

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY

IN WASHINGTON.—The Washington Evening Star of the 13th inst., says: "Mr. John T. Caine, one of the managers of the Salt Lake City Theatre, and a very genial and estimable gentleman, is in town, staying at Willard's. If this is his first visit to Washington, he must have been greatly surprised to see that the capital of the country has no place of amusement equal to that over which he presides, in the center of the great American desert. Yet such is the case, to our shame be it said."

OBSEQUIES.—The funeral of Sister Roberts, whose demise was recorded in yesterday's paper, took place this morning. Comforting addresses were made by President D. H. Wells and Elder Joseph F. Smith to the bereaved and mourning family. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends.

FOUND DEAD.—About six weeks ago Mr. Alvarus Hanks, brother of E. K. Hanks, left this city to hunt stock, since which time he has not been heard of. Yesterday his dead body was found, on the prairie, about two and a half miles from Silver Creek, Summit county. It is supposed that he was overtaken in the severe snow storm which occurred about that time, and perished in it. His body will be brought to the city for interment to-morrow. In the Spring of 1850 Bro. Hanks went on a mission to the Society Islands, from which he did not return until twelve or fourteen years afterwards.

THANKS.—We are under many obligations to our Delegate to Congress, Hon. W. H. Hooper, for Congressional documents which he has forwarded to us. Among the rest he has forwarded the Remonstrance Resolutions adopted by the General Mass Meeting, held in this city on the 31st ult., which were referred to the Senate committee on Territories, and ordered printed. The circulation of this document will be attended with good effects; for if it should not influence the action of Congress in relation to Utah, it will at least give the people at large a better understanding about matters here and the views of the people of Utah on religious liberty. An understanding of the position they assume on this subject, by the people of the nation would convince, they are assured, the great majority of the justice of their cause.

FOUND DROWNED.—This morning at an early hour Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, of Pine Canyon, Tooele county, who has been residing for some time past at the house of Bro. McMurrin, of the Eighth Ward, strayed off; and having been partially insane for a long time, fears were entertained that harm might overtake her. As soon as it was discovered that she was nowhere on or around the premises, Bro. McMurrin commenced a search for her, but up to midday he had not been able to discover any trace of her. Soon after that time she was found dead in a large slough at the foot of South Temple Street, near the Jordan river, having no doubt drowned herself.

PROVO UNIVERSITY.—We have had a call from our esteemed friend Elder Warren N. Dusenbury, Principal of the Provo Branch of the University of Deseret, who informs us that that institution has 172 students. Elder Dusenbury has procured the Lewis Hall, the most commodious schoolroom in the Territory. We are also pleased to learn that Chancellor Wells has approved of Messrs. Myron Tanner, E. F. Sheets, K. R. Hopkins, Samuel Jones and Peter Stubbs, who were nominated as an executive committee to attend to the interests of the institution. We are glad to note the spirit of improvement and any steps that are taken to advance the educational interests of the Territory. The institution has our best wishes, and we shall be happy to note the prosperity of the same, should the Principal favor us with a line or two occasionally.

THE MUSEUM has been greatly enriched recently by the addition of many rare specimens of the antiquities and productions of Southern Utah, collected by its proprietor on his recent tour through that portion of the Territory. Among other things we may mention blankets manufactured by the Navajo Indians, and splendid samples of crockery from the Moquis kilns, the manufacture of which is a secret known to them alone; also excellent specimens of very ancient Indian earthenware discovered in mounds recently explored. There may also be seen the mammoth lizard of Southern Utah, an ugly looking reptile about eighteen inches long—an alligator in miniature—and numerous other articles of great interest to those interested in the productions, ancient and modern, natural or artificial, of the aboriginal inhabitants of this Territory. The aviary has also been increased by the addition of a pelican, and some California quails, the latter a very beautiful little bird. An inspection of the museum alone is well worth the price of admission.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY.

DROWNED.—It is our painful duty to record the death, by drowning, of Brother Moroni Bigelow, which occurred between Camden and Wellington, Mo., on the evening of the 13th inst. The sad intelligence was communicated to the wife of Brother Bigelow, residing at Provo, by Mr. R. H. McKay, clerk of the steamer Mary McDonald, on board of which he was a passenger at the time of the melancholy event. Mr. McKay says:

"On the night of the 13th inst., about half-past nine o'clock, Mr. Moroni Bigelow was seen to fall from off the guard of the boat into the river. It being dark and the current very swift, before the alarm could be given, he disappeared from sight, and, it is supposed, was drowned, as nothing more was seen of him."

Brother Bigelow started on a mission to the East on the 1st of last November, and was returning homeward when his death took place.

He was born in Mercer County, Ill., Sept. 1st, 1840, and emigrated to this valley in the fall of 1850. He leaves a wife, three sons and numerous relatives to mourn his untimely departure.

METEOROLOGICAL.—We are indebted to Bro. Wm. B. Dougall, of the Deseret Telegraph line, for the following particulars concerning the weather last night and this morning in various settlements in the Territory:

St. George, rather unpleasant, wind blowing. Beaver, has been very cold and blustering; snowing, but it is clearing up now. Fillmore, very cloudy, snowing around the mountains; snow fell one inch last night; all gone now and pleasant. Gunnison, very cold and cloudy, with little snow. Manti, cloudy but mild; indications of snow soon. Mt. Pleasant, chilly; a few scattering clouds floating over. Moroni, cloudy and appearance of storm, but very pleasant. Nephi, a little cloudy but pleasant; snowed last night; all gone now. Payson, cloudy but pleasant; snowed this morning; all melted now. Provo, rather cold; snowing, very cloudy. Farmington, clearing up; pleasant. Kayville, snowed this morning; clearing up now.

"BURLESQUE SINGER."—A theatrical or dramatic entertainment was given last week, in Jennings' new building, in Ogden city, which did not meet the approval of the "critic" of our cotemporary the Ogden Junction, who, under the heading a "Burlesque Singer," waltzes the performers and musicians through in the following style:

"We could make only a passing allusion in our last issue to the performance in Jennings' new building on Friday evening. It was of a kind rather novel to the citizens of Ogden. Our unsophisticated citizens have been accustomed to seeing ladies, either on or off the stage, clothed in at least a moderate amount of drapery. The lady who appeared before the audience on Friday evening, no doubt possesses ability in her line, but her dress, or rather undress, took the audience by surprise. The music was out of tune and time, and we were wondering what was the matter, till we discovered that the musicians were so struck with astonishment that they could neither draw the bow or blow a blast with their accustomed skill. Their failure had a considerable effect on the singing and dancing, which would doubtless have been well executed, with good orchestral accompaniment. As it was, the amusement was not very amusing."

We should not be surprised if, after a blast like that, the Junction is reproached by some of the parties for whom its, doubtless well deserved, strictures were intended with "ruining their prospects." We have known such things in our experience here.

PORTERVILLE.—Brother Wm. B. Trosper, writing on the 17th inst., from Porterville, Morgan County, says:

"Everything is prospering and moving along first class here; we have formed ourselves into a co-operative company, and our intention is to manufacture iron, of which we have some of the best ore in the Territory. It contains from thirty to sixty per cent. of iron, and quite an amount of silver. A man of experience, whom we have had to examine the location of our mine, says that it is very extensive. Our company are all laboring men; our capital is very small, except in the way of labor. We would like some man that has the cash capital to invest in such business, to come in and furnish the capital and we will do the work. Neither the Cullom Bill nor the different "ites" which some few are so anxious to run after, are troubling the Saints of Porterville; they all seem to be united in building up the Kingdom of God.

"THE MORMONS."—Under this heading, the editor of the Oakland (Cal.) Daily Transcript, of the 18th instant, says:

"Brigham Young has returned to Salt Lake. His arrival was hailed with great joy by the expectant Saints. In a short time this Mormon trouble will culminate. Young is no word quibbler, and will shortly announce his future intentions in language not to be misunderstood. He is, of course, an advocate of polygamy, and, if Cullom's bill should pass would be the worst divorced man in the world. We expect to hear from him shortly; first in tones of mild remonstrance against the passage of the bill; and then, if it should pass, in tones which mean war and no mistake. If he pursues this latter course he will act first and talk afterwards.

PERIODICALS.—We are indebted to brother James Dwyer for Harpers Monthly, for May, The Illustrated London News for the 2nd instant, Punchinello, and a neatly bound little volume containing maps of Utah Territory, Salt Lake Valley and Salt Lake City, with portrait and autograph of President Young, all of which are for sale at the Railway News Depot, East Temple street.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY.

TABERNACLE.—Yesterday the meetings at the Tabernacle were of a more than usually varied character. In the morning the congregation was addressed by the Rev. Emerson Andrews, a Baptist minister, who has travelled extensively in the Holy Land. He took for his text the passage from the writings of Paul,—"The gospel is the power of God unto salvation to all them that believe, first to the Jew then to the Greek." His discourse was an exposition of the effects of the practical operation of that gospel on the human heart and an earnest exhortation to all to believe and trust in the Redeemer and the atonement He has effected.

At the close of the remarks of Mr. Andrews Mr. Levi M. Sollenberger, a member of the Dunkard persuasion, late of Monmouth, Ills., and formerly from Pennsylvania, spoke for a few moments, upon the uselessness of force being used to induce people to forsake their religion. He said there was a great question at issue between the people of Utah and the people East; if the latter wished to change the views and sentiments of the people here they must employ the "sword of the spirit," or they never could succeed.

The services of the morning were closed by President Young, who, in a few words, showed that while belief in the Lord Jesus Christ, so strongly dwelt upon by the religious sects of the day, was absolutely necessary; it alone was not sufficient. The Lord Jesus has said, "If ye love me keep my commandments"—and also, "Unless a man be born of the water he cannot see the Kingdom of God; and unless he be born of the water and the spirit he cannot enter the Kingdom of God." These were the words of the Savior, and no matter how strongly the religionists of the day might believe in Christ they must also obey all the ordinances of His gospel or they could not obtain salvation in the Kingdom of God. He also dwelt, in a very forcible and interesting manner, upon other points of difference between the belief of the Latter-day Saints and the sects of the day, explaining the necessity for administering the ordinance of baptism for the dead, and the work that would have to be done during the millennium for the millions who have died without having had a chance to obey the gospel. His remarks were reported and they will probably be printed shortly.

In the afternoon Elder Orson Pratt bore a short but forcible testimony to the truth of modern revelation from God through Joseph Smith, and to the reality of the work in which the Latter-day Saints are engaged.

The Rev. W. H. Milburn, the famous blind Episcopal minister, delivered a short and eloquent address on the nobility of labor, in which he dwelt upon the responsibility to God which all are under to honorably, honestly and faithfully discharge the duties devolving upon them in the various positions to which Providence has assigned them, no matter how humble; and the certainty of penalty following every violation and transgression of God's law.

President George A. Smith was the next speaker. He took for his text that clause of the Decalogue, which says "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." The application he made was that many clergymen and laymen who have visited this city and Territory, and have been treated with hospitality and the greatest liberality, have then gone and borne a testimony directly to the contrary. Among the most noticeable of this class were Dr. Todd, of Pittsfield, Mass., and some Baptist preachers who occupied the Tabernacle stand last summer. His remarks were also reported and will probably appear in due time.

Mr. Levi M. Sollenberger again asked permission to speak for a few moments, and occupied the time in exhorting outsiders, or as he called them "gentiles" and others to tell the truth about the people of Utah, and when they go from here to talk about the good they have done and are doing, and not to confine themselves altogether to the idle stories and evil rumors that they pick up at the street corners.

President Young closed in a short address on the same subject, his remarks being reported in full.

THE JAPANESE TROUPE.—The members of this talented troupe of acrobats and jugglers will make their first appearance at the Theatre to-night, when there is no doubt that all who attend will witness feats surpassing anything they have ever seen of this kind before. The troupe has performed in the leading cities of the Union, and everywhere their feats have been pronounced the most daring and wonderful in character. All have heard of the skill of Orientals in such exhibitions, but few here have ever had an opportunity of witnessing them. Such an opportunity is now offered, and we expect to see the "Japs" draw immensely during their short stay in Salt Lake city.

BASE BALL MATCH.—A very closely contested match was played on Saturday last by the second nine of the Eureka and the first nine of the Alert clubs, both of this city, in the Arsenal inclosure. The game lasted 2 1/2 hours resulting in favor of the Alerts, the score showing 30 to 28.

LECTURE ON CROMWELL.—To-morrow evening, in the Tabernacle, Mr. Henry Vincent, the famous English orator and liberal lecturer, will deliver his oration on "Oliver Cromwell, and the Men, Principles and Times of the Commonwealth of England." This gentleman has appeared in the principal cities east and west, and his orations have received the highest encomiums from the press, it being generally conceded that he is one of the greatest orators living. A rare intellectual treat will no doubt be enjoyed by all who attend to-morrow night. The lecture commences at eight o'clock. Admission twenty-five cents.

WILL STAND ON THE ORDER OF HIS GOING.—The Omaha Herald of the 19th inst., says:

"It would seem that Brigham Young has returned from his tour to the southward. He was received in Salt Lake with a popular ovation and every demonstration of respect by the people, and it is not probable that he will leave his patriarchal quarters as soon as many persons, who are anxious to get rid of him, imagined. If Brigham is really intending to flee before the Cullom bill and abandon Utah, as has been so wisely predicted by the Colfax missionaries, it is evident that he intends to stand somewhat on the order of his going, and it is quite likely that before he departs, he will not be so rude as not to gratify Mr. O. J. Hollister's ambition to 'try titles' with him for Utah."

Died:

At Dalston, Carlisle, England, on March 4th, 1870, Elizabeth, widow of John Sproat, aged 68 years.

Mill Star, March 19.

At Mendon, Cache County, April 5th, 1870, of inflammatory rheumatism, Phoebe, daughter of Simon and Charlotte Baker, aged 17 years, 7 months and 9 days.

CURTIS MODELS—PRICES REDUCED TO MEET THE TIMES!

The merits of this system for cutting all kinds of garments worn by Ladies, Gentlemen and Children are known by scores of ladies in this City and Territory; but the sure way is to prove it for one's self which may be done without charge. This system removes all anxiety regarding the FIT of garments, as all its directions are absolutely positive. There will be no altering—no taking up or letting out, which not only injures the material but destroys the proportions and often ruins the garment. The system is very simple and can be learned in a few hours.

CASH and PRODUCE taken.
MRS. JOSEPH BULL, 17th Ward, Agent.
CUTTING and FITTING done in all its branches.
