FELIX RHEINHOLD COMMITTS SUICIDE

Shocking Act Caused by Brooding Over Threatened Attack of Blindness.

STILL COUNTING THE BALLOTS.

Wedding Bells—Wife Wants Divorce Set Aside—Jurors for March Term of Court—Council Session.

Ogden, Utah, Feb. 21.—Felix Rheinhold, a well known barber of this city, committed suicide late yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the heart. For two or three weeks the unfortunate man had been convinced that he was losing his eyesight, and he preferred death to blindness. Mr. Rheinhold had been in Ogden for 17 years engaged in the barber trade, having an establishment of his own, and was well known about the city. He was president of the state board of barbers' examiners, having been appointed by Gov. Wells. He was also prominent in the Masonic order and in the Royal Arcanum.

About a month ago he was afflicted with the grip, and it left him with impaired eyesight. He had had some trouble with his eyes before this sickness, and was haunted with a fear that he would some day become blind. After his recent illness his vision was affected to such an extent that he could not do any work that he could not do without a cane. Dr. S. L. Brick, who was attending, stated that his eyesight was improving, and that there was really no cause for the fear of blindness. Saturday he came down to his barber shop, but could not do any work. He remained and had to be helped home. Yesterday he did not get up. In the morning, Mrs. Rheinhold, stopped downstairs. She was gone about 15 minutes, and it was during her absence that the deed was committed. He died almost instantly. No one heard the pistol shot when Mrs. Rheinhold returned she thought he was in another fainting spell. She summoned help and telephoned a physician, Dr. Carnahan reported. Soon that the man was shot in the head. Mrs. Rheinhold immediately called a coroner. Judge Murphy immediately a jury composed of Don McGuire, J. H. Epperson and Alma J. Larkin. The jury will meet at 8 o'clock today.

While searching the room, Undertaker Larkin found a note, which was addressed to Mrs. Rheinhold, which read as follows:

"Dear Wife, I am going blind, but I am going blind, and I would rather be dead."

"FELIX."

Mr. Rheinhold was in his sixty-first year and had no relatives in Ogden except his wife. A brother and sister living in the east have been notified by telegraph. Mr. Rheinhold had a large acquaintance, and his death comes as a shock to his many friends. The Masonic order will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

STILL COUNTING BALLOTS.

The recount of ballots in the judicial district yesterday morning proceeded yesterday. Judge Morse getting through with about 1,500 ballots. The districts of Ogden City, excepting those put aside because of irregularities, have been counted as far as the Thirtieth, the Third, Fifth and Seventh districts of the city, and the First and Second districts of the county outside of Ogden. The ballots were found unopened and the recount was not interfered with by the judges to prove that the ballots were found unopened. It is impossible to estimate which candidate has gained or lost by the recount. It will not be known definitely until the judge has counted the ballots. The recount was challenged by both sides. Judge Morse yesterday ordered Deputy Sheriff Sebring to count the ballots of Morgan county in court Wednesday morning. He will give a written order of court to Sebring for this morning.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

The mayor sent in a communication to the city council last evening criticizing the street supervisor, L. C. Balch, and blaming him for the failure of the patent street washer, popularly known as the "Willisup Washer," to do its work. The mayor said that Mr. Balch had not handled the machine properly, and he advised that the same be taken from his charge. Mr. Williams, chairman of the street committee, resented the criticism of Mr. Balch, saying that it was in effect criticism of the street committee.

It was also reported that a new street washer of the same make as the first will soon arrive, and the mayor advised the council to that effect and urged that it be given a careful inspection before it was paid for.

At a meeting a week ago a bill from the waterworks company for the accumulated hydrant rental for about $28.00 was returned by the council for correction, the council claiming that it was a large bill. A new itemized bill was sent in last night and was found to be $13.00 larger than the first bill. This was referred to the committee on claims.

FIGHT FOR FRANCHISE.

Both Telephone Companies Before Council—Utah County Affairs.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 21.—The following gentlemen, representing the Utah Independent Telephone company, were present at the meeting of the city council last evening: Elmer M. Wells, George T. Odell, Elmer B. Jones and L. Sloan. Attorney E. W. Whitecotton and Manager E. H. Darling of the local exchange were also in attendance, representing the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company. The telephone people were permitted to present their claims on the application of the Utah Independent Telephone company to a franchise. The resolution adopted by the Commercial club, recommending that the Utah Independent company be not granted a franchise, on the grounds, principally, that the company would increase the expense to the business men, but admitting that investigation in Salt Lake had developed that the independent company gave the best service to the Rocky Mountain Bell company had promised to erect a new building and put in a new switch board which would remedy the defective service, and also that the company would reduce prices. Mr. Elmer B. Jones first presented the claims of his company, prefacing his argument by the statement that if the company was granted a franchise it had, at least, done some good: It had obtained for the city a promise for an improved service and the promise of reduced rates. He characterized the Rocky Mountain Bell company as a monopolist, and stated that of nerve for the Rocky Mountain Bell company to come in and oppose a franchise to a competitor. He offered to place in the franchise a provision that business men should be permitted to obtain at $3 a month, and residence phones at $1.50 a month. Mr. Jones gave the history of telephoning, showing that in 1894, when some of the patents expired, the American Bell Telephone company had the monopoly in the United States and Canada. He promised a better telephone service than had ever been given here, and the best that could be given. He stated that the new company would benefit the city by erecting a building and expend money in the county for the construction of its system. The company would not build a telephone exchange, but would place a franchise in Provo, although it had a franchise through the county and in American Fork and Lehi, because it would not pay them. He expressed surprise that the Commercial club had gone on record in opposition to the independent company, and believed the reason was a lack of understanding of the situation. He presented figures and cited the experience of other communities to show that the advantage would be all with the people in having two companies. It would be only in the case of two phones, and would be any necessity for two phones, and the cost would only be slightly increased, by reason of the reduction in price made by the independent company, which would be met by the independent company. He stated that the independent company would be benefited by being able to talk to a larger number of people.

Mr. Odell stated that the conclusions of the Commercial club had been reached without thorough investigation, and that the 4,000 subscribers of his company was an effective answer against the alleged disadvantage of two companies. He gave illustrations from his own business, which showed that he was paying $75 to $100 a month and had let for service.
