

JIMMY BRITT LOST BY FOULING GANS.

Seemed to Have the Colored Fight-er Completely at His Mercy.

WHEN HE MADE THE MISTAKE.

Lightweight Champion Was Undoubtedly Weakened by the Low Weight He Made for the Californian.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Jimmy Britt of California lost the lightweight championship of the world tonight when he fouled Joe Gans. He had sent Gans to his knees in the fifth round and then, losing his head, gave him a vicious punch, and Referee Eddie Graney promptly awarded the fight to Gans on a foul. The same thing had happened in the fourth round, Gans of the majority of those present that in another contest at the same weight Britt would defeat Gans easily. Referee Graney said after the fight:

BRITT WAS FRANTIC.

"I really should have given Gans the decision in the fourth round when Britt fouled him, but as Gans was not hurt and he himself admitted that I could have called a foul at that time. The second offense in the fifth round was palpable, however, that I was forced to give Gans the decision."

Britt was frantic with rage when he realized that he had lost the fight, and he rushed at Graney, striking wildly. Graney, who is something of a boxer himself, caught back the police interfered and separated the belligerents. "I know I can beat Gans and I will fight him again!"

Britt missed a left hook for the body and then sent a straight left to Gans' nose. Gans retreating with a left swing to the body. Britt bore in, coming with left and right for the body. A rally in the center of the ring followed, Britt landing right and left on the face as the left hand, but not before he had received a straight left to the head.

Britt did most of the landing in this round. The honors were about even, however.

ROUND WAS ALL BRITT'S.

Round 2.—They mixed it fiercely at close quarters, both doing some very clever boxing. Gans got in a good right to the body, but Britt retaliated with a straight left hard to the stomach. They kept it up until the bell rang. An inter-act mix followed. Britt caught Gans with a terrific right to the jaw, dazzling the colored man and giving him the advantage with a right and left swing to the head, forcing Gans to a clinch. Britt rushed in, fighting wildly. He hammered Gans' face and body with right and left swings and put some punishing rights over the heart. Britt, at close quarters, greatly distressed Gans with a fearful right over the body. Gans clung desperately to Britt to avoid punishment and the going found them in this position. It was all Britt's round.

Round 3.—Britt waded in fiercely, running Gans to the ropes with a heavy left over the heart. He then missed right and left swings for the body. Britt kept himself well covered and was a puzzle to Gans. Britt sent Gans back with a succession of rights and lefts to the face and a left to the body. Jimmy then shot a straight right to the body and followed it with a right swing to the body. They mixed fiercely at close quarters, Britt

Cured of Asthma

After Years of Terrible Suffering.

Mary Josephine Bazy, Floyd Knob, Ind., writes: "After suffering untold agonies for 20 years from Asthma, I was cured by Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but now I can do all my own work." Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow, P. George Rooke Dead.

New York, Nov. 1.—George Rooke, 62 years old, died at St. Luke's hospital today. He was a well-known pugilist of the world, in dead in a Newark, N. J., hospital. He was comparatively unknown to the younger generation of pugilists and sporting men in general, but a quarter of a century ago he was a star in pugilistic circles. All his contests were fought with great skill. His last fight was when he defeated "Paddy" Ryan, in Chicago, 25 years ago.

"PENNY" GOSSIP.

Wallace Bransford has gone to California and will be followed immediately by his 12-horsepower, 20-hp. Peerless automobile. Manager Wilkes of the Salt Lake Auto company says the big auto will be used in California this winter, returning here in the spring.

At the last Vaulburg meet, Frank L. Kramer, the national champion in cycling, toward the American record for a mile in the hands of a local rider. It was a phenomenal ride from scratch, beating every man and winning by a safe margin.

The National Guard football team is to be reorganized. At a meeting held last evening Archie Knowlton was chosen manager for the season, and he immediately called a practice for the evening. The manager wants a game for Saturday with the Soldiers or the Ogden guards. The new team will have such men in it as Fred Smith, Joe Smith, Christy, Stanton, Worthen, Woolley, McConnell, Harris, Chaffin, Tomlinson, Taylor, Bero, Clawson, Bassett and others.

The class game at the varsity yesterday afternoon between the Seniors and Juniors resulted in victory for the former, the 12-0 score being the final result. The place on Cummings field. The game was a snappy one throughout. The star men for the winners were Smith and Travers, the latter making over 100 yards on the field. The Juniors behind the line. One of the features was a run of 50 yards by Thomas, who got the ball on a fumble. Next Friday the Seniors and Freshmen play.

Barney Oldfield will be in Denver next Saturday. After his meet there he will come to this city for a reference. The Denver exhibition the Denver Post has the following:

Barney Oldfield will make a strenuous effort to set a new record for a mile in a hand car. When he comes to the Overland Park next Saturday and Sunday, and it is probable that Denver people will have an opportunity to see him make the fastest mile ever negotiated on a race track with an automobile. The Peerless company, makers of the Green Dragon which Oldfield drives, has offered $1,000 to the winner of the record made by Earl Kiser at Cleveland recently when he is said to have covered the mile in 32.5 seconds. When Oldfield was in Denver last year he stated that the Overland Park track was the fastest track in the country with the exception of the Empire City track at New York. In a letter received from him yesterday he stated that he would make the effort to beat Kiser's time while in Denver. The track at Denver, he writes, is built just right for speed. The turns are wide and not highly banked and you know that is the kind of place I like. If conditions are perfect, he certainly thinks I will make a new mile record at Denver.

Were Earl Kiser to drive at Overland the chances are he would not do as well as he did last. Kiser drives a car in the manner entirely different from that employed by Oldfield. Kiser bugs the mile as he would a horse race. He must have high banks at the turns. Oldfield, on the contrary, does most of his work on the outside of the track, particularly on the stretch, and cuts the turns very close.

The big features of the two days' meeting will be the match races between T. A. Kiser and Barney Oldfield. Kiser will drive a twenty-four horsepower Peerless racer, which is being sent from the factory for these events, and Oldfield will drive the famous Green Dragon. Maxwell undoubtedly will give Oldfield a hard ride, as he now holds two world records, one of 11 minutes for miles in a ten-horsepower touring car, and one of 1:35 for the mile with the same class car. Both of these records were made last September.

An excellent card of events has been prepared by Secretary G. A. Wahlberg of the Denver-Overland Racing association for the meet. There will be seven races each day. Oldfield will contest in the match races and will also drive in a ten-mile handicap against the Pope-Toledo and the Peerless.

The Rio Grande railroad is arranging for a fifteen-minute train service to the grandstand, and the tramway also will run through the grounds to the park on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

NO SYMPTOMS.

"How do you know he doesn't?"

"Because he hasn't threatened to resign,"—Cleveland Leader.

Every Throb

Of My Heart Was Plainly Felt, and Sometimes Very Painful.

If your pulse is too strong, and your heart throbs so that you can feel the force of the heart-beat against your chest, your heart is weak and needs attention.

This is usually caused by long continued palpitation, over-work, excessive exercise, heart strain, and the condition indicates serious heart trouble. You should act at once.

The very best thing to do is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a remedy that will strengthen the nerves and muscles of the heart, and restore them to their normal condition.

If you neglect to do this, disastrous consequences will surely follow. You will have another episode, pain in the heart, faintness, the valves of the heart will become loose, and the heart left in a death struggle.

"My heart bothered me so that I could feel every pulsation. Could only sleep on my left side. Doctors told me that I had one of the worst cases of heart trouble. I had all the usual symptoms of heart trouble. I took about 15 or 20 bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and am completely cured. I no longer have any symptom of heart disease for two years, and am attending to my business affairs, which I could not do before."

FROM FAR-OFF LANDS

Fur Clad and Half Clad Peoples Mingle on the Pike.

A GATHERING OF NATIONS.

They Are There Midst the Ice and Snow of the Esquimaux Village and on the Sun-Baked Plains of Egypt.

As Secretary Walter B. Stevens has so aptly said, "The people are the great exhibits of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition." They have gathered at the St. Louis Fair from every land and every clime; yellow and black and brown; giants and pygmies; savage, semi-civilized and civilized.

These anthropological types are particularly numerous and varied on the Pike where preference was given to exhibits of an educational nature. There is much to be learned on this "Highway of the Nations."

One of the most novel and instructive concessions on the Pike is the Esquimaux Village, which is inhabited by two tribes of Esquimaux, who drive their dog teams through the village streets and live out their simple lives in igloos and tepees in full view of the visitor.

The village life goes on almost precisely as would be the case were the surroundings of actual snow and ice and not the creation of the scenic artist's brush.

The bear dance, sun dance, snow dance, the game of leap frog different entirely from the game known to the American youth, wrestling bouts and other feats of strength and skill, as practiced among the Esquimaux, are novel and picturesque.

Perhaps the most interesting part of this village is the museum, which is said to contain the largest and finest collection of Arctic curios in the world. It contains specimens of every kind of native handiwork, and of every description of life known to the Arctic regions.

The most interesting portions of this Esquimaux Village are artistically portrayed in the magnificent series of World's Fair views, known as "The Forest City," which we are distributing among our readers. Some splendid views of these peoples, their dogs and their homes, have already appeared in various of the portfolios, and in portfolio No. 27 you will find another artistic picture of this Arctic Village and its inhabitants.

It should be borne in mind that the large, finely-executed views in "The Forest City" series cover every feature of the Fair. There are 49 of them in all—29 portfolios, each containing 18 views.

As already announced, the price of the portfolios is twenty-five cents each, but our readers are privileged to secure them at the nominal sum of ten cents each, to cover the cost of handling, wrapping, addressing and mailing.

INDIFFERENCE.

W. A. Wright, insurance commissioner of Georgia, attended recently an insurance men's banquet in Atlanta.

"The president of an insurance company," he said "once told me that, if you were interested in fire insurance, you were warranted at the earliest moment and the disregard of fire precautions to be found everywhere; and if you were interested in life insurance, it seemed as though men and women did not value their own nor their neighbors' lives at a penny. You got, he said, a new portrait of the fire and life insurance men who were financially interested in those calamities."

"He added that it seemed to insurance men as though mankind regarded conflagration and mortality much as the woman on the river bank regarded her children's drowning—as a matter of course, not worth fighting against or grieving over."

"This woman lived on the bank of a swift and deep stream. The stream flowed past her back door, and on the bank her children played."

"A traveler passing in his boat one day, and was about to take the little children to the river."

"Madam," he shouted to their mother, "aren't you afraid to let your children play so near the stream?"

"Oh, no," said the woman indifferently.

"Have you lived here long, madam?" the traveler pursued.

"Yes, a good many years," said she.

"Well, I should think that, with the river so near, you would live in constant fear that some of your little ones would be drowned?"

"Oh, no," said the woman; "we have lost only three or four in that way."

UTAH'S FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS WHO RETURN HOME TODAY FLOUSED WITH V.C.TORY.

The University of Utah football team which returns to Salt Lake at 4:30 today, victorious on the fields of two sister states. The team is the most creditable yet produced at the University, and has won her first victories in interstate matches. The occasion of its return today will be celebrated by the first regular University football rally held in Utah. The development of a winning team, and the learning how to properly celebrate its victories, are big strides taken this year at the University in developing Salt Lake into a college city. At the left is Maddock, the famous coach, who has worked up the team out of green material in two months. At the right is D. A. Callahan of the coaching board, and long famous as the man who has developed the winning High school teams of the past six years.

had dropped to his knees to escape a blow that did not land. Britt struck at him, but Graney would not allow the foul. In the next round, however, Graney promptly recognized the foul fighting.

It looked almost from the start as if it were Britt's fight. He actually outboxed Gans and landed blow after blow. In the fourth round it was apparent that Gans was scared and, hating a foul, the fight was Britt's to a certainty. While no excuse can be made for Britt losing his head, it certainly seemed that Gans invited a foul.

The decision was a great shock to the biggest crowd that ever filled the pavilion, but fair-minded men agreed that Graney's judgment was just. Britt showed marvelous strength and quickness. He went at Gans like a bull terrier, landing body blows alternating with swings on the jaw. During the first three rounds Gans appeared cool and confident and fairly strong. He appeared to be feeling Britt out, but at the end of the third and early in the fourth, when Britt commenced to fight more viciously than ever, Gans weakened perceptibly.

Gans landed a few times on Britt but the little white boy paid no attention to the colored man's light nips, and every time he was hit heered in more viciously than ever. There is no doubt in the minds time when it was unnecessary. I am sorry I hit him while on his knees, but I could not help it.

The fifth round lasted but 25 seconds when the foul was declared.

HOW THEY MIXED IT.

Round 1.—Britt went at once into his favorite epoch and they sparred for some time. Britt shot his left twice in quick succession to Gans' body, but they were not forcible. After some more sparring Britt hooked his left to the body again and followed it with right to the head. Both then missed rights and lefts for the head. Then, like a flash, Britt shot his left to the body and missed a right for the head. Gans apparently rising up, he reached, Gans missed a straight right for the head. Britt was short with left for the body and missed a left for the head as the bell rang.

The work in this round was light. Britt having a slight advantage. Gans permitted Britt to do most of the work. Britt's blows were of a light nature and did no harm.

Round 2.—Britt missed left and right for the body and they went to a clinch. Britt suddenly jumped his left to the head and then brought it to the body. Gans continued to force Britt about the ring and they came to a clinch without result.

landing some heavy blows. Gans suddenly shot his left hard to Britt's jaw, but in return Britt put in body blows that sent Gans to his knees. After a mix-up Britt sent Gans to the wall with a left to the jaw. Gans rose, but was again floored with right and left to the face. There was fearful confusion and the bell was not heard. In this round Britt hit Gans accidentally while Gans was down, but a claim of foul was disallowed. Gans was in distress and the going saved him.

THE END OF IT.

Round 3.—They mixed fiercely. Britt went after Gans like a whirlwind. Britt sent Gans to the floor with a succession of rights and lefts to the jaw. As Gans was attempting to arise Britt met him with a desperate right to the jaw. Eddie Graney quickly disqualified Britt and awarded the decision to Gans.

The excitement was terrific. Britt rushed at Graney like a madman and sought him to the ropes. A sound of police immediately jumped into the ring and it looked as if there would be a general fight. The house went into a roar and wild cheering, right as he went to the center of the ring.
