LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 54 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine, some clouds.

The Members of the High Council are requested to meet at the City Hall on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

Social Party.—We have received a complimentary invitation to a social party to be given in the 10th Ward Ward Meeting House, to-morrow evening, the proceeds of which will be given to the building fund.

Gases.—When his honor Judge McKean commenced calling the law cases, in the District Court, yesterday morning, he stated that there were one hundred and twenty-seven on the calendar to be disposed of.

Errata.—By an error in proof reading, in speaking of the case of O. F. Strickland vs. the Flagstaff Mining Co., it was stated in yesterday's News that certain papers in the case were not accompanied by a "name," when it should have been a "venue."

Also in the paragraph relating to the case of C. Youman vs. Salt Lake City, where "Groom" is spoken of as a yearly liquor license, it should have been "$1000."

Benefit of Miss Carrie Cogswell.—This able, versatile, and popular actress takes a benefit at the Theatre to-night. She is one of the most useful members of the company, playing a great variety of characters, and always with spirit and energy, putting a stirring amount of life and vivacity into her different impersonations. As an efficient actress and a prominent member of the regular company, the theatre-going public will not doubt be forward to extend to her a liberal recognition of her histrionic merits and fill the house on this occasion of her benefit. An excellent and attractive bill is offered, with an entirely original drama by the leading gentleman on the boards.

Beauties.—Yesterday quite a crowd of turf men gathered to admire two black stud horses on East Temple Street, which reached here from Oregon the same day. They belong to Mr. Ray, of Missouri, who accompanied them. The horses are half-brothers, by the same dam. "Tennessee Traveler" is four years old and weighs fifteen hundred and twenty-five pounds. "Kentucky Whiff" is three years old and is eleven hundred and seventy pounds. They were pronounced "perfect beauties" by horsemen who had the pleasure of seeing them. Indeed their symmetrical handsome figures cannot fail to elicit admiration from the veriest novice in horsemanship. They are putting up at Jackson's Randall's livery stables.

Severe Accident.—Yesterday evening William Calder, about thirteen years of age, son of Mr. William Calder, Sen., met with a very severe accident on the 20th Ward bench, a short distance north of the city wall. He had mounted a horse belonging to Mr. Sloan and gone out for a ride. The animal threw him and he fell head foremost and struck upon a rock. The skull was crushed in near the temple, inflicting a very severe injury. He was found lying upon the ground, in a condition of insensibility, by a man who carried him to his house. As soon as it was discovered who he was, he was conveyed to the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. Calder, with whom he has been living for some time. He is being attended by Dr. J. M. Benedict, whose assistance was immediately called for, and it is to be hoped that, with the care and attention which he will receive, he will recover.

Musical Publications.—We have received the April numbers of "The Visitor," "Benham's Musical Review," and "Church's Musical Repository," the contents of all both musical and literary—being sufficiently varied and excellent to interest amateur people, professional musicians, and amateurs.

Besides a story called "My First Opera," and numerous other articles and selections, the "Amateur" contains eleven pages of music—"Watching the Reapers," a ballad; the "Florence Galop," "Rebecca Waltz," and "Spanish Hymn."

The literary portion of the "Musical Monthly" comprises an original story, a sketch, gleanings from musical history, translations, contributions, selections, poetry, editorials, musical and dramatic, etc., besides nine pages of music, including songs—"I Love my Love," words by Charles Mackay; "Be- hold How Good;" "The Last Rose of Summer."

"The Musical Visitor" contains a sketch of the style of organ playing, and the method of teaching of that kind of organists, Sebastian Bach, besides a great variety of other articles on musical matters, and ten pages of music, comprising "Violeta," that fine standard English song, "The Old House at Home," "Dancing Rondo," and "Inspiration," arranged for cabinet organ.

They can all be obtained through Calder & Co., music dealers, East Temple Street, Salt Lake City.

Wallburgh.—Wm. E. Nuttall writes from Wallburgh, Wastash Co., April 1, as follows:

"We have spent the winter pleasantly, and have been blessed with health as a general thing. The people, with few exceptions, have been energetic and alive in their duties as Saints. We have had good days and nights, and the winter under the table management of Bro. R. Camp in the day school, and Bro. J. H. Rogers in the Sabbath school, which has been quite a success in our winter's management, as well as instruction. Altogether, we are doing well as a small branch.

Several nice frame buildings have been put up the last season, several more are in contemplation, and some are still in course of erection. The cattle have come out of the winter in good condition. Altogether, we are doing well as a small branch.

An Old Omission.—It will be seen by an obituary notice, in another column, that Brother James A. Staples, an old and respected citizen, departed this life this morning.

Fearful Accident.—We have received intelligence by Deseret Telegraph Line that a boy named Weston, or Webster, was run over to-day, at Ogden, by a C. P. locomotive and so terribly mutilated that he cannot live. Here is a portion of one dispatch:

"An eye witness to the accident says the engine was switching with full speed, and going at a speed of about three miles an hour. The boy was on front of the engine. The engineer came around near the west end of the engine, and the boy, supposing he was going to throw it on him, jumped and fell. The ash pan caught him near the feet, and he was hurled into the air, and fell on his back, and was killed.

Third District Court.—The Third District Court opened at 10 o'clock this morning; J. B. McKean, C. J., presiding.

Matthew F. Beel was admitted to citizenship, by naturalization.

Henry Hudson was admitted to the bar, by default.

In the following cases judgment was rendered, by default.—H. W. Lawrence vs. H. E. Bowring; H. W. Lawrence vs. Archibald Livingstone; H. W. Lawrence vs. J. T. Packard; H. W. Lawrence vs. E. K. Hanks; H. W. Lawrence vs. John Hanks.

Sarah Ann Cook vs. B. Young. Sen. Motion to quash execution overruled. Proceedings of execution stayed till the 9th.

Margaret Sloan vs. Daniel Davidson. Demurrer withdrawn. Ten days given to answer.

Peter Stewart vs. D. H. Wells. Demurrer withdrawn. Ten days given to answer.

Julius Levy vs. Abraham Levy. Motion for judgment and demurrer overruled. Defendant allowed five days to answer by paying $5, cost of filing affidavit of merits.

Henry Thomas vs. U. P. R. Co. Demurrer to complaint.

Jonathan Lawrence vs. Charles M. McCarthy. Demurrer withdrawn. Demurrer to file answer to-morrow.

Theatre.—Last evening Buckstone's clever comedy of "Married Life" afforded a large amount of amusement to the audience, who laughed heartily at the various microstomies and lugubrious portraits rendered in various phases of the married life of various constituted people. All the characters were in good hands, and were presented with the well known ability of the principal members of the company.

The "Fool of the Family" concluded the evening's entertainment.
