EDITORIAL NOTES.

The unusual number of wasps this year has no doubt been observed by people in this part of the world, if they have not received striking reminders of the presence of the pests. Great Britain has also suffered from an extraordinary number of the venomous insects, and Truth, published in London, says "they are not less remarkable for their size and vigor than for their ferociousness." In some parts of Scotland they amount to little less than a plague.

We have received a copy of "La Polygamia Mormona y la Monogamia Christiana Comparadas." It is a pamphlet of forty pages in the Spanish language, by Elder Moses Thatcher, one of the Twelve Apostles of this Church, which drawing a comparison or contrast between Christian Monogamy and Mormon polygamy, demonstrates the vast superiority of the latter and its entire accord with the Holy Scriptures. It is published in the City of Mexico by E. D. Orozco & Co.

According to the New York Sun the new firm of Moody & Miller has gone into the revival business. The senior partner is Dexter L. Moody, the famous evangelist, formerly with In D. Sankey, and the junior is E. F. Miller, formerly a workman in the car shops at Denver. Moody and Sankey are said to have disagreed as to the division of the proceeds from the sale of Sankey's hymn books, and Miller is to take the place of Sankey in the new concern.

Swallow is the name of a Methodist D. D. who got red in the face when he speaks of "Mormonism." He recently preached a sermon at York, in which he declared that the "Mormons" "if they still persist in perverting reason and defying law, must perish by the sword." If the Methodists had only had their way the "Mormons" would have been "swallow"ed up years ago. But they are not made to be food for Methodist birds, and as for "the sword," He who is mightier than all this said "no weapon that is formed against them, shall prosper."

Appropos of the number and venom of the "yellow jackets" this year, there is a corresponding increase in the number and venom of clerical wasps—black jackets, judging from their tunings and manifestations of anti-"Mormon" wrath at conferences and conventions. There is doubtless "something in the air" which acts upon both kinds of poisonous insects and renders them unusually vicious and noisy. Perhaps and comets perhaps are responsible for the stirring up of both kinds of these creatures to abnormal irritation.

COLONIZING THE JEWS.

ACCORDING to the Jewish Advance, published in Chicago, a scheme for the establishment of a colony of Russian Jews somewhere in the West is being urged upon influential representatives of the race in the United States, by a member of the same faith who has come from Russia for that purpose. He has made arrangements with twenty Jewish families of Southern Russia, who are engaged in agriculture there and understand it thoroughly, and who would be glad to form the nucleus of such a colony, besides being willing to instruct others in agricultural work. At latest accounts his efforts seemed to be meeting with success.

The Hebrew race probably suffer more persecution from the Russians than from any other nation in Europe. The same people who pretended that they were fighting Turkey to prevent the oppression of Christians by Mahometans, inflict the most shameful indignities upon the Israelites within their borders. This colonization scheme is a good one and ought to succeed for a time. But the proper place for Judah is Palestine, and in spite of all objections it will yet be the grand gathering place of the afflicted Jews from all nations. However the establishment of Jewish settlements in the West will be an opportunity of training for the sons of Judah in the art of colonization, which they can turn to good account when the time shall fully come for the "gathering of the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth."

STILL ONWARD.

FROM the Millennial Star we learn of the continued prosperity and progress of the work of God in the European mission. Conference and other meetings are well attended by strangers, and there is much inquiry after the truth.

Elder John Donaldson of the Liverpool Conference, reports that three adults in the Wigan district, and others have expressed themselves as ready for baptism; Brother Gould has baptized seven new members in Runcorn district; at Warrington a new branch of nine members has been organized, and there is every prospect of a good work in that region.

Several members have been added by baptism in the Worcester and Hereford district, also in the Stafford district, and three persons applied for baptism in the Newcastle Conference. The Elders are diligent in preaching, visiting, distributing tracts, counseling the faints, and preparing them for emigration.

President N. Wilhelmson, writing from Copenhagen on June 2, 1881, says: "I have just returned from my visit to all the Conferences in the Scandinavian mission, and I am happy to inform you that the work of the Lord is still onward in these lands, and the future prospects for the spread of the Gospel is very good. A good spirit prevails among the Elders, who are laboring diligently for the good cause in which we are engaged. The Lord has blessed our feeble efforts with much fruit—during the last half-year we have added to the Church by baptism 447 persons, for which we feel to give thanks to our Heavenly Father."

LEGALLY AND MORALLY RIGHT.

A FEW obscure papers and one or two influential journals, speak of Clerk Adams' stretch of authority in "going behind the certificate." They are very much mistaken. The Clerk of the House has not gone behind, but taken the face of the document. There are two certificates, and they both certify to the fact that Geo. Q. Cannon received the greatest number of votes cast at the Utah election for Delegate to Congress. Therefore the Clerk placed his name on the roll.

When the whole case is properly understood it will be clearly seen that the Clerk has simply done his duty. But if it is wrong to go behind a certificate—supposing such a thing had been done—when a palpable fraud was sought to be perpetrated, and going behind would prevent the accomplishment of the infamy, is it right to go behind the returns to hunt for a pretence to defraud a whole Territory out of the sacred right of suffrage? It all depends whose cause is affected, does it not?

But in this case, while one official went far beyond his lawful powers to aid in a fraud, the other, officer now called in question, acted within the limit of his powers, and with discretion he exercised was to prevent a fraud. Adams is all right, morally and legally.

THE "MORMONS" IN MISSOURI.

We publish in another part of this paper an article from the Kansas City Journal detailing Col. Pitcher's account of the "Mormon" persecutions in Missouri. We do not reproduce it as an endorsement of all it contains, as there are some inaccuracies which might be pointed out, and the moving causes of the outbreak are given from Colonel Pitcher's own views, and are not to be relied upon as just conclusions, because he was one of the active participants in the assault upon the Saints and was liable to be wrong in his estimate of their principles and intentions.

But the statement is valuable as the beginning of an essay, to the fact that the Saints who were driven from Missouri were not the lawless vagabonds which they have been pictured by their traducers, but a peaceable, honest and law-abiding community, who were vilely-treated by mobocrats and sectarian bigots.

The Journal will publish other articles bearing on this subject.

BY TELEGRAPH.

AMERICAN.

Jimmy Hope's Character.

NEW YORK, I.—The central office police officials say, of Jim Hope, arrested last night. He is about 50 years old and ranks with such men as Mark Shindburne, who is now Baron Schendel, having bought a title in Germany, and Geo. Leonard Leslie, of San Francisco, who was found murdered near Yonkers, in June, 1878. He is a skilled mechanic, very audacious and enters into society with gentlemen without being detected. He knows the police of every city in America so well that he can pick up persons whose intelligence is optional and make them serve him when he is hard pressed. He is reputed to be worth a snug fortune and has been estimated at from $100,000 to $500,000. He has had a hand in nearly all the great bank robberies for the past 10 years.

The California Horsemen.

The Albany prints three columns of San Francisco dispatches purporting to be the result of a conversation with Gen. Barnes, regarding the Tichborne claimant, who is said to be ranching in San Diego County. If any man as smart as this man evidently is, was playing a part, he would endeavor to act it carefully. This man, don't, and the idea never seems to enter his mind that anyone will believe his right. Then it is a great mistake to suppose that he is ignorant and illiterate as reported. He has the easy, quiet, dignified airs of a gentleman, and so impresses you by his conversation. His hand writing is certainly remarkable for that of an ignorant salaried man, as he is supposed to have been. It is of that purity of French character, as we are told, that an ordinary observer who has ever noticed it will remark the similarity. I have in my possession a brief statement of the wandering life of the present claimant, written by himself chronologically, from his earliest recollection to date, which at another time it might be desirable to publish for the purpose of settling, but as the French and English are so mixed I withhold it now."

Stewart's Body.

The city paper which has been printing the sensation story about Stewart's body, concludes the narrative and editorially sums up as follows: "It seems scarcely credible that the body should first have been taken to Jersey, and buried there, then back to New York again for embalment, and afterwards transported hundreds of miles in its wanderings through Canada without detection, when the whole country was feverishly on the watch for clues, yet this is precisely what occurred, as set forth in the succinct narrative. When the overture, made through this paper, was submitted to Judge Hilton, that gentleman found himself in a perplexed situation. Anxious to recover the body of his old friend, he was also eager to secure the perpetrators of the robbery, and therefore communicated with the police authorities. The men who were capable of abducting and concealing the remains were too wary to be caught napping now, and at the first indication of the design to break faith with them, the negotiations were rapidly terminated. Hilton is naturally averse to any proceeding which at all bears a semblance of compromising felony, nevertheless we are satisfied, like the private detective whose diary has been printed, that the body can never be obtained except by acceding to the terms of the robbers. They know that Hilton cannot afford to leave the body undiscovered. The thieves' ultimatum was, 'body returned, reward paid, and no questions asked.' All creditable legislative work."

NEW YORK, I.—Another week's session at Albany seems assured. The bribery committee seem to desire to let the matter rest as it is now in the courts, and the parties indicted view it coolly and defy all guilt. The half breeds are signing freely a call for a caucus. It is stated by the festival heads that there are now nearly 50 signatures; 65 are necessary. It is said the stalwarts ignore it because it requires 54 votes to nominate.

The Sun's Albany says: The half breeds this morning are falling back on the personal scandal and glibly retail the particulars of the late escapade last night by a prominent senatorial candidate (not Conkling), involving family honor. The stalwarts say it is a concerted plot to smother one of their number, as all alleged witnesses are all half breeds. The report spread like wildfire, but prominent half breeds themselves consider it untrue. True or false, it has arisen from the most wholesale employment of detectives, who are here in the pay of both factions, and dog everybody at all hours. Their employment has embittered the factions so that an agreement is apparently impossible.

HENLEY BOAT RACE.

Following are the details of the first heat for the Steward's Cup. The Cornell crew sprang away splendidly and was ahead in a few strokes, when the boat of the London Club crew fouled the Cornells' hole in the canvas of Cornell's boat. The umpire at once stopped the race and the fouling ensued. It was found one of the seats of Cornell's boat was displaced, and it had to be remedied with some string from the umpire's boat. At the second start the London Club crew got off first. The Cornell crew, to avoid another contretemps, made for the bushes on Buck's side. They rowed very well to the rectory, but there commenced a series of bad steerings which utterly destroyed their chances. The Thames Club crew, rowing in grand form from that point forward persistently ahead, ultimately winning the heat. Time of heat—8 minutes 56 seconds.

The time of the winning crew of the first heat for the Steward's Challenge cup was 8 minutes 55 seconds. From a comparison of the various accounts it appears that the Cornell crew were in front for half the distance of the course, but that the boats were closer together at the finish than stated in the first account, Cornell being from two to three lengths behind the London club crew.

The third heat of the diamond sculls race was won by Wild, of Frankfurt, defeating Pattinson, of Newcastle and Skog, of Paris.

The Mysteries Murder.

The Herald's London says: There is now little doubt that Lefroy has dined his fellow traveler. Mr. Gold is supposed to have had considerable money on his person. He was first shot with a revolver and afterward had his throat cut. It is certain the murdered man made a hard struggle for life. His body was found in a six-foot way, and it is believed that he died only after he had been thrown from the train, as his arms were extended about his head. His face was gashed in a terrible manner. It was only after the discovery of his body that the police learned the mistake they had committed in letting Lefroy escape.
