A piece of gray cloth has been lost. See advt.
 Justice Fryer had quite a grist for his mill to-day.
 It begins to look as though summer had not bid us a final adieu after all.
 P. W. Maden, drug and general merchant of Mant, is in town on business.
 HERBERT BATE, the boss excursionist of American Fork, was among us to-day.
 SORNSON & CARLQUIST have lost the frame of a centre table. See advertisement.
 In the case of Geo. F. Adkins vs. John H. H. H. in the Third District Court to-day, the motion to relax costs was denied.
 To-day, in the Third District Court, default and judgment was entered in the case of the Salt Lake Brewing Co. vs. E. M. Hanks.
 Tax grand jury came into court this morning and reported having found five indictments under United States laws and two under Territorial statutes.
 In the suit of F. J. P. Pascoe vs. Alex. Neidringhaus, in the Third District Court, the name of Eudora Shagheany has been substituted as plaintiff.
 F. W. Rose, of the 7th Ward, is not the William Rose who was tried in the police court yesterday on a charge of larceny. The latter hails from Centerville, Davis County.
 In the case of the United States vs. Homer Duncan, indicted for unlawful cohabitation, the demurrer was withdrawn and a plea of guilty entered. The trial was set for Friday at 10 a. m.
 ANDERSON BROTHERS, in addition to the demolition of their business, had several signs just completed and ready for delivery, and these all went to destruction. It is a sad blow to them.
 A YOUNGSTER who took away a box of pencils from in front of Pembroke's during the fire last night, was doing the police court to-day. After a reprimand and a word of warning, Judge Fryer let him go.
 THE case of the United States vs. C. C. Anderson, was tried before a jury, in the Third District Court to-day. The defendant is accused of passing counterfeit money. C. O. Whittemore conducted the defense.
 A VERY likely and intelligent boy, 13 years of age, named Charles Anakin, is seeking for employment. Perhaps someone whose eye this will meet may be able to find him work? By so doing they will perform a commendable act.

LOCAL NEWS.

Released.—To-day Brother L. D. Watson, of Parowan, and Levi Minnerly, of Wellsville, were released from the penitentiary. The latter has served five months, to which he was sentenced without any fine. The former was imprisoned for a six months' term and 30 days for the fine.
 John Wm. Snell was brought down from the penitentiary to-day for examination on his application for discharge, but a hearing had not been had when we went to press.
 On a Visit.—This morning we received a pleasant call from the Rev. S. Cates, of the M. E. church. He resides at Luverne, Minnesota, and his object in coming to this city was to visit his brother-in-law, Mr. R. K. Thomas, the popular merchant of this city. Mr. Cates came over the D. & R. G., and was delighted with the magnificent scenery along the line. He is making notes by the way, which he purposes using on the rostrum and journalizing all when he returns home. He will remain about a week. We wish him a pleasant sojourn.
 Cannot be Found.—The case of the United States vs. Joseph Blount, indicted on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, was reached in the Third District Court to-day. The defendant was not present, and inquiry of the District Attorney elicited the fact that the Marshal had been unable to find him. Mr. Dickinson says Mr. Blount went before the grand jury and made a clean breast of everything, and the prosecutor suggested that he would plead guilty, only obtained a one-count indictment against him and made no effort to secure his arrest. The whereabouts of the defendant are, of course, unknown at present.

Police Court.—Peter McComie, a drunk, was fined $10.
 Robert Lindsay, for the same offense, paid $10.
 John Simpson, for trespass, was taxed $15.
 Martin Feely, same as above, was fined the same amount.
 James Graham, charged with petty larceny, in stealing goods at the fire, will have a hearing at 10 o'clock.
 J. R. Nelson, charged with stealing a horse, came up for trial at 2 o'clock. The evidence of the prosecution was mostly circumstantial, the defendant gave a very straightforward statement, and the matter was held under advisement until to-morrow at 2 p. m.

The U. S. vs. Henry Arnold.—The setting of the case of the United States vs. Henry Arnold for trial at this term of the Third District Court has been a matter of comment by the public. The defendant is under an indictment containing one count, and charging him with cohabitation with his wives, in violation of the Edmunds law. It has been the general understanding that he was in Knappa or some other foreign country. When Mr. Dickinson was asked for an explanation as to why he fixed the date of trial of a defendant who had not been arrested and was not in the country, he stated before the commencement of the present term of court he received a letter from Mr. Arnold, in which the latter said he would come and stand trial. He has not yet arrived, however.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

AN OLD MAN, STRUCK BY A TRAIN, DIES FROM HIS INJURIES.
 About 11 o'clock to-day, Thomas J. Jones, a very old man, was struck by the D. & R. G. train from the north. The accident occurred on the bridge on North Temple Street. He endeavored to get out of the way, but the rate of speed at which the train was traveling prevented him. He was struck on the back and thrown into the mud. He was bruised and shaken, but it is not positively known how serious his injuries are.
 Since the above was written we learn that Brother Jones expired from his injuries at 3 o'clock. He had been taken to his home, in the 14th Ward. Surgical assistance was called, but he was beyond the reach of human aid from the first. The deceased was 81 years old, and much respected by all his acquaintances.

A BIG BLAZE.

Several Mercantile Establishments Wrecked.

The Leases Foot Up $20,000, with Light Insurance.
 About half-past 11 o'clock last evening, the infernal sound of "Fire!" echoed through the streets, and as usual was soon caught up and with the commingled voices and general confusion, the miniature pandemonium which always accompanies such an occasion, brought the people out of their houses and together at the scene of the destruction, until there was a great crowd. The locality proved to be

COALTER & SNELGROVE'S building, a little north of the Elephant corner, the roof of which flames were bursting forth, and as it is a wooden structure and surrounded by the same kind of buildings, it was known in advance that in the absence of immediate means for checking it, the fire would be a severe one. Of course no such appliances were at hand, and by the time assistance of any consequence was obtained, the flames had taken hold of Dwyer's on the south and Pembroke's on the north. The work of the destroyer progressed with great rapidity, the tongues of flame leaping from point to point and devouring the wooden roofs, albeit mainly covered with tin, as though they were no much paper. It was not until the fire was

UNDER FULL HEADWAY that the first stream was turned on, and so widespread was the field of operations that it was difficult to determine which was the most effective place to work at. As soon as a little order could be brought out of the ravaging chaos, better work was done, and the full power of the department was at work with a will. It looked for a time as though the whole east side of the block would go, but beyond the three places mentioned the fire did not reach to a great extent; smoke and sparks slightly damaged Solomon Brothers & Co.'s boot and shoe store, Davis' grocery store, Dayne's music warehouse and Solomon's restaurant, north of Pembroke's in the order named; but this was doubtless owing to the hard work accomplished before the incipient ignition took a fair head. As it was, the SMOKE AND WATER did considerable damage in all those places, a detailed statement of which appears below. In less than an hour the flames were under complete control, and by 1 o'clock were completely extinguished.

 The ruined houses this morning present a rather ghastly aspect. Charred walls beneath and the upper parts almost entirely gone; great heaps of charcoal and shapeless masses of burned merchandise; fragments from the wreck strewn over the sloppy sidewalk and valuables stacked up in the street—all telling a tale of devastation which has some of the elements of a nightmare recital to those whose slow and steady accumulations for years were swept away almost in a breath. Those we have named, however, were not the only losers. C. E. Johnson's drug manufactory and John Held's engraving establishment were situated on Pembroke's second floor, and they LOST EVERYTHING, in addition to which, none of the fine instruments of Held's band and a choice lot of music were kept there, and they were wiped out by the greedy fiend; above Coalter & Snelgrove's was Anderson Bros.' sign-writing and bill-posting shop, and as the demolition there was complete, they of course went out of existence this morning. Unfortunately they had just finished a considerable amount of work, which was all consumed.

 The citizens who had gathered rendered every assistance possible in carrying out goods and other articles to the detriment of the fire-fighters. It should not be forgotten that a number of the "boys in blue" also congregated and rendered valuable aid. This morning the various merchants placed their delivery wagons at the disposal of the losers, and on all hands are TOKENS OF SYMPATHY and offers of assistance, all evincing a desire to make the hardships as light as circumstances will permit.

 There was a little flurry during the progress of the fire, caused by the report, which of course obtained wide circulation at once, that there was a large quantity of powder in the storehouses of the "Elephant"; but as the flames did not gather in this place, the excitement died out as rapidly as it came into existence.
 The cause of the conflagration is, as usual, enveloped in uncertainty. The theory obtaining the most credence, however, is the old and oft-told tale of a defective fuse.

THE LOSSES. The damage done is comparatively heavy, and falls on persons but poorly prepared for such an event.
 Coalter & Snelgrove, music dealers, had their entire stock, with the exception of one small show case, destroyed. Their loss will aggregate fully $8,000; insurance $2,000. Among their stock were fifteen organs and three pianos, one of the latter being a grand. They will recommend a business as bad as possible.
 The building in which they were located was the property of James Dunn, of Provo, and was completely burned. Loss $1,000; insurance $1,000.
 Herbert Pembroke, stationer, owned the building in which he does business, and it was partially burned. About one-half of his stock was damaged by fire and water. The loss will amount to $5,000; insurance $5,000. Mr. Pembroke has commenced clearing up the debris, and is arranging the goods saved. He has also telegraphed east for new stock, and with characteristic energy resumed business to-day in the Hooper & Eldredge block, a few doors south of Z. C. M. I.

Solomon Brothers & Gold, boot and shoe manufacturers, are also heavy losers; their machinery, stock of goods, etc., is damaged to the extent of at least $2,000, on which there is no insurance.
 G. M. Donelson owned the building occupied by Solomon Brothers & Gold, and which was damaged to the extent of about $500, fully insured.
 M. Dwyer's entire stock of goods was removed with but little loss, probably $500, and fully covered by insurance. The building used by Dwyer was the property of L. W. Richards. His loss is $1,000, covered by insurance.
 George W. Davis was injured to the amount of $100, by water and removal of goods.
 C. E. Johnson, proprietor of the Valley Tan Remedies, loses about $1,000; insurance $500.
 The other sufferers who are entirely without insurance are—John Held, engraver, $150.
 Anderson Brothers' bill post office, sign writers, $100. This is the third time within two years they have been victims of the fire fiend.
 Mr. Whiticar, photographer, $50.
 Held's cornet band, instruments, new music, etc., $200.

J. J. Daynes, $50.

It will thus be seen that the total losses are $20,000, a little more than half insured—that is $10,000.

THE LEAKER CASE.

"Presumptive Cohabitation" Extended Still Further.—The Defendant Convicted.
 Judge Kane's Latest Definition Makes the Polygamous Status Criminal, Notwithstanding the U. S. Supreme Court's Opinion.

The trial of David W. Leaker, of the Eleventh Ward, was held in the Third District Court to-day. The defendant was indicted for unlawful cohabitation with his wives, Ann Leaker and Elizabeth D. Leaker, from July 1, 1882, to June 1, 1886. The following jurors were selected to try the case: Albert Fisher, M. Dunsford, S. C. Fancake, Alfred Thompson, Geo. Mallett, J. B. Wilson, S. E. Underhill, Jos. Foster, Jas. W. Chester.
 Mrs. Sarah Ann Denney was the first witness called, and testified I live in the 11th Ward; I have known the defendant 13 or 14 years; he is the husband's brother-in-law; my husband is Charles Denney, his name is Gold; the defendant married my husband's sister, Elizabeth Denney Leaker; she lives in the 11th Ward; she has several children; I think the youngest is about three years old; I was last there four weeks ago; the defendant was not there; I visit there occasionally and have seen the defendant there; the children call him father; I have met him there in the evening; know Ann Leaker; she lives next door; there is a passage way between the two houses; it is roofed over, one house is two-story, the other only one-story; have never heard defendant call Ann Leaker his wife; have been in her house; Elizabeth Denney lives with him; have seen defendant in Ann's house, but not for four years past; have never seen Ann in Elizabeth's house; 14 years ago they all lived together; they separated five or six years ago, defendant, Elizabeth and her family moving into the two-story house; the defendant then recognized both women as his

Mary Annette Leaker testified I am D. W. Leaker's daughter; my mother's name is Elizabeth; I live with Ann Leaker, and have done all my life; the houses are not joined, but are quite close; there is a passage way between; mother has eight children, the youngest about two years old; father lives with Ann Leaker; he came on Friday last to tell us to come to court; he came two or three days before, to speak to me; I do not know how often he comes; he does not call regularly; I don't remember seeing him there when Ann was home; she is away part of the time; I go to my mother's house often; I have not seen Ann there; have not heard my father speak of being married; heard mother speak of the anniversary of her wedding; mother was married in April-I do not know the year; I do not remember any wedding celebration; the children call the defendant father and Elizabeth mother; defendant sometimes called Ann my "Ma," when asking about her; Ann Leaker and I live together and are alone, except when we keep boarders; father only came to see me, or to bring something for me; he never came to the house; I don't think he supports her; he provides for me; father keeps a meat market; we don't live on meat alone; Ann pays for what she eats; father does not send provisions to the house for Ann; he owns the house she lives in.
 Objected to by the defense as immaterial.
 The prosecution insisted that if the defendant contributed to the support of Mrs. Leaker, he recognized her as his wife.
 The objection was overruled by the Court.

Witness, to Mr. Dickinson—I have never heard father call Ann his wife; have heard her speak of a marriage, but not in his presence.
 David W. Leaker testified—I am the defendant's daughter; I live with mother; my youngest sister is about two years old; I know Ann Leaker; I often go into her house; she also comes to mother's; saw her there yesterday; she may come in once a day; she does not take meals there; never saw her there; that I remember, when father was home, he never came late from work; I never saw him in Ann's house, or business there; mother sometimes goes there; never heard father speak of his marriage to anyone.
 Mrs. Elizabeth D. Leaker testified—I am married to the defendant and have lived with him during the past three years; Ann was married to him before I was; she lives next door, and Ann comes to see me; I never saw her there when the defendant was home; I visit Ann's house, but never saw him there; they were never divorced; she supports herself; Ann was married ten years before I was; we are on very friendly terms.
 To Mr. Young.—The roof of my house is higher than that of Ann's; her house is back of mine; and on one side; they are close together, a narrow passage between; the houses are not connected by door.

To Mr. Dickinson—I have lived there five years; the houses were built at different times; we can walk between them; one roof is higher than the other; there is a separate roof over the passage.
 Mrs. D. D. Leaker recalled—My husband and I do not talk of Ann; they separated before the Edmunds bill passed.
 Frank H. Dyer testified—I am U. S. Marshal; I examined the defendant's house this morning; (the house was described to the jury.)
 To Mr. Young—I did not examine the house with a view to testifying; I heard a deputy asked relative to the position of the house, and looked at it.

Mrs. Charlotte Springhall testified—I know the defendant; saw him in the door of Ann's house; he went to his daughter; never saw him more than twice; never saw him talking to Ann; I live in part of the house.
 The prosecution rested their case.
 The defense asked time to show that the Marshal's statements in reference to the houses were incorrect.
 Mr. Dickinson stated that he would not concede that the Marshal was mistaken, but would admit that it was not material in any case, as the fact was, immaterial.
 The case was submitted without argument.

The defense requested the court to charge the jury that if they found the defendant had not slept at the house of Ann Leaker or contributed in any way to her support, they were acquittal. And further, that the simple fact of a man having two wives was not sufficient to convict unless assistance with both of them was shown.
 The Court refused the request of the defense, and charged the jury that if they found that the defendant had a lawful wife who lived in a house near by, by the law presumed cohabitation as to her; if the defendant lived with his polygamous wife, even though he did not sleep at her house, and if he had a legal wife, the verdict should be guilty. This charge, of course, left no course for the jury except to convict, and a verdict in accordance therewith was rendered.
 Sentence was fixed for October 6, at 10 a. m.

An Invention.—The Scientific American of September 18 has the following:
 "A washing machine has been patented by Mr. William M. Eggen, of Lake City, Utah Ter. The device has a close fitting cover and a false concave bottom bar, the latter being a board with finger bars that enter and work in the grooves of the bottom, so that when the presser is vibrated it raises the clothes out of the water, squeezes, and then allows them to fall back into the suds."
 DR. FREEMAN
 Will return Wednesday, Oct. 6th, and remain at the City House a short time where he will treat all cases in any way deformed or crippled, also all chronic troubles.

Chills and Fever. Malaria.
 "Many cases of fever and ague, dumb ague, and chills were promptly arrested and entirely banished by the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator. You don't say half enough in regard to the efficacy of this valuable medicine in cases of ague, intermittent fever, etc. Every sufferer should be treated immediately. I was a sufferer for years with the liver disease, and only found relief by using the Regulator."—Robert J. Weeks, Batavia, Kane Co., Ill.
