The "Americans" were approved. The "Americans" were somewhat stunned at the result of the vote, as they had been assured of enough votes in committee meeting yesterday afternoon to approve the contracts and it took several hours of approved discussion after the council for them to figure out how meeting were defeated and to arrive at the conclusion that the matter was killed outright and the only way out of the dilemma is to advertise for new bids for the work and award the contracts over again.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE.

The members of the finance and municipal laws committees met yesterday, and heard the statement of D. B. Hempstead, the attorney for the Bar-ber people. They then decided to recommend the approval of the conracts with the Barber company and a report was drawn up accordingly. Under the proper order of business last night Crabtree made a motion that the matter of the contracts for street paying be taken out of the hands of the committees. This motion prevailed and the report of the committee was read and the matter acted upon by the

LEGAL QUESTION RAISED.

Fernstrom raised a legal question concerning the ordinances providing for the levying of the assessment upon the abuting property. He stated that the council had promised the people that they could have 10 years within which to pay for the paving while the endesses required than to new 4 to which to pay for the paving while the ordinances required them to pay for it in five years. This defect in his judgment would invalidate the ordin-ances and would also give the Barber company the privilege of demanding payment from the city within five years. He asked for an opinion from the asticut city attorney, and that years. He asked for an opinion from the assistant city attorney and that official stated that he was uncertain as to whether or not the council could amend the ordinance now. He would not give an opinion on the matter until he had time to look the point up. Black and Mulvey both contended that the contracts should be approved and sent to the mayor, who would ad-vise with the city attorney as to the leggl point masch and would protect the city interests in that matter.

MAYOR APPROVED. The mayor reported favorably upon the resolution of Holley, providing for an increase in the wages of certain la-borers of the city from $1.50 to $1.75 per day, and the resolution was adopt-ed by a unanimous vote. The veto of Mayor Thompson to the resolution directing M. R. Brothers, the new lessee of the Warm Springs, to turn over to Mrs. Abboline Barnes, the former lessee, a boller which she placed at the bathing resort, was sus-tained by the council by a vote of 5 to 7. This will result in a law suit be-ing filed by Mrs. Barnes against the city.

sale off. It is not likely that the pro-perty will be put up for sale again An ill bred horse minus a bridle, broke up a convention of musicians which was in session on the sidewalk opposite the Constitution block vesterday afternoon. The animal had apparently come in from the country and not taking kindly to the appearance of Mr. Jacob Moritz' big automobile, had promptly parted company with his driver. He came salling up South Temple street from the Short Line defot and swerved into East Temple. The horse apparently was somewhat confused and upon espying Messrs. Charles Kent, Arthur Shepherd, Cal Carrington and Christensen conversing on the sidewalk he promptly made straight for them. Whether the animal only desired to be directed to Murray, or whether he was somewhat confused by hearing one of the musicians giv-ing another "the horse laugh" will never be made clear.

MUTUAL FRIENDS.

The gentlemen saw him coming. Arthur Shepherd made a double forte movement towards a haven of refuge but Mr. Kent assumed his most imposing attitude advanced with arms outstruched to greet the stranger from the alfalfa patch. "Whoa!" said Kent, but the horse did not even haw, he came straight for the popular singhe came straight for the popular sing-er and for a moment it looked as though the musicians of Salt Lake would be assessed for floral emblems in the near future. Nothing daunted. Kent embraced the horse around its neck with the fervor born of dispair. The horse seemed deeply affected with the warmth of the subwree and enthe warmth of the embrace and en-deavored to shake hands with Kent. "Whoa!" once more sang the baritone. Then it was that the animal rested his jawbone on Kent's shoulder and slob-bered down his expansive back. "Somebody take this horse," remarked Kent, plaintively. Nobody stirred but the chorus of "Stay with him, Charley!" from the assembled musiclans was really up to Conried's stand-ard of expression and tone.

Then it was that Kent endeavored to give the animal away to every pass-er by. At last one individual appeared and grasped the horse by the nose which had the effect of waking him up and he was once more seized with an ambition to give work for the un-dertakers among Sait Lake's musical celony.

MARTIN OPPOSED.

Martin was apposed to the contracts ing awarded to the Barber company as long as the sult started against the city by a member of the asphalt trust was still pending. He related the trou-ble the city had had with the company over its former contract and favored rejecting its present bid and readversing the improvement.

This is the improvement. Fernstrom agreed with Martin and favored readvertising the work. He further contended that the ordinance was defective in that it provided for paying for the paying in five years in-stead of 10, and for that reason he urged the rejection of the bids and the readvertisement. eadvertisement

HENDERSON IN JAIL.

Man Accused of Serious Crime Captured by the Police.

Late yesterday afternoon F. J. Henderson, sometimes called "Shady," was arrested by Officer Harris for a criminal assault upon an 11-year-old girl named Lulu Peterson. The offense is said to have been committed on Sunday evening, as announced in last night's "News," and all day yesterday the officers were on the alert to catch the man wanted.

It is charged against Henderson that on Sunday evening he met the girl and two others of about her own age at Liberty park. He persuaded her to take a car ride with him, and the fellow took the child to Mt. Olivet cemetery. It was there that the crime was attempted. The girl broke away from lowing breakfast each morning for 15 or 20 days: A dish containing not more than four heaping 'teaspoonfuls' of Grape-Nuts food, enough good, rich cream to go with it, some raw or cooked fruit, not more than two slices of entire wheat bread, and not more than one cup of Postum Food Coffee, to be sipped, not drank hurriedly. Let this suffice for the breakfast. the brute and fied into the street. Being overtaken by Henderson, and being afraid of him, she consented to mech him at a given point on Monday. Has-tening home, the Peterson girl told her father of the occurrence, and the police were at once notified. The place of Sixth South. Officers waited near the place designated by the child, and Henderson promptly appeared upon the scene. He was placed under arrest, and locked up in the city jail. Hender-son confessed that he was guilty of the offense charged against him, and plead-ed that drink was responsible for his wrongdoing. He is well known in po-lice circles.having been arrested a num-ber of times. He is said to be well con-nected, having many relatives in this city. Utah is awaiting with considerable interest the fate of the army appropriation bill in Congress. If it goes through, with the $700,000 provision for joint army and militia maneuvers attached, then the state military organizations now scheduled to go into state encampment may have their assignments for field duty postponed until autumn. Then they may proceed to the army camp, to be established at Fort D. A. Russell. So far it is all expectancy. Nothing definite can be learned from Washington as to what Congress will do. The general staff de-clares itself confident that Congress will you the funds for the program
