Young Men's associations adopted the following resolution. Introduced by Eider
George A. Smith:

"Resolved, That we, the officers of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement assoclation, bend our efforts towards the securing the full amount of the twentyfive cent fund."

The resolution was due to the fact that only 36.8 per cent of this fund has been paid up, and its adoption brought forth remarks from President Smith, who urged the young men to set their standard high and work to it, pointing out the possibilities of the future and telling them that

RECEPTION TO M. I. WORKERS.

Enjoyable Social Affair Given at The McCune Mansion Last Evening.

ABOUT 800 PEOPLE PRESENT.

Function Was Delightfully Informal And Proved a Fitting Finale to M. I. Conference.

One of the most brilliant social affairs of the season was the reception given last night at Mt. Nebo, the handsome rasidence of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mc-Cune, to the stake officers of the Mutual Improvement associations. The reception began at 7:30 and during the evening the guests were shown through the McCune mansion by members of the general board, who described the furnishings and decorations to the satisfaction and delight of all present, The house throughout is one of regal magnificance and in its beauty and splendor defies the average powers of description to do it justice.

There were about 800 persons present. among them the First Presidency of the Church, members of the Council of the Apostles, Senator Reed Smoot and Dr. George E. Vincent of the University of Chicago. President Frank Y. Taylor of Granite stake was master of ceremonies and conducted the program, which consisted of solos by Will D. Phillips, Mrs. Nellie Druce Pugsley and Adelbert Beesley; duet, Wood and Noell Pratt: recitations, Miss Ardella Bitner, Brigham S. Young and Mathonihah Thomas, and humorous anecdotes by Thomas Hull. Prof. Joseph J. Daynes acted as accompanist. The program was carried out in the parior on the first floor, while up stairs the guests engaged in the dance to the tuneful strains of the Bessley orchestra. In dainty little corner grottoes on difference of the control of the strains of the Bessley orchestra. dainty little corner grottoes on different floors, buttermilk and lemonade were served respectively by the Misses Cannon and Groesbeck. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining-

The reception was delightfully informal and was a flitting finale to the Mutual Improvement conference, which closed yesterday. It continued till 12 'clock when the guests left for their homes with expressions of thanks to the general board for their thoughtful-ness, and to Mrs. McCune for her ex-treme kindness in throwing open her magnificent residence to her associate workers in the Mutual Improvement

While the evening was one of thorough enjoyment to all present, there was a general expression of sorrow at the death of Mrs. A. O. Woodruff, who a year ago took such an active part on a similar occasion. The sincere sympathy of all goes out to Elder Wood-ruff in his sore affliction.

DELAYED BY THE BIG HOLDUP

Some Stories That Are Being Circulated Regarding Gould's Plans for Colorado Midland.

C. H. Schlacks, vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande, accompanied by Manager J. A. Edson, Chief Engineer E. J. Yard, Traffic Manager Hughes and operating officials oft he system, arrived in Sait Lake this afternoon on delayed No. 1, fresh from the scene of the holdup on No. 5, near Grand Junction early this morning, an account of which appears on another page.

Mr. Schlacks is on a tour of inspec-tion of the Rio Grande Western and the Utah Fuel company properties, following his appointment a few days ago as vice president of both coperations as vice president of both coporations. All concerned state that they have nothing of interest to announce at this time. Regarding the holdup Mr. Edson stated that the robbers secured nothing of value, although the baggagear was badly wrecked and a number of trunks were destroyed.

Locally there is considerable interest in the changes that have accurred on in the changes that have occurred on the Rio Grande recently. One phase of the changes is that while the official an-nouncement has been made of the ap-pointment of Mr. Schlacks as vice president of the Rio Grande there has been none regarding his resignation as gen-eral manager of the Colorado Midland. This feature is taken to mean in some quarters that the Rio Grande and the Midland are going to work hand and glove together, almost to the extent of a double track arrangement. Under a double track arrangement. Under present conditions the Colorado Mid-land cuts down 72 miles between Grand Junction and Colorado Springs. Counting the two stops of 20 minutes for meals the train leaving Denver over the Midland for Grand Junction makes the run in I hour and 20 minutes better time than does the D. & R. G. The Gould crowd owns the Rio Grande and has a controlling interest in the Midland. The story is that Gould proposes to relieve the traffic on the D. & R. G. to the extent of sending passenger trains and some-fast freights over the Midland some fast freights over the Midland and in order that such an arrangement may be arrived at he has appointed the general manager of the Midland as vice president of the Rio Grande system. Such is the story which is being circulated and it is given for what it is worth.

The distinguished part of railroad officials were met this morning by General Superintendent J. H. Young of the R. G. W., and General Manager Williams of the Fuel company, who went down the line for that purpose. down the line for that purpose.

WESTERN BUREAU MUDDLE.

Agents' Scalp in New York. There is a most beautiful tangle on immigration business, in which the Union Pacific is decidedly interested, going on at the present time. In discussing the affair the New York Commercial has the following to say:

"The life of the Western Immigration. The life of the Western Immigrant Bureau still seems to be in danger of being crushed out, owing to developments following the appointment by the Union Pacific of Peter McDonnell as its agent. At the same time there is evidence of a desperate effort on the part of the other members of the bureau to save it from disruption. The situation has been intensified by the refusal of the steamship lines to assent to any arrangement designed to give recogniarrangement designed to give recognition to Mr. McDonnell or that wou his immigrant business through take his immigrant business through Ellis Island, and which would mean his participation in commissions.

"The altuation is aggravated further not only by the unwillingness of the Union Pacific to cancel its contract and cut loose from Mr. McDonnell, but a demand from the Canadian Pacific that the bureau relinquish all claim to immigrants landing at Canadian corts. migrants landing at Canadian port; and bound for points in Canada. The other lines assert that because the give the Canadian Pacific some of the mmigrants which land in ports of th Inited States they are entitled to som of the profits on all immigrants arriv-ng at Canadian ports, whether bound places in this country or Canada.

"In the hope that further effort may ring about an adjustment, the West bring about an adjustment, the western Passenger Association, after a two days' session that was barren of any other result, appointed a special complete result, appointed a special complete five to come to New York mittee of five to come to New York and take up the subject again with the steamship companies. The Routing committee has been conducting the negotiations, but could not accomplish anything. Whether the passenger executives will have any better luck is problematical. The steamship men are not in a pleasant frame of mind in view of the concessions they have 'The managers of the western roads had, for at least a year, insisted on the expenses of the immigrant bureau beexpenses of the Immigrant bureau being reduced, and the steamship men were persuaded to assent to their commission of 10 per cent being cut in half. They did this reluctantly, after several conferences. Having agreed to accept half a loaf they do not relish the idea of sharing it with Peter McDonnell. The idea still is prevalent, however, that if they can be induced to join with the western baseonger agents in placing the western passenger agents in placing McDonnell, he will accept it as a suf lcient vindication for his dismissal rom the service of the association as ts agent some years ago, and signify s readiness to abandon the immigrant

Of course this is surmise, but if such an outcome should be reached it is be lieved that the situation would be clear lieved that the situation would be cleared thoroughly that the single remaining cause of friction would be eliminated. There still would ramain the danger, however, of some other man entering the field and taking McDonnell's place.
