

HAVE BEGUN TO DECORATE.

Merchants Adorning Places of Business in Honor of Pres. Young.

PROGRAM OF THE DAY.

Celebration Will Begin With Salute of One Hundred Guns—Exercises at Saltair.

Tomorrow the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the greatest of all pioneers will be celebrated in Salt Lake City and at Saltair by citizens from all parts of Utah and the inter-mountain region. The city will be decorated as a mark of esteem for the most illustrious name on the roster of Utah's citizens past and present. All the committees that have had the work of preparation for the celebration in hand have been unflagging in their efforts.

John T. Cutler of the decorating committee stated today that all of the leading merchants of the city had expressed a cheerful willingness to decorate their establishments in honor of the great pioneer. The indications are that they will be as good as their word, for the streets, particularly East Temple, has already begun to take on a holiday appearance in anticipation of the movement. The most pretentious decorations of course will be those that adorn the monument at the intersection of East Temple and South Temple streets. The front of the Z. M. L. presents an attractive sight, with flags and bunting that are arranged in a truly decorative style. Siegel's clothing store, Koltz's and Auerbach's are also being decorated with flags and bunting. A bust of President Young is placed in front of the store, and a portrait of the president is displayed in one of the windows of the Auerbach store.

The day's celebration will begin at 7 o'clock, when the veteran artillery men on Capitol Hill will open a salute of 100 guns under the direction of Capt. Andrew J. Taysum. The committee on decorations will receive the floral tributes at the monument between the hours of 8 and 10 in the morning, and the floral decorating will be carried on accompanied by music from Held's band and the Nauvoo Legion martial band. The principal celebration will be carried on at Saltair, where the following program will be rendered:

Bowers pleaded not guilty to the charge and Attorney Ben Johnson defended him. Officer Miller testified that he arrested the men, and that they were fighting. Bowers said that a younger brother of White's called him a vile name and he slapped his face when White took a hand and before they got fairly started they were arrested. Bowers was fined $10.

The Dahl boy was turned over to Superintendent Allison, of the State Industrial school, and he was taken back to that institution from which he had escaped some time ago. The other boys were convicted and sent up for five days.

The case of Will Turner, charged with assaulting Miss Stella Kelch, was taken up next. Attorney Hamilton appeared for the defendant. Miss Kelch testified that the defendant attempted to take indecent liberties with her. The young lady resides at the home of James N. Lambert. Mr. Lambert testified that he witnessed the act complained of by Miss Kelch, from a window. The defendant was having his lining when this report closed.

Woodruff, Rich Co., May 29.—We are having here in Woodruff the finest growing weather we ever had. Showers of rain most every day, and the soil is in fine shape, as it clears off warm after each shower.
We had one of the most severe east winds here on May 25th ever witnessed, but it did no damage. Your correspondent lived for a number of years in Salt Lake Valley, and the early settlers held the idea that it was a west wind that struck the east mountains and gave that peculiar twist that proved very destructive in the earlier days. But we have proved beyond a doubt that it is an east wind, and blows for hundreds of miles east of us, and gets its full power over the summit west of us and down through the canyon.

THE STATE MOTHER-IN-LAW.

No woman influences national politics so powerfully as the attractive wife of the German Chancellor, Countess Marie von Buelow, who, in her brilliant toilettes and huge Rembrandt hat is frequently the most important figure in the diplomatic gallery of the Berlin Reichstag. The German Chancellor also often brings his mother-in-law, the venerable widow of the great Minghetti, who, since she played a prominent part in the shaping of Count Buelow's commercial policy with respect to Italy, has obtained the sobriquet of "State Mother-in-law." These appearances in the political world are a new departure of the home-loving German Woman.—Nieuwe Courant, Rotterdam.

AN UNEXHAUSTED RESOURCE.

When Mr. Paterson, the Australian war correspondent, was at the Moorland Hot Lakes, the local Maoris were very anxious to hear all about the war, so by special request he lectured to them. At the end of the discourse the Maoris all began to jabber at once, and the translator turned to Paterson with a beaming smile and said: "There is one thing none of us understand? 'What is that?' 'If it troops so hungry why not eat to Boer?'—Sydney Bulletin."

NO BRIDGE.

At several houses in London last week there was, happily, no "bridge." Only a certain set of people came to play the game, and many guests dislike to win their host's money as they do to lose their own. The Lady.
