Assailant to Justice,

A cowardly and brutal assult was committed Thursday night upon Mrs. F. Stanfford Eaton, wife of the chief operator of the Associated Press, residing at 59 Eleventh cast street. The assault occured about 11 o'clock Thursday night and ten minutes later was reported to Dectective Sheets and other police officials. The police suppressed the story of the assault and it is claimed, have done absolutely nothing to hunt down the brute who conmitted the assult. Mrs. Eaton had con.mitted the assult. Mrs. Eaton had a terrible struggle with the man and managed to escape but not before face, head and arms were cut and brnised. The assult was made within a short distance of the Eaton home. Mr. Eaton placed his wife on the car shortly before 11 o'clock and when she reached South Temple and Eleven-th east she left the car to proceed th east she left the car to proceed home. She had not gone far when she was accosted by a strange man. Mrs. Eaton had $35 in her purse and this she offered to the fellow but he declined the money and attacked the frightened woman. Mrs. Eaton threw up her hands and the purse she carried fell into the grass near the sidewalk

POLICE INDIFFERENT.

The man struck her several time the tried to seize her but she fought him off and called for help. Persons in the neighborhood heard the wo-man's screams and rushed to her assistance as the man fled down the sistance as the man fled down the street. Mr. Eaton declares that the affair was at once reported to the police but that so far as he knows they have done nothing to apprehend the brute. He says that the police have not talked to him at all about the mat-ter. The police also kept the matter from publication and it would have been suppressed yet had not Mr. Ea-ton given out the facts last night. He is most indignante at the inactivity of the police and thinks it about time citizens were given the protection they are entitled to. HOISTS SHOULDER HIGH

Denver Chorus Kidnaps Prof. J. J. McClellan at the Depot and Carries Him Around Platform.

Just before the train was ready to leave the Oregon Short Line depot with the Denver chorus on board this morning, a large crowd of Salt Lake people, members of the chorus which competed against the successful Colo-rado singers last evening, arrived at the depot to see them off. Immediately up-on their arrival in front of the train, the Denver singers surrounded Prof. McClellan in mass formation, and in a twinking had him holsted on their shoulders, and started marching around the station platform singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." This occurred twice before the train pulled out, and the en-thusiasm was so high that the singers burst forth with cheers and a tiger for Prof. McClellan and the Salt Lake peo-ple. Just before the train was ready to hours, 2-5 p. m.

ple. Dr. Houseley himself paid a great compliment to the chorus under Prof. McClellan's leadership. He said they were easily the victors in the "Sylvia" contest, and praised warmly the work of the Salt Lakers. He was the more pleased and proud to think his singers had won from such worthy foemen, and expressed his appreciation for the kind treatment his people had received from the inhabitants of Salt Lake and the musicians in particular. 75c. musicians in particular. After several felicitous talks had been made by members of each chorus the train pulled out on its eastward jour-ney, amid cheers and waving of hand-locable on beth sides musicians in particular.

That the wails of one infant may not disturb 10,000 people, a number of lead-fng women have established a day nursery in the Lion House, where in-fants and small children of visiting mothers will be taken care of during conference hours. This will give bet-ter air to the children, let the mothers onjoy the meetings and preserve order in the congregation, Friends of the cause have contirbuted cribs, cushions and other comforts, and 40 young wom-en of the L, D. S. university will be in attendance. In order that would-be Virginians may not go down into his-tory for mixing the babies up, each infant will be carefully checked.

A new kind of flag rush was pro-duced last Tuesday, when the sopho-mores hoisted the skull, and cross bones of miracy on a wire stretched from the gymnasium to Barratt hall. "That's what they are-pirates, any-way," said a cynical freshie, passing helow, when to his dismay he saw that the banner bore the word "freshman." The discovery produced a stamped with the result that the gruesome emblem was removed.

CADETS DRILL IN RAIN.

Yesterday the High school cadets held their regular drill and battalion parade. Although the rain was drizzling on the campus, it did not reach their spirits, which were high, for they awaited the expected announcement of the commandant's order which would separate the rank from the file. Captain Quale read the following or-
