An advertisement of D. Bookholt in relation to the Norman and French cattle Major.
About 300 children have been driven out of school during the past week or two by measles.—Denver Tribune.

On account of the General Conference beginning on Thursday, the usual monthly fast meetings in the several wards will be held on Wednesday next.

There will be upwards of 50 acres of strawberries grown at Greeley, Colorado, this year. The plants were looked after at this season of the year better than now.

It is reported that mechanics, operatives, miners and laborers all over the country are laying plans to strike for better wages. The movement may bring squally times.

Shirley McFarlane, while clearing the dust from under a buzz saw, at Ashcroft, was terribly cut about the head by the revolving miller. It is not yet known whether the result will be fatal.

A party of Denver and the Grande engineers lately arrived in Montrose, Colorado, state that when within 20 miles of the Utah line they were ordered by the Ute to stop and skip it accordingly.—Beverly.

At the solicitation of many friends, the successful concert given by the Ward Glee Club and Choir at Wednesday evening, will be repeated, with some changes in the programme, on Wednesday next, at 7:30 p.m. in the 15th Ward new meeting-house.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

High Council.—The members of the High Council are requested to meet in the Council House, on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 4th and 5th, at 7 o'clock p.m. of each day.
W. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.

An Excellent Instrument.—Prof. C. J. Thomas has received from Pepper & Co., agents for Paris, a fine new silver-plated French horn, in a substantial leather case. The horn is Mr. Thomas' original instrument, he having played it in the leading theatres of London for three successive seasons, when little more than a lad.

Threatened by Tramps.—On Friday afternoon, near Riverdale, Weber County, six tramps approached Alexander A. Huotson, colored, in a threatening manner, with rocks in their hands, and demanded his money. The Ogden Herald says Mr. Huotson drew a pistol, leveled it on them, and made them scamper in double quick time.

Embalmed Flowers.—Mr. O. F. Day, nurseryman of this city, is an adept at embalming or preserving natural flowers, so that they retain as much as possible of their original freshness of appearance, while lasting for an indefinite period. A specimen of his skill can be seen at the retail dry goods department of Z. C. M. I. The wreath, which is enclosed in a neat frame, is composed of flowers that were used at the funeral of a lady who died in this city a short time ago.

Wanting Water.—Citizens residing in the 1st, 10th and 11th wards complain that they are subjected to hardship from want of water, occasioned by the construction of the Salt Lake and Jordan Canal through that part of the city. It appears the water has been shut off from the ditches to the northwest of that locality to prevent it flowing into the half finished aqueduct. Perhaps some temporary means could be employed to convey it across and thus afford the needed relief.

Funeral Services.—The funeral services of the late Elder George C. Ferguson were conducted in the Third Ward school house yesterday, at 11 a.m., according to announcement. The hall was crowded and many were compelled to stand outside during the ceremonies. The funeral prayer was offered by Elder B. F. Nealen, and the following brethren addressed the meeting: Elders D. O. Calder and E. E. Taylor, of the Presidency of the Stake; John Nicholson, Royal Barney, Bishop Welch, John Tuddenham, and R. F. Nealen. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Elias Morris.

A Snake Story.—The other day Dr. W. H. H. Sharp and his partner, Mr. R. Taylor, had an unpleasant experience with a snake. Near the top of Union Peak, on the northeast side, there is a cave which has the appearance of being an old mine or prospect hole. The two men went to explore this cavern, taking with them a lighted candle. The excavation enters the mountain directly about 50 feet, and then turns northward about 15 feet, at which point, owing to the debris having fallen, there is a decline, with the ceiling little more than two feet from the floor. They proceeded to go down this part, the doctor on the lead, feet first. Suddenly in the dim light he observed an object slowly uncoil and move along the side of the cavern, which he exclaimed, "Oh what a large snake!"

Mr. Taylor lost no time in reaching the front of the cave, the light being held being extinguished by the hurry. The doctor followed with as much dispatch as his cramped position would admit of. The snake is described as being about as thick as the muscular part of the forearm of a man of ordinary size, and is of the rattlesnake species.

Conference Theatricals.—By advertisement in another column of this issue it will be seen that the dramatic combination composed of Messrs. David McKenzie, Philip Margotta and John C. Graham, assisted by Miss Nellie Colebrook, Mrs. S. H. Clawson, Miss Jennie Harris, Miss Lizzie Platt and a full dramatic company, will give two first-class performances at the Salt Lake Theatre during Conference week, viz: On Thursday and Saturday evenings, April 6th and 8th. The pieces selected for presentation are the world renowned comedy of "Lord Dunsany, or Our American Cousin," and the romantic Irish drama of "Green Bushes." In the former Mr. Graham appears as the eccentric Dundreary, a character in which he has gained a high reputation. Messrs. McKenzie and Margotta, Miss Colebrook and Miss Platt sustain the other leading characters.

In "Green Bushes" Mr. Margotta has an immense part for his style of acting, in the character of Master Grimridge, a Cockney showman, to which he always does full justice. The other gentlemen of the combination appear in parts well adapted to their powers. Miss Colebrook in Miami, the Hutter of the Mississippi, will appear to fine advantage. As Nellie O'Neil, Miss Jennie Harris a young lady from Beaver, at present residing in Provo, makes her first appearance in this city. Those who have seen her release say she will make a hit in the part. Mrs. S. H. Clawson as Geraldine appears in a new role, the character being more emotional than anything heretofore attempted by her.

The pieces throughout are strongly given to stage mountings and scenic effects, so as to render the performance successful in every respect. The music will be supplied by the regular Theatre orchestra, under the direction of the veteran leader, Prof. C. J. Thomas.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR, City Sexton.

Home Dramatic Club.—A change of programme.—As will be seen by our advertisement columns this evening, the Home Dramatic Club will present the renowned Oscar Wilde on next Monday evening, in place of their performance of Saratoga, advertised for that date. The change is made to allow the public an opportunity to hear the celebrated esthetic, who is unable to appear on any other date. This alteration necessitates the postponement of one of the Club's three plays, and in order to give their country friends a chance to see both their greatest recent successes, "Inchavogue" has been put aside for a short time, and "Saratoga" takes the boards in its place Wednesday evening, and "Our Boarding House," Friday, thus placing both these famous plays within Conference week.

To-morrow morning the box office will be open for the sale of seats.

Severe Accident.—At 8 a.m. today, David Craig, of Kayaville, on his way to this city, was driving through Centreville, when the single wheel of the left horse fell, causing the team to become frightened and run. The point of the tongue of the wagon struck the ground, the concussion being so great that Mr. Craig was thrown violently out. Both bones of his left leg, about an inch above the ankle, were broken, and a long deep cut inflicted, which exposed the bone to view.

Mr. Craig's injuries were temporarily attended to by Mr. John Ford, and he was placed on the train and brought to this city, where he received the necessary surgical attention under the skillful hands of Dr. J. M. Benedict.

The Utah Election Case.—Last Thursday a motion to consider the report of the committee on elections on the Utah election case was introduced in the House of Representatives of Congress and read. This is but one among several other attempts that have been treated after a similar fashion.

In speaking of this matter, the other day, the dispatches got it mixed, designating the subject as the Utah election bill.

Stealing Horses.—Horse stealing appears to be proceeding by wholesale in this vicinity to this city. At Taylorville, last Friday, Mr. C. H. Wilson had one taken out of a stable, and Emery brothers, of the 16th Ward, had two taken out of their wagon, at the same place. A gentleman who resides at Morrison had five head stolen, about the same time, at the Point of the Mountain west.

The Accidental Shooting.—Robert Hodges, the boy alleged to have shot little Alice Mitchell unintentionally, is under arrest. His examination before the Police Justice is set for Wednesday. The injured child is somewhat better, and is now expected to recover. At present she lies with the right eye, but not with the left.

General Conference.—The General Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will convene at the Tabernacle at 10 a.m. on Thursday.

FAST MEETINGS.

Fast meetings will be held in the various wards of the city on Wednesday, as per vote taken at the last Bishop's meeting, on account of the General Conference commencing on Thursday.

The public will please govern themselves accordingly, and not forget their offerings for the poor.

EDWARD HUNTER, Presiding Bishop.

Smallpox.—We learn from a private source that some of the settlements on the Little Colorado are quarantined, in consequence of the existence in them of smallpox.

Hurt.—This afternoon, near the Continental Hotel, a man was accidentally thrown out of a buggy and badly cut about the head. When picked up from the street he was insensible.

"Boccaccio."—The Gaiety company having arrived in the city late on Saturday night, this celebrated opera will be presented at the Theatre this evening, no doubt to a very large audience. The performance will be a rare treat.

How He is Esteemed.—The Sacramento Record-Union says of the Rev. Joseph Cook:

"He fell foul of the Theological Society, and took an early opportunity to attack its president and secretary, Colonel Orest and Madam Blavatsky, no doubt with his characteristic ignorance and assurance. The result was an answer to his assault which demonstrated the falsehood and malice of his statements, and which drew from an English officer high in station the expression of an opinion that he was a cowardly slanderer. Not being able to defend his position, and not possessing the integrity requisite to a manly and honorable retraction, this itinerant calumniator has been compelled to leave India in a very dilapidated state, and without having made any converts at all. Joseph Cook is intellectually a sort of whipped syllable, very frothy, and making quite an imposing appearance when properly arranged, but sinking rapidly into flatness and insipidity."

ORGANS

WITH MEDALS AND TESTIMONIALS

VERSUS Organs Without Them.

THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN COMPANY HAVE entered into Competition with American and European makers of Organs at all the World's Great Exhibitions with their various styles of Organs, from one stop to the most elaborate, and at each one of them they obtained the FIRST PRIZE and HIGHEST DISTINCTION OF DEMONSTRATED SUPERIORITY over all of the Most Celebrated Makers of Organs in Europe and in America. The most eminent Musicians, Organists, Artists and Musical Critics in all countries have declared, in written communications, that these organs are unequalled by any others in the world.

The principal musicians in the Territory, recognizing these facts, have purchased the Mason & Hamlin Organs for their own use in preference to all others. There are many and they are in the great majority, who never presumed to compete with first-class manufacturers at any of these exhibitions, some of whom now advertise that they "never exhibited their instruments to compete for prizes" for the reason that "Awards are made the subject of the Grouse. This representation and are but a source of jealousy, corruption and falsehood." These charges cannot apply to the Mason & Hamlin Organ Company, because a fact-statement of all the organs and diplomas awarded to them, and the certificates of the jurors, are published in the official documents of the directors of each of the World's Expositions, and sent broadcast throughout Europe and America, copies of which can be obtained at my office. It is not probable that European jurors would have awarded an American firm to carry away evidence of so many victories over their own countrymen, if they could have honestly prevented it. If management, intrigue and bribery could have been used to influence the award in their favor, who will doubt that the awards would have been retained on the other side of the Atlantic. If, as one firm has the audacity to aver in its own case, the competition for awards is to be regarded as good evidence of greater honesty and a higher standard of uprightness in business and superiority of instruments, then the vast majority of manufacturers are to be commended. But for the same reason, and in the opinion of an entrance for American made Organs to the Markets of Europe, these non-competitors and self-proclaimed makers of a false class of Organs would not have been an agency in England. They relied in under the colors of the Mason & Hamlin Organ Company.
