

FIRST DAY'S WORK OF LAW-MAKERS

Utah Legislature Organizes Both Senate and House—Will Meet in Joint Session at 2 p. m. Tomorrow to Listen to the Reading of Governor Wells's Message.

The fourth session of the Utah Legislature since the granting of Statehood, convened at noon today in the city and county building.

The session bids fair to be a memorable one, though it may not be as stormy as the session of two years ago.

The completion of the present Legislature well indicates the uncertainty of the game of politics in this state. Five years ago, on January 6, 1896, Utah assembled the mantle of statehood, and her Legislature to assemble was heavily Republican.

The next Legislature met one year later, January, 1897. The elections of the fall previous had resulted in an overwhelming Democratic victory, and in the Legislature that Governor Wells faced there were only three Republicans in the entire body.

Hon. Aquila Nebeker was chosen President of the Senate and Mr. Perkins of Ogden, Speaker of the House. It was at this session that Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins was elected to the United States Senate, a position which he still holds.

Two years later came in another Democratic Legislature, and the fruitless struggle to elect a United States senator is fresh in everyone's mind.

Two years ago, on January 6, 1896, Utah assembled the mantle of statehood, and her Legislature to assemble was heavily Republican.

Senator Allison Presents a Protest Against Seating of Senator Barnes.

At 12 o'clock the gavel of Secretary of State Hammond fell and the Senate of the Utah Legislature was called to order. The members elect arose and the oath of office was administered to them by Chief Justice James A. Miner.

Secretary Hammond announced that the election of Senator Barnes was then in order, and Senator Whitney placed Senator Abel John Evans of Utah county in nomination, and Senator George N. Lawrence nominated Senator Joseph H. Howell of Cache county. The vote was taken by roll call, which resulted in the election of Mr. Evans, who received ten votes, the former being Democratic, and the latter Republican.

The chair then appointed Senators Howell and Whitney to escort President Evans to the chair. President Evans was greeted with applause and then proceeded to make a few opening remarks. He thanked the Senate for the high honor it had conferred upon him and begged the members to bear with him in his position. He pledged himself to perform his duties to the best of his abilities, keeping foremost in his mind the welfare of the people of the state. He expressed the hope that the Senate would expedite the business that was before it with all possible dispatch, so that on the day designated it will have completed its labors, that no unnecessary expense or burden would be added upon the people of the state.

Senator Kiesel then presented a resolution recommending the officers agreed on in the Democratic caucus on Saturday night.

Senator Lawrence offered a substitute to the resolution presenting the names that were chosen by the Republican caucus.

Kiesel's resolution carried, on a vote of nine to eight. The oath was then administered to the clerks and officers by Chief Justice Miner.

Senator Smoot moved that the Senate notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and prepared to proceed to business. The motion carried and the House was duly notified.

Senator Harden Bennion moved that a committee of three on rules be appointed. The motion carried and the chair appointed as members of the committee, Senators Bennion, Lawrence and Whitney.

Senator Whitney asked if it would not be in order for the chaplain to perform the functions of his office before going much further. The chair thought that it would. The chaplain, Mr. B. S. Young, there came forward and the senators arose while he offered the invocation.

PROTEST AGAINST BARNES.

Senator E. M. Allison then presented a protest against the seating of Senator John G. M. Barnes, in behalf of E. P. Ellison of Davis county. The petition made many allegations, the same that were filed in the district court, and dismissed by Judge Rolapp on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction. The contest was then appealed to the supreme court, but that tribunal confirmed the action of the lower court.

At the conclusion of the reading of the petition, Senator Allison moved that a committee of five be appointed to consider the petition and to have full power to act.

Senator Smoot moved an amendment to the effect that the matter be referred to the regular election committee. Senator Allison said that he would have no objections to the regular committee if the president would appoint it as soon as possible, as he thought that it was a matter to be expedited.

A communication was then received from the House announcing that its permanent organization had been effected and was ready to proceed to business.

Senator Whitney moved that the Democratic Senators occupy seats on the north side of the chamber and the Republican senators on the south side. The motion was adopted.

SEATS CHOSEN.

On motion of Senator Tanner a committee of three, consisting of Senators Tanner, Alder and Kiesel, was appointed in connection with the election committee consisting of Representatives Smith, Hamlin and Holzheim to wait upon the governor and inform him that the Legislature is organized and prepared for business.

A communication directed to Senator Whitney from J. C. Leary Jr., was read, asking him to prevail upon the Senate to appoint a large reception committee to join with the citizens' committee in meeting the Wyoming legislature that is due to arrive in this city tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

Senator Smoot moved that the Senate attend the opening of the stock convention tomorrow morning in company with the Wyoming Legislature. The motion prevailed.

Senator Kiesel announced in behalf of the Governor that the chief executive would deliver his message to the Legislature tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

On motion of Senator Alder the following committee of five was appointed to wait upon the Wyoming legislature and invite it to attend the session of the Legislature tomorrow: Senators Alder, Howell, Smoot and Whitney.

The session adjourned until 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

HOUSE ORGANIZATION.

Organization Accomplished Without any Notable Incident.

The House of Representatives was called to order at 12:10 o'clock by Secretary of State Hammond.

Representatives' hall had been scrupulously cleaned for the occasion, and was conspicuously resplendent with its new carpet to say nothing of the splendid specimen of Old Glory which covered the wall behind the speaker's platform, the national flag which covered the front of his desk and the smaller banners which were tastefully suspended from the chandeliers, or the profusion of roses and carnations which adorned the desks of the speaker and clerk.

After the House had been called to order Representative Benner X. Smith moved that the representation present be ascertained.

The roll was then called showing that all members were present except Representative Harmon, of Emery.

ELECTION OF A SPEAKER.

The next order of business was announced by the chair to be the election of a speaker. Representative Van Horne was accorded the privilege of the floor and in a speech of considerable eloquence, nominated Wm. Glasman of Weber.

The nomination was seconded by Representative Barrett of Beaver. Representative O. P. Hatch was nominated by Representative Rulon S. Wells of Salt Lake, after which a vote was taken by roll call, resulting in Glasmann obtaining 29 votes to 15 for Hatch. Mr. Glasman was then declared elected. The chair appointed Representatives Axton, Hatch and Van Horne to escort Mr. Glasman to the Speaker's chair.

Mr. Glasman in a speech of appropriate length pledged himself to fill the duties devolving on him. He said that he thought it would be in better taste for him not to speak at great length in anticipation of the Governor's speech. He exhorted the House not to let the grass grow under its feet, but get down to work at once. The oath of office was administered to the new speaker by Justice Baskin of the Supreme court.

The rules of the last Legislature were adopted temporarily. The minor officers of the House were then called before the platform and sworn by the secretary of state.

DIVISION OF SEATS.

Representative Evans moved that the Republicans and the Democrats seat themselves on separate sides of the House. Representative McFarland, of Weber, being 49 years old, was accorded the choice of seats on the Republican—the west—side of the House, while Representative Page of Piute, was accorded the honor as the oldest member on the Democratic side.

TO WAIT ON THE GOVERNOR.

Representative Benner X. Smith moved that a committee be appointed to wait on the Governor. The chair appointed Messrs. Smith, Hamlin and Holzheim.

Representative Hatch presented a communication from the National Live Stock association, announcing that a representative from the legislature of Wyoming would arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow to attend the Live Stock convention.

Representative Hatch presented a communication from the National Live Stock association, announcing that a representative from the legislature of Wyoming would arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow to attend the Live Stock convention.

At one o'clock a recess was taken to allow the House committee to appraise the Governor of the fact that the Legislature of the State of Utah is now in session, and await word from the chief executive.

The House was called to order again at 1:25 o'clock, when it was announced that the Governor's message would be delivered to a joint session of the Legislature at 2 o'clock Tuesday.

Some discussion was had whether the committee on rules consists of three or five members. It was finally decided that five was a more appropriate number, and the chair appointed Messrs. Hatch, Holzheim, Smith, Van Horne and Wells, immediately after which the House adjourned till 1:30 Tuesday.

IN JOINT SESSION.

Legislature Will Meet at Two Tomorrow to Hear Governor's Message.

Both branches of the Legislature met in the Hall of Representatives at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to listen to the reading of Governor Wells's message. The members of the Wyoming Legislature will also be present, and particular guests of honor.

NOTES.

Among the interested spectators in the Senate chamber was Hon. Arthur Brown, one of the candidates for United States senator.

Jerrold R. Letcher, who served as clerk of the House in 1892, was one of the visitors at the opening of the Legislature.

Two beautiful bouquets adorned the desks of the President and clerk of the Senate. The flowers were presented by Hon. Thomas Kearns.

For the first time since Statehood the women of Utah are unrepresented in the lawmaking body.

WYOMING LEGISLATURE.

The Party Leave Laramie This Afternoon, Reach Salt Lake Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS,"]

Laramie, Wyo., Jan. 14.—The Wyoming legislative party en route to Salt Lake left Cheyenne early this morning and at noon inspected state institutions here. The special train will leave Laramie at 3 o'clock and reach Salt Lake at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. There are eighty-five members of the party.

[By Associated Press.]

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 14.—Nearly all the members of the legislature left here today for Salt Lake City for a special trip provided by the U. P. railway for the purpose of attending the convention of the National Live Stock association. They will urge the adoption by the convention of a memorial to the legislature of all the western States in favor of a uniform bounty law for the killing of wolves and other wild animals.

MAYOR BUCKLE "SUSPENDS" DOOLY

But Chairman of the Board of Public Works Will Not "Suspend."

HOT LETTERS EXCHANGED.

Acting Executive Demands Mr. Dooly's Resignation by 2:30 p.m. Today—It Was Not Forthcoming.

ad 4 hd Mayor Buckle rem Dooly A decided sensation was sprung in municipal circles on Saturday night when Acting Mayor Buckle sent a communication to Chairman John E. Dooly of the board of public works requesting his resignation not later than 2:30 today. The letter reads as follows:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12, 1901. "Dear Sir:—Papers on file in the office of the county clerk, show that on the 6th day of February, Nineteen Hundred, you qualified to the office of director of the 'Incorporation known by the name and style of Utah Savings and Trust Company.' And the records in the office of the city recorder show that this company is and has been acting since the date of your qualification as bondsmen to several contractors doing business with this city in an amount aggregating over one hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($120,000).

I am also informed by E. W. Genter, Esq., the manager and secretary of the above named company, that said company is advancing money to at least one of the contractors doing business with the City of Salt Lake.

Paragraph 285, page 149 of the Revised Statutes reads as follows: "Chairman. No member to be interested in contracts. The chairman of such board shall devote all necessary time to the performance of his official duty, and no member of such board shall ever be directly or indirectly interested in any contract entered into by them on behalf of such city."

In my judgment the above reasons disqualify you for the position of chairman of the board of public works of this city, and in any event the best interests of Salt Lake demand that you tender your resignation which you will please have reach me not later than 2:30 o'clock p. m. on Monday, January 14, 1901.

Respectfully,
GEO. BUCKLE,
Acting Mayor.

MR. DOOLY'S REPLY.

Mr. Dooly declares positively that he did not receive Mr. Buckle's letter. The latter says that he mailed it in the presence of a reliable witness. Mr. Dooly's first information concerning the matter, he said, was that he had received a letter reading the morning papers. Today Mr. Buckle registered a copy of the same letter and sent it direct to Mr. Dooly with a special postoffice messenger and received the following reply:

"Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your valued favor of the 12th inst., which was received at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and in reply, I beg to state, that the papers referred to in the office of the county clerk, at the date and time stated, are doubtless correct. The statement of Mr. E. W. Genter, I know nothing of.

"Answering further: The paragraphs of the Revised Statutes referred to, has no bearing upon the case. I am not a director of the corporation named, and am not in any way legally disqualified from holding the office of the chairman of the board of public works.

I particularly note the paragraph in your letter to the effect that you disqualify you for the position of chairman of the board of public works of this city and in any event the best interests of Salt Lake demand that you tender your resignation which you will please have reach me not later than 2:30 p. m. on Monday, January 14, 1901."

I perceive of no reason why I should question your erubite "judgment." Your varied experience in municipal affairs, and an office should make that "judgment" infallible and the law entirely obsolete.

I hope in the execution of your threat you may work the municipality a lasting benefit. In the meantime, I have the honor to remain, Yours very respectfully,
JOHN E. DOOLY.

UP TO THE COUNCIL.

The following is a copy of a communication filed with the city recorder this afternoon by Acting Mayor George Buckle:

"January 14th, 1901.
"To the Honorable Members of the City Council.
Gentlemen:—I respectfully notify your honorable body that I have this day suspended the Hon. John E. Dooly as chairman of the board of public works of this city, for the reasons set forth in the communication addressed to him under date of January 12th, 1901, a copy of which herewith forward to you, and I submit the same for your approval.

"Very respectfully,
"GEORGE BUCKLE,
"Acting Mayor."

WHAT LAWYERS SAY.

The opinion of Powers, Straup &

Lippman is couched in the following language:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12, 1901.

Hon. George Buckle, Acting Mayor, Salt Lake City, Utah:

In response to your inquiry, where you substantially ask: "Is it lawful for a member of the board of public works to knowingly aid in letting a contract for public work for the city to one upon whose bond of the latter for the faithful performance of such contract such member of said board is a director and stockholder of a corporation who is surety thereon, and which said corporation advances and loans to such said contractor the necessary money and means to prosecute and carry on said contract work, and if such member has repeatedly and knowingly participated in such proceedings, and persists in so doing, it is sufficient cause for his removal, we have to say:

Section 285, Revised Statutes of Utah, 1898, provides that "the chairman of such board (the board of public works) shall devote all necessary time to the performance of his official duty, and no member of such board shall ever be directly or indirectly interested in any contract entered into by them on behalf of such city, nor shall he be interested either directly or indirectly in the purchase of material to be used or applied in or about the use or purposes contemplated by this chapter."

We think under the above provisions such member is both "directly and indirectly" interested in such said contract. The corporation advances and loans money to the contractor; it is a surety upon his bond for the proper fulfillment of the terms of the contract, and for the proper performance of the work, and is liable to the city for breaches of the said contract, and the city has the right to sue upon the said corporation surety to make good the loss and damage to the city.

Corporations mainly transact their business through their board of directors. Should any difference arise over any breach of the contract where said surety is called to respond, such said member of the board of public works would be acting both for the city and for the corporation surety. He would command himself to act and he would notify himself whether he would act. What would be the loss or gain of the corporation in the premises would be individual loss or gain as a stockholder. His interest in the contract and in the premises is the same as though he himself were a surety; and differing only in degree. An agent or officer cannot put himself in the position adverse to that of his principal, or where his private interests may be antagonistic to that of his principal. This applies with greater force to public officers whose positions are that of trust and confidence toward the citizenry.

In the statute above quoted, the following authorities support us in our opinion: Troop on Public Officers, Sec. 610-613, and cases there cited.

In the performance of duties where public officers are interested, it has been held that they may perform such duties where they are merely ministerial, but can it do so where they are judicial or quasi-judicial? And contracts have been held void which were made by or participated in by such interested members. In respect to such duties judicial or quasi-judicial in their nature. The duty which the board of public works performs in letting contracts of public works and superintending and supervising the same, is not ministerial or judicial.

We also think that where such member has knowingly participated in such said proceeding and knowingly let contracts of public work under such said circumstances and in defiance of law, there is just cause for his removal. Very truly,
POWERS, STRAUP & LIPPMAN.

SURETIES FOR THESE.

The names of the contractors for whom the Utah Savings and Trust company are sureties to the city are as follows:

Keifer & Rush, laying sewer pipe Nineteenth ward irrigation ditch, $550.
P. J. Moran, furnishing two cars of iron pipe.

Keifer & Rush, pipe-line from Parley's canyon, $1,190.
P. J. Moran, furnishing and laying water pipe, $70,000.

P. J. Moran, furnishing hydrants, valves, special castings, etc., $2,500.
P. J. Moran, constructing water mains, $3,000.

P. J. Moran, furnishing pipe and special castings, $4,000.
Keifer & Rush, taking up old iron and kalamine pipe used for sewage pump at the Jordan river, $2,900. The trust company was also surety on the bond of the Excelsior Wooden Pipe company for $25,000 contract, constructing the Thirtieth East street reservoir, and on the bond of the Green & Reeve company for laying water pipes on Ninth and Seventeenth East streets for $6,000.

ELECTORS HOLD MEETING.

Cast Their Formal Ballot—C. E. Loose Chosen as Messegre.

The three presidential electors met in the office of Secretary of State Hammond this forenoon and cast their formal ballot for William McKinley for President and Theodore Roosevelt for Vice President.

As stated in Saturday's "News" Hon. C. E. Loose was chosen to carry the votes to Washington. He will leave here about the 20th inst. The electors met in Washington on the first Monday in February.

STOCKMEN TAKE SALT LAKE CITY.

They Come to Town Today in Battalions by Every Train.

ALL THE HOTELS ARE FULL

Cattlemen Gather at the Knutsford to Secure Their Credentials and Badges.

Every train that has pulled into Salt Lake today has been loaded down to the guards with happy humanity in the form of stockmen and their families. They have come from all points of the compass. All the hotels in town are full to overflowing and still the cry is "They are coming." The stockman of neat and natty attire, wearing the correct Regian overcoat is in evidence, likewise his brother clad in the typical fur coat, happy smile and broad-brimmed hat. They are a joyous crowd and the number and colors of diversified badges that deck their expansive chests are legion. All breeds and brands of badges are in evidence upon the streets today, from the gilded bee-hive of the Chicago delegation, the big steer head of Kansas City down to the unique white hat and rabbit's foot of the gentlemen from St. Joe. The atmosphere is generally surcharged with foreign idioms and diverse phrases which are as Greek to the average citizen as the roundabout roundups of sturdy-striding men, under the leadership of the bell-wether, make sudden stampedes in the direction of divers swinging doors to later emerge upon the sidewalk and resume the interrupted yarn.

Down at the gaily decorated Knutsford hotel chaos has been apparently the order during the lively day, nevertheless all have been attended to as they have presented their credentials. A long table in the southwest corner of the roundabout has been the rallying point for every stranger as he comes to town. Here he presents his credentials, is registered and then furnished with an official program, a coupon book, entitling him to all the privileges of the entertainment, and a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate their premises special benefit, a badge and a hearty handshake. He is then sent on his way rejoicing, and, if he has not been lucky in finding a room, the committee takes him under their wing and sends him up to one of the numerous private residences in this city that have thrown open their doors for the entertainment of the visitors.

With the advent of the sun this morning the various merchants in the city started in to decorate