The Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped, has a second track, and the whole track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals while passing through beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an eating meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth, and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

A NON-"MORMON'S" TESTIMONY.

MESA VILLAGE, Arizona Territory, October 26th, 1882.

Editor Deseret News:

Since my last letter this village has thrived greatly, not only in population, but also in appearance. New and substantial cottages are being erected on all sides, and if the present seeming prosperity continues, Mesa will not only be a snug village in name, but also in fact; a village not founded on straw mining operations, but upon the productions of a rich soil, cultivated with care and tact by a thrifty population. The only drawback to this portion of the Territory is its excessive heat of summer months, during which period white labor is out of the question; but it is also impossible to find any climate under the sun, suitable in all things to the varied whims of man, we should be thankful for the many blessings bestowed upon us here, and leave grumbling to those not so well favored. The weather during this period of the year and on into January is all one can desire, cool and balmy nights, days just sufficiently warm to make work comfortable. This is also the season wherein the Mesaites make their harvest by freighting, it being a lucrative business to all the families owning teams, and as many of them are thus favored, but few of the young men are to be seen around the village from now till Christmas.

It has been said by those outside the pale of your Church, that the Latter-day Saints encouraged ignorance and intollerance. I do not know the educational standard of Utah, but I do know it of many a Village and Town in California and Arizona, and as a sequence must candidly admit that in all matters pertaining to the mental training and improvement of the young and old, Mesa Village for its population is far ahead of any Village or Town this side of San Francisco. In proof whereof I write. I can point to the fact, that here and at the present time, a handfull of inhabitants are now erecting a large addition to their already good sized School House, and that too by voluntary subscriptions. This in itself speaks volumes, for a small band of people who are, one might say apart struggling for existence, and only fairly settling down, and the majority of whom, are only arrivals of a year or so, without any backing save willing hearts, strong hands and unity of purpose. This is proof enough for me that outsiders do not speak by the card, but catch at every idle tale of bigotry and prejudice, and thus manufacture mountains out of mole hills. Mesa, however, may be half thankful for its go ahead-a-tiveness to the person of its chief Elder or Bishop, viz: A. F. McDonald. For if a taste for order, decorum, intelligence, art, and lastly downright manual labor can be combined in one and the same person, it is in him and thus through his example the people are encouraged and benefited. There is also a "Mutual Improvement Association" wherein all orderly persons are admitted to membership. This association meets twice a week, sometimes it is a lecture, again a musical soiree, and bettimes a dramatic entertainment thus opening a place to the young aspirants in oratory, music or the drama. Mr. Bush, a new importation from your country, is the leader of the literary menage. He and his Lady are also the school teachers, and from all that I can learn, (I have not yet visited their academy) Mesa did well and wisely in its selection.

The village of Tempe, some six miles from here, received quite an addition to its population the past summer, and if rumor be true, a still larger addition will be made the coming winter and spring; if this be the case, the villages of Mesa and Tempe will soon shake a brotherly hand across the Tempe canal. So mote it be, is the wish of

"A Celebrated Case."

More than twenty years ago Wm. Wackerle, was a Minnesota farmer. He served in the army during the war and was disabled, for which he drew a pension. He and his family would seem to have been of wandering habits, having lived in New Orleans, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Chicago and Detroit, at which latter place in 1769, he left his wife and went to California, whither she soon followed him. Their married daughter having died there they returned to Quincy, Ills., where they lived until 1872, when the husband went again to California. The next tidings she had from him that year were those of his death in Louisiana, where he was run over by a train near Shreveport.

He had two insurance policies on his life, one of them in the Ætna Company and the other in the New York Mutual Life. She had worked hard during his absences, and by her own labor had succeeded in keeping the premiums paid. On hearing of his death she went to Louisiana, had the remains exhumed and identified them. The Ætna company refused to acknowledge this identity and she sued them in Louisiana, getting a verdict in her favor, which was reversed in the supreme court of that State.

In the meanwhile an alleged Wm. Wackerle made himself known on the Pacific Coast and continued drawing a pension from the United States government. Mrs. Wackerle set out upon a tour of the United States collecting proofs of her claim upon her insurance companies and of her husband's death. She was known in New England as well as in Minnesota, in Missouri as well as in Louisiana. She was without money, but not without friends, whose sympathies she excited, and whose aid she invoked, and who listened to her, trusted her, and helped her on her way. She refused all offers of compromise, but insisted on her full claim. To get it became the object of her life, and although having nothing but the clothes she wore and the documents she carried, she still continued to enlist the support and assistance of those who knew her. Even when she learned that a man claiming to be her husband had appeared to thwart her she did not despair, but kept up the fight, beginning it at last, and when fully prepared, by a suit against the Mutual Company in St. Louis.

A Minnesota attorney agreed to produce William Wackerle, her husband, to testify in behalf of the insurance company. So when the trial commenced the alleged Californian went upon the stand, swore that he was William Wackerle, and in several points was able to establish a startling imitation of the identity he asserted. She, on the contrary, protested that he was not her husband, but one of her brothers, probably the younger one, "Chris." Wackerle. She then entered upon a clear, exact and circumstantial account of her life with her husband, their various residences, their varyfortunes and adventures, and the births, deaths and sex of their children. In regard to the children the claimant had shown himself extremely defective in memory and wanting in accuracy. He also contradicted other evidence of the defense in regard to Wackerle's residence in Cincinnati. Several reputable and intelligent witnesses repudiated him, declaring that in his looks, features, complexion, and color of hair and beard, he did not resemble William Wackerle, some of these points being exactly opposite to those of the claimant.

The case was then submitted to the jury, who speedly brought in a verdict for Mrs Wackerle and against the company in the sum of $6,506, a verdict from which the company intends appealing to the Supreme Court of the United States. As they have millions and Mrs. Wackerle nothing, the advantage is altogether on their side; and the combative widow or defrauder, as the case may be, will again have to call upon all her pluck and patience for another fight.—Detroit Free Press.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disagreeable, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often restores the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus beauty, weak or sickly hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilized; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is quick and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair, the VIGOR is praised for its agreeable fragrance, its graceful and lasting perfume, and valued for the rich lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Also excellent for human flesh. Read proof below.

FROM

COL. L. T. FOSTER,

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 10th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I had a very valuable Hambletonian colt that I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons which failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express. I determined at once to try it and got our druggists here to send for it, they ordered three bottles; I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial, I used it according to directions and the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame and the lumps have disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colt's limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles who are now using it. Very respectfully,

L. T. FOSTER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

Is sure in its effects, mild in its actions as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargements, such as spavins, splints, curbs, ringbone, callous, swellings and any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or for rheumatism in man or for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mildly and yet certainly in its effects.

Send address for illustrated circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.
