prayed for.

Edward Austin vs. The Tribune Publishing Company; trial in progress.

H. P. Mason et al. vs. Lewis Oviatt; default and judgment.

John Watson and John Matheson were admitted to citizenship.

Surgical Operation.—In this city, yesterday afternoon, Dr. Benedict performed a very severe and dangerous surgical operation upon the person of a young lady named Miss Blanche Thurman Mount, of Richfield, Sevier County, 17 years of age. The operation consisted in removing a multilocular ovarian tumor, weighing 25 pounds, which had been between two and three years in forming. Drs. Hamilton, Hall, Bowers, Pike, Meacham and Borden of Fort Douglas, R. B. Pratt, and others were present and assisted. The patient passed a comfortable night, and notwithstanding the critical character of the ordeal through which she has passed, hopes of her recovery are entertained.

Brown Held to Answer.—The case of adultery against Alexander Brown was again called in Commissioner McKay's court to-day. The defense did not desire to introduce any testimony, and the Commissioner ruled that there was probable cause to believe the defendant guilty as charged, and placed him under $1,500 bonds to await the grand jury's action. W. C. Dunbar, Jr., and Wm. T. Jack became sureties.

At the conclusion of these proceedings Miss Sarah E. Winegar was arrested on the charge of adultery, alleged to have been committed with Mr. Brown. On the call of the roll of the case, however, Mr. Critchlow cited the Edmunds-Tucker law, which says, in reference to this crime, "when such act is committed between a married man and a woman who is unmarried, the man shall be deemed guilty of adultery," and on this showing Miss Winegar was discharged, as she had been divorced from her former husband, Mr. Harmou. She was held under $500 bail to appear as a witness.

Earthquake in Arizona.—A correspondent writing from Pima, Graham County, Arizona, says that on the 5th inst., between the hours of two and three p. m., while the district court was in session at Solomonville, an earthquake came from a northeasterly direction and struck that corner of the court house, causing it to shake and the plastering to crack and fall. All of the inmates fled from the building, Judge Barnes being the first to start. He leaped through a window, and attorneys and jurors followed his example. The correspondent says:

"I was a member of the grand jury at the time. We were locked in our room transacting what business came before us, when we heard the noise outside. Some said that there were prisoners making their escape, and others shouted 'fire!' We looked through the windows and doors, but when we reached the ground we found that we could not stand still, and looking at the flag-pole on the top of the court house, we saw it waving to and fro like a green bough blown by the wind.

There was considerable damage done to houses up and down the river.

President Layton has just returned from the San Pedro. He informs me that at St. David the earthquake did considerable damage. It shook one end of the district schoolhouse in, and also the ends of several dwelling houses. In places in the valley the earth opened and sand and water gushed out and watered the whole valley. The river rose several feet in a short time. The people are struck with the idea of flowing wells, as they think water can be got near the surface.

Under the Edmunds Law.—In the First District Court at Ogden, on Saturday, Messrs. Allen Hunsaker, John J. Dunn, Peter Maasen and Levi J. Taylor were arraigned on indictments charging them with having committed the offense of unlawful cohabitation by living with their wives. Each of them entered a plea of guilty and the time for receiving sentence was set by the Court.

Joseph Poole was called for arraignment, when his counsel, C. C. Richards, Esq., presented a physician's certificate that he was too ill to be present in court. Mr. Poole had been an invalid for three years. Mr. Hiles wanted Mr. Richards to enter a plea for Mr. Poole. Mr. Richards replied that he was willing to do that, and in consideration of his client's ill health, was willing to go to the penitentiary for him, if that would satisfy the prosecution. At this Mr. Hiles said that, as he knew Mr. Poole's condition, he might move for a suspension of judgment when the time for passing sentence came. The arraignment was finally laid aside for the term.

Naturalization.—William Brewer, writing from Henefer, Utah, says: "I have been requested to ask you if you would publish particulars of obtaining citizenship: (1) How long you must be here to obtain first papers? (2) How long after before you can get second papers? and (3) the fees for the same? Please answer in the News and oblige a number interested in the same."

The answer to the first question is—

At any time, but he cannot be admitted until he has resided here five years, and must have taken out his first papers at least two years prior to getting the second ones. He must also have resided in the Territory one year next preceeding his admission.

The answer to the second question substantially appears above—not less than two years must intervene between the two events and the latter one must occur at least five years after arrival in the United States. Neither of these apply to minors who were under eighteen years of age on arrival and resided here continuously until twenty-one, and who act in their own behalf; these may take both papers at the same time whenever they choose after having lived here continuously for five years, provided such period takes them to twenty-one or past.

To the third question, the final fee taxed and paid is $5; we don't know where the law is that authorizes it, but it is done.

RUNAWAY AT FARMINGTON.

TWO RESIDENTS OF SALT LAKE INJURED.

Yesterday a serious runaway accident occurred at Farmington, Davis County. A party of relatives and friends of Mrs. Jane Huse, who died a few days ago, went to Farmington yesterday (Sunday) to attend the funeral. Among them were D. M. Evans and John Jones. As they were proceeding from the mortuary residence to the meeting house, to attend the obsequies, they had occasion to descend a declivity in the road and cross a bridge near the foot of it. In the bridge was a large hole, and one of the horses, a young and spirited animal, undertook to leap over it. The neck-yoke broke, causing the vehicle to run on to the team. This made them take fright and dash off at a furious rate. Both men were thrown out with great violence, D. M. Evans alighting on his head and sustaining a severe gash in the temple, besides several minor cuts near the eye. Brother Jones was less seriously hurt, getting off with a sprained ankle and several bruises.

Had it not been that several other members of the party—a number of ladies among them—elected to walk to the meeting-house, the accident would have been much more disastrous.

The runaway was brought to a standstill without further damage, by some pedestrians who happened to be on the road at the time.

AN OLD COMSTOCKER.

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BULLION-BECK MINE.

Captain W. H. Smith, or as he is widely known on the Pacific Coast, "Hank" Smith, the new superintendent of the Bullion-Beck mine at Tintic, arrived from San Francisco to-day and registered at the Walker House. He was accompanied by Gen. W. H. Brown, of San Francisco, and Alexander Badlam, Esq., President of the Bankers' and Merchants' Life Insurance Company of that city, both of whom are interested in the property.

Mr. Smith said to a representative of the News that he was not yet prepared to state what would be done in the way of working the mine, until he had visited it. As yet he had not seen the ground, and could form no definite ideas as to the force of men that would be put on, the amount of ore that would be taken out, or the new ground that would be opened up. He will leave for Tintic to-morrow, accompanied by the gentlemen named, and thinks that an inspection of the mine and an investigation into its present condition will enable him to quickly form a policy in relation to working it.

Mr. Smith is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and very frank in his manner. He quickly impresses one with the belief that he possesses rare executive capacity, and when one learns his history this belief will be strengthened. He is an old Comstocker, having been for ten years superintendent of the Belcher, and for six years of the Crown Point. He has long been associated with those millionaires of the Coast, Flood and Mackay and W. S. Lyle, and for two years traveled for Mackay, looking after his mines.

While he was superintendent of the Belcher thirty millions of dollars' worth of ore was taken from it, and it paid fifteen million dollars in dividends. As a mine superintendent he has a record equaled by but few, and in making choice of him the new owners of the valuable Bullion-Beck property have evidently hit upon the right man.

—F. A. Kennedy, a painter at Lewistown, Fergus County, Montana, committed suicide last week by shooting himself. He had lived there two years and was unmarried.

—A freighter named Blackabee started for Sun River a few days ago with a wagon load of freight drawn by four horses. After pulling out a few miles from town he grew thirsty, unhitched his team, tied them to a telegraph pole near the wagon and trudged back to Helena, where he proceeded to fill up on Rocky Mountain whisky. His spree lasted two days. In the meanwhile his team was discovered by Sandy Lane, who hitched them up and drove into Helena, the horses nearly fagged out from exhaustion and their long fast.

PACIFIC COAST NOTES.

CULLED FROM LATEST WESTERN EXCHANGES.

Several lots in the northwestern suburbs of Marysville, Cal., were sold a few days ago for $600, just double the sum paid for them one year ago. The Davis tract in Sutter County sold for $30,000 or $62 an acre, which is an advance of 100 per cent in a few years. The land is in wheat and the purchaser expects to ultimately cut it up for sale in orchard and vineyard lots.

Jacob Hoak, of San Diego, who was discharged from the Napa Asylum about a year ago as cured, is again suffering from mental difficulties. He has been examined by a commission, who found him too dangerous to be at large. His hallucinations consist in imagining that when the Panama Canal is completed the cutting apart of North and South America will cause the two continents to go careering off into space and the consequent destruction of the world.

At San Diego on the 16th, some Portuguese fishermen captured a sea monster in the kelp fields just outside the bay. His length was about nine feet, width of back five feet, from tip to tip of flippers eight feet four inches, and circumference of neck four feet. A huge shell covers its back similar to an ordinary turtle, but having sharp ridges running lengthwise. After quite a battle a spear was cast through its head and the repulsive object was towed into the bay, where it has been viewed by hundreds of people, but as yet nobody has volunteered a name for the creature.

A shooting scrape occurred at Fresno, Cal., a few days ago, between two roughs named, respectively, Fred Witty and Tom Maloney. Both drew pistols, but Maloney, after firing one shot ineffectually, was compelled to drop his weapon, having been shot through the right forearm. Witty continued shooting at Maloney until his pistol was exhausted, when he picked up Maloney's pistol and began shooting with it, but was caught after firing one shot from it and disarmed. Maloney received five wounds—one through the right forearm, two in the left arm, one through the right breast, and also one in the left side. It is thought he will die. An old quarrel was the cause of the affray. Witty was arrested.

THE CRY IS STILL THEY COME

New York passenger agents being interviewed talk as follows:

"The immigration this year is going to be something terrific," said Passenger Clerk Abern, of the Anchor line. "The tide set in about a month ago, and will not change until about the last of July. Present indications point to a greater influx of immigrants this year than for many years previous. Three thousand persons are embarking from London alone every week for this country. The steamer accommodations of every steamship line coming to the United States are pressed to their utmost to meet the demand of the thousands who want passage. I should say that we have brought over seven thousand five hundred since the season opened. The larger proportion of our immigrants are Swedes and Danes. We have agents traveling through the Scandinavian countries stirring up the people and setting forth the inducements held out to foreigners to come to the United States. I think I am safe in saying that 30,000 Swedes and Danes will emigrate to this country this year. Of the lot who arrived here last Monday, most all were young men, large and strong, principally farmers. Most of them brought farming tools with them. Very few women came over. The great cause of the increased immigration is the fact that the steamship companies in their January conference lowered the rate of prepaid passage tickets in the steerage to $16. The new rate is about $23.

"Yes, immigration will be enormous this year," said Mr. John Bridgewater, passenger manager for the Allen line in Boston. "We have got four or five distinct lines running from Europe to this country, and every one is bringing thousands of steerage passengers. The figures this year will show larger than for any year since 1882, and may, possibly, pass those of that year, which were greater than for a dozen years previous. In that year there were 478,000 immigrants arrived in New York, of which 198,933 were Germans.

The German immigration has fallen off since that year, but I think it will come up again this year. I think the nationalities will run in point of numbers this year as follows: Germans, Scandinavians, Irish, English and Scotch. The Italian immigration is increasing every month."

"So far this year immigration has been larger than since 1872," said Mr. Edwards of the Cunard line. "In fact we have had to put on two extra steamers from London this week. One goes to New York, the other comes here. Up to the present time the number of arrivals is about double that in the same period of any year since 1872, and I think the ratio will be kept up all summer."

Mr. F. E. Hush, Adrian, N. Y., says: "My father was very lame with rheumatism. Now after using St. Jacobs Oil he is no lamer than I am. He was cured." Price 50 cents.
