An account given in one of the morn ing papers of an exciting runaway that occurred at an early hour this morning, is correct with these few excep-tions, to wit: It was not Dr. L. W. Snow that figured in the incident, but his brother, M. W. Snow, the dentist. He had not come from Ogden, but had returned from Provo with the Opal club excursion. It was not due to any incompetence or negligence on the part of the priver that the accident oc-curred. The facts are that Dr. M. W. Snow on a riving at the Oregon Short Line depot in company with the Opal club from Provo; having given an ex-cursion to the Garden city last evencursion to the Garden city last even-ing, engaged one of John Farrington's cabs to take him and the young lady who was in his charge, safely to their respective domiciles.
