State Senators—Benjamin X. Smith and W. N. Williams.
Representatives—Harry J. Robinson of Brigham, Harry M. Joseph of Marks of Mill Creek, Bryant S. Young, through this campaign as assistant secretary of the state committee, Brigham Clegg is a young attorney, Preston D. Richards is a school teacher, John Q. Critchlow was formerly with the Utah Credit Men's association, John M. Mills was of the commission to investigate duplication of studies at the University and the Agricultural college, and will no doubt speak to the question of consolidation when it comes up, while Daniel McRae owns a farm at Granger, and Nephi United States Centennial Jensen is a young attorney living at Forest Dale.

NOMINATION BEGINS.
The nomination of a ticket did not begin until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, after the hearing of reports from the various committees, as printed in the "News" of yesterday.
The first man named was J. U. Eldredge, and with the next two nominees, he was put out of the way in less than five minutes, most of the time being consumed in cheering. H. C. Edwards named him, while J. M. Bowman named Perry O. Perkins, for recorder and A. B. Irvine named J. A. Groesbeck, Jr., for treasurer, following

Steele and the balloting began.
It was as scattered as the nominations, which showed the effect of the raid made by Col. Squires on the county caucus when it was preparing to concentrate its support. The ballot showed Carlson to have 349 votes; Cosgriff 328, Miller 113, Smith 101, Panter 25, Standish 45, and Rideout 47.
It was growing late, and a recess was voted until 3 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.
The evening session began at 8:30 o'clock with the selection of two men for the state senate. There were many less delegates present than in the afternoon session. Chairman Kaighn recognized A. B. Irvine, a colonel on the governor's staff, and he placed in nomination Benner X. Smith, H. A. Smith named W. N. Williams, for re-nomination. M. A. Breeden presented C. S. Kinney, at present a member of the lower house, and seconding speeches came for all candidates. The balloting resulted as follows: Benner X. Smith, 367, Williams, 452, and Kinney, 216. The Kinney strength fell rapidly outside of the city precincts.
The house ticket required nearly an hour to nominate. Col. Geo. B. Squires named Harry J. Robinson of Bligham, giving him the advantage of endorsement from the state committee. He followed this by naming Preston D.

quiets from the editor of the Elkhead, Farley B. Jensen, who was introduced with fine words for newspaper men in general. Robert B. Porter was the selection of Job Lyon, while the open season was still on.
Andrew Jensen arose to name William McMillan, declaring he had been working for half an hour to get the eye of the chairman. A. B. Irvine named John Q. Critchlow, and J. U. Eldredge left the stage to appear on the floor in a seconding for Joseph.
Attorney General M. A. Breeden followed with seconding comment for Brigham Clegg and William McMillan. John C. Markay nominated John C. McRae, while Col. Kaighn left the chair to second the nomination of Kenner. Angus M. Cannon also seconded this nomination, pledging his earnest support to elect him if nominated.
H. A. Smith named S. J. Stookey, and E. O. Leatherwood named Nephi U. S. Jensen, described as "the gifted boy orator." Jos. Sharp named James E. Clinton.
By this time there seemed to be a plenty of aspirants, and a motion that balloting be proceeded with was carried, after seconding speeches had mounted up to the number of half a hundred. Major Myton moved that the ten men receiving the highest number of votes be declared elected.

HOW THE VOTE STOOD.
The vote was announced after two hours of effort, while the clock was registering the approach of midnight. The successful candidates received the following number of votes:
Joseph 436
Robinson 485
Markay 421
Richards 365
Clegg 365
Mills 349
Young 343
Critchlow 333
McRae 328
Jensen 283
The vote for the other candidates resulted as follows:
Kenner 137
Hart 277
McMillan 291
Stookey 261
Burgess 139
Porter 94
Clinton 94

While waiting for the legislative vote to be counted, and tabulated the city delegates caucused and selected Geo. C. Buckle for justice of the peace and R. J. Wright for constable.
NEW COUNTY COMMITTEE.
The following county committee was announced, after which the convention adjourned at midnight.
First Ward—J. J. Thomas, Julian Riley.
Second Ward—J. J. Greenwald, John De Gray Dixon.
Third Ward—F. J. A. Jacques, George A. Davis.
Fourth Ward—W. S. Higham, Joseph Johnson.
Fifth Ward—Job P. Lyon, A. H. Nash.
County Districts—Seth Pixton, Amos Gabbott, W. W. Wilson, E. R. Morgan, A. V. Anderson.

AT THE WINDER HOME.
Hale and Hearty Host of Eighty-five Entertains His Associates.

Following a custom inaugurated by them several years ago, as a conference aftermath, President and Mrs. John R. Winder had as their guests yesterday afternoon and evening a number of prominent church leaders and their wives. The party included the first presidency and all of the apostles.
The home of the venerable host, 9 north West Temple street, was the place of gathering and dinner was served at 5 o'clock. The repeat over, several hours were passed most pleasantly in rather an informal manner. A number of hymns were sung by all present, and several short addresses were made. Those who spoke were Presidents Smith, Winder and Lund, and Elders Francis M. Lyman, Reed Smoot, John Henry Smith, Charles W. Penrose and George Teasdale, in the order named.
The guests spoke feelingly of the life and labors of President Winder. Although nearly 85 years old, he is still hale and hearty. Few men have labored so long and so ably in the building up of the commonwealth and in the interests of the Church as has the venerable president.
All present joined in extending well wishes to President and Mrs. Winder, and a spirit of love and perfect fellowship pervaded the little gathering. At the hour of parting, the guests took their leave after expressing gratitude to their kind hosts for the hospitality extended, all feeling that the occasion had been made joyous by the presence of the Divine Spirit.

Shoddy Leather.
"It's a fierce age, this," sighed the shoemaker, "they're making shoddy leather now. It's worse than shoddy wool."
"They buy up all the old boots and shoes, and they throw them into a big machine, and grind them into a coarse powder. Whir-r goes the machine, and in at one end fly the old shoes, while out at the other gushes a chocolate colored dust."

SCENE FROM "THE GIRL AND THE BANDIT."
Viola Gillette, better known to Salt Lake as Viola Pratt, will commence a five nights' engagement at the Salt Lake Theater this evening. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Miss Gillette is at the head of her own opera company and returns to Salt Lake after winning laurels both as a singer and an actress all over the United States and Australia. She is a graduate of the Tabernacle choir and the local opera companies, having appeared here often in the productions of Professor Stephens, notably "The Daughter of the Regiment." She was contralto for the Salt Lake concert company and sang through Utah, Colorado and Wyoming, and soon after that her fame became national, chiefly on account of her work in the great spectacle of "Beauty and the Beast."

The opera to be presented here is "The Girl and the Bandit," and the management promises a good company and splendid performances.

precedent by moving to make it by acclamation.
The battle began when the nominations for sheriff were declared open. E. D. R. Thompson named John Y. Smith, Jr., after Joseph Christensen had named Emery. Thompson's speech for Taylor was really one against Emery. He declared that it was time "for a new deal," that it was an unwritten law of politics that a man should not get a third term in the face of determined opposition, and that it would be unwise to take chances at the polls by nominating a man for a third term over a man who had great strength against him. H. C. Edwards was up to declare that if Mr. Thompson had kept his ear to the ground he would have heard the name of Emery echoed from the lips of the people. If named, he said, he was sure to be elected.
FIGHT WAXES WARM.
Angus M. Cannon, Sr., arose to move that the nomination of Emery be made by acclamation, but he was shouted down by angry Taylor men, who by this time were getting well stirred up. H. H. Voss pointed his colored complexion at the chair and secured recognition to advocate a change in the office of sheriff for the good of the party and to preserve the two-term proposition.
Stephen Stanford declared the "American" party wanted Emery named, because it would be easy to defeat him, and he advocated the naming of Smith. As Smith is labor candidate for sheriff, and the labor ticket endorsed two Republican candidates, it was expected that he would be endorsed, and as his supporters saw the drift of sentiment towards Emery they became more angry than ever and speeches became excited. One delegate arose to talk for "Frank Y. Emery."
The first ballot threw the choice upon Emery by a safe lead. It resulted as follows:

A motion to make the nomination of Emery unanimous brought out yells from the defeated labor people who claimed they had not been treated fairly after endorsing Republican nominees on their ticket.
EASY FOR HANSON.
Willard Hanson made the running for county attorney against E. O. Leatherwood, and won in an easy manner. Joseph U. S. Jensen nominated Leatherwood, while Judge J. M. Bowman presented the name of Willard Hanson. Seconding speeches came in a hurry for Hanson, with a scattering showing for Leatherwood. When the Sixty-first district was reached, it was clear that Hanson was a winner by a big lead, and Leatherwood withdrew, moving to make the nomination of Hanson unanimous by acclamation. The motion carried amid applause.
The acclamation program got another inning at this point, when Frank Higinbotham was selected by a cheer vote on the nomination of V. A. Lee. Joseph B. Swenson swam in on the acclamation tide also. David M. Haigh nominating him with a second speech making it by acclamation from Angus M. Cannon.

MYTON IN AND OUT.
The unexpected entrance of Maj. H. P. Myton into the race for assessor, caused a brief delay in the schedule. H. A. Smith presented Brown's name, and Stephen Stanford named Maj. Myton. C. S. Patterson and Jake Greenwald seconded the nomination of Myton, on the grounds that "we ought to have somebody who isn't down at the county building," and it was "time to get a little new blood into the ticket." The ballot brought Brown 399 votes and Myton 115 votes.

FOR COMMISSIONERS.
Nominations for county commissioners were made in abundance. Will Dunn named David McDonald, H. A. Smith named E. D. Miller, Prof. Byron Cummings named J. B. Cosgriff, Maj. H. P. Myton named W. M. Carlson. Geo. D. Sharo was for W. J. Panter, D. M. Hagie raised his voice for D. O. Rideout, John M. Hays named Henry U. Standish, and the naming of Heber A. Smith closed the nominations. McDonald's name was withdrawn by Alex

Richards and Selpio Africanus Kenner amid great laughter, for the colonel is an expert with the smile and the happy phrase. J. M. Carlson took up the talk where Squires laid it down and named C. E. Marks amid a flood of oratory. D. O. Rideout named J. M. Mills, in a plea to have educational interests represented.

WHERE CLEGG CAME IN.
Attorney General M. A. Breeden named Peter E. Hart as a "member of the Federation of Labor," and Jake Greenwald put up the name of Brigham Clegg, and killed another bird with the same stone, by seconding the nomination of Harry Joseph, who had been named by H. C. Edwards. Bryant Stringham Young received his bout.
